TITLE 29—LABOR

PART 803—GENERAL ORDERS

WAGE ADJUSTMENTS, HIRING RATES AND BONUSES

By virtue of and pursuant to the authority conferred on it by General Order No. 36 of the National War Labor Board, the Territorial War Labor Board for Hawaii has adopted the following resolutions:

§ 803.36 General Order 36. * * *

General Resolution No. 11. (a) An employer who does not have a wage or salary rate schedule under the provisions set forth in General Resolution 3 and who wishes to make individual wage or salary adjustments based on individual merit, length of service, or operation of an apprentice or trainee program in excess of the amount of such increases allowed under the provisions of paragraph (b) (1) of General Order No. 36, and General Resolution No. 8, must submit his proposed wage or salary rate schedule to the Territorial War Labor Board for Hawaii for approval. Such proposed schedule shall include (1) job classification wage or salary rates or rate ranges, (2) a plan for making individual adjustments within and between such wage or salary rates or rate ranges. Such plans shall include the average amount of increase per employee to be given during any year for all employees covered by the plan and the maximum amount of the increase to be given during a given year to any employee.

(b) Apprenticeship programs approved by the Apprenticeship Council of the Territorial Department of Labor and Industrial Relations, or other appropriate Federal or Territorial Agencies do not require prior approval of the Board. All such adjustments, however, shall be subject to the right of the Board to review and to order the discontinuance of further payments of all or part thereof. (Adopted October 20, 1944.)

General Resolution No. 12. Employers who wish to make promotions or reclassifications may do so without Board approval under the following plan:

(a) When promoted or reclassified to a single rate job bearing a higher rate, an employee (subject to National War Labor Board jurisdiction) may receive the rate established for the new job;

(b) When promoted or reclassified to a job classification bearing a rate range established under the provisions of General Resolution 3 or General Resolution 11, an employee (subject to National War Labor Board jurisdiction) may receive a rate not in excess of 15% above his rate for the new job, which ever is higher: Provided, however, That when an employee has special ability and experience he may be paid a rate within the appropriate range corresponding to such ability and experience: And provided further, That an employee may not receive a rate above the maximum established for the classification to which he is promoted. (Adopted October 20, 1944.)

General Resolution No. 13. (a) An employer shall hire employees at the minimum of the rate range for a given job classification properly established under the provisions of General Resolution No. 3 or General Resolution No. 11: Provided, however, That an employee who has special ability and experience may be hired at a rate within the range corresponding to such ability and experience. An employer may not within a given year hire more than 25% of all the employees hired in his establishment for job classifications for which rate ranges have been established) at rates in excess of the minima of such rate range for such job classifications. In any establishment in which fewer than four employees are hired within the year for such job classifications, one employee who has special ability and experience may be hired at a rate in excess of the minimum rate of the properly established rate range. In new establishments or in new departments of existing establishments, an employer may within the first year of operation hire not more than 50% of all the employees hired (in his establishment) at rates in excess of the minima of such rate range for such job classifications.

(b) An employer who does not have a wage or salary rate schedule properly established under the provisions of General Resolution No. 3 or General Resolution 11 shall hire employees at (1) the minimum rate which he has paid for a given job classification since June 7, 1943, or (2) 20% below the highest rate paid for such job classification since June 7, 1943; Provided, however, That an employee who has special ability and experience may be hired at a higher rate corresponding to such ability and experience, but not more than 25% of all employees hired in the establishment within a given year may be hired at such higher rate, and such rate shall not exceed the highest legal rate paid for such job classification since June 7, 1943.

(c) It is expected that in both established and new plants or departments, new hires above minimum rates will normally be distributed over the various job classifications in accordance with the employment in each such classification or general group of classifications.

(d) The Territorial War Labor Board reserves the right to review all adjustments made under this order. (Adopted October 25, 1944; revised March 12, 1945).

General Resolution No. 14. Notwithstanding the provisions of Section (b) (5) of General Order No. 36, an employer may pay to each of his employees without approval of the National War Labor Board, a Christmas or year-end bonus in an amount not exceeding the sum of $25.00. (Adopted October 25, 1944).

DISTRIBUTION OF PENNSYLVANIA ANTHRACITE

SFAW Regulation No. 28 (9 F.R. 2919) is hereby amended in the following respects:

1. Paragraph (u) of § 602.751 is amended by adding the following:

Shipments of maximum lawful tonnage are subject to the Notices of Direction to All Persons Distributing Anthracite issued on May 29, 1945, and July 14, 1945, and to any notices of direction reducing or increasing maximum lawful shipments, hereafter issued.

PART 1075—CONSTRUCTION

[Conservation Order L-41-e as Amended Aug. 11, 1945]

PUBLIC HIGHWAYS AND STREET CONSTRUCTION

§ 1075.14 Conservation Order L-41-e—(a) What this order does. The basic order, Conservation Order L-41, limits all types of construction work. This order, L-41-e, is a special adaptation written to apply specifically to public highway and street construction in attaining the objective of the basic order L-41; namely, the conservation of materials, construction equipment, labor and transportation. The governmental agency responsible for the proposed construction must get permission from the War Production Board to begin the work, unless it is of a kind which does not require permission, as described below in paragraphs (c) and (d). This permission, generally known as an "authorization to begin construction", should not be confused with preference ratings or priorities. If a road project is allowed, either because it is not of the kind restricted by this order or because permission has been obtained, it may still be necessary to get preference ratings and allotments for certain materials which will be required. On the other hand, if preference ratings have been obtained or if materials are on hand, it may still be necessary to get permission to begin construction of the project.

(b) What is meant by the construction of a public highway or street. A public highway or street is one which is open to the public and which is constructed and maintained by any Federal, State, territorial, county, city, district or other governmental agency. Construction of a highway or street includes the grading, draining and surfacing of the highway or street; erecting of bridges, grade separation structures, culverts, storm drains and similar structures; installing safety and control devices; and constructing curbs, gutters, sidewalks and other appurtenances. The expression "public highway or street" does not include boardwalks, footpaths, footbridges or other passageways primarily for pedestrians, except where they are part of a highway or street like a sidewalk or traffic island.

(c) Maintenance or repair of highways or streets does not require authorization. It is not necessary to get permission from the War Production Board to perform maintenance and repair work on highways and streets. The kind of work which may be classed as maintenance and repair is as follows:

(1) Maintenance includes only the usual operations necessary from time to time to keep surfaces, shoulders, embankments, slopes, structures, rights-of-way and all appurtenances of a public highway or street in a safe and serviceable condition, such as blading and shaping surfaces and shoulders, cleaning ditches and waterways, patching, and the like.

(2) Repair consists of work necessary to make serviceable a damaged or deteriorated portion of a highway or structure or to restore it to its original condition or the equivalent. Repair does not include work which represents an improvement or departure from original types of construction. Examples of work which may be classed as repair include the replacement of damaged members or parts of highway bridges or grade separation structures; reinforcement or rehabilitation of deteriorated foundation or base on existing line and grade; rehabilitation of deteriorated surfaces including resurfacing on existing line and grade; widening of surfaces and bases where necessary to reduce serious traffic hazard or excessive shoulder maintenance when such widening does not provide additional traffic lanes. Examples of work which may not be classed as repair include changes in line or grade; widening for the purpose of providing additional traffic lanes; reconstruction or replacement of bridges destroyed by fire or flood or other cause. Maintenance and repair are to be considered in terms of the kind of work to be done and not in terms of the method of doing it or of financing it. For example, the repair of a bridge floor is a repair operation even though it is done by a contractor and financed from the construction budget. On the other hand, the replacement of a bridge with a new one is construction, not repair, even though the work is done with regular maintenance forces and is financed with maintenance funds.

(d) Size and kind of highway and street construction which does not require authorization. Highway and street construction may be started without specific War Production Board project authorization if the work consists of one or more of the following classes:

(1) [Deleted Aug. 11, 1945]

(2) A project costing $100,000 or less.

(3) [Deleted Aug. 11, 1945]

(4) Highway construction owned by the United States Army, Navy, Maritime Commission, War Shipping Administration, Coast Guard, Marine Corps, Civilian Aeronautics Authority, Coast and Geodetic Survey, or Panama Canal.

(5) Grading, ditch-digging or similar earth-moving operations, if no lumber or other building materials are permanently installed, except drainage pipe and culverts including headwalls therefor.

(e) All other public highway and street construction forbidden without War Production Board permission. No person shall do any construction on a public highway or street which has not been permitted by the War Production Board, unless it is of a kind described in paragraphs (c) or (d) above. This prohibition applies to a Governmental Agency which does its own construction work, to one who gets others to do the work for it, and to any contractor or subcontractor who works on the job or gets others to work on it. It also applies to any supplier who furnishes material for the job if he knows or has reason to know that the construction has not been permitted.

(f) How to apply for authorization. The governmental agency responsible for the construction should file an application through the State Highway Department. This application also covers the matter of preference ratings and controlled materials allotments if these are required for the construction. The form is called "Application for Authority to Construct Public Highway or Street, Form PR.1-PA", and copies are obtainable from the State Highway Department or the U. S. Public Roads Administration. Authorizations for road construction will be made on Form GA-1456.

(g) How to figure cost. (1) For the purpose of determining whether construction may be started on a highway or street without permission of the War Production Board, cost means the cost of the whole job as estimated at the time of beginning construction, except that the cost of used materials or used fixtures may be disregarded.

(2) If any materials or fixtures which have not been used are obtained without buying them their value must be included as part of the cost.

(3) The cost of labor must be included, but if labor is unpaid its value need not be included. Contractors' fees also must be included, but architects' and engineers' fees need not be, nor need the cost of administration.

(4) The cost of the right-of-way, that is, the amount paid for the land, whether by purchase or condemnation, need not be included.

(5) All construction on the same project must be included. The word "project" includes all contiguous construction. It also includes all jobs on a street or highway between principal intersecting highways or streets. No project may be split into a number of projects to avoid the provisions of this order.

(h) Revocation of certain stop construction and revocation orders. All specific orders previously issued by the War Production Board (other than "suspension orders" or "consent orders" issued on the basis of a violation of War Production Board orders or regulations) which directed individual builders to stop construction on public highway or street projects are revoked if the cost of completion of the project (not including the cost of work done before the issuance of the stop construction or revocation order) is within the amount now or subsequently provided in paragraph (d) of this order or if the completion of the project would be permissible under this or any subsequent amendment of L-41-e. Provisions of orders revoked by this paragraph which forbid delivery of materials for the project are also revoked. However, this paragraph does not reinstate priorities assistance previously assigned for such projects nor does it permit the continuance of construction on such projects unless the entire cost of completion is within the modified cost limits of L-41-e or unless the completion of the job is permissible under the modified provisions of L-41-e.

PART 3291—CONSUMERS DURABLE GOODS

[Limitation Order L–5–c as Amended Aug. 11, 1945]

DOMESTIC MECHANICAL REFRIGERATORS

§ 3291.6 Limitation Order L–5–c—(a) Definitions. For the purpose of this order:

(1) "Domestic mechanical refrigerator" means any refrigerator for household use which operates either by compression or absorption and which has a net capacity (N. E. M. A. rating) of 16 cubic feet or less, except the following:

(i) A low temperature mechanical refrigerator designed for storage of frozen foods or for quick freezing food whose low temperature compartment customarily operates at a temperature not higher than 15 degrees above zero (Fahrenheit) and contains 50% or more of total refrigerating space in the refrigerator.

(ii) A refrigerator built to meet specifications of the Army, Navy, or the Maritime Commission for use on vessels built or operated by either of those agencies.

(2) "Manufacturer" means any person in the business of making or assembling domestic mechanical refrigerators.

(b) Restrictions on production. (1) No manufacturer shall make or assemble new domestic mechanical refrigerators except as specifically authorized by the War Production Board in writing. Application should be made by filing Form WPB–3700 (and Form WPB–3820 when required by the instructions) with the Field Office of the War Production Board for the district in which the plant where the domestic mechanical refrigerators are to be made or assembled, is located.

(2) Production authorizations under paragraph (b) (1) will be assigned within the approved War Production Board program, on an equitable basis among the applicants. Wherever practicable each applicant will receive a pro rata share of his capacity to produce, based on his facilities and the availability of manpower. Authorizations will not be dependent upon the applicant's having been engaged in the production of domestic mechanical refrigerators at some previous time. In general, smaller manufacturers will be authorized under paragraph (b) (1) to produce a greater percentage of their capacity than larger ones.

(c) Repair parts. There are no restrictions on the quantity of parts which may be made for use in servicing or repairing used domestic mechanical refrigerators. In order to insure the proper servicing of used domestic mechanical refrigerators, the War Production Board will give priorities assistance in the form of allotments of controlled materials and preference ratings for the acquisition of other materials and components to be used in the repairing or servicing of used domestic mechanical refrigerators. Applications for such assistance should be made by filing Form CMP–4b according to the instructions for filing that Form. No person shall use any materials which he has obtained with such assistance in the production or assembly of any new domestic mechanical refrigerator.

(d) Distribution. This order does not restrict the sale or transfer of domestic mechanical refrigerators. Limitation Order L–5–d, however, controls the sale, transfer and delivery of all new domestic mechanical refrigerators. Any manufacturer who wishes to transfer, sell or deliver any such refrigerator, is referred to Order L–5–d.

(e) Additional production without priorities assistance. In addition to the production authorized under paragraph (b), manufacturers may be authorized to make or assemble domestic mechanical refrigerators without priorities assistance as explained in Priorities Regulation 25. Such additional production will be authorized on applications filed on Form WPB–3700 (and Form WPB–3820 when required by instructions) with the field office of the War Production Board for the district in which the plant where the domestic mechanical refrigerators are to be made or assembled, is located. Such applications should not be filed on Form WPB–4000. The number of domestic mechanical refrigerators which may be authorized under this paragraph is limited. Production authorizations will be assigned according to applicants' productive capacity based on the same standards used in assigning authorization under the approved program pursuant to paragraph (b) of this order.

(f) Reports. Any manufacturer making any new domestic mechanical refrigerators either as authorized under paragraph (b) (1) of this order or pursuant to Priorities Regulation 25, must file Form WPB–1600 with the War Production Board according to the instructions for filing that form.

(g) Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order, or who, in connection with this order, wilfully conceals a material fact or furnishes a false information to any department or agency of the United States, is guilty of a crime, and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment. In addition, any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further deliveries of, or from processing or using material under priority control and may be deprived of priorities assistance.

(h) Communications. All reports required to be filed hereunder and all communications concerning this order shall, unless otherwise directed, be addressed to the War Production Board, Consumers Durable Goods Division, Washington 25 D. C., Ref.: L–5–c.

NOTE: The application forms and reporting requirements of this order have been approved by the Bureau of the Budget in accordance with the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

PART 3291—CONSUMERS DURABLE GOODS

[Limitation Order L–13–b as Amended Aug. 11, 1945]

USE OF STEEL IN FURNITURE AND FIXTURES

The fulfillment of requirements for the defense of the United States has created a shortage in the supply of materials and facilities used in the production of furniture and fixtures for defense, for private account and for export, and the following order is deemed necessary and appropriate in the public interest and to promote the national defense:

§ 3291.51 Limitation Order L–13–b—(a) What this order does. This order governs your use of steel in making furniture and fixtures for civilian purposes. It no longer restricts the use of any other metal. In addition, certain items formerly controlled by this order are no longer controlled by it. The order has an exemption if you make less than $50,000 worth of furniture and fixtures in any quarter. Thus this order does not prevent you from using the rights granted under Priorities Regulation 27 if you otherwise qualify under its terms. Finally a ceiling has been placed on the use of steel based on a rate of 25% of the amount used in the twelve months ending June 30, 1941. It is not the policy of the War Production Board to grant you further priorities assistance. Thus the War Production Board cannot undertake to assure you that you will be able to get the materials needed for production up to the ceiling established in this order. If you want to exceed this amount, you should apply under Priorities Regulation 25.

(b) Definitions. For the purposes of this order: (1) "Furniture and fixtures" means all articles shown on List I, and all other articles commonly known as furniture. "Furniture and fixtures" do not include any products on List II.

(2) "Preferred order" means any purchase order or contract calling for delivery to or for the account of the Army or Navy of the United States, the Veterans Administration, the United States Maritime Commission or the War Shipping Administration, including an order for furniture or fixtures which will be incorporated into a product or building to be delivered to one of those agencies.

(c) How much steel you may use. Unless you are covered by paragraphs (d) or (e) below, you may not use more steel in making and assembling new furniture and fixtures in any calendar quarter than the amount you use to fill preferred orders actually on hand plus 6¼% of the amount of steel you used in making and assembling furniture and fixtures in the twelve months ending June 30, 1941. To use steel under this order means to cut or process it for use in the production of furniture and fixtures, or to assemble in the completed product purchased parts containing steel (except the parts listed in paragraph (d) (2) below).

(d) Exemption for small manufacturers and for small amounts of steel. (1) In any event you may make up to $50,000 worth of furniture and fixtures (manufacturer's sales price) in any quarter in addition to whatever preferred orders you may fill, without regard to the ceiling in paragraph (c). (2) The ceiling in paragraph (c) does not include steel contained in swivel irons, casters, upholstery springs and joining hardware, or in any furniture or fixtures containing 5% or less of steel by weight in addition to those parts mentioned above. Similarly in computing your base period use of steel you should not include what you used for such purposes.

(e) Steel may be substituted for wood under certain conditions. You may substitute steel parts for wooden ones in the furniture and fixtures you are currently making if this substitution does not cause an increase in your total production of furniture and fixtures in any calendar quarter by dollar value over the amount of furniture and fixtures you made in the previous quarter.

NOTE: Paragraphs (f) to (k), inclusive, formerly paragraphs (d) to (i), inclusive, redesignated Aug. 11, 1945.

(f) Spot authorizations under Priorities Regulation 25—(1) Applications and authorizations under this amended order. If you want to use more steel in making furniture and fixtures than you are permitted to use under paragraphs (c) or (d), or if you want to substitute steel parts for wooden ones and increase your production of furniture and fixtures beyond the amount permitted in paragraph (e) you may apply for permission to do so as explained in Priorities Regulation 25. If you are authorized on or after August 11, 1945 under that regulation to make furniture and fixtures, you may use steel to make the furniture and fixtures authorized in addition to the amounts permitted under paragraphs (c) through (e).

(2) Effect of spot authorizations granted before this order was amended. If you were authorized before August 11, 1945 under Priorities Regulation 25 to make furniture and fixtures, you may use steel to make the furniture and fixtures authorized instead of, but not in addition to, the amounts permitted under paragraphs (c) through (e). Thus if your "spot authorization" granted before August 11, 1945 itself permits you to make more furniture and fixtures than this order does, it will be advantageous for you to operate under the "spot authorization". On the other hand, if you may make more furniture and fixtures under paragraphs (c) through (e) than under your "spot authorization", then that authorization no longer helps you.

(g) Reuse of steel or steel parts is not restricted. This order does not restrict the reuse in making or assembling furniture or fixtures of any steel parts which have once been used in any completed article of furniture or fixtures.

(h) Finished item deliveries. No person shall deliver, offer for sale, or accept delivery of any furniture or fixtures which he knows or has reason to believe were made or assembled in violation of this order.

(i) Applicability of other orders and regulations. This order and all transactions affected by it are subject to all applicable regulations of the War Production Board. If any other order of the War Production Board limits the use of any material in the manufacture of furniture and fixtures to a greater extent than this order does, the other order governs.

(j) Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order or who, in connection with this order, wilfully conceals a material fact or furnishes false information to any department or agency of the United States, is guilty of a crime, and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment. In addition, any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further deliveries of, or from processing or using material under priority control and may be deprived of priorities assistance.

(k) Communications. All communications concerning this order shall, unless otherwise directed, be addressed to the War Production Board, Consumers Durable Goods Division, Washington 25, D. C., Ref.: L–13–b.

Issued this 11th day of August 1945.

PART 3301—CORK, ASBESTOS AND FIBROUS GLASS

ASBESTOS TEXTILES

§ 3301.16 Conservation Order M-283—(a) Definitions. (1) "Asbestos textiles" means any material initially produced from the mineral asbestos by means of a carding operation and includes all such material in the following forms subsequent to the carding operation, including scrap:

Carded fiber.
Plain roving (underwriter's and commercial).
Plain roving (above underwriter's grade).
Reinforced roving.
Cable filler.
Lapps.
Yarn—single.
Yarn—plied.
Yarn—metallic.
Cloth—1¼ pounds per square yard and lighter, all weaves.
Cloth—heavier than 1¼ pounds per square yard, non-metallic, plain weave.
Cloth—heavier than 1¼ pounds per square yard, metallic, plain weave.
Cloth—all weights, metallic and non-metallic other than plain weave.

(2) "Supplier" means any person who produces asbestos textiles from the mineral asbestos by means of a carding operation.

(3) "Consumer" means any person who purchases or accepts delivery of asbestos textiles from a supplier for resale, or for use in the manufacture of other forms of asbestos textiles or of articles made in whole or in part of asbestos textiles, or for any other use. A supplier, who uses asbestos textiles which he has produced in the manufacture of any product which is not itself an asbestos textile as defined in paragraph (a) (1), shall be deemed also to be a consumer.

(4) "Implements of war" means combat end products, complete for tactical operations (including, but not limited to, aircraft, ammunition, armament, weapons, ships, tanks and military vehicles), and any parts, assemblies and materials to be incorporated in any of the foregoing items being produced for the Army or the Navy of the United States, the Maritime Commission, the War Shipping Administration, Veterans Administration, or for any foreign government pursuant to the act approved March 11, 1941, entitled "An Act to Promote the Defense of the United States" (Lend-Lease Act), where the use of any asbestos textiles to the extent employed is required by the latest issue of government specifications (including performance specifications, unless otherwise directed by the War Production Board) applicable to the contract, subcontract, or purchase order. The term does not include facilities or equipment used to manufacture the foregoing items.

(b) Restrictions on delivery and use. (1) No supplier shall deliver or use asbestos textiles and no person shall accept delivery of asbestos textiles from a supplier, except as specifically authorized in writing by War Production Board, upon application pursuant to paragraph (d). Even though asbestos textiles have been allocated by the War Production Board for incorporation into friction materials for new civilian passenger cars and trucks, they may not be used for that purpose if to do so will interfere with the production of implements of war or with the filling of rated orders for which asbestos textiles have been allocated by the War Production Board.

(2) War Production Board may from time to time issue special directions to any person with respect to his use, processing to final product, delivery, acceptance of delivery, or placing of orders, of asbestos textiles, notwithstanding the provision of paragraph (c), or special directions to any supplier with respect to the kinds of asbestos textiles which he may or must manufacture, and the grades and types of asbestos fiber which he may or must use in the production of asbestos textiles.

(3) No supplier shall deliver any asbestos textiles to any person if he knows or has reason to believe that such person would receive or use it in violation of the terms hereof, nor may any person deliver or accept delivery of any item which he knows or has reason to believe was manufactured in violation of the terms hereof.

(4) Each supplier shall notify the War Production Board of his inability to make authorized delivery, or of cancellation by a consumer of any authorized delivery, within 5 days after he has notice of such fact.

(c) Small order exemption. Specific authorization shall not be required for:

(1) Any person to accept delivery of 500 pounds or less of asbestos textiles in the aggregate from all sources during any calendar month, provided that he has not been specifically authorized to accept delivery of any quantity of asbestos textiles during such month; and

(2) Any supplier to deliver 500 pounds or less of asbestos textiles to any person in any calendar month, provided that:

(i) No supplier shall deliver in the aggregate in any calendar month, pursuant to this paragraph (c), an amount in excess of 5 per cent by weight of his actual shipment of asbestos textiles for the preceding month;

(ii) No supplier shall make deliveries during any calendar month, pursuant to this paragraph (c), if such deliveries will prevent completion of any deliveries which have been specifically authorized for such month.

(3) For the purposes of paragraphs (c) (1) and (c) (2) above, the term "person" means usual purchasing unit, whether plant, distributing agency, corporation or other legal entity.

(d) Applications and reports—(1) Consumers. Each consumer seeking authorization to accept delivery of asbestos textiles during any calendar month shall file application on Form WPB-2137 as prescribed in that form.

(2) Suppliers. Suppliers shall seek authorization to deliver asbestos textiles only to consumers who have filed with them WPB-2137 as prescribed in that form.

(3) Applications for allocations of plain roving, reinforced roving, cable filler, and lapps for incorporation into Navy cable shall be made on a calendar quarterly basis on Form WPB-2137.2 as prescribed therein, beginning with the first quarter of 1945.

(4) War Production Board may from time to time issue special instructions with respect to the method or time of filing or content of WPB Form 2137.

(e) Separation of functions. Each supplier who consumes all or part of his production of asbestos textiles in the manufacture of any product which is not itself an asbestos textile, as defined in paragraph (a) (1), shall treat the production and consumption parts of his operations as separate divisions, and delivery to himself for consumption shall be deemed delivery, requiring authorization within the meaning of paragraph (b) (1). Each such supplier in his separate capacity as a consumer and as a supplier shall file all the applications and reports required by paragraphs (d) (1), (d) (2) and (d) (3). A supplier who consumes all or any part of his production of asbestos textiles in the manufacture of products which are not asbestos textiles as defined in paragraph (a) (1) must request allocation only for that type of asbestos textile that immediately precedes the manufacturing process which changes its form beyond that shown in the list of asbestos textiles in paragraph (a) (1).

(f) Restrictions on manufacture of List A products. No person shall use any asbestos textile in the manufacture of any item, or part for an item, on List A.

(g) Restrictions on manufacture of List B products. On and after the governing date specified in List B, no person in the manufacture of any item on List B shall use any asbestos textile which is either of a grade (in terms of percentage of asbestos content) higher than the grade specified in List B, or is of a cut finer than the cut specified in List B.

(h) [Revoked Jan. 4, 1945.]

(i) Miscellaneous provisions—(1) Applicability of regulations. This order and all transactions affected hereby are subject to all applicable War Production Board regulations, as amended from time to time.

(2) Forms. Forms WPB-2137 and WPB-2137.2, referred to in paragraph (d), have been approved by the Bureau of the Budget in accordance with Federal Reports Act of 1942.

(3) Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order, or who, in connection with this order, wilfully conceals a material fact or furnishes false information to any department or agency of the United States government, is guilty of a crime, and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment. In addition, any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further deliveries of, or from processing or using, material under priority control, and may be deprived of priorities assistance.

(4) Communications to War Production Board. All reports required to be filed hereunder, and all communications concerning this order, shall, unless otherwise directed, be addressed to: War Production Board, Cork, Asbestos & Fibrous Glass Division, Washington 25, D. C. Ref: M-283.

(5) Appeals. Any appeal from the provisions of this order must be made by letter in triplicate addressed to the War Production Board, Cork, Asbestos and Fibrous Glass Division, Washington 25, D. C., Ref: M-283, referring to the particular provision appealed from, stating fully the grounds of the appeal and setting forth the necessary supporting information. The supporting information shall include:

1. The List A or B product for which the asbestos textiles will be used;

2. The period of time, not exceeding one calendar quarter, for which relief is requested;

3. The monthly schedule of the amount of asbestos textiles which would be required in the production of the List A or B product;

4. The type of asbestos textile to be used and the grade and cut.

Ordinarily consideration will be given only to those appeals where compliance by the appellant or another would work an exceptional and unreasonable hardship on the manufacturer or user of the List A or B product which is not suffered generally by others in the same industry or activity.

Issued this 11th day of August 1945.

PART 944—REGULATIONS APPLICABLE TO THE OPERATIONS OF THE PRIORITIES SYSTEM

SPOT AUTHORIZATIONS FOR PRODUCTION

§ 944.46 Priorities Regulation 25—(a) What this regulation does. This regulation describes the revised spot authorization method for getting authorizations to produce a product that is still restricted or limited by certain L orders. Other orders controlling products using relatively less amounts of the same materials and manpower have been revoked or relaxed, but these L orders had to be retained because the products controlled require substantial amounts of materials and manpower, and unlimited production would interfere with the war effort. This regulation applies only to the L orders listed on Direction 1 to this regulation and to any other orders which expressly state that authorizations may be obtained under this regulation. This regulation differs from the previous spot authorization method chiefly in that preference ratings and allotments are no longer given with the spot authorization.

(b) Policy for granting spot authorizations. The WPB will give spot authorizations where it finds that the use of materials and manpower in the proposed production will not interfere with war production and will not be so great as to interfere with a reasonably free supply of basic materials for industry generally.

(c) Priorities assistance—(1) No priorities assistance will be given with a spot authorization. No allotments of controlled material will be made, and no preference rating will be assigned on a spot authorization. The WPB does not guarantee, by granting an authorization that controlled materials or other materials and products will be available to a particular applicant.

(2) Separate applications for priorities assistance. Applications for priorities assistance for production authorized under Priorities Regulation 25 may be made in any of the usual ways. The policy for granting assistance for this production is explained in Priorities Regulation 28. Priorities assistance will generally be given only on a limited basis and to prevent exceptional and unreasonable hardship under the conditions described in paragraph (c) of Priorities Regulation 28.

(d) How to apply for spot authorization. Application for a spot authorization should be made by filing Form WPB-4000 (or special form where provided by an order) with the WPB Field Office for the district for the plant in which you propose to produce. The application should be accompanied by Form WPB-3820 (Statement of Manpower Information) unless (1) the plant is located in a Group III, IV, or unclassified Labor Area, or (2) you do not propose to use more than 100 production workers for all production in the plant. If either of these two conditions apply, you should attach a statement to that effect.

(e) Effect of spot authorizations. (1) A spot authorization (on Form CMPL-150C or Form WPB-4000) provides an exemption from the provisions of orders which refer to this regulation, or of orders which are listed on Direction 1 to this regulation. When the orders themselves include provisions as to the effect of a spot authorization, the exemption applies only to the extent stated in those provisions. In the absence of such provisions, the exemption applies to present production restrictions in the order. All other provisions of the order and the provisions of other applicable orders or regulations still apply.

(2) Repair parts and material obtained from another source may not be used. You may not use any material or products for production authorized under this regulation which you obtained by using a preference rating or allotment symbol assigned for another purpose unless you are unable to use or dispose of the materials or products for the purpose for which the allotment or rating was given. In addition, you may not use any parts which you manufactured under an authorized production schedule assigned by WPB for the manufacture of repair parts (i. e., where the CMP Product Code specifically includes "repair parts", such as Code 807, "Repair parts for consumers durable goods"). For example, if you have been making domestic mechanical refrigerator repair parts with an allotment and rating under Code 807, you may not use these parts to make domestic mechanical refrigerators authorized by a spot authorization under this regulation. This does not prevent the use of the rating and allotment symbol assigned by Priorities Regulation 27 for production materials for production authorized under this regulation, where you are otherwise qualified under Priorities Regulation 27.

(3) Schedules not automatically rated. Authorization of a production schedule under this regulation does not of itself give the applicant a preference rating of AA-5 under § 944.1b of Priorities Regulation 1.

(4) Rated orders for other products you can produce must still be accepted. Spot authorizations to produce civilian products do not allow you to refuse to accept and produce rated orders for civilian or military production. If you receive a spot authorization, you still must comply with all the provisions of Priorities Regulation 1 regarding the acceptance and filling of rated orders.

(5) Restrictions on Class A components. Spot authorization to make a product restricted by a WPB Order not only gives you relief from the production restrictions of that order but also will grant the same relief automatically to any sub-contractor who furnishes you with a Class A component of the product which is restricted by the same order.

(f) Relationship to the appeals procedure. An appeal may not be filed from the restrictions of an order which can be waived by a spot authorization. The only relief is by filing for a spot authorization. However, if your application for a spot authorization is denied, and if you will consequently suffer exceptional and unreasonable hardship, you can then appeal in the way described in Priorities Regulation 16.

(g) Authorizations issued prior to July 1st effective after July 1. Any spot authorization issued under this regulation prior to July 1st which authorizes production after July 1st remains in effect if the restrictions of the L or M order from which it gave an exemption continue in effect.

Issued this 13th day of August 1945.

[Suspension Order S-871]

BLISH, MIZE AND SILLIMAN HARDWARE CO.

Blish, Mize and Silliman Hardware Company, Atchison, Kansas, is a Kansas Corporation engaged in the sale of hardware, farm supplies and liquefied petroleum gas equipment. During February and April of 1944 the Corporation delivered liquefied petroleum gas equipment for installation purposes without authorization of the War Production Board in violation of Limitation Order L-86. Blish, Mize and Silliman Hardware Company was familiar with Limitation Order L-86, and knew or had reason to believe that the liquefied petroleum gas equipment which it delivered would be used for installation purposes.

These violations of Limitation Order L-86 diverted critical materials to uses not authorized by the War Production Board. In view of the foregoing, it is hereby ordered, that:

§ 1010.871 Suspension Order No. S-871. (a) Blish, Mize and Silliman Hardware Company shall not for two months from the effective date of this order receive or accept delivery of any liquefied petroleum gas equipment. This does not apply to material in transit for delivery to the Corporation on the effective date of this order.

(b) The restrictions and prohibitions contained herein shall apply to Blish, Mize and Silliman Hardware Company, its successors and assigns, and persons acting in its behalf. Prohibitions against the taking of any action include the taking indirectly as well as directly of any such action.

(c) Nothing contained in this order shall be deemed to relieve Blish, Mize and Silliman Hardware Company from any restriction, prohibition or provision contained in any other order or regulation of the War Production Board, except insofar as the same may be inconsistent with the provisions hereof.

(d) This order shall take effect on August 13, 1945.

JOSEPH BISCARO

Joseph Biscaro, 31 Rumford Street, Depew, New York, is a general building contractor. On or about August 1, 1944, he began construction of a residence at Cheektowaga, New York, and thereafter carried on such construction through December 28, 1944, at a cost in excess of the amount limited by Conservation Order L-41. Biscaro was aware of War Production Board restrictions on construction and of Order L-41, and beginning and carrying on this construction without specific authorization of the War Production Board was in wilful violation of that order. This violation has diverted critical material to uses not authorized by the War Production Board. In view of the foregoing, it is hereby ordered, that:

§ 1010.878 Suspension Order No. S-878. (a) From the effective date of this order, to and including December 31, 1945, Joseph Biscaro shall not apply or extend any preference ratings or use any CMP allotment symbols, regardless of the delivery date named in any purchase order to which such ratings may be applied or extended or on which CMP allotment symbols are used.

(b) Joseph Biscaro shall cancel immediately all preference ratings which he has applied or extended to orders which have not yet been filled, and shall also cancel immediately all unfilled orders which he has placed for controlled materials bearing a CMP allotment symbol (including the MRO symbol and the symbol SO under the small order procedure of CMP Regulation No. 1).

(c) All preference ratings, allotments and allocations presently outstanding in connection with orders for delivery on materials to Joseph Biscaro or placed prior to January 1, 1946, are void and shall not be given any effect by suppliers of Joseph Biscaro or by any other person. This does not apply to material already delivered or in transit for delivery to him on the effective date of this order.

(d) During the period in which this order shall be in effect, no authorization to begin any new construction to be erected in whole or in part by Joseph Biscaro shall be granted, except as may be hereafter specifically authorized in writing by an official order of the War Production Board, as an exception to, or modification of this order.

(e) The restrictions and prohibitions contained herein shall apply to Joseph Biscaro, his successors and assigns or persons acting on his behalf. Prohibitions against the taking of any action include the taking indirectly as well as directly of any such action.

(f) Nothing contained in this order shall be deemed to relieve Joseph Biscaro, from any restriction, prohibition or provision contained in any other order or regulation of the War Production Board, except insofar as the same may be inconsistent with the provisions hereof.

(g) This order shall take effect on August 13, 1945.

Scope

§ 3133.9 Limitation Order L-241—(a) The purpose of this order. This order does four things: First it limits the tonnage of paper which a printer may use for commercial printing. This is called his "consumption quota". A printer may not exceed his consumption quota even though the paper is physically available to him. Second, it limits the tonnage of paper which may be accepted by or on behalf of a printer. It also limits the tonnage of paper which may be accepted by a purchaser of commercial printing for a printer's use. Third, it limits the basis weight of paper which may be used in printing certain items. Fourth, it limits the tonnage of paper which a person may cause to be consumed in printing certain items.

Definitions and Explanations

(b) Commercial printing. "Commercial printing" means all printing or duplicating produced by any of the following types of printing or duplicating machines:

Hand and automatic sheet and web-fed platen presses.
Hand and automatic fed plate engraving presses.
Hand and automatic fed flat-bed cylinder presses.
Proof presses.
Sheet and web-fed rotary letterpresses.
Sheet and web-fed offset or lithographic presses.
Sheet and web-fed rotary gravure presses.
Thermographic presses.
Sheet and web-fed aniline-ink presses.

Duplicating machines, including but not limited to ink ribbon, gelatin, spirit, stencil and reproducing typewriter principle machines and Multilith and Davidson duplicators.

However, this order does not affect printing which is covered by other orders of the War Production Board, as described in paragraph (j). "Printed matter" includes duplicated matter as well as printed matter.

If a person is uncertain as to whether particular printed matter is "commercial printing" as defined in this order, or whether it is covered by Schedules I or II of this order, he may ask the War Production Board for an official determination. The War Production Board may also make this determination upon its own motion. Such a determination may be made only by the Washington office of the War Production Board and shall be issued to the printer or publisher in the name of the Recording Secretary of the War Production Board. It shall be conclusive for the purpose of this order, unless revoked or modified by the same authority.

(c) Printer. The term "printer" is used throughout this order, for the sake of convenience and brevity, to include printers who operate printing machines and duplicators who operate duplicating machines. The order applies to every printer, including a printer who operates a private or "captive" plant as well as a printer who does work for the trade. The term does not include a publisher or a person who orders printing.

(d) Paper. "Paper" means any grade, quality, type, basis weight or size of paper, gummed paper, paperboard or bristol used in commercial printing. The term includes paper reclaimed wholly or partly from printed or unprinted waste, as well as paper made entirely from virgin fiber.

(e) Use. (1) Paper is "used" when ink is first applied to it by a printer. However, paper is not "used" under this order when ink is applied to it by penruling equipment. Sometimes paper is put through a press more than once, either by the same printer or by different printers—for instance, when several colors are used or when the imprint of a particular distributor is added after part of the printing is done. For the purposes of this order the paper is deemed to be "used" when the first application of ink is made by a printer. It makes no difference how many other applications of ink are put on the paper by the same or different printers.

(2) When a job is started in one calendar quarter and runs over into the next, the paper actually used during each quarter must be charged against the printer's consumption quota for that quarter. The entire job may not be regarded as if it were started and finished in the same quarter.

(f) Production waste. All production waste before, during and after printing (such as trim and waste sheets) shall be included in determining the tonnage of paper which a printer uses in commercial printing.

(g) [Deleted July 3, 1945.]

(h) Transfer of quotas. (1) Quotas provided by one War Production Board order may not be used for the purposes set forth in any other order. Thus, for example, a prfinter may not use for commercial printing any part of a consumption quota established under Order L–240 (Newspapers), Order L–244 (Magazines) or Order L–245 (Books and Booklets), and he may not permjt any part of his consumption quota established under this order to be used for newspapers, magazines or books.

(2) It sometimes happens that one printer does work for another printer, and there is a question as to which one should deduct the paper from his quota. Printer A may "farm out" certain work by purchasing "press time" from printer B. This may be done, for example, where printer A cannot fill an order for a customer because he does not have available the right equipment, material, personnel, or facilities. In such a case, where the customer looks only to A for the finished product and where B acts merely as a sub-contractor, the paper may be charged against A's quota, even though B actually does the printing provided the order from A to B specifically states these facts. This does not mean that A may assign his quota to B. The rules governing the assignability of quotas are stated in Priorities Regulation 7A.

(i) Exceptions. Certain paragraphs of this order contain exceptions to general rules. These exceptions apply only to the provisions to which they specifically refer. They do not apply to any other portions of the order.

Consumption Quota

(j) Printing which is covered by other orders. Certain types of printing are not covered by this order. When a printer adds up the weight of paper which he used in 1941, he may not count the paper which went into those items. Also, a printer may not use the consumption quota which he gets under this order for the printing of any of those items. They are:

(1) Newspapers (defined in Limitation Order L–240).

(2) Magazines (defined in Limitation Order L–244).

(3) Books (defined in Limitation Order L–245).

(4) Greeting cards and illustrated post cards (defined in Limitation Order L–289).

(5) Displays (defined in Limitation Order L–294).

(6) Wallpaper (defined in Limitation Order L–177).

(8) Boxes (defined in Limitation Order L–239).

(9) Converted products named in Lists A B, C or D of General Conservation Order M–241–a, except gummed paper.

(10) Any other "converted products" defined in General Conservation Order M–241–a except those which must be printed in order to serve the purpose for which they are made.

(k) Printing which is not restricted. (1) A printer is not limited in the amount of paper which he may use for printing which is ordered by a contractor who will subsequently deliver the printing to the Army, Navy, Maritime Commission or War Shipping Administration as a part of a contract for an item purchased by one of those agencies. When only part of an order for printing is required for delivery to one of those agencies under such a contract, the printer must charge the paper used in the remaining part against his consumption quota.

(2) A printer is not limited in the amount of paper which he may use for official Army or Navy post, camp, station or unit newspapers if:

(i) They are ordered by the officer in command of the Army or Navy establishment on official War Department or Navy Department purchase orders, requisitions or contracts;

(ii) They contain no paid advertising; and

(iii) They are not owned, edited or operated by civilians but are run entirely by military personnel (although the printing may be done in commercial plants).

(3) A printer is not limited in the amount of paper which he may use for social stationery bearing the printed insignia or identification of an Army or Navy post, camp, station or unit, and sold in packages with envelopes to post exchanges or Ships Service Departments; the manufacture of envelopes, however, is controlled by Order M–241–a.

(4) No person may order commercial printing under paragraph (k) and no person may accept such an order, unless the person placing the order furnishes to that printer a certification in substantially the following form, signed manually or as provided in Priorities Regulation 7 (§ 944.27) by an official duly authorized for such purpose:

The undersigned certifies, subject to the penalties of section 35 (A) of the United States Criminal Code, to the printer and to the War Production Board that he is familiar with paragraph (k) of Order L–241 and that this purchase order is for printing governed by paragraph (k) of Order L–241. [If only part of the order is covered by paragraph (k) specify what part.]

(5) When a printer adds up the weight of paper which he used in 1941, he may not count the paper which went into the items described in paragraphs (k) (1) and (k) (2) above. Also, a printer may use an unlimited amount of paper for those items from now on.

(l) Computation of consumption quota. In the third calendar quarter of 1945 and in each calendar quarter after that, no printer may use for commercial printing any paper in excess of his quarterly consumption quota, which shall be computed as follows:

(1) Determine the printer's "quarterly base tonnage" according to either of the two following methods, depending on his individual needs. Having selected one method, the printer must use that method throughout the year.

First method:

(i) Add up the total pounds of paper used in 1941 for all types of printing;

(ii) Subtract the pounds of paper used in 1941 for the items covered by other orders, as listed in paragraph (j) above;

(iii) Subtract the pounds of paper used in 1941 for the unrestricted items listed in paragraph (k) above;

(iv) Divide by four. This is the printer's "quarterly base tonnage", from which the required reductions shall be made.

Second method:

(i) Add up the total pounds of paper used during the same calendar quarter of 1941 for all types of printing;

(ii) Subtract the pounds of paper used during that quarter of 1941 for the items covered by other orders, as listed in paragraph (j) above;

(iii) Subtract the pounds of paper used during that quarter of 1941 for the unrestricted items listed in paragraph (k) above.

(iv) The balance is the printer's "quarterly base tonnage", from which the required reductions shall be made.

(2) If the printer's quarterly base tonnage is not more than 10 tons, his quarterly consumption quota is 10 tons.

(3) If the printer's quarterly base tonnage is more than 10 tons but not more than 25 tons, his quarterly consumption quota is the same as his quarterly base tonnage.

(4) If the printer's quarterly base tonnage is more than 25 tons but less than 29.4 tons, his quarterly consumption quota is 25 tons.

(5) If the printer's quarterly base tonnage is more than 29.4 tons, his quarterly consumption quota is 85 percent of his quarterly base tonnage.

(6) If a person used no paper for commercial printing in 1941 and now wishes to enter the printing business, he shall have a consumption quota of 10 tons per quarter commencing with the third quarter of 1945 provided he files with the Commercial Printing Section, Printing and Publishing Division, War Production Board, Washington 25, D. C., before using any part of the said consumption quota, substantially the following statement:

I hereby represent to the War Production Board, subject to the penalties of section 35 (A) of the United States Criminal Code, that I have no consumption quota for commercial printing under Order L–241, that I am not associated directly or indirectly with any person, firm or corporation having a consumption quota under that order, and that I will not become associated directly or indirectly with any such person, firm or corporation while using the consumption quota provided for me under paragraph (l) (6) of Order L–241.

(m) Borrowing and carry-over. (1) A printer may add, under either method of computation, an extra 15 percent to his consumption quota in any quarter if he subtracts that amount from his consumption quota for the next quarter.

(2) A printer may carry over for future use accumulated savings resulting from under-use of quota (commencing with the fourth quarter of 1943), but he may not use in a calendar quarter any portion of his carry-over in excess of 15% of his consumption quota for that quarter. For example, if a printer's quarterly consumption quota is 100,000 pounds and his accumulated carry-over is 25,000 pounds, he may use in the current quarter, in addition to his quarterly consumption quota, 15,000 pounds of carry-over (i. e., 15% of 100,000 pounds) or a total of 115,000 pounds. The balance of the carry-over may be used in subsequent quarters, subject to the provisions of this paragraph.

(n) Total permitted consumption. A printer may use in any calendar quarter:

(1) His quarterly consumption quota as determined under paragraph (l);

(2) Plus permitted borrowing from his consumption quota for the next calendar quarter as provided in paragraph (m) (1);

(3) Plus any less-than-quota savings which may be used in that calendar quarter as provided in paragraph (m) (2); or minus any tonnage which had been borrowed during the preceding calendar quarter from his consumption quota for that calendar quarter, as provided in paragraph (m) (1);

(4) Plus ex-quota tonnage, if any, which may have been granted on appeal for consumption in that calendar quarter.

(o) [Deleted July 3, 1945.]

(p) Certification to printer. No printer may fill an order for (1) magazines, (2) books, (3) greeting cards or illustrated post cards, (4) commercial printing purchased by a government, or (5) any of the items listed in schedule II of this order, unless he receives, or has previously received, from the person who publishes or issues the item, or causes the item to be printed, a certification in substantially the following form, signed manually or as provided in Priorities Regulation 7 (§ 944.27) by an official duly authorized for such purpose:

The undersigned certifies, subject to the penalties of section 35 (A) of the United States Criminal Code, to the printer and to the War Production Board that he is familiar with (insert the relevant provision) (1) Order L–244 (magazines), (2) Order L–245 (books), (3) Order L–289 (greeting cards and illustrated post cards), (4) L–340 (governmental commercial printing and duplicating), (5) Schedule II to Order L–241, and that all orders placed by the undersigned with that printer for items regulated by the relevant order (or schedule), as amended from time to time, will be in compliance therewith.

This is a one-time certification and need not accompany each individual order for printing.

Delivery Restrictions

(q) Limit on tonnage which may be accepted. (1) During the third calendar quarter of 1945 and each calendar quarter thereafter, no printer may accept, and no person may accept for that printer's use, paper in excess of his permitted consumption during that calendar quarter.

(2) No printer may order or accept, and no person may order or accept for that printer's use, any newsprint for use under Order L–241 which will cause his tonnage of newsprint on hand on October 1, 1945, to be in excess of 45% of his actual newsprint consumption during the third quarter of 1945, or 60 tons, whichever is greater. This provision does not apply to any grade of paper other than newsprint.

(r) Certification to paper dealer or mill. No printer may order or accept delivery of paper, and no person may deliver paper to a printer, unless the printer furnishes, or has previously furnished, to the person making the delivery, a certification in substantially the following form, signed manually or as provided in Priorities Regulation 7 (§ 944.27) by an official duly authorized for such purpose:

The undersigned printer certifies, subject to the penalties of section 35 (A) of the United States Criminal Code, to the seller and to the War Production Board that he is familiar with Order L–241 and that all purchases by him of paper for items regulated by that order, as amended from time to time, will be in compliance therewith.

This is a one-time certification and need not accompany each individual order for paper. A new certification need not be furnished by any printer who has furnished a certification pursuant to paragraph (r) of Order L–241 after April 4, 1945.

Material Printed in Violation of War Production Board Orders

(s) Restrictions on paper suppliers, printers and binders. (1) No person may sell or deliver any paper which he knows, or has reason to believe, will be accepted or used in violation of this order.

(2) No person may apply ink to any paper if he knows, or has reason to believe, that the printing of such paper will be in excess of the publisher's permitted consumption under Limitation Orders L–240, L–244, L–245, L–289, L–340 or Schedule II of Order L–241.

(3) No person may bind or otherwise process paper if he knows, or has reason to believe, that such paper was used in excess of the printer's permitted consumption under this order.

Issuance of Schedules

(t) Prohibited and restricted uses of paper and paperboard. The War Production Board may issue, from time to time, schedules which will prohibit the use of paper in certain items, limit the basis weight of paper which may be used in other items, and limit the tonnage of paper which a person who publishes or issues certain items may cause to be consumed in the printing of those items.

Miscellaneous Provisions

(u) Records. In order to assure compliance with this order, every printer must calculate, as accurately as he can, the tonnage of paper which he used during each quarter of 1941 for the items covered by this order. He must also keep accurate records of this type of information for each calendar quarter beginning with January 1, 1943. He must preserve these figures and his work sheets, subject to inspection by War Production Board officials as long as this order remains in force and for 2 years after that.

(v) Applicability of regulations. This order and all transactions affected by it are subject to all present and future regulations of the War Production Board.

(w) Appeals. Any appeal from the provisions of this order shall be made by filing a letter referring to the particular

(c) Exceptions to Order L–120. Schedules I and III to Order L–120 provide:

Paper or paperboard may be manufactured for a particular use in any basis weight or thickness permitted for such use by this or any other order of the War Production Board, Provided the basis weight or thickness does not exceed the maximum specified by the War Production Board for such use, and Provided all other provisions of this or such other orders are fully complied with.

Pursuant to this provision the manufacture of paper in the basis weights specified in this list for items 1, 4, 6, 7, and 16 is hereby permitted.

SCHEDULE II

(a) Commercial printing which is charged against the quota of both the printer and the person who causes it to be printed. Certain commercial printing is subject to a "two-sided" limitation. As is the case with all types of commercial printing covered by this order, the paper consumed in such printing must be deducted from the commercial printer's consumption quota; however, in the case of the material covered by this Schedule II, the same paper must also be deducted from the consumption quota of the person who causes it to be printed. In other words, the publisher or issuer of such material must reduce his consumption of paper by the required percentage and he must also have the printing done by a printer who will debit his consumption quota under paragraph (1) of this order.

Any paper which a commercial printer consumed in such printing during 1941 shall be included in computing his consumption quota under paragraph (1) whether or not he prints any of this material after January 1, 1945. The paper which a commercial printer consumes for such printing after January 1, 1945, must be deducted from his consumption quota, whether or not he printed such material in 1941.

(b) Shopping guides, free distribution newspapers, want ad publications, free distribution publications in newspaper format—(1) Consumption quota. In the third calendar quarter of 1945, and in each calendar quarter after that, no publisher or other person may cause to be consumed in the printing of any shopping guide, free distribution newspaper, want ad publication or free distribution publication in newspaper format any paper in excess of his quarterly consumption quota, which shall be determined as follows:

(i) Ascertain the tonnage of paper consumed in printing that particular publication in the corresponding quarter of 1941, including all supplements, inserts and other printed matter physically incorporated into such publication or delivered together with it. This is the publisher's "quarterly base tonnage", from which the required reductions shall be made.

(ii) If a publisher's quarterly base tonnage is 5 tons or less, his quarterly consumption quota is 5 tons. Moreover, any person who used no paper whatever for items covered by this paragraph in 1941 may cause 5 tons per quarter to be used for this purpose beginning with the third quarter of 1945.

(iii) If the publisher's quarterly base tonnage in any calendar quarter is more than 5 tons but less than 25 tons, his consumption quota for that quarter is the same as his base tonnage. He need not use less than he used in the corresponding quarter of 1941, but he may not use more.

(iv) If the publisher's base tonnage in any calendar quarter is 25 tons or more, the following sliding scale of percentage cuts shall be applied:

Deduct 8% of the amount over 25 tons but not over 125 tons.

Deduct 11% of the amount over 125 tons but not over 250 tons.

Deduct 14% of the amount over 250 tons but not over 500 tons.

Deduct 20% of the amount over 500 tons but not over 1000 tons.

Deduct 23% of the amount over 1000 tons.

The balance remaining after subtraction of the above reductions from the publisher's quarterly base tonnage is his consumption quota for that quarter. For example, if the publisher consumed during the third quarter of 1941 340 tons, his consumption quota for the third quarter of 1945 would be determined as follows:

25 tons no cut	25 tons
125 tons 11% cut	111.25 tons
90 tons 14% cut	77.40 tons
340 tons quarterly base tonnage	305.65 tons quarterly consumption quota

(2) Carry-over. A publisher or issuer of a shopping guide, free distribution newspaper, want ad publication or free distribution publication in newspaper format may carry over for future use accumulated savings resulting from under-use of quota, but he may not use in a calendar quarter any portion of his carry-over in excess of 15% of his consumption quota for that quarter.

(3) Transfer of quotas. Where two or more shopping guides, free distribution newspapers, want ad publications, or free distribution publications in newspaper format are published by the same person and are distributed primarily in the same city or trading area, he may combine or distribute his consumption quotas among his publications in that city or trading area. However, after May 24, 1944, no such publisher may transfer any part of his consumption quota to a different city or trading area.

(4) "Servicemen's", "overseas", "pony" or other condensed editions of newspapers which are distributed without charge to United States Armed Forces personnel may be produced from a commercial printer's quota under Order L–241, without regard to paragraph (b) of Schedule II, provided the newspaper publisher makes no charge to a commercial sponsor or any other person for advertising space, for the editorial material appearing in the edition or for any other service connected with it. However, the newspaper publisher may charge a sponsor for the cost of printing if the newspaper publisher operates a commercial printing establishment and deducts the paper from his commercial printing quota under Order L–241. A newspaper publisher may produce such an edition out of his own consumption quota under L–240 if he wishes to.

(c) Miscellaneous publications—(1) Definition. A "miscellaneous publication" is any bound or unbound collection of printed pages consisting of reading matter and or illustrations (except newspapers as defined in Order L–240, books as defined in Order L–244, books as defined in Order L–245, the material described in paragraph (b) of the Schedule and sheet music) for which the publisher receives a consideration either from the sale of copies or from the inclusion of advertising or other material therein. However, the term does not include printed matter whose sole purpose is to advertise or promote the publisher's business, provided such printed matter is not offered for sale at a price in excess of the price paid in good faith by the publisher to the printer.

(2) Consumption quota. During the year 1945 and each year after that, no person may cause to be consumed in the printing of miscellaneous publications (and less-than-32-page school work books, educational tests and books intended for juvenile use) any paper in excess of his consumption quota, which shall be computed as follows:

(i) The publisher shall determine the tonnage of paper lawfully consumed in either 1941, 1943 or 1944 in the production of his miscellaneous publications and his less-than-32-page school work books, educational tests and books intended for juvenile use.

(iii) The difference is the publisher's "base tonnage." His consumption quota for the year 1945 is 80% of his "base tonnage" or 20 tons, whichever is greater.

NOTE: Notwithstanding the foregoing, less-than-32-page school work books, educational tests and books intended for juvenile use may be included in a book publisher's base tonnage under Order L–245 and his consumption quota under that order may be used in the production of such books. This paragraph (c) (2) provides an additional quota for a publisher who, in either 1941, 1943 or 1944 used a greater tonnage of paper in the production of less-than-32-page school work books, educational tests and books intended for juvenile use than he did in 1942; provided such paper used in 1943 or 1944 was lawfully charged against a commercial printer's consumption quota under L–241.

(3) New publishers. If a person used no paper for miscellaneous publications in 1941, 1943, or 1944 he shall have a consumption quota of 20 tons for the period between July 1, 1945 and December 31, 1945, provided he files with the Commercial Printing Section, Printing and Publishing Division, War Production Board, Washington 25, D. C., before using any part of the said consumption quota substantially the following statement:

I hereby represent to the War Production Board, subject to the penalties of section 35 (A) of the United States Criminal Code, that I have no consumption quota for the issuance of miscellaneous publications under paragraph (c) (2) or (c) (3) of Schedule II, Order L–241, that I am not associated directly or indirectly with any person, firm or corporation having a consumption quota under that Schedule, and that I will not become associated directly or indirectly with any such person, firm or corporation while using the consumption quota provided for me under paragraph (c) (3) of Schedule II to Order L–241.

A consumption quota provided by this paragraph (c) (3) shall be conditioned upon the continued accuracy of the above representations.

(d) [Deleted July 3, 1945]

(e) Certification. No person may order any of the items listed in this schedule to be printed unless he furnishes or has previously furnished to the printer, a certification in substantially the following form, signed manually or as provided in Priorities Regulation 7 (§ 944.27) by an official duly authorized for such purpose:

The undersigned publisher certifies, subject to the penalties of section 35 (A) of the United States Criminal Code, to the printer and to the War Production Board that he is familiar with Schedule II to Order L–241 and that all orders placed by the publisher with that printer for items regulated by that schedule, as amended from time to time, will be in compliance therewith.

This is a one-time certification and need not accompany each individual order.

Issued this 13th day of August 1945.

Recording Secretary.

Scope

§ 3133.15 Limitation Order L–244—(a) The purpose of this order. This order does three things: First, it limits the tonnage of paper which a magazine publisher may cause to be used for printing magazines. This is called his "consumption quota." A publisher may not exceed his consumption quota even though the paper is physically available to him or his printer. Second, it limits the tonnage of paper which may be accepted by or on behalf of a magazine publisher. It also limits the tonnage of paper which may be accepted by or on behalf of a printer for a particular publisher's use in the production of magazines. Third, it places certain restrictions on paper suppliers, printers, binders, distributors, wholesalers and others in their dealings with publishers who consume paper in excess of their allowable consumption under this order.

Definitions and Explanations

(b) Magazine. (1) A "magazine" is any periodical or "one-shot" generally recognized as a magazine in the magazine industry. The term includes all supplements, inserts and other matter physically incorporated into a magazine or delivered with it, and reprints containing 40 percent or more of the editorial content appearing in any issue of a magazine. The paper consumed in such a reprint must be charged against the quota of the publisher from whose magazine the material was reprinted.

(2) If a publisher is uncertain as to whether or not his publication is a magazine as defined in this order, he may ask the War Production Board for an official determination. The War Production Board may also make this determination upon its own motion.

(c) Publisher. The "publisher" of a magazine is the person who causes it to be printed and undertakes the ultimate risk of the publishing venture. The term includes an individual, partnership, association, business trust, corporation, or any organized group of persons, whether incorporated or not. Where a group of magazines is under common control, but each magazine is published by a separate business entity, a separate consumption quota and a separate delivery quota shall be established for each magazine. It makes no difference if several of these operating entities are subsidiaries of the same parent corporation, or are controlled by the same individual or group of individuals. Not more than one person's consumption quota may be used to publish the same magazine or substantially the same magazine. The War Production Board, upon its own motion or upon the request of an interested party, may determine who is the publisher of a particular magazine.

(d) Paper. "Paper" means any grade, quality, type, basis weight or size of paper used in the printing of a magazine. The term includes paper reclaimed wholly or partly from printed or unprinted waste as well as paper made entirely from virgin fiber.

(e) Use. (1) Paper is "used" when ink is first applied to it. The date of issuance carried on the magazine is immaterial.

(2) When the printing of an issue is started in one calendar quarter and runs over into the next, the paper actually used during each quarter must be charged against the publisher's consumption quota for that quarter. The entire printing may not be regarded as if it were started and finished in the same quarter.

(f) Production waste. All production waste before, during and after printing (such as trim and waste sheets) shall be included in determining the tonnage of paper which a publisher causes to be used in printing magazines.

(g) Determination of consumption quotas. The War Production Board, upon its own motion or upon the request of an interested party, may determine the size of a publisher's consumption quota.

(h) Transfer of quotas. (1) Quotas provided by one War Production Board order may not be used for the purposes set forth in any other order. Thus, for example, a publisher may not cause to be used for the printing of a magazine any part of a consumption quota established under Order L–240 (Newspapers), L–241 (Commercial Printing and Duplicating), or L–245 (Books and Booklets), and he may not permit any part of his consumption quota established under this order to be used for newspapers, commercial printing or books.

(2) No publisher may cause to be used in printing magazines any part of a consumption quota arising from the previous publication of another magazine by another publisher. No publisher may permit any part of the consumption quota arising from the publication of a magazine by him to be used in printing another magazine published by another person.

(3) Except under the circumstances stated in Priorities Regulation 7A, the transfer of quotas and the acquisition or use of a publisher's quota by any other person, directly or indirectly, is a violation punishable in accordance with paragraph (v). Quotas established by this order may not be bought or sold under any guise. Thus, if A, a publisher with a quota under this order, places his name in the masthead of a magazine, and otherwise identifies himself as its publisher, but B performs most of the customary publishing functions, this is an unauthorized use by B of A's quota.

(i) Official determinations. The official determinations described in paragraphs (b) (2), (c) and (g) may be made only by the Washington office of the War Production Board and shall be issued in the name of the Recording Secretary of the War Production Board. They shall be conclusive for the purpose of this order, unless revoked or modified by the same authority.

Consumption Quota

(j) Computation of consumption quota. In the third calendar quarter of 1945, and in each calendar quarter after that, no publisher may cause to be used for the printing of his magazines any paper in excess of his quarterly consumption quota, which shall be computed as follows:

(1) Determine the gross tonnage of paper consumed in printing the publisher's magazines in the calendar year 1942, and divide by four. This is the publisher's "quarterly base tonnage" from which the required reductions shall be made.

(2) If the publisher's quarterly base tonnage is 10 tons or less, his quarterly consumption quota is 10 tons.

(3) If the publisher's quarterly base tonnage is more than 10 tons but not more than 27.8 tons, his quarterly consumption quota is 100 percent of his quarterly base tonnage.

(4) If the publisher's quarterly base tonnage is more than 27.8 tons, his quarterly consumption quota is 85 percent of his quarterly base tonnage or 27.8 tons, whichever is larger.

(5) If a person used no paper for publishing magazines in 1942, he shall have a consumption quota of 10 tons per calendar quarter commencing with the third quarter of 1945, provided he files with the Magazine and Periodical Section, Printing and Publishing Division, War Production Board, Washington 25, D. C., before using any part of the said consumption quota, substantially the following statement:

I hereby represent to the War Production Board, subject to the penalties of Section 35 (A) of the United States Criminal Code, that I have no consumption quota for the publication of magazines under Order L–244, that I am not associated directly or indirectly with any person, firm or corporation having a consumption quota under that order, and that I will not become associated directly or indirectly with any such person, firm or corporation while using the consumption quota provided for me under paragraph (j) (5) of Order L–244.

A consumption quota provided by this paragraph (j) (5) shall be conditional upon the continued accuracy of the above representations.

(k) Borrowing and carry-over. (1) A publisher may add an extra 15 percent to his consumption quota in any quarter if he subtracts that amount from his consumption quota for the next quarter.

(2) A publisher may carry over for future use accumulated savings resulting from underuse of quota, but he may not use in a calendar quarter any portion of his carry-over in excess of 15% of his consumption quota for that quarter.

(3) [Deleted July 3, 1945.]

(l) Total permitted consumption. A publisher may use in any calendar quarter:

(1) His quarterly consumption quota, as determined under paragraph (j);

(2) Plus permitted borrowing from his consumption quota for the next calendar quarter, as provided in paragraph (k) (1);

(3) Plus any less-than-quota savings which may be used in that calendar quarter as provided in paragraph (k) (2), or minus any tonnage which had been borrowed during the preceding calendar quarter from his consumption quota for that calendar quarter, as provided in paragraph (k) (1);

(4) Plus ex-quota tonnage, if any, which may have been granted on appeal for consumption in that quarter.

(m) Allotment to Army and Navy. (1) The War Production Board may from time to time allot to the Army and the Navy a specified tonnage of paper to be consumed in printing magazines which will be furnished without charge to United States Armed Forces personnel in the continental United States and special "pony editions" of magazines which will be furnished to United States Armed Forces personnel overseas, whether such "pony editions" are sold or not. The overseas allotment may be extended to regular editions where the production of special "pony editions" is impracticable because of the small number of copies involved.

(2) From this allotment the Army and the Navy, under a delegation of authority from the War Production Board, may grant to individual publishers the right to add to their consumption quotas the tonnage of paper consumed in printing such magazines acquired by the Army and the Navy for distribution as described under paragraph (m) (1). This allotment does not cover purchases of magazines by military exchanges or service departments as defined in Priorities Regulation 17 for distribution within the continental limits of the United States. All magazines sold to the military shall be charged against the publisher's consumption quota unless the publisher has received a specific grant from the Army or the Navy pursuant to this paragraph.

(n) Certification to printer. No publisher may order magazines to be printed, and no person may print such magazines, unless the publisher furnishes, or has previously furnished, to that printer a certification in substantially the following form, signed manually or as provided in Priorities Regulation 7 (§ 944.27) by an official duly authorized for such purpose:

The undersigned publisher certifies, subject to the penalties of section 35 (A) of the United States Criminal Code, to the printer and to the War Production Board that he is familiar with Order L–244, and that all orders placed by the publisher with that printer for items regulated by Order L–244, as amended from time to time, will be in compliance therewith

This is a one-time certification and need not accompany each individual order for printing.

Delivery Restrictions

(o) Limit on tonnage which may be accepted. (1) During the third calendar quarter of 1945 and each calendar quarter thereafter, no publisher may accept, and no person may accept for that publisher's use, paper in excess of his permitted consumption during that calendar quarter.

(2) No publisher may order or accept, and no person may order or accept for that publisher's use, any newsprint for the production of magazines which will cause his tonnage of newsprint on hand on October 1, 1945, to be in excess of 45% of his actual newsprint consumption during the third quarter of 1945, or 60 tons, whichever is greater. This provision does not apply to any grade of paper other than newsprint.

(p) Certification to paper dealer or mill. No publisher may order or accept delivery of paper and no person may deliver paper to a publisher unless the publisher furnishes, or has previously furnished, to the person making the delivery a certification in substantially the following form, signed manually or as provided in Priorities Regulation 7 (§ 944.27) by an official duly authorized for such purpose:

The undersigned publisher certifies, subject to the penalties of section 35 (A) of the United States Criminal Code, to the seller and to the War Production Board that he is familiar with Order L–244 and that all purchases by him of items regulated by that order, as amended from time to time will be in compliance therewith.

This is a one-time certification and need not accompany each individual order for paper.

A new certification need not be furnished by any publisher who has furnished a certification pursuant to paragraph (p) of Order L–244 after April 4, 1945.

Magazines or Parts Thereof Printed in Violation of Order

(q) Restrictions on paper suppliers, printers, binders, distributors, wholesalers, and others. (1) No person may sell or deliver any paper which he knows or has reason to believe will be accepted or used in violation of this order.

(2) No person may apply ink to any paper in the production of magazines if he knows or has reason to believe that the printing of such paper will be in excess of the publisher's allowable consumption under this order.

(3) No person may apply any additional ink to paper, and no person may bind or otherwise process paper, in the production of magazines if he knows or has reason to believe that such paper was printed in excess of the publisher's allowable consumption under this order.

(4) No person may agree to purchase for resale, and no person may accept for resale, any magazines which he knows or has reason to believe were printed in excess of the publisher's allowable consumption under this order.

(5) No person may sell, distribute or otherwise dispose of magazines, except for redelivery to his supplier or for use as waste paper scrap, if, before he accepted them, he knew or had reason to believe that they were printed in excess of the publisher's allowable consumption under this order.

(6) No person may export for resale magazines which he knows or has reason to believe were printed in excess of the publisher's allowable consumption under this order.

Miscellaneous Provisions

(r) Records. Every publisher must keep accurate records, by calendar quarters, of the number of copies of each magazine which he caused to be printed, the tonnage of paper which he caused to be used for each magazine, the tonnage of paper of each grade and item of paper received during the quarter, and the tonnage of paper in inventory at the time of each delivery, subject to inspection by the authorized representatives of the War Production Board. These records must be preserved as long as this order remains in force, and for two years after that.

(s) Applicability of regulations. This order and all transactions affected by it are subject to all present and future regulations of the War Production Board.

(t) Appeals. Any appeal from the provisions of this order shall be made in accordance with Supplement 1 to the order. Regardless of the provisions of Priorities Regulation 16, no statement with respect to manpower information on Form WPB–3820 (or letter explaining why that form is not filed) need accompany any appeal.

(u) Communications. All communications concerning this order shall be addressed to: War Production Board, Printing and Publishing Division, Washington 25, D. C. Ref: L–244.

(v) Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provisions of this order, or who, in connection with this order, wilfully conceals a material fact or furnishes false information to any department or agency of the United States is guilty of a crime, and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment. In addition, any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further deliveries of, or from processing or using, material under priority control and may be deprived of priorities assistance.

Issued this 13th day of August 1945.

Scope

§ 3133.17 Limitation Order L–245—(a) The purpose of this order. This order does three things: First, it limits the tonnage of paper which a book publisher may cause to be put into process in the production of books. This is called his "consumption quota." A publisher may not exceed his consumption quota even though the paper is physically available to him or his printer. Second, it limits the tonnage of paper which may be accepted by or on behalf of a book publisher. It also limits the tonnage of paper which may be accepted by or on behalf of a printer for a particular publisher's use in the production of books. Third, it places certain restrictions on paper suppliers, printers, binders, distributors, wholesalers and others in their dealings with publishers who consume paper in excess of their allowable consumption under this order.

Definitions and Explanations

(b) Book. "Book" means any bound or loose-leaf collection of 32 or more pages. It also means any school workbook, educational test, or book intended for juvenile use, irrespective of the number of pages. (A publisher who, in either 1941, 1943 or 1944, used a greater tonnage of paper in the production of less-than-32-page school work books, educational tests and books intended for juvenile use than he did in 1942 is entitled to a consumption quota under Order L–241, Schedule II, paragraph (c) as amended July 18, 1945, provided such paper used in 1943 or 1944 was lawfully charged against a commercial printer's consumption quota under Order L–241. This is in addition to his consumption quota under Order L–245.) Advance parts and supplements of books are included. For the sake of convenience the word "book" is used throughout this order, even though the order also covers items which are more commonly referred to as "booklets" or "pamphlets". Excluded from the definition of "book" and hence from the provisions of this order are the following:

(1) Magazines as defined in Order L–244 and newspapers as defined in Order L–240;

(2) Diaries, date books, memorandum books, address books, blank books, accounting books, sales books, business-entry books, ledgers, journals, and other items in book format (except school workbooks and educational tests) whose primary function is to provide space for the entry of data rather than instructional material, reading matter or illustrations;

(3) Albums less than half of whose pages contain reading matter or illustrations;

(4) Catalogs or advertising brochures issued by or for persons who manufacture, distribute, or offer for sale the products, commodities or services listed or illustrated therein, including inserts supplied by manufacturers or distributors to publishers who distribute them collectively in "catalog files," "cooperative files," "condensed catalogs," "catalog yearbooks," or similar reference volumes; Provided, however, That the paper used in the production of all editorial material contained in such volumes, such as prefaces, forewords, indices, blank pages, textbook data, classified directory information, condensed and typographically standardized pages of product or service data, and display and all other advertisements shall be charged to the quota of the publisher under this order;

(5) Directories issued by a person whose primary business is not publishing;

(6) Printed matter of which no copies of any edition are offered for sale, either singly or in bulk, at any level of distribution. Printed matter is "offered for sale" if it is offered either in consideration of a monetary payment, as a premium, bonus or dividend, in connection with a correspondence course, in part consideration of society membership dues, or for any other consideration direct or indirect. Printed matter is "offered for sale" if the publisher receives any compensation for the inclusion of material therein.

(7) Instructional manuals concerned exclusively with the specific brand of products manufactured or distributed by the person issuing the manuals. (Instructional manuals applicable to other brands of the same or similar products are not within this exception.)

(8) School or college annuals and yearbooks;

(9) Cut-out or other game books covered by Order M-241-a, List D.

NOTE: Items (2) to (8) inclusive are "commercial printing" under Order L-241. Schedule II of that order limits the tonnage of paper which a publisher or issuer of certain of these items may cause to be used. Also, Schedule II of Order L-241 limits the tonnage of paper which a publisher or issuer may cause to be used in certain types of printed matter for which the issuer receives a consideration and which are not "books" as defined in this order or "magazines" as defined in Order L-244.

If a publisher is uncertain as to whether or not his publication is a book as defined in this order, he may ask the War Production Board for an official determination. The War Production Board may also make this determination upon its own motion.

(c) Publisher. The "publisher" of a book is the person who performs, with respect to that book, the functions of a publisher as that term is generally understood in the book publishing industry. The War Production Board, upon its own motion or upon the request of an interested party, may determine who is the publisher of a particular book.

(d) Paper. "Paper" means any grade, quality, type, basis weight or size of paper used in the production of a book, including end papers, labels, paper covers and jackets. The term includes paper reclaimed wholly or partly from printed or unprinted waste as well as paper made entirely from virgin fiber.

(e) Put into process. All the paper consumed in a single, complete, continuous printing of a book is "put into process" when the press run is commenced. Paper "put into process" includes paper printed by letter-press, offset or any other process.

(f) Production waste. All production waste before, during and after printing (such as trim and waste sheets) shall be included in determining the tonnage of paper which a publisher causes to be put into process in the production of a book.

(g) Determination of consumption quotas. The War Production Board, upon its own motion or upon the request of an interested party, may determine the size of a publisher's consumption quota.

(h) Transfer of quotas. (1) Quotas provided by one War Production Board order may not be used for the purposes set forth in any other order. Thus, for example, a publisher may not use for the production of books any part of a consumption quota established under Order L-240 (newspapers), L-241 (commercial printing) or L-244 (magazines) and he may not permit any part of his consumption quota established under this order to be used for newspapers, commercial printing, or magazines.

(2) This order does not prohibit the established practice in the book publishing industry whereby one publisher occasionally undertakes the sale and distribution of an edition or part of an edition of books published by another person. It does not sanction the acquisition by one publisher of another publisher's consumption quota. Quotas established by this order may not be bought or sold under any guise. The transfer of quotas is prohibited, except under the circumstances stated in Priorities Regulation 7A. The use by one publisher, directly or indirectly, of a consumption quota provided for another publisher is a violation, punishable in accordance with paragraph (x).

Except where specific authorization is granted by the War Production Board upon application in writing, paper which is put into process in the production of a book may be charged only against the quota of the person:

(i) Who is the publisher of the book; and

(ii) Who owns the copyright or the publication rights under copyright by assignment from the copyright owner; and

(iii) Whose publishing imprint appears on the title page; spine and jacket of the book to the exclusion of any other imprint or colophon of any kind; and

(iv) Who undertakes the ultimate risk of the publishing venture.

(i) Official determinations. The official determinations described in paragraphs (b) (c) and (g) may be made only by the Washington office of the War Production Board and shall be issued in the name of the Recording Secretary of the War Production Board. They shall be conclusive for the purpose of this order unless revoked or modified by the same authority.

Consumption Quota

(j) Computation of consumption quota. In the calendar year 1945, and in each calendar year after that, no publisher may cause to be put into process for the production of books any paper in excess of his consumption quota, which shall be computed as follows:

(1) Determine the gross tonnage of paper consumed in the production of the publisher's books in the calendar year 1942. This is the publisher's "base tonnage" from which the required reductions shall be made.

(2) If the publisher's base tonnage is not more than 40 tons, his consumption quota for the entire year 1945 shall be 20 tons plus one-half of his base tonnage.

(3) If the publisher's base tonnage is more than 40 tons but not more than 100 tons, his consumption quota is 40 tons plus 90 percent of that part of his base tonnage in excess of 40 tons.

(4) If the publisher's base tonnage is more than 100 tons his consumption quota is 80 percent of his base tonnage, or 94 tons, whichever is larger.

(5) If a person used no paper for publishing books in 1942, he shall have a consumption quota of 20 tons for the period between July 1, 1945 and December 31, 1945, Provided, He files with the Book Section, Printing and Publishing Division, War Production Board, Washington 25, D. C., before using any part of the said consumption quota, substantially the following statement:

I hereby represent to the War Production Board, subject to the penalties of section 35 (A) of the United States Criminal Code, that I have no consumption quota for the publication of books under Order L-245, that I am not associated directly or indirectly with any person, firm or corporation having a consumption quota under that order, and that I will not become associated directly or indirectly with any such person, firm or corporation while using the consumption quota provided for me under paragraph (j) (5) of Order L-245.

A consumption quota provided by this paragraph (j) (5) shall be conditioned upon the continued accuracy of the above representations.

(k) Carry-over. A publisher may carry over for future use accumulated savings resulting from under-use of quota, but he may not use in a calendar year any portion of his carry-over in excess of 15% of his consumption quota. For example, if a publisher's consumption quota in 1945 is 100,000 pounds and his carry-over from 1944 is 20,000 pounds, he may use in 1945 in addition to his consumption quota a maximum carry-over of 15,000 pounds (i. e., 15% of 100,000 pounds). The balance of carry-over from 1944 (i. e., 5,000 pounds) plus any under consumption in 1945 may be carried over and used in 1946 provided the total of such carry-over from 1944 and 1945 does not exceed 15% of his consumption quota for 1946.

(l) Total permitted consumption. A publisher may cause to be put into process in any calendar year:

(1) His yearly consumption quota as determined under paragraph (j);

(2) Plus any less-than-quota savings carried over from previous years, as provided in paragraph (k);

(3) Plus ex-quota tonnage, if any, which may have been granted on appeal for consumption in that year.

(m) Restriction on paper for reprinting. No publisher may use, in the reprinting of any book, paper of a basis weight heavier than that used in the last printing of the book, except that paper which was in the publisher's inventory on or before June 30, 1945 may be used for reprintings, irrespective of the basis weight. A publisher "reprints" a book if he uses any part of the type or plates used in a previous printing of that book or if he reproduces any part of it by offset or any similar process.

(n) Breach of contracts. As provided in Title III of the Second War Powers Act, no person shall be held liable for damages or penalties for any default under any contract which shall result directly or indirectly from compliance with this order.

(o) Allotment to Army and Navy. (1) The War Production Board may from time to time allot to the Army and the Navy a specified tonnage of paper to be consumed in printing books which will be furnished without charge to United States Armed Forces personnel in the continental United States, and to United States Armed Forces personnel outside the continental limits of the United States whether such books are sold or not.

(2) From this allotment the Army and the Navy, under a delegation of authority from the War Production Board, may grant to individual publishers the right to add to their consumption quotas the tonnage of paper consumed in such books acquired by the Army and the Navy. This allotment does not cover purchase of books by military exchanges or service departments, as defined in Priorities Regulation 17 for distribution within the continental limits of the United States. All books sold to the military shall be charged against the publisher's consumption quota unless the publisher has received a specific grant from the Army or the Navy pursuant to this paragraph.

(p) Certification to printer. No publisher may order books to be printed, and no person may print such books, unless the publisher furnishes or has previously furnished to that printer a certification in substantially the following form, signed manually or as provided in Priorities Regulation 7 (§ 944.27) by an official duly authorized for such purpose:

The undersigned publisher certifies, subject to the penalties of section 35 (A) of the United States Criminal Code, to the printer and to the War Production Board that he is familiar with Order L-245 and that all orders placed by the publisher with that printer for items regulated by Order L-245, as amended from time to time, will be in compliance therewith.

This is a one-time certification and need not accompany each individual order for printing.

Delivery Restrictions

(q) Limit on tonnage which may be accepted. During the third calendar quarter of 1945 no publisher may accept, and no person may accept for that publisher's use, paper in excess of 32½% of his permitted consumption for 1945, or 65% of that portion of his permitted consumption for 1945 which remained unused on June 30, 1945, or 20 tons whichever is larger.

(r) Certification to paper dealer or mill. No publisher may order or accept delivery of paper, and no person may deliver paper to a publisher, unless the publisher furnishes, or has previously furnished, to the person making the delivery a certification in substantially the following form, signed manually or as provided in Priorities Regulation 7 (§ 944.27) by an official duly authorized for such purpose:

The undersigned publisher certifies, subject to the penalties of section 35 (A) of the United States Criminal Code, to the seller and to the War Production Board that he is familiar with Order L-245 and that all purchases by him of items regulated by that order, as amended from time to time, will be in compliance therewith.

This is a one-time certification and need not accompany each individual order for paper.

A new certification need not be furnished by any publisher who has furnished a certification pursuant to paragraph (r) of Order L-245 after April 4, 1945.

Books or Parts Thereof Printed in Violation of Order

(s) Restrictions on paper suppliers, printers, binders, distributors, wholesalers, and others. (1) No person may sell or deliver any paper which he knows or has reason to believe will be accepted or used in violation of this order.

(2) No person may apply ink to any paper in the production of books if he knows or has reason to believe that the printing of such paper will be in excess of the publisher's allowable consumption under this order.

(3) No person may apply any additional ink to paper, and no person may bind or otherwise process paper, in the production of books if he knows or has reason to believe that such paper was printed in excess of the publisher's allowable consumption under this order.

(4) No person may agree to purchase for resale, and no person may accept for resale, any books which he knows or has reason to believe were printed in excess of the publisher's allowable consumption under this order.

(5) No person may sell, distribute or otherwise dispose of books, except for re-delivery to his supplier or for use as waste paper scrap, if, before he accepted them, he knew or had reason to believe that they were printed in excess of the publisher's allowable consumption under this order.

(6) No person may export for resale books which he knows or has reason to believe were printed in excess of the publisher's allowable consumption under this order.

Miscellaneous Provisions

(t) Records. Every publisher must keep accurate records of the tonnage of paper which he causes to be put into process for books, the tonnage of each item of paper received by him and the tonnage of paper in inventory at the time of each delivery, subject to inspection by the duly authorized representatives of the War Production Board. These records must be preserved as long as this order remains in force, and for two years after that.

(u) Applicability of regulations. This order and all transactions affected by it are subject to all present and future regulations of the War Production Board.

(v) Appeals. Any appeal from the provisions of this order shall be made in accordance with Supplement 1 to the order. Regardless of the provisions of Priorities Regulation 16 no statement with respect to manpower information on Form WPB-3820 (or letter explaining why that form is not filed) need accompany any appeal.

(w) Communications. All communications concerning this order shall be addressed to War Production Board, Printing and Publishing Division, Washington 25, D. C., Ref: L-245.

(x) Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order, or who, in connection with this order, wilfully conceals a material fact or furnishes false information to any department or agency of the United States is guilty of a crime, and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment. In addition, any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further deliveries of, or from processing or using material under priority control and may be deprived of priorities assistance.

Issued this 13th day of August 1945.

Scope

§ 3133.20 Limitation Order L-289—(a) The purpose of this order. This order does four things. First, it limits the tonnage of paper which a publisher may cause to be used in the production of greeting cards and illustrated post cards. A publisher may not exceed his consumption quota even though the paper is physically available to him. Second, the order limits the tonnage of paper which may be accepted by or on behalf of a publisher of greeting cards or illustrated post cards. Third, it prohibits the furnishing of "dealer help" material by a publisher. Fourth, it places certain restrictions on paper suppliers, printers, processors, wholesalers and others in their dealings with publishers who violate the order.

Definitions and Explanations

(b) Greeting cards and illustrated post cards. (1) "Greeting card" means any commercial form of card, sheet or folder which conveys a greeting or similar type of message by means of printed reading matter or pictorial matter. The term includes "chromos" which contain pictures but no words, and also cards which contain words but no pictures. The term does not include photographs made without the use of ink, nor does it include cards, sheets or folders of which no copies are offered for sale at any level of distribution.

(2) "Illustrated post card" means any form of card, sheet or folder containing printed pictorial matter and space for the addition of a personal message. The term does not include photographs made without the use of ink, nor does it include cards, sheets or folders of which no copies are offered for sale at any level of distribution.

(3) If a publisher is uncertain as to whether or not particular printed matter is a "greeting card" or an "illustrated post card" as defined in this order, he may ask the War Production Board for an official determination. The War Production Board may also make this determination upon its own motion. Such a determination may be made only by the Washington office of the War Production Board and shall be issued to the publisher in the name of the Recording Secretary of the War Production Board. It shall be conclusive for the purpose of this order, unless revoked or modified by the same authority.

(c) Publisher. (1) A person who was engaged in the greeting card or illustrated post card business in 1942 is the "publisher" of any greeting card or illustrated post card which he caused to be produced in that year, unless exclusive distribution rights in that card for 1942 were transferred to another person engaged primarily in the greeting card or illustrated post card business. In such a case, the person who had the exclusive distribution rights in 1942 is the "publisher" of that card.

(2) A "publisher" may use his consumption quota for the production of greeting cards or illustrated post cards whether he retains for himself or assigns to someone else the exclusive or nonexclusive reproduction rights or distribution rights, either permanently or temporarily.

(3) The term "publisher" includes an individual, partnership, association, business trust, corporation, or any organized group of persons, whether incorporated or not. It does not mean the author or designer of the cards or the plate maker, printer, finisher, packager, wholesaler, jobber or retailer, unless one of these persons also performs the functions of a publisher. It is immaterial whether the cards are produced in the publisher's plant or in someone else's plant.

(d) Paper. "Paper" means any grade, quality, type, basis weight or size of paper or paperlike substance used in the manufacture of greeting cards or illustrated post cards. The term includes paper reclaimed wholly or partly from printed or unprinted waste, as well as paper made entirely from virgin fiber.

(e) Use. (1) Paper is "used" in the manufacture of greeting cards and illustrated post cards when ink is first applied to it or, if unprinted, when the paper is first assembled with printed sheets in the manufacture of a card.

(2) When a job is started in one calendar quarter and runs over into the next, the paper actually used during each quarter must be charged against the publisher's consumption quota for that quarter. The entire job may not be regarded as if it were started and finished in the same quarter.

(f) Production waste. All production waste before, during and after printing and assembling (such as trim and waste sheets) shall be included in determining the tonnage of paper which a publisher uses in the manufacture of greeting cards and illustrated post cards.

(g) Transfer of quotas. (1) Quotas provided by one War Production Board order may not be used for the purposes set forth in any other order. Thus, for example, a publisher may not cause to be used for the manufacture of greeting cards or illustrated post cards any part of a paper consumption quota established under Order L-241 (Commercial Printing and Duplicating), Order L-244 (Magazines), Order L-245 (Books and Booklets), or any other order, and he may not permit any part of his consumption quota for paper established under this order to be used for any purpose other than the manufacture of greeting cards and illustrated post cards.

NOTE: Subparagraph (2), formerly subparagraph (3), redesignated Aug. 13, 1945.

(2) The rules governing the assignability of quotas are stated in Priorities Regulation 7A.

Restrictions

(h) Prohibition of dealer helps. No publisher may furnish any "dealer helps" for greeting cards or illustrated post cards. This prohibition applies to items such as date books, advertising cards, banners, merchandise bags, window displays, inserts, etc., and to sample cards. However, it does not apply to mounted samples for the display of cards to the public.

Consumption Quota

(i) Computation of consumption quota for paper. In the third calendar quarter of 1945 and in each calendar quarter after that, no publisher may cause to be used for the manufacture of greeting cards and illustrated post cards any paper in excess of his quarterly consumption quota of paper, which shall be computed as follows:

(1) Determine the gross tonnage of paper consumed in manufacturing the publisher's greeting cards and illustrated post cards during the corresponding calendar quarter of 1942.

(2) Determine the gross tonnage of paper consumed during the corresponding calendar quarter of 1942 in manufacturing the publisher's "dealer helps" as defined in paragraph (h) of this order.

(3) Take 85 percent of the total of these two tonnage figures, or 4 tons, whichever is greater. This is the publisher's consumption quota which he may cause to be used in the manufacture of greeting cards and illustrated post cards in the corresponding calendar quarter of 1945 and succeeding years.

(4) If a person used no paper for publishing greeting cards or illustrated post cards in 1942 and now wishes to enter the greeting card or illustrated post card business, he shall have a consumption quota of 4 tons per quarter commencing with the third quarter of 1945, provided he files with the Commercial Printing Section, Printing and Publishing Division, War Production Board, Washington 25, D. C., before using any part of the said consumption quota, substantially the following statement:

I hereby represent to the War Production Board, subject to the penalties of section 35 (A) of the United States Criminal Code, that I have no consumption quota for publishing greeting cards or illustrated post cards under Order L-289, that I am not associated directly or indirectly with any person, firm or corporation, having a consumption quota under that order, and that I will not become associated directly or indirectly with any such person, firm or corporation while using the consumption quota provided for me under paragraph (i) (4) of Order L-289.

A consumption quota provided by this paragraph (i) (4) shall be conditioned upon the continued accuracy of the above representations.

(j) Borrowing and carry-over. (1) A publisher may add an extra 15 percent to his consumption quota in any quarter if he subtracts that amount from his consumption quota for the next quarter.

(2) A publisher may carry over for future use accumulated savings resulting from under-use of quota, but he may not use, in a calendar quarter, any portion of his carry-over in excess of 15 percent of his consumption quota for that quarter.

(k) Total permitted consumption. A publisher may use in any calendar quarter:

(1) His quarterly consumption quota as determined under paragraph (i).

(2) Plus permitted borrowing from his consumption quota for the next calendar quarter as provided in paragraph (j) (1).

(3) Plus any less-than-quota savings which may be used in that calendar quarter from his consumption quota for that calendar quarter, as provided in paragraph (j) (2).

(4) Plus ex quota tonnage of that material, if any, which may have been granted on appeal for consumption in that quarter.

(l) Certification to printer. No publisher may order greeting cards or illustrated post cards to be printed or manufactured, and no person may print or manufacture such cards unless the publisher furnishes, or has previously furnished, to that printer or manufacturer a certification in substantially the following form, signed manually or as provided in Priorities Regulation 7 (§ 944.27) by an official duly authorized for such purpose:

The undersigned publisher certifies, subject to the penalties of section 35 (A) of the United States Criminal Code, to the printer and to the War Production Board that he is familiar with Order L-289 and that all orders placed by the publisher with that printer for items regulated by Order L-289, as amended from time to time, will be in compliance therewith.

This is a one-time certification and need not accompany each individual order.

(m) Limit on tonnage which may be accepted. During the third calendar quarter of 1945 and each calendar quarter thereafter, no publisher may accept, and no person may accept for that publisher's use, paper in excess of his permitted consumption during that calendar quarter.

(n) Certification to paper dealer or mill. No publisher or his agent may order or accept delivery of paper and no person may deliver paper to a publisher or his agent, unless the publisher furnishes, or has previously furnished, to the person making the delivery a certification in substantially the following form, signed manually or as provided in Priorities Regulation 7 (§ 944.27) by an official duly authorized for such purpose:

The undersigned publisher certifies, subject to the penalties of section 35 (A) of the United States Criminal Code, to the seller and to the War Production Board that he is familiar with the provisions of Order L-289 as amended April 16, 1945 and that all purchases by him of items regulated by that order, as amended from time to time, will be in compliance therewith.

This is a one-time certification and need not accompany each individual order.

Cards or Parts Thereof Printed in Violation of Order

(o) Restrictions on paper suppliers, printers, processors, distributors, wholesalers, and others. (1) No person may sell or deliver any paper which he knows or has reason to believe will be accepted or used in violation of this order.

(2) No person may apply ink to any paper in the production of greeting cards or illustrated post cards if he knows or has reason to believe that the printing of such paper will be in excess of the publisher's permitted consumption under this order.

(3) No person may apply any additional ink to paper, and no person may bind or otherwise process paper, in the production of greeting cards or illustrated post cards if he knows or has reason to believe that such paper was printed in excess of the publisher's permitted consumption under this order.

NOTE: Subparagraphs (4) and (5), formerly subparagraphs (5) and (6), redesignated Aug. 18, 1945.

(4) No person may agree to purchase for resale, and no person may accept for resale, any greeting cards or illustrated post cards which he knows or has reason to believe were printed in excess of the publisher's permitted consumption under this order.

(5) No person may sell, distribute or otherwise dispose of greeting cards or illustrated post cards, except for re-delivery to his supplier or for use as waste paper scrap, if, before he accepted them, he knew or had reason to believe that they were printed in excess of the publisher's allowable consumption under this order.

Miscellaneous Provisions

(p) Records. In order to assure compliance with this order, every publisher must calculate, as accurately as he can, the tonnage of paper which he used during each calendar quarter of 1942 for the items covered by this order. He must also keep accurate records of this type of information for each calendar quarter beginning with July 1, 1943. He must preserve these figures and his work sheets subject to inspection by War Production Board officials as long as this order remains in force and for two years after that.

(q) Applicability of regulations. This order and all transactions affected by it are subject to all present and future regulations of the War Production Board.

(r) Appeals. Any appeal from the provisions of this order shall be made by filing a letter referring to the particular provisions appealed from, stating fully the grounds of the appeal. Regardless of the provisions of Priorities Regulation 16, no statement with respect to manpower information on Form WPB-3820 (or letter explaining why that form is not filed) need accompany any appeal.

(s) Communications. All communications concerning this order shall be addressed to: War Production Board, Printing and Publishing Division, Washington 25, D. C., Ref: L-289.

(t) Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order, or who, in connection with this order, wilfully conceals a material fact or furnishes false information to any department or agency of the United States, is guilty of a crime, and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment. In addition, any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further deliveries of, or from processing or using materials under priority control, and may be deprived of priorities assistance.

Issued this 13th day of August 1945.

WAR PRODUCTION BOARD,
By J. JOSEPH WHELAN,
Recording Secretary.

INTERPRETATION 1

CARDS WHICH ARE OFFERED "FOR SALE"

Paragraphs (b) (1) and (b) (2) of Order L-289 provides that the order does not apply to "cards, sheets or folders of which no copies are offered for sale at any level of distribution."

Greeting cards or illustrated post cards are "offered for sale" if they are offered either in consideration of a monetary payment, as a premium bonus or dividend, in part consideration of society membership dues, or for any other consideration direct or indirect, or if the published receives any compensation for the inclusion of material therein. (Issued December 21, 1944.)

PART 3133—PRINTING AND PUBLISHING

[General Limitation Order L-294, as Amended Aug. 13, 1945]

DISPLAYS

The fulfillment of requirements for the defense of the United States has created a shortage in the supply of copper, zinc, paper and paperboard, required for the production of printed matter for defense, for private account and for export, and the following order is deemed necessary and appropriate in the public interest and to promote the national defense:

§ 3133.40 Limitation Order L-294—(a) Definitions. For the purpose of this order:

(1) "Display" means any laminated combination of printed matter and board or other material, with or without easels or braces, employed to convey a message, display merchandise, or advertise a product or service, including but not limited to point-of-sale advertising, window, counter, floor, wall or shelf displays.

(2) "Printed matter" means any paper or paperlike substance with ink applied to it by the relief, planograph, intaglio, silk screen or other stencil process, or any combination or modification thereof.

(3) "Board" means any grade or quality of chip, laminated chip, or other board employed for the production of displays, easels, braces or plane surfaces.

(4) [Deleted Aug. 13, 1945.]

(5) [Deleted Aug. 13, 1945.]

(6) "Back-lining" means any paper or paperlike substance mounted to the reverse side of board employed in the production of displays.

§ 3293.1117 Schedule 117 to General Allocation Order M–300—(a) Definitions. (1) "Naphthenic acid" means the acids existing naturally in certain crude petroleums and distillates therefrom and known as monobasic carboxylic acids of the general formula RCOOH, where R is a naphthene (cyclic hydrocarbon) radical and the acid values of which are 180 or higher on an oil free basis, such acids being normally obtained by extraction from certain petroleum distillates by means of caustic soda. The term includes crude and refined sodium naphthenate intended for the manufacture of other naphthenates.

(2) "Naphthenates" means any salt, ester or ether of naphthenic acid other than crude and refined sodium naphthenate intended for the manufacture of other naphthenates. The term includes, but is not limited to, potassium naphthenate, calcium naphthenate, copper naphthenate, zinc naphthenate, aluminum naphthenate, lead naphthenate, cobalt naphthenate, manganese naphthenate, triethanolamine naphthenate, and also sodium naphthenate other than sodium naphthenate intended for the manufacture of other naphthenates. The term also includes any mixture containing more than 10% by weight (dry basis) of naphthenic acid combined as any naphthenates or mixtures of them, except that the term does not include any mixture containing less than 20% by weight (dry basis) of naphthenic acid combined as copper napthenate or any finished lubricants containing less than 20% of naphthenates.

(3) "Producer of naphthenates" means any person who produces any naphthenates with naphthenic acid in the continental United States.

(4) "Distributor of naphthenates" means any person who purchases (other than by import) naphthenates for resale as such.

(b) General provisions. Napththenic acid is subject to allocation under General Allocation Order M–300 as an Appendix A material. The initial allocation date is May 5, 1942, when naphthenic acid was first put under allocation by Order M–142 (revoked). The allocation period is the calendar month and the small order exemption is 50 pounds per person per month.

(c) Transition from M–142. For calendar months before September 1, 1945, naphthenic acid and naphthenates are subject to allocation control under Order M–142. For calendar months beginning with September 1, 1945, naphthenic acid is subject to allocation control under this schedule as an Appendix A material and naphthenates are subject to paragraphs (f) and (g) of this schedule. Regular and interim allocations of naphthenic acid issued under Order M–142 for calendar months before September are effective under this schedule, but are limited in duration as if originally issued under this schedule, and pending applications need not be refiled.

Regular and interim allocations of naphthenates issued under Order M–142 for calendar months before September remain in effect under this schedule without limitation on duration of authorization. A person who cannot use naphthenates for the purpose for which they were allocated to him under Order M–142 may use them for any purpose up to the amount of 500 pounds per month, but he may not use more than 500 pounds per month of these naphthenates unless specifically authorized in writing by the War Production Board. If a person receives or has received naphthenates under Order M–142 allocated on a Form WPB–2945 "for resale on further authorization" or in similar terms, he may not deliver or use the naphthenates unless specifically authorized in writing by the War Production Board. Application for authorization in either of these cases may be made on Form WPB–2945 slating end use in the manner stated in paragraph (e) below.

No producer of naphthenates shall fill a certified order for them without first having notified the purchaser in writing of the separate quantity being delivered for each proposed use certified with the order, unless only one use was specified in the certificate or the order is filled in full.

(2) Distributors and consumers. A person may use naphthenates obtained under a use certificate for a use specified in the use certificate, unless advised by the supplier that a specified use has been denied, and may not use them for any other purpose. A person obtaining naphthenates under a small order certificate may use them for any purpose. A distributor may redeliver napthenates only to a person who certifies as his use the certified use for which the distributor received the material, or in the case where the distributor received the naphthenates for redelivery on certified exempt small orders, to a person who has furnished him with a small order certificate. PART 4600—RUBBER, SYNTHETIC RUBBER AND PRODUCTS THEREOF

SORTING AND PACKING OF SCRAP TIRE PARTS

The fulfillment of requirements for the defense of the United States has created a shortage in the supply of natural rubber and other materials entering into the production of rubber products for defense, for private account and for export; and the following order is deemed necessary and appropriate in the public interest and to promote the national defense:

Purpose of this order. The purpose of this order is to conserve the supply of natural rubber scrap tire parts for use in the manufacture of reclaimed rubber. The contamination of natural rubber scrap tire parts with synthetic rubber scrap tire parts results in a reduced production rate and lowered quality of reclaimed rubber. It is therefore necessary that the peelings and other tire parts be sorted, before packing, into natural rubber, synthetic rubber, and recapped parts; and that these grades be packed separately before shipment.

(a) Definitions. For the purposes of this order:

(1) "Splitting" means any operation by which rubber tires, either natural, synthetic or recapped, are split, separated, torn or pulled apart, whether by machine or by hand.

(2) "Splitter" means any person engaged in the business of splitting.

(3) "Reclaimer" means any person engaged in the manufacture of reclaimed rubber.

(4) "Tire parts" means peelings, dykes, carcass scrap, S. A. G. and sections; split, separated, torn or pulled from natural rubber, synthetic rubber or recapped tires.

(b) Splitters must segregate tire parts. On and after August 20, 1945, no splitter may split any tires unless he sorts and packs the resulting tire parts so that natural rubber tire parts, synthetic rubber tire parts and recapped tire parts are kept separate.

(c) Sale and delivery of unsegregated tire parts prohibited. Notwithstanding the provisions of any contract or other commitment to the contrary, on and after September 1, 1945, no splitter may sell or deliver tire parts to any person unless such parts have been sorted and packed so that natural rubber tire parts, synthetic rubber tire parts and recapped tire parts are kept separate.

(d) Splitter's inventories to be freely offered. On and after September 1, 1945, each splitter must offer his tire parts for sale in such manner that he does not at any time have an inventory of more than 50% of his total shipments of tire parts during the three preceding calendar months.

(e) Reclaimers must not accept unsegregated tire parts. Notwithstanding the provisions of any contract or other commitment to the contrary, on and after September 1, 1945, no reclaimer shall accept delivery from any person of tire parts not sorted and packed in accordance with the provisions of paragraphs (b) and (c) of this order. This restriction does not apply to tire parts which are in transit before September 1, 1945.

(f) Reports. (1) Every splitter who in the period January 1, 1945 to March 31, 1945, shipped in excess of 100 tons of tire parts or had an inventory in excess of 100 tons of tire parts, or who in any calendar quarter thereafter ships or has an inventory of more than that amount, shall file a monthly report on Form WPB-3575 with the Rubber Bureau, War Production Board, Washington 25, D. C., Ref: Rubber Order R-1, Appendix V, covering receipts, shipments and inventory in accordance with the instructions accompanying that form. The first such report shall be filed not later than September 10, 1945, and shall cover operations for the month of August.

This paragraph applies only to the filing of reports. All splitters, regardless of size, are subject to all other provisions of this order.

(2) On and after September 1, 1945, any reclaimer who rejects delivery of tire parts not sorted and packed in accordance with the provisions of paragraphs (b) and (c) above shall file with the Rubber Bureau, War Production Board, either by letter or by copy of the rejection notice, the following information concerning the rejected shipment: car number or truck load number, original shipping point, original packer, broker, description of shipment and nature of contamination. This requirement does not apply to tire parts which are in transit before September 1, 1945.

(g) Applicability of regulations. This order and all transactions affected by it are subject to all applicable provisions of the regulations of the War Production Board.

(h) Appeals. Appeal from the provisions of this order shall be made by filing a letter with the Rubber Bureau, War Production Board, Washington 25, D. C., referring to the provision appealed from and stating fully the grounds of the appeal. In case of emergency, an appeal may be made by telegram or telephone to be confirmed by letter as prescribed above.

(i) Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order, or who, in connection with this order, wilfully conceals a material fact or furnishes false information to any department or agency of the United States is guilty of a crime, and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment. In addition any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further deliveries of, or from processing or using, material under priority control (including tire parts and scrap tires) and may be deprived of priorities assistance.

(j) Communications. All reports and other communications concerning this order shall be addressed to: Rubber Bureau, War Production Board, Washington 25, D. C., Ref: Rubber Order R-1, Appendix V.

(k) The reporting provisions of this order have been approved by the Bureau of the Budget in accordance with the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

Chapter XI—Office of Price Administration

PART 1499—COMMODITIES AND SERVICE

[SR 14E,[1] Amdt. 9]

MANUFACTURERS' AND WHOLESALERS' PRICES FOR CERTAIN MEN'S WORK SOCKS

A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this amendment, issued simultaneously herewith, has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.

Section 14 is added to Supplementary Regulation 14E, to read as follows:

SEC. 14 Manufacturers' and wholesalers' prices for certain men's work socks—(a) Definition of terms—(1) Manufacturer. A manufacturer is any person who is subject to Direction 17 of War Production Board Conservation Order M-328 (Production of Men's Cotton Work Socks in the Third Quarter of 1945), issued June 21, 1945.

(2) Men's cotton work socks. The term men's cotton work socks, as used in this section, means men's work socks which meet the following specifications:

(i) Finished weight—a minimum of one pound per dozen pairs;

(ii) Type of yarn—100% carded cotton yarn;

(iii) Color—plain or mock twist two-tone;

(iv) Fabric from which body portion is made—a flat knit fabric, knit on one set of needles (except that socks knit on "RI" machines may be made of a simulated rib knit fabric).

"Athletic", "crew", and "boot" socks are not included in the term men's cotton work socks.

(b) Manufacturers' adjusted ceiling prices. For each style of men's cotton work sock, which is the same as or similar to a style which the manufacturer delivered or offered for delivery during March 1942, the manufacturer may adjust his General Maximum Price Regulation ceiling price as follows:

(1) The manufacturer shall first find the ceiling price established for the style under section 2 (a) of the General Maximum Price Regulation.

(2) He may then add to that ceiling price an "adjustment charge", equal to 6½ per cent of such ceiling price.

The adjustments permitted herein shall apply only to those styles described above which are delivered by the manufacturer on and after August 15, 1945, but prior to November 1, 1945. Moreover, before a manufacturer may deliver such styles at the adjusted ceiling prices, he must file with OPA the information described in paragraph (d) below, and receive an acknowledgment of its filing.

The ceiling price for any other style of men's cotton work sock may not be adjusted.

(c) Wholesalers' adjusted ceiling prices. For each style of men's cotton work sock for which the manufacturer has adjusted his ceiling price under paragraph (b) above, delivered to a wholesaler on and after August 15, 1945, but prior to November 1, 1945, the wholesaler may adjust his General Maximum Price Regulation ceiling price for a sale to a retailer as follows:

(1) The wholesaler shall first find the ceiling price established, under the applicable pricing provision of the General Maximum Price Regulation, for that sale.

(2) He may then add to that ceiling an amount equal to 70 per cent of the manufacturer's "adjustment charge" for the style.

The wholesaler's ceiling prices for sales other than to retailers of the styles described above, or for any other style of men's cotton work socks may not be adjusted.

(d) Information required to be filed by manufacturer. Each manufacturer who has adjusted his ceilings under paragraph (b) above must, before he delivers any style at such adjusted ceilings, file with the Office of Price Administration, Washington 25, D. C., certain information, and receive acknowledgment of its filing. The following are required to be filed:

(1) A description of each style of men's cotton work socks for which the ceiling has been adjusted under paragraph (b) above, specifying finished weight, type of yarn, color, and type of fabric from which body portion is knit.

(2) For each such style, the ceiling prices determined under section 2 (a) of the General Maximum Price Regulation, and the adjusted ceilings established under paragraph (b) above.

(3) A sample of each such style.

(e) Statements which must be sent to purchasers—(1) Statement which manufacturers must send to wholesalers. (i) On and after August 15, 1945, each manufacturer who has adjusted his ceilings on certain styles of men's cotton work socks, under paragraph (b) above, shall transmit to each wholesaler to whom he makes delivery of such styles the following statement:

STATEMENT TO WHOLESALERS OF ADJUSTED CEILING PRICES

Please note that OPA has ruled that you must price these men's cotton work socks in accordance with Maximum Price Regulation 580, or the General Maximum Price Regulation (whichever regulation governs your sales of the items listed above). In determining your ceiling prices for these items, OPA has ruled that, under MPR 580, you must use as your "net cost", the amount set forth in Column A above; you may not include the amount of the OPA adjustment charge set forth in Column C. Moreover, under GMPR, you may not add the amount of such adjustment charge to your present GMPR ceiling prices.

(ii) The statement required to be sent by each manufacturer to his wholesalers, as provided in this subparagraph (1), shall be transmitted with or be annexed to the invoice, billing or other statement of price, accompanying every shipment made by the manufacturer of styles for which ceilings have been adjusted under paragraph (b) above. Each manufacturer shall properly fill in the statement which he is required to send wholesalers with the information applicable to the particular styles being delivered by him to the wholesaler. He shall complete the statement as follows: In Column A he shall list the ceiling prices of the particular styles being shipped which were in effect for him under the General Maximum Price Regulation, prior to August 15, 1945. In Column B he shall list the new ceiling prices for each such style, determined in accordance with the method provided in paragraph (b) above. In Column C he shall list the difference between the amounts in Column A and Column B for the respective styles. In Column D he shall list, for each style, the product obtained by multiplying the amount shown in column C by .70.

(2) Statement which manufacturers must send to retailers. (i) On and after August 15, 1945, each manufacturer shall transmit to each retailer to whom he delivers any of the styles of men's work socks, for which ceiling prices have been adjusted under paragraph (b) above, the following statement:

MANUFACTURER'S STATEMENT TO RETAILERS OF OPA ADJUSTMENT CHARGE

OPA, pursuant to Amendment 9 to Supplementary Regulation 14E, has permitted us to add the following adjustment charges to our ceiling prices on the styles listed below:

Style No.	Column A Old ceiling price	Column B OPA adjustment charge

Please note that OPA has ruled that you must price these men's cotton work socks in accordance with Maximum Price Regulation 580, or the General Maximum Price Regulation (whichever regulation governs your sales of the items listed above). In determining your ceiling prices for these items, OPA has ruled that, under MPR 580, you must use as your "net cost", the amount set forth in Column A above; you may not include the amount of the OPA adjustment charge set forth in Column B. Moreover, under GMPR, you may not add the amount of such adjustment charge to your present GMPR ceiling prices.

(ii) The statement to be sent by each manufacturer to his retailers, as provided in this sub-paragraph (2), shall be transmitted with or be annexed to the invoice, billing or other statement of price, accompanying every shipment made by the manufacturer of styles for which ceilings have been adjusted under paragraph (b) above. Each manufacturer shall properly fill in the statement which he is required to send retailers with the information applicable to the particular styles being delivered by him to the retailer. He shall complete the statement as follows: In Column A he shall list the ceiling prices of the particular styles being shipped which were in effect for him under the General Maximum Price Regulation, prior to August 15, 1945. In Column B he shall list for each style, the difference between the new ceiling price, determined under paragraph (b) above, and the old ceiling price listed in Column A.

(3) Statement which wholesalers must send to retailers. Any wholesaler, who, after August 15, 1945, purchases any work sock styles for which manufacturers' ceilings have been adjusted under paragraph (b) above, shall transmit to each of his retailers, at the time of delivery by him of such styles, the form of "Wholesaler's Statement to Retailers of OPA adjustment Charge" required to be sent to wholesalers by manufacturers under sub-paragraph (1) above. This statement shall contain the information applicable to the styles included in the particular shipment, and shall be transmitted with, or annexed to, the invoice, billing or other statement of price accompanying every shipment made by the wholesaler after August 15, 1945 of any men's cotton work socks. Each wholesaler shall complete this statement as follows: In Column A he shall list the ceiling prices of the particular styles being shipped which were in effect for him under the General Maximum Price Regulation, prior to August 15, 1945. In Column B he shall list his new ceiling prices, determined under paragraph (c) above. In Column C he shall list the difference between the amounts in Column A and Column B for the respective styles.

(f) Manufacturers' applications for further adjustment—(1) Who may apply. Any manufacturer of men's cotton work socks (as defined in (a) (2) above) may apply for adjustment of his ceiling prices on styles which are not the same as or similar to those which he delivered or offered for delivery during March 1942, or for further adjustment of the ceiling prices which he has adjusted under paragraph (b) above.

(2) Amount of adjustment. Existing ceiling prices will be adjusted as follows when and to the extent that they are found by the Office of Price Administration to be lower than:

(i) A price equal to the total unit cost of the item, or

(ii) A price equal to the total unit cost of the item plus 2% of such cost, if the net profits before taxes (computed in relation to net worth) realized by the applicant from his total operations are either (a) less than 7.6% or (b) less than double the average percentage realized by the applicant during the years 1936 to 1939. However, if current net profits before taxes (computed in relation to net worth) realized by the applicant from his total operations are 15.2% or over, the adjustment shall be limited to a price equal to the total unit cost of the item.

(3) Filing of applications. Applications must be filed with the Consumer Goods Price Division, Office of Price Administration, Washington, 25, D. C., in accordance with Article III of Revised Procedural Regulation No. 1, and must contain, unless the information is already on file with OPA:

(i) Balance sheets and profit and loss statements for the years (fiscal or calendar) 1936–1939, inclusive, the most recent calendar or fiscal year, and the most recent quarter or half-year period.

(ii) For each style on which an adjustment is sought, a statement in detail of the applicant's total unit cost (material, direct labor, factory overhead, selling and administrative expense, in accordance with applicant's usual accounting practice).

(iii) For each such style, a statement giving applicant's present ceiling price, and the method of computing such ceiling (e. g., section 2 (b), GMPR; section 2 (a) plus adjustment under section 1.4, SR 14E).

(iv) A sample of each style on which an adjustment is sought.

(v) A detailed statement as to why applicant cannot fill the quota fixed by Direction 17 to M–328 from those styles of men's cotton work socks (if any) for which individual adjustments, under this paragraph (f), have not been requested.

(4) Denial of applications. An application may be denied, notwithstanding the standards in sub-paragraph (2), if the Price Administrator determines that granting such application is not necessary to effectuate producer compliance with the terms of Direction 17 to M–328.

This amendment shall become effective August 15, 1945.

NOTE: The reporting and record-keeping requirements of this amendment have been approved by the Bureau of the Budget in accordance with the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this amendment, has been issued and filed with the Division of the Federal Register.

Section 3a is added to read as follows:

Sec. 3a. Special provisions for sales of produce shipped by air—(a) Applicability. This section applies only to sales of the listed commodities that (1) are shipped by air or are loaded on an airplane at the country shipping point ready for shipment by air; (2) are in such units or packages that they may be sold at retail without further packaging, each package being marked or labeled to show its minimum net weight and the fact that it was shipped by air; and (3) the goods have been so packed and labeled before shipment.

(b) Maximum prices. The maximum price for sales of the listed commodities covered by this section is figured, in each case, by making certain additions to the maximum price otherwise applicable to sales of that commodity under this regulation or any regional or district order. The maximum price otherwise applicable will be referred to as "the existing maximum price."

(1) For sales f. o. b. shipping point, the seller shall add to his existing maximum price, f. o. b. country shipping point, the appropriate packaging allowance from paragraph (c), below.

(2) For sales on a delivered basis, the seller shall add to his existing maximum price (i) the actual cost of air transportation or 42¢ per ton mile, whichever is lower, minus the amount it would have cost for surface transportation between the same points by the cheapest customary and generally available means plus (ii) the appropriate packaging allowance from paragraph (c) below.

(c) Packaging allowances. Allowances for special packaging expenses are shown in the following schedule:

Package with net weight of less than 2 pounds	1¼¢ per pound.
Package with net weight of 2 pounds or more but less than 3 pounds	1¢ per pound.
Package with net weight 3 to 5 pounds	¾¢ per pound.
Package with net weight of more than 5 pounds	No allowance.

(d) Information to be reported to district offices. Within twenty-four hours after making a sale covered by this section, the seller must give notice of the following facts to the Office of Price Administration District Office for the district within which he makes delivery:

(1) The names and addresses of the seller and buyer;

(2) A description of the produce sold, specifying its shipping weight, the minimum net weight of retail packages covered by the sale and the number of such packages or other units;

(3) The number of air line miles of the flight, the applicable tariff rate and the place and estimated time of delivery.

(e) This section is applicable only to deliveries made before October 1, 1945.

This amendment shall become effective at 12:01 a. m. August 11, 1945.

NOTE: All reporting and record keeping requirements of this amendment have been approved by the Bureau of the Budget in accordance with the Federal Reports Act of 1942

(b) Maximum prices: Sales by assemblers. Maximum prices for prime dogwood and persimmon shuttle blocks which are sold by an assembler shall be as follows: (NOTE: See definition of an assembler in paragraph (c) below.)

(1) Prime dogwood and persimmon shuttle blocks in the sizes listed in Table A. The maximum price f. o. b. the seller's plant for prime dogwood and persimmon shuttle blocks which are sold by an assembler (see definition of an assembler in paragraph (c) below), which comply with all of the specifications contained in paragraph (d) below and which are of a dry size listed in Table A in paragraph (a) above shall be the price listed in Table A for that particular dry size plus a mark-up of 39% of such price.

(2) Prime dogwood and persimmon shuttle blocks in the sizes listed in Table B. The maximum price f. o. b. the seller's plant for prime dogwood and persimmon shuttle blocks which are sold by an assembler (see definition of an assembler in paragraph (c) below), which comply with all of the specifications contained in paragraph (d) below and which are of a dry size listed in Table B in paragraph (a) above shall be the price listed in Table B for that particular dry size plus a mark-up of 25% of such price.

(c) Definition of an assembler. Within the coverage of this section, an assembler is a seller of dogwood and persimmon shuttle blocks who performs all of the functions set forth in subparagraphs (1), (2), (3) and (4) below and who also fulfils the requirements of subparagraph (5), or (6), or (7) which follow:

(1) Assembles the shuttle blocks from one or more mills where such shuttle blocks were manufactured, regardless of whether those mills are owned by the seller or one or more persons other than the seller.

(2) Makes final inspection of the shuttle blocks, both for grade and for shipment, on a sale of the shuttle blocks to one of the classes of purchasers described in subparagraph (4) below.

(3) Packages the shuttle blocks, provided the buyer of such shuttle blocks orders that the shuttle blocks be packaged.

(4) Sells the shuttle blocks direct to a domestic shuttle manufacturer and or for export.

(5) Shipped 250,000 or more prime shuttle blocks to either one or both of the classes of purchasers described in subparagraph (4) above during the year 1944. Written classification as an assembler from the Office of Price Administration is not necessary for a seller who fulfils the requirements of this subparagraph (5) and who also performs the other functions required in subparagraphs (1) through (4) of this paragraph (c) for a seller to be an assembler. A prime shuttle block is a shuttle block made in accordance with the specifications in paragraph (d) of this section.

(6) Shipped less than 250,000 but not less than 100,000 prime shuttle blocks to either one or both of the classes of purchasers described in subparagraph (4) above during the year 1944 provided such seller is duly classified in writing as an assembler by the Lumber Branch of the Office of Price Administration. In order to be classified as an assembler under this subparagraph (6) the seller must apply in writing for that classification to the Lumber Branch of the Office of Price Administration, Washington 25, D. C. The seller must show to the satisfaction of the Office of Price Administration that he performs all of the functions set forth in subparagraphs (1), (2), (3) and (4) above, and that he is entitled to classification as an assembler.

A prime shuttle block is a shuttle block made in accordance with the specifications in paragraph (d) of this section.

(7) A seller of shuttle blocks who desires to sell them as an assembler but who does not qualify as an assembler under the provisions of either subparagraph (5) or (6) above, must apply in writing for classification as an assembler to the Lumber Branch of the Office of Price Administration, Washington 25, D. C. The seller should submit evidence from at least two manufacturers of shuttles or from at least one manufacturer of shuttles and from a government procuring agency buying for lend-lease that they wish to purchase shuttle blocks from the seller. The seller should also submit evidence from at least three producers of shuttle blocks that they wish to sell shuttle blocks to the seller.

In addition, the seller must submit further information in support of his request for classification as may be required by the Office of Price Administration. If the Office of Price Administration finds that the seller is rendering or intends to render in good faith the services of an assembler, it may authorize the seller to sell prime shuttle blocks as an assembler.

(8) Even though a seller fulfils the requirements of subparagraphs (5) or (6) or (7) above, if such seller fails to perform all of the functions listed in subparagraphs (1), (2), (3) and (4) above in regard to the shuttle blocks which he sells, that seller shall not be regarded as an assembler in the sale of such shuttle blocks, and the prices provided for in paragraph (b) of this section shall not apply to such sale.

(d) Specifications: The specifications for prime dogwood and persimmon shuttle blocks priced in Table A and Table B above shall be as follows:

"Quality": Shall be dense wood, 100% sap wood, straight flat grain free of heartwood, pith, checks, dote, worm or grub holes, wane and discoloration (stain). Shall be free of knots or other visible defects within 3 inches of either end and within ½ inch of either wide face, or any defect combinations which render a piece unfit for a serviceable shuttle. "Manufacture": Shall be evenly sawed, squarely butted and of sufficient over-all size in green condition to assure the full net specified dimensions when later thoroughly dried. Shall be sufficiently air dried before preparation for shipment to prevent staining while in transit. Ends shall be waxed.

(e) Maximum prices for sizes and specifications not specifically priced by this section. Dogwood and persimmon shuttle blocks not specifically priced in this section are, nevertheless, subject to this section as "specially priced items" "or special items". A seller of such shuttle blocks, whether he be an assembler or a seller other than an assembler, must apply to the Lumber Branch of the Office of Price Administration, Washington 25, D. C., for approval of a requested maximum price.

On his application the seller should show the price difference between the "special item" and the most comparable standard item in October 1941 or the first month before that in which he had sales of both items, or, if this is impossible, the price differential which he would have used. ("The most comparable standard item" means any prime dogwood or persimmon shuttle block the size of which is listed in Table A or B of paragraph (a) of this section.) The seller should add this difference to, or subtract it from, the maximum price of the comparable standard item depending upon whether, in October 1941, the sale price of the special item was less than or greater than the sale price of the most comparable standard item. The seller should report such price in his application together with an explanation of how he has determined such price. The price requested by the applicant may be approved, reduced or revised by the Office of Price Administration as it deems appropriate. If the Office of Price Administration does not transmit by letter, telegram or in any other manner a disapproval of the price requested by the seller within 30 days of the receipt of the report by the Lumber Branch of the Office of Price Administration, the requested price may be deemed approved. Prior to approval of a maximum price for the special item by the Office of Price Administration the seller may proceed with delivery of the special item and collection of the price he has computed or requested. But the seller must inform the buyer that the price is subject to revision within the thirty day period and, if the price is ordered reduced by the Office of Price Administration, the seller must refund any excess over the final approved price.

(f) Transportation.—(1) Common or contract carrier. To the appropriate maximum price in paragraph (a) or (b), as provided in this section, the seller may add the actual transportation charges paid by the seller to a common or contract carrier for transportation directly from the seller's plant to the point of delivery required by the purchaser.

(2) Pre-rail truck haul. When a truck haul precedes rail shipment, as, for example, when a seller located away from a railhead hauls shuttle blocks by truck to the railhead, no addition may be made for the truck haul.

(3) All-truck haul. When shipment is by truck owned or controlled by the seller, no addition may be made for such transportation charges or expenses.

NOTE: All reporting and record-keeping requirements of this amendment have been approved by the Bureau of the Budget in accordance with the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

This amendment shall become effective August 11, 1945.

Issued this 11th day of August 1945.

CHESTER BOWLES,
Administrator.

PART 1347—PAPER, PAPER PRODUCTS, RAW MATERIALS FOR PAPER AND PAPER PRODUCTS, PRINTING AND PUBLISHING

[RMPR 529,[1] Amdt. 1]

SECOND HAND PAPERBOARD SHIPPING CONTAINERS

A Statement of the Considerations involved in the issuance of this amendment, issued simultaneously herewith, has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.

Revised Maximum Price Regulation 529 is amended in the following respects:

1. In section 10, paragraph (a) is amended to read as follows:

(a) Every person making sales or purchases of the commodities subject to this regulation aggregating $100 or more in any one month shall keep for inspection by the Office of Price Administration for so long as the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, shall remain in effect, complete and accurate records of each such sale or purchase showing the following:

(1) Date of purchase or sale.

(2) Name and address of the buyer or seller.

(3) Quantity and weight purchased or sold, and in the case of second hand paperboard shipping containers, a breakdown showing whether containers are reusable, repairable, or reconditioned.

(4) Prices paid or received.

Such records shall set forth separately the price charged and any other amounts paid or received in connection with such sale. Such records may be in the form of the invoice or a copy thereof furnished in connection with each such sale or purchase, providing the invoice contains the information specified above.

(b) Persons required to keep records by paragraph (a) of this section shall keep such other records and shall submit such reports as the Office of Price Administration may from time to time require subject to the approval of the Bureau of the Budget pursuant to the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

2. In section 11 (a), a new subparagraph (11) is added to read as follows:

(11) "Original user" means the person who previously packed commodities in the second hand paperboard shipping containers which are being sold to such person.

"Original user" may include all packers who ship commodities to the same emptier in paperboard shipping containers which are of the same size and specifications.

[1] 9 F.R. 12023.

3. In section 11 (a), a new subparagraph (12) is added to read as follows:

(12) "Emptier" means any person to whom commodities are shipped in paperboard shipping containers and who, after removing the commodities contained therein, offers the shipping containers for sale.

4. In section 12, paragraph (d) is amended to read as follows:

(d) Brokerage allowance. The maximum price at which a "broker" may sell second hand paperboard shipping containers and second hand corrugated or solid fibre inner packing materials may not exceed (1) the price paid by him under this regulation (exclusive of any brokerage or finder's fees paid by him) for such second hand paperboard shipping containers and second hand corrugated or solid fibre inner packing materials plus (2) any charges paid by the broker to a person other than a previous seller of the same containers, for repairing and/or sorting such second hand paperboard shipping containers and second hand corrugated or solid fibre inner packing materials, and plus (3) 8% of the total of the foregoing. The broker's selling price for second hand paperboard shipping containers or second hand corrugated or solid fibre inner packing materials may in no event exceed the applicable maximum price established under Appendices A or B plus 8%.

In any sale involving a broker all of the following requirements must be satisfied:

(1) The sale must comply with all other requirements of this regulation.

(2) The second hand paperboard shipping containers and second hand corrugated or solid fibre inner packing materials involved in a sale by a broker must not have been repaired or sorted by the broker, nor may a repair, reconditioning or sorting charge have been made by any previous seller of the same containers or by any person with whom the broker or any previous seller of the same containers has any connection consisting of community of ownership or other beneficial interest, profit-sharing arrangement, agreement for division of losses, or control based on close family relationship.

(3) The brokerage allowances must not be split or divided with any other person.

(4) Not more than one brokerage allowance may be included in the charge made for any sale.

(5) The brokerage allowance must be shown on a separate invoice or as a separate item on the invoice accompanying the delivery. In connection with each delivery the broker must send the purchaser a statement that the broker did not repair or sort the second hand paperboard shipping containers or second hand corrugated or solid fibre inner packing materials, contained in the shipment.

(6) Any person making a sale of reusable second hand paperboard shipping containers and/or second hand corrugated or solid fibre inner packing materials which have been sorted, repaired, reconditioned, and/or loaded for direct shipment to such person's customer by an emptier, and which merchandise actually has been shipped to the customer, shall be considered a broker with respect to the sale and subject to the provisions of this paragraph (d). Where such merchandise is shipped to a seller by an emtier employing transportation not owned or controlled by the seller and is reshipped to the seller's customer without having been unloaded, the seller shall also be considered a broker with respect to the sale and subject to the provisions of this paragraph (d).

(7) No person may receive as compensation for any sale both the dealer's margin and the brokerage allowance.

A "broker" is any person who complies with the requirements of this paragraph (d) and who purchases and resells reusable or reconditioned second hand paperboard shipping containers or second hand corrugated or solid fibre inner packing material or who arranges for the sale thereof. For the purpose of this paragraph (d), it is immaterial whether or not title is taken by the person to whom the brokerage allowance is paid.

Nothing herein contained shall prevent a buyer from paying a finder's fee for the procurement of second hand paperboard shipping containers or second hand corrugated or solid fibre inner packing materials provided the total amount paid by him does not exceed the maximum price which a broker might receive under this regulation for selling or negotiating for the sale of second hand paperboard shipping containers or second hand corrugated or solid fibre inner packing materials. No finder's fee, however, may be paid to any person who has repaired or sorted the containers or inner packing material for which such fee is paid.

This amendment shall become effective August 18, 1945.

Issued this 13th day of August 1945.

CHESTER BOWLES,
Administrator.

PART 4004—PRICE STABILIZATION: MAXIMUM PRICES

MAXIMUM RAW MATERIAL COSTS; FROZEN VEGETABLES, 1945

The Secretary of Agriculture in a letter dated July 6, 1945, and the Price Administrator in a letter dated July 23 1945 submitted certain information and their recommendations to me with reference to establishing maximum raw material costs to be reflected in maximum prices for frozen vegetables produced from designated in Schedule A hereto. It is hereby found and determined that the policy established by the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, and Executive Orders Nos. 9250 and 9328 will be effectuated by adoption of the recommended maximum raw material costs.

The Office of Price Administration is hereby authorized and directed to establish maximum prices for the 1945 pack of frozen vegetables, berries, and vegetables in accordance with the following principles: maximum prices for canned fruits, berries, and vegetables shall be the same as those established for the 1944 pack under Supplement 7 to Food Products Regulation No. 1, as amended by Amendments 1-24, modified as follows:

1. Raw material. Gross maximum prices shall be computed on the basis of approved 1945 raw material costs and shall reflect changes in grower support or recommended prices authorized by the Economic Stabilization Director. Wherever administratively possible, gross maximum prices of individual processors in each case shall be based upon actual costs of raw material not in excess of recommended or support prices.

2. Wages. Maximum prices shall be increased to cover increases in the basic wage rate schedules since January 1, 1944 not already reflected in those prices. These adjustments are to be applied only by processors who actually have incurred wage rate increases. An increase shall be considered to have occurred in the basic wage rate schedule only if the rate for female unskilled labor has increased. In detremining the amount of the adjustment the Office of Price Administration shall consider that labor costs will have increased by these percentages:

(a) Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont, Massachusetts, Rhode Island, Connecticut, New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Delaware, Maryland, West Virginia, Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Michigan, Wisconsin, Minnesota, North Dakota, South Dakota, Iowa, Kansas, Nebraska—for processors with any increase in basic wage rate schedules, 10 per cent.

(b) Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia, Florida, Tennessee, Kentucky, Mississippi, Louisiana, Alabama, Missouri, Oklahoma, Texas, Arkansas—for processors with increase in basic wage rate schedules up to and including 5 cents an hour, 10 per cent; for processors with increases in basic wage rate schedules of more than 5 cents an hour, 20 per cent.

(c) Wyoming, Colorado, Idaho, Utah, Nevada, Montana, Arizona, New Mexico—for processors with any increase in basic wage rate schedules, 7½ per cent.

(d) Washington and Oregon—for processors with any increase in basic wage rate schedules, 5 per cent.

(e) California—no adjustment.

3. Subsidized commodities. Where subsidies are authorized and directed by Directive No. 60 (including amendments) issued by the Office of Economic Stabilization, maximum prices shall be maintained or established in accordance with that Directive.

4. Other changes. Other minor adjustments may be made in maximum prices and pricing methods to bring them into conformity with the principles on which maximum prices for the 1944 pack were established, to improve the pricing methods and to correct inequities in the maximum prices for the 1944 pack.

(E.O. 9250 and E.O. 9328, 3 CFR, Cum. Supp. pp. 1213, 1267)

Issued and effective this 9th day of August 1945.

When correspondence courses are used as part of a course requiring attendance, any approved institution under contract may be used to furnish the desired correspondence course.

§ 36.255 Approval of institutions. In accordance with paragraph 4, Title II, Public No. 346, institutions furnishing correspondence courses must be approved. Approval of a school for the purpose of furnishing correspondence courses to veterans residing within the State in which the school is located will be by the appropriate agency of the State. Approval of a school for the purpose of furnishing correspondence courses to veterans residing outside the State in which the school is located will be by the Administrator.

§ 36.256 Contracts. Correspondence courses will be furnished by approved schools under contract negotiated by central office, and decentralized to the field stations. When a correspondence course is desired for which no contract has been decentralized to the field station, request for a contract for the desired course may be made to central office by the regional office or facility having regional office activities or by the school. Each contract will bear a stamp indicating the extent to which the contract may be used and any limitations thereon.

§ 36.257 Entrance into training. (a) Rehabilitation Form 1907c will be used to enter a veteran into training status.

(b) An eligible veteran not otherwise enrolled for a course of education or training who elects a correspondence course from an institution which qualifies under the provisions of § 36.254 (a) and which has a contract with the Veterans' Administration to furnish correspondence instruction will enroll directly with the school furnishing the desired course. The certificate of eligibility, properly endorsed by the veteran, will be surrendered to the school which will endorse it in accordance with the directions thereon and send it to the regional office or facility having regional office activities within whose territory the veteran resides. An enrollment will not be effective prior to the date of issuance of the certificate of eligibility or the date of the institution's endorsement whichever is the later.

(c) A veteran who is required to take a correspondence course as part of a resident course will be enrolled by the Veterans' Administration at the request of the veteran and the school or business establishment furnishing the regular resident course.

(d) Each institution on enrolling a veteran in a correspondence course will certify to the regional office or facility having regional office activities in whose territory the veteran resides the number of the contract under which the course is offered, the name of the course for which the veteran is enrolled, the number of lessons comprising the course, the number of credit hours, if any, allowed upon satisfactory completion of the course, and the educational level of the veteran at the time of his enrollment. If the course consists of a single subject or is a unit course which upon completion may be followed by another subject or unit course, that fact should also be stated.

(e) Upon receiving certification from an institution of the enrollment of a veteran in a correspondence course the manager will determine that the institution is approved for use in his regional territory and that a contract for the course is in effect with the institution. He will immediately notify the veteran concerning the policy regarding payment of subsistence allowance and of charging his entitlement for the course, pointing out the importance of consistent and continuous study.

(f) All arrangements and communications concerning the enrollment and progress of a veteran in a correspondence course will be directly between the school and the regional office or facility having regional office activities under whose jurisdiction the veteran is in training.

§ 36.258 Subsistence allowance. No subsistence allowance will be paid a veteran enrolled only in a correspondence course. However, a veteran who is pursuing a correspondence course which is prescribed as part of a resident course requiring attendance may be paid subsistence allowance for that part of the course which requires attendance at the institution.

This may apply either to resident training in a school or on-the-job. If a veteran is enrolled for a combination correspondence and resident course which entails attendance, subsistence allowance may be paid by the regional office that has jurisdiction over the case for only the time of actual attendance during the resident portion of the course.

§ 36.259 Combination correspondence and resident courses. Combination courses, as offered by certain schools, which comprise a series of lessons by correspondence followed by a short period (generally two to four weeks) of resident instruction requiring attendance at the school, are considered to be correspondence courses subject to the provisions of this instruction. When a veteran enrolls for a combination correspondence and resident course, transportation to the school for the resident portion of the course will not be paid either directly or indirectly by the Government.

(a) In case a veteran resides outside the regional territory in which the school is located, the veteran's education and training folder will not be transferred during the period of resident instruction unless the time is expected to exceed thirty days. If the period of resident training is expected to exceed thirty days, the veteran's folder will be transferred to the regional office or facility having regional office activities in the territory in which the school is located. The voucher covering resident instruction will be submitted to the regional office or facility having regional office activities having possession of the veteran's case folder.

(b) When a veteran leaves the regional territory to pursue the resident portion of the course the regional office in the territory in which the school is located will be notified and asked to cooperate by reporting on the attendance and progress of the veteran to the office having jurisdiction over the case. When a veteral enrolls for the resident portion of the course the school will notify the regional office in its own territory and, if the veteran resides in another regional territory, the regional office from which he came.

§ 36.260 Supervision of enrollees. The regional office or facility having regional office activities in whose territory the veteran resides during the time he is enrolled in a correspondence course only will have jurisdiction over the case and will be responsible for supervision of the veteran. Where the correspondence course is prescribed as part of a course requiring attendance and both are pursued concurrently the field office having responsibility for the resident training will also have jurisdiction over the correspondence course. The training officer will maintain supervisory contact with each veteran enrolled in a correspondence course and will require from each veteran a report of the lessons completed by him and returned by the school, and will satisfy himself concerning the accuracy of the report and the progress of the veteran. Supervisory reports on each veteran listing the lessons which have been sent in to the school and returned, will be made monthly and filed in the veteran's education and training folder. These reports will be checked against the monthly reports (as required in paragraph eighth of the contract) and vouchers submitted to the regional office or facility having regional office activities by the school. Such encouragement and help as may be needed by the veteran in pursuit of his course may be given him. The Veterans Administration will not furnish postage to veterans in training under Public No. 346 for returning completed lessons to the school.

§ 36.261 Charging entitlement. (a) Charges against a veteran's entitlement for a correspondence course furnished by an institution which evaluates its courses in terms of credit hours will be made in accordance with § 36.239 (e) (4) of this chapter.

(b) When a correspondence course is furnished by an institution which does not evaluate its courses in terms of standard credit hours, a charge of $\frac{1}{4}$ time during the period the veteran is enrolled for the course will be made against the entitlement of a veteran, except that during the resident portion of a combination course entitlement will be charged for the time he is attending the resident instruction in accordance with § 36.239 (d) of this chapter.

(c) When a veteran is enrolled for a full-time course of resident training in addition to the correspondence course no charge will be made against his entitlement for the correspondence course.

(d) When a veteran fails to complete any lessons even though he may be enrolled in the correspondence course and the registration fee is paid, charge against his entitlement will be made in accordance with the procedure stated in § 36.263.

§ 36.262 Payment of vouchers. Vouchers prepared in accordance with the contract will be submitted by the school furnishing the course to the regional office or facility having regional office activities having jurisdiction over the case.

§ 36.263 Interrupting or discontinuing a course. Any trainee enrolled in a correspondence course who notifies the manager of his intention to interrupt or discontinue his course, or who completes no lessons within a period of sixty consecutive days, will, unless sufficient cause is found, be placed in interrupted or discontinued status and the correspondence school and the veteran so notified by the manager. The veteran's entitlement will be charged for the time he is in training status even though no lessons are completed. If at a subsequent date the veteran desires to resume his course he may be reenrolled upon application to the manager and approval by him.

§ 36.264 Additional courses. If a veteran satisfactorily completes one correspondence course and desires to enroll for another unit course or subject, either correspondence or resident, and has entitlement remaining, he may do so if the course will reasonably contribute to the achievement of the educational objective stated on the certificate of enrollment of the first course or of the regular resident course, if the veteran is so enrolled. If the proposed course cannot be reasonably construed to be part of the entire course of education or training elected by the veteran, the request for an additional subject will be treated as a request for a change of course requiring prior approval of the manager.

Administrator of Veterans' Affairs.

AGRICULTURE DEPARTMENT.

Office of Marketing Services.

MILK IN MINNEAPOLIS-ST. PAUL, MINN., MARKETING AREA

NOTICE OF REPORT AND OPPORTUNITY TO FILE WRITTEN EXCEPTIONS WITH RESPECT TO PROPOSED MARKETING AGREEMENT AND TO PROPOSED ORDER REGULATING HANDLING

Pursuant to the rules of practice and procedure governing proceedings to formulate marketing agreements and marketing orders (7 CFR. Cum. Supp., 900.1 et seq.), notice is hereby given of the filing with the hearing clerk of the report of the Director of the Office of Marketing Services, with respect to a marketing agreement and to an order regulating the handling of milk in the Minneapolis-St. Paul, Minnesota, marketing area to be made effective pursuant to the provisions of the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (7 U.S.C. 1940 601 et seq.). Interested parties may file exceptions to this report with the Hearing Clerk, Office of the Solicitor, Room 1331, South Building, United States Department of Agriculture, Washington 25, D. C., not later than the close of business on August 31, 1945. Exceptions must be filed in quadruplicate.

The hearing, on the record of which this proposed marketing agreement and order have been formulated, was initiated by the Office of Marketing Services following the receipt of a petition by the Twin City Milk Producers' Association and was conducted at St. Paul, Minnesota, beginning on May 22, 1945, after the issuance of notice on April 30, 1945 (10 F.R. 4777).

The major issues developed at the hearing were: (1) whether there is need for a marketing agreement and order program in the Minneapolis-St. Paul, Minnesota, marketing area; (2) whether the handling of milk in the proposed marketing area is in or affects interstate commerce; (3) the extent of the marketing area; (4) the classification of milk and milk products; (5) the level of class prices and the method of determining such prices; (6) the type of pool; (7) the amount of the administrative assessment; (8) the need for the performance of marketing services; and (9) the administrative provisions common to all orders.

With respect to the issues it is concluded from the record that:

1. There is need for the issuance of a marketing agreement and order program since the greatly increased production of milk in the supply area creates a potential menace to the orderly marketing of milk within the marketing area.

2. There is very substantial movement in interstate commerce of the milk which would be subject to the regulation. There is a movement into the area from Wisconsin of more than 14 million pounds of milk annually in the form of milk and cream, while handlers who would be subject to the order dispose of more than 200 million pounds of milk annually outside the State of Minnesota. The latter is partly in the form of whole milk and partly in the form of cream and manufactured dairy products. All of the handling of milk within the marketing area affects interstate commerce.

3. The marketing area should include the cities of Minneapolis and St. Paul and part of the adjacent contiguous territory which forms a part of the natural marketing area and which is described in the order now proposed. The proposed area is somewhat smaller in extent than that which was suggested originally in the notice of hearing.

4. There is need for only two classes of milk, Class I to consist of those products normally associated with the fluid milk industry such as milk, skim milk, cream and flavored milk drinks, and Class II to consist of manufactured dairy products such as butter, cheese, evaporated and condensed milk, etc.

5. The Class I price should be based on the prices paid or payable for milk used in the manufacture of dairy products and should be 50 cents over such base during January, February, March and April; 40 cents over during May and June; and 70 cents over during the remaining months of the year. The Class II price should be based on the market values of butter and non-fat dry milk solids. The Class I butterfat differential should be 125 percent of the market price of butter, and the Class II differential should be 120 percent of the butter price. These prices should return to producers a blended or uniform price sufficiently above the manufacturing value to insure the handlers serving the marketing area a sufficient supply of pure and wholesome milk to meet the demands of the market for fluid milk.

It has been provided that the Secretary may freeze the Class I price when the public interest requires. This provision has been placed in the order to enable the Secretary to forestall any abrupt price change which might have the effect of bringing the proposed pricing program into conflict with the national program for economic stabilization. It will afford a means of protection to the handlers in the market should the formula result in a high Class I price, which has not been compensated for by an adjustment in maximum resale ceiling.

6. Producers should be paid for their milk by means of an individual-handler type of pool. In the case of a handler who is required by any health authority in the marketing area to separate his producers into two groups and to receive and handle separately the milk of each group, a uniform price shall be computed for each group.

7. The administrative assessment should be fixed at a rate not to exceed 2 cents per hundredweight of Class I milk. It appears that the cost of administering the order will, at least in its initial stages, approximate $5,600.00 per month. An assessment of 2 cents per hundredweight on all Class I milk would provide approximately this sum.

8. There appears to be a need for the performance, by the market administrator, of marketing services for producers.

9. The other provisions of the proposed order, mainly administrative in character, should remain about as proposed in the notice of hearing, except that such slight changes as appear in the order now proposed should be made in the phraseology to correct typographical errors or to provide greater clarity, but these would have little or no effect upon the substance of the provisions.

The following proposed order is recommended as the detailed means by which these conclusions may be carried out. The proposed marketing agreement is not included in this report because its provisions are identical with those set forth in the proposed order.

It is found upon the evidence introduced at the public hearing held in St. Paul, Minnesota, beginning on May 22, 1945:

1. That this order regulates the handling of milk in the same manner as and is applicable only to handlers defined in a marketing agreement upon which a hearing has been held; and

2. That the issuance of this order and all of the terms and conditions of the order tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act.

(b) Classes of utilization. Subject to the conditions set forth in (a) and (d) of this section, the classes of utilization shall be as follows:

(1) Class I milk shall be all skim milk and butterfat disposed of for consumption in the form of milk, skim milk, cream, sweet or sour (including any mixture of cream and milk or skim milk, containing less butterfat than the legal standard for cream), cultured buttermilk, and flavored milk drinks, and all skim milk and butterfat not specifically accounted for as Class II milk.

(2) Class II milk shall be all skim milk and butterfat specifically accounted for as used to produce a milk product other than those specified in (1) of this paragraph and as actual plant shrinkage not in excess of 1 percent of the total receipts of skim milk and butterfat from producers.

(c) Responsibility of handlers. In establishing the classification of milk as required in (b) of this section, the burden rests upon the handler who receives milk from producers to account for the skim milk and butterfat contained in such milk, and to prove to the market administrator that such skim milk or butterfat should not be classified as Class I.

(d) Transfers of milk and cream. (1) Skim milk and butterfat shall be classified as Class I when disposed of in the form of milk, skim milk or cream by a handler (i) to other handlers who receive milk from producers or associations of producers: Provided, That if the market administrator is furnished with a statement signed by both the buying and the selling handler that such skim milk or butterfat was used to produce a Class II product, it shall be classified accordingly subject to verification by the market administrator; (ii) to a producer-handler; and (iii) to a handler who purchases or receives no milk from producers or associates of producers.

(2) Skim milk and butterfat, when disposed of by a handler to the plant of a person, other than a handler, who processes or distributes milk or milk products, shall be classified in accordance with its utilization as determined by the market administrator; Provided, That if moved to a plant located more than 100 miles from the marketing area, such skim milk and butterfat shall be classified as Class I if moved in the form of milk or skim milk and as Class II if moved in any other form.

(3) Skim milk and butterfat received by a handler from an emergency source shall be classified in the lowest use classification of the receiving handler.

(e) Computation of the milk in each class. For each delivery period the market administrator shall correct for mathematical and other obvious errors the report submitted by each handler and shall compute on the basis of the corrected report the amount of milk disposed of at each plant in each class as defined in (b) of this section as follows:

(1) Determine the total pounds of milk received by adding into one sum the total pounds of skim milk and butterfat contained in the milk, skim milk, cream and milk products received from all sources.

(2) Determine the total pounds of milk in Class I by adding into one sum the total pounds of skim milk and butterfat disposed of in each of the several products of Class I, and the total pounds of skim milk and butterfat unaccounted for or accounted for as actual plant shrinkage in excess of 1 percent of the total receipts of skim milk and butterfat from producers.

(3) Determine the total pounds of milk in Class II by adding into one sum the pounds of skim milk and butterfat used to produce each of the several products of Class II and the pounds of skim milk and butterfat accounted for as actual plant shrinkage not in excess of 1 percent of the total receipts of skim milk and butterfat from producers.

(4) Determine the classification of milk of producers as follows: (i) subtract from the pounds of skim milk and butterfat in Class II, the pounds of skim milk and butterfat which were received from sources other than producers, associations of producers, other handlers, own farm production, and emergency sources; (ii) subtract from the remaining pounds of skim milk and butterfat in Class II the pounds of skim milk and butterfat which were received from emergency sources: Provided, That if the receipts of skim milk or butterfat from emergency sources are greater than the remaining pounds of skim milk or butterfat in Class II an amount equal to the difference shall be subtracted from the pounds of skim milk or butterfat in Class I; (iii) subtract from the remaining pounds of skim milk and butterfat in each class the pounds of skim milk and butterfat which were received from other handlers and allocated to each class pursuant to (d) (1) (i) of this section; (iv) subtract pro rata from the remaining pounds of skim milk and butterfat in each class the pounds of skim milk and butterfat which were received from the handler's own farm production; (v) if the remaining quantity of milk contains a greater quantity of skim milk or butterfat than the handler reported having received from producers an amount equal to the difference shall be subtracted pro rata from the remaining pounds of skim milk or butterfat in each class; and (vi) the result shall be known as the "net pooled milk" in each class.

SEC. 5 Minimum prices—(a) Class prices. Each handler shall, subject to the provisions of (c) and (d) of this section, pay at the time and in the manner set forth in section 8 not less than the prices set forth in this paragraph per hundredweight of milk received during each delivery period at such handler's plant.

(1) For Class I milk—the price shall be the basic price determined pursuant to (b) of this paragraph plus 50 cents during the months of January, February, March and April; plus 40 cents during the months of May and June; and plus 70 cents during the months of July, August, September, October, November, and December.

(2) For Class II milk—the price shall be that determined by the market administrator as follows: (i) multiply by 3.5 the average price per pound of 93-score butter delivered at New York as reported by the Department of Agriculture for the delivery period and add 20 percent thereof; (ii) multiply by 7.7 the average price of spray and roller process non-fat dry milk solids for human consumption, in carlots f. o. b. manufacturing plants as reported for the Chicago area by the Department of Agriculture; (iii) add into one sum the amounts obtained in (i) and (ii); and (iv) subtract 42 cents therefrom.

(b) Basic price. The basic price to be used in determining the price per hundredweight of Class I milk shall be the price for Class II milk computed pursuant to (a) (2) of this section less 5 cents, or that derived from either of the formulae set forth in (1) and (2) of this paragraph, whichever is the highest.

(1) The average of the basic or field prices ascertained to have been paid for milk of 3.5 percent butterfat content received during the delivery period at the following places for which prices are reported to the market administrator by the listed companies or by the Department of Agriculture:

Borden Co	Mt. Pleasant, Mich.
Carnation Co	Sparta, Mich.
Pet Milk Co	Hudson, Mich.
Pet Milk Co	Wayland, Mich.
Pet Milk Co	Coopersville, Mich.
Borden Co	Greenville, Wis.
Borden Co	Black Creek, Wis.
Borden Co	Orfordville, Wis.
Carnation Co	Chilton, Wis.
Carnation Co	Berlin, Wis.
Carnation Co	Richland Center, Wis.
Carnation Co	Oconomowoc, Wis.
Pet Milk Co	New Glarus, Wis.
Pet Milk Co	Belleville, Wis.
Borden Co	New London, Wis.
White House Milk Co	Manitowoc, Wis.
White House Milk Co	West Bend, Wis.

(2) (i) Multiply the average wholesale price per pound of 93-score butter delivered at New York for said delivery period as reported by the Department of Agriculture by six (6); (ii) add 2.4 times the weekly prevailing price of "Twins" during said delivery period on the Wisconsin Cheese Exchange at Plymouth, Wisconsin, as reported by the Department of Agriculture: Provided, That if the price of "Twins" is not quoted on the Wisconsin Cheese Exchange, the weekly prevailing price of "Cheddars" shall be deemed to be the prevailing price for "Twins" and shall be used in determining the price pursuant to this paragraph; (iii) divide the resulting sum by seven (7); (iv) add 30 percent thereof; and (v) multiply the resulting sum by 3.5.

(c) Location differential. With respect to milk purchased or received from producers at a plant of a handler located outside the marketing area, and which is classified as Class I milk, the price per hundredweight computed pursuant to (a) (1) of this section shall be reduced one-half cent for each full mile that such plant is distant from the marketing area. Such deduction shall be based on the shortest highway distance from such handler's plant to the edge of the marketing area, as determined by the market administrator.

For purposes of this paragraph the milk which is classified as Class I milk during each delivery period shall be considered to have been first that which was received from producers at such handler's plants located within the marketing area, and then that milk which was received from producers at such handler's other plants in series beginning with the plants located nearest to the marketing area.

(d) Butterfat differentials to handlers. (1) If the average butterfat content of the milk disposed of by any handler as net pooled Class I milk is more or less than 3.5 percent, such handler shall add to the Class I price per hundredweight computed pursuant to (a) (1) of this section for each one-tenth of 1 percent that the average butterfat content of such Class I milk is above 3.5 percent or shall subtract from such Class I price for each one-tenth of 1 percent that the average butterfat content of such milk is below 3.5 percent, an amount computed by the market administrator as follows: To the average price per pound of 93-score butter delivered at New York as reported by the Department of Agriculture for the delivery period add 25 percent and divide the sum obtained by ten (10).

(2) If the average butterfat content of the milk disposed of as net pooled Class II milk by any handler is more or less than 3.5 percent, such handler shall add to the Class II price computed pursuant to (a) (2) of this section for each one-tenth of 1 percent that the average butterfat content of such Class II milk is above 3.5 percent, or shall subtract from such Class II price for each one-tenth of 1 percent that the average butterfat content of such Class II milk is below 3.5 percent, an amount computed by the market administrator as follows: To the average price per pound of 93-score butter delivered at New York as reported by the Department of Agriculture for the delivery period, add 20 percent and divide the resulting sum by ten (10).

(e) Emergency price provisions. (1) Whenever the provisions hereof require the market administrator to use a specific price (or prices) for milk or for any milk product for the purpose of determining class prices or for any other purpose, the market administrator shall add to the specific price the amount of any subsidy, or other similar payments being made by any Federal agency in connection with the milk or product associated with the price specified: Provided, That if for any reason the price specified is not reported or published as indicated, the market administrator shall use the applicable maximum uniform price established by regulations of any Federal agency plus the amount of any such subsidy or other similar payment: Provided further, That if the specified price is not reported or published and there is no applicable maximum uniform price, or if the specified price is not reported or published and the Secretary determines that the market price is below the applicable maximum uniform price, the market administrator shall use a price determined by the Secretary to be equivalent to or comparable with the price specified.

(2) Whenever the Secretary finds and announces that the Class I price computed for any delivery period pursuant to (a) of this section is not in the public interest, the Class I price for such delivery period shall be the same as the Class I price for the preceding delivery period.

SEC. 6. Application of provisions—(a) Handlers who receive no milk from producers. Sections 4, 5, 7, 8, 9, and 10 shall not apply to the handling of milk by producer-handlers or by handlers whose sole sources of supply are receipts from other handlers which are not cooperative associations of producers.

(b) Producer-handlers. Handlers shall furnish to the market administrator for his verification, subject to review by the Secretary, evidence of their qualifications as producer-handlers pursuant to section 1 (j), as of the effective date hereof, and they shall furnish evidence of subsequent changes made in the manner of producing or distributing that milk that affects their qualification as producer-handlers; such verification by the market administrator shall be made within 15 days of the receipt of the evidence and shall be retroactive to the effective date hereof in cases verified within 45 days of such effective date and shall be effective retroactively to the first day of the delivery period during which verification is made in subsequent cases.

(c) Sales of milk by a producer-handler. A producer-handler who sells or disposes of skim milk or butterfat to another handler or producer-handler shall be considered a producer with respect to such skim milk or butterfat.

(d) Payment for excess milk or butterfat. If a handler after subtracting receipts from his own farm production, from other handlers, from emergency sources, and from other sources, has disposed of skim milk or butterfat in excess of the skim milk or butterfat which has been credited to his producers as having been delivered by them, the market administrator in computing the value of the milk of such handler pursuant to section 7 (a) shall add an amount equal to the value of such skim milk or butterfat in accordance with its utilization by the handler as determined pursuant to section 4 (e) (4) (v).

SEC. 7. Determination of uniform price to producers—(a) Computation of the value of the milk of each handler. For each delivery period the market administrator shall compute the value of all milk received at each plant by each handler from producers in the following manner: Provided, That in the case of a plant which is required by any health authority in the marketing area to separate its producers into two groups, and to receive and handle separately the milk received from each group, the market administrator shall compute the value of the milk received from each group of producers, if the milk is handled in such a manner, and the records of the handler are so kept, that the market administrator can verify the utilization of the milk received from each group:

(1) Multiply the net pooled milk in each class computed pursuant to section 4 (e) (4) by the class prices computed pursuant to section 5 (a) subject to the differentials set forth in section 5 (c) and (d);

(2) Add together the resulting amounts; and

(3) Add the value of any payments to be made pursuant to section 6 (d).

(b) Computation of the uniform price for each handler. The market administrator shall compute the uniform price per hundredweight of milk received during the delivery period at each plant by each handler, as follows: Provided, That, if the market administrator has computed separate values for the milk received from two groups of producers in accordance with the proviso of (a) of this section, he shall compute a uniform price for each group of producers:

(1) From the value computed pursuant to (a) of this section, subtract, if the average butterfat content of all milk received from producers at such plant is more than 3.5 percent, or add if such average butterfat content is less than 3.5 percent an amount computed as follows: Multiply the amount by which the average butterfat content varies from 3.5 percent by the butterfat differential computed pursuant to section 8 (b) and multiply the result by the total hundredweight of milk received from producers.

(2) Adjust the resulting sum by an amount representing the fraction used in adjusting the uniform price for the previous delivery period to the nearest cent.

(3) Divide the result by the total hundredweight of milk received from producers.

(4) Adjust the resulting figure to the nearest full cent. This shall be known as the uniform price per hundredweight for each plant of a handler for milk containing 3.5 percent butterfat.

(c) Announcement of class prices. On or before the 6th day after the end of each delivery period the market administrator shall mail to all handlers and make public announcement of the class prices computed pursuant to section 5 (a), and the butterfat differentials computed pursuant to section 5 (d) and 8 (b).

(d) Announcement of uniform prices. On or before the 15th day after the end of each delivery period the market administrator shall notify each handler and make public announcement of the uniform prices computed pursuant to (b) of this section.

SEC. 8. Payments to producers—(a) Time and method of payment. (1) On or before the 20th day after the end of each delivery period each handler shall make payment to each producer for milk received from him during the delivery period at not less than the uniform price per hundredweight computed for such handler by the market administrator pursuant to section 7 (b), subject to the butterfat differential set forth in (b) of this section.

(2) On or before the 10th day after the end of each delivery period each handler shall make payment to a cooperative association for milk which it caused to be delivered to such handler for the account of such cooperative association in accordance with the classification of such milk at not less than the class prices set forth in section 5 (a), subject to the differentials set forth in section 5 (c) and (d), and less the amount of the payment made pursuant to (3) of this paragraph.

(3) On or before the 20th day of each delivery period each handler shall, at the request of the cooperative association, make payment to such association of the approximate value of the milk which such cooperative association caused to be delivered to such handler during the first 15 days of the delivery period.

(b) Butterfat differential to producers. If, during the delivery period, any handler has purchased or received from any producer, milk having an average butterfat content other than 3.5 percent, such handler in making the payments prescribed in (a) (1) of this section, shall add to the uniform price per hundredweight paid to such producer for each one-tenth of 1 percent of butterfat content in milk above 3.5 percent not less than, or shall deduct from the uniform price per hundredweight for each one-tenth of 1 percent of butterfat content in milk below 3.5 percent not more than, an amount computed by the market administrator as follows: to the average price per pound of 93-score butter delivered at New York as reported by the Department of Agriculture for the delivery period, add 20 percent and divide the resulting sum by ten (10).

(c) Correction of errors in payments to producers. Errors in making any of the payments prescribed in this section shall be corrected not later than the date for making payments next following the determination of such errors. Any correction affecting all producers delivering to any handler during the period in which such error occurred shall be corrected in such manner as the market administrator shall determine to be equitable, either by (1) adjustment of the account of each individual producer who delivered during such period on the basis of a recomputation of the price of such handler, or (2) by addition or subtraction of the amount of such correction to or from the value of all milk received by such handler in the delivery period during which such error was determined, computed as set forth in section 7 (a).

(d) Statement to producers. In making the payments required by this section, each handler shall furnish each producer with a supporting statement in such form that it may be retained by the producer, which shall show:

(1) The delivery period and the identity of the handler and of the producer;

(2) The total pounds and the average butterfat content of milk delivered by the producer;

(3) The minimum rate or rates at which payment to the producer is required under the provisions of (a) and (c) of this section;

(4) The rate which is used in making the payment if such rate is other than the applicable minimum;

(5) The amount or the rate per hundredweight of each deduction claimed by the handler, including any deductions claimed under section 10, together with a description of the respective deductions; and

(6) The net amount of payment to the producer.

SEC. 9. Expenses of administration—(a) Payments by handlers. As his prorata share of the expense of the administration hereof, each handler, on or before the 18th day after the end of each delivery period, shall pay to the market administrator a sum not exceeding 2 cents per hundredweight with respect to all milk received from producers or cooperative associations of producers and which is disposed of as Class I milk during such delivery period by such handler, the exact rate to be determined by the market administrator subject to review by the Secretary.

(b) Suits by the market administrator. The market administrator may maintain a suit in his own name against any handler for the collection of such handlers pro rata share of expense set forth in this section.

SEC. 10. Marketing services—(a) Deductions for marketing services. Except as set forth in (b) of this section, each handler shall deduct an amount not exceeding 2 cents per hundredweight (the exact rate to be determined by the market administrator subject to review by the Secretary) from the payments made to producers pursuant to section 8 with respect to all milk received by such handler from producers during the delivery period and shall pay such deductions to the market administrator not later than the 18th day after the end of the delivery period. Such money shall be used by the market administrator to verify weights, samples, and tests of milk received by handlers from producers during the delivery period and to provide such producers with market information, such services to be performed in whole or in part by the market administrator or by an agent engaged by and responsible to him.

(b) Producers' cooperative associations. In the case of producers for whom a cooperative association, which the Secretary determines to be qualified under the provisions of the Act of Congress of February 18, 1922, as amended, known as the "Capper-Volstead Act," is actually performing as determined by the Secretary, the services set forth in (a) of this section, no such deduction shall be made.

SEC. 11. Agents. The Secretary may, by designation in writing, name any officer or employee of the United States to act as his agent or representative in connection with any of the provisions hereof.

SEC. 12. Effective time, suspension, and termination—(a) Effective time. The provisions hereof or any amendments hereto shall become effective at such time as the Secretary may declare and shall continue in force until suspended or terminated pursuant to paragraph (b) of this section.

(b) Suspension or termination. The Secretary shall suspend or terminate this order, or any of the provisions hereof, whenever he finds that it obstructs or does not tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act. This order shall, in any event, terminate whenever the provisions of the act authorizing it cease to be in effect.

(c) Continuing power and duty of the market administrator. If upon the suspension or termination of any or all of the provisions hereof, there are any obligations arising hereunder, the final accrual or ascertainment of which requires further acts by any handler, by the market administrator, or by any other person, the power and duty to perform such further acts shall continue notwithstanding such suspension or termination: Provided, That any such acts required to be performed by the market administrator shall, if the Secretary so directs, be performed by such other person, persons, or agency as the Secretary may designate.

The market administrator, or such other person as the Secretary may designate (1) shall continue in such capacity until discharged by the Secretary; (2) from time to time account for all receipts and disbursements and deliver all funds or property on hand, together with the books and records of the market administrator, or such person, to such person as the Secretary shall direct; and (3) if so directed by the Secretary execute such assignments or other instruments necessary or appropriate to vest in such person full title to all funds, property, and claims vested in the market administrator or such person pursuant thereto.

(d) Liquidation after suspension or termination. Upon the suspension or termination of any or all provisions hereof, the market administrator, or such person as the Secretary may designate shall, if so directed by the Secretary, liquidate the business of the market administrator's office, and dispose of all funds and property then in his possession or under his control, together with claims for any funds which are unpaid or owing at the time of such suspension or termination. Any funds collected pursuant to the provisions hereof, over and above the amounts necessary to meet outstanding obligations and the expenses necessarily incurred by the market administrator or such person in liquidating and distributing such funds, shall be distributed to the contributing handlers and producers in an equitable manner.

FEDERAL POWER COMMISSION.

KENTUCKY NATURAL GAS CORP.

NOTICE OF APPLICATION

AUGUST 10, 1945.

Notice is hereby given that on July 26, 1945, Kentucky Natural Gas Corporation (Applicant), a Delaware corporation having its principal place of business at Owensboro, Kentucky, filed with the Federal Power Commission a petition to amend its original application of April 14, 1945, for a certificate of public convenience and necessity pursuant to section 7 of the Natural Gas Act, as amended.

By the amendatory application the Applicant now proposes to build a 10¾ inch O. D. connecting transmission pipeline 18 miles in length from a point near Russellville, Kentucky, to a point near Mitchellville, Tennessee, instead of its original proposal to built a connecting line approximately 25 miles in length from a point near Russellville, Kentucky, to a point near Greenbriar, Tennessee.

The estimated cost of the original construction proposed by the Applicant was $280,980, whereas the estimated cost of the now proposed construction of 18 miles of transmission pipeline amounts to $213,840.

Applicant in its original application submits that its peak day requirements for the winter of 1945–1946 will be 27,500 Mcf of natural gas. Of this amount Applicant asserts that it will be able to obtain from its gas fields in Indiana, Illinois and Kentucky 4,250 Mcf of gas, 3,000 Mcf from its Oaktown storage in Indiana, and 15,000 Mcf from Panhandle Eastern Pipeline Company to meet its peak day demands for the winter of 1945–46, a total of 22,250 Mcf, leaving a deficiency of 5,250 Mcf which Applicant states must be obtained from some other source or sources.

In order to meet such deficiency Applicant proposes to augment its present supply by obtaining additional volume of natural gas from Tennessee Gas and Transmission Company through the facilities above described, interconnecting its system with that of the Tennessee Gas and Transmission Company.

Applicant states that none of the gas which it may obtain through the proposed facilities will be resold by it for the underfiring of boilers in industrial plants along its system, and that such additional supply will be devoted exclusively to meet the requirements of the domestic and commercial consumers of the municipal distribution systems served by the Applicant.

The only change in connection with Applicant's original application is as above described.

Any person desiring to be heard or to make any protest with reference to said application should, on or before the 29th day of August, 1945, file with the Federal Power Commission, Washington 25, D. C., a petition or protest in accordance with the Commission's provisional rules of practice and regulations under the Natural Gas Act.

Acting Secretary.

CLALLAM AND GRAY'S HARBOR COUNTIES, WASH.

DESIGNATION AS DEFICIENCY AREAS WITH RESPECT TO PORK CUTS AND CERTAIN SAUSAGE PRODUCTS

Pursuant to Section 5 (d) (3) of Maximum Price Regulation No. 336, I find there exists in each of the areas hereinafter named, located in Zone 1 and having populations not in excess of 25,000 persons, quotas permitting sales of retail meat cuts which are insufficient to supply the meat requirements of other retail dealers meeting the criteria established for retail dealers authorized to purchase retail meat cuts for resale purposes under the provisions of subparagraph (1) of section 5 (d) of Maximum Price Regulation No. 336. I find further that this condition has occurred because of an increase in population in such areas. The areas are:

1. That portion of Clallam County, Washington, extending west from, but not including the corporate limits of the town of Port Angeles, to and including the village of Neah Bay, and the adjacent area located south thereof, to and including the village of Lapush, Clallam County, Washington.

2. That portion of Gray's Harbor County, Washington, located on Gray's Harbor, between the town of Tokeland on the south and the town of Queets on the north, and including the corporate limits of each, all beach towns located therein, and the lumbering communities of Alloha and Sunset Beach, but excluding the area comprising the corporate limits of the cities of Aberdeen and Hoquiam, Washington.

The areas named hereby are designated as "deficiency areas" under the provisions of Section 5 (d) (3) of Maximum Price Regulation No. 336, and the respective District Director of the appropriate District Office of the Office of Price Administration within whose jurisdiction any one of the named areas is located may, in writing, authorize named retail selling establishments customarily serving such area, and which are not hotel supply houses, and which do not own or control a packing or a slaughtering plant and which are not owned or controlled by a person who owns or controls a packing or slaughtering plant, to sell retail meat cuts to other retail dealers located in the specific deficiency area who are qualified to make such purchases under the provisions of subparagraph (1) of section 5 (d) of Maximum Price Regulation No. 336, in whatever volume and subject to whatever terms and conditions he may deem necessary: Provided, That in no event may any designated retail selling establishment be authorized to sell retail meat cuts, in excess of 70 percent of its total current monthly dollar volume of meat sales, to buyers who are not ultimate consumers: And provided further, That each seller authorized to sell retail meat cuts to other retail dealers for resale purposes under the provisions of this Order No. 3 under said section 5 (d) (3) of Maximum Price Regulation No. 336 shall be required to conform to the reporting provisions and all other requirements of said section 5 (d) (3).

This designation shall remain in effect to and including October 15, 1945, unless sooner terminated.

This order may be revoked or amended at any time.

CLALLAM AND GRAYS HARBOR COUNTIES, WASH.

DESIGNATION AS DEFICIENCY AREAS WITH RESPECT TO BEEF, VEAL, LAMB AND MUTTON CUTS AND ALL VARIETY MEATS AND EDIBLE BY-PRODUCTS

Pursuant to section 5 (d) (3) of Maximum Price Regulation No. 355, I find there exists in each of the areas hereinafter named, located in Zone 1 and having populations not in excess of 25,000 persons, quotas permitting sales of retail meat cuts which are insufficient to supply the meat requirements of other retail dealers meeting the criteria established for retail dealers authorized to purchase retail meat cuts for resale purposes under the provisions of subparagraph (1) of section 5 (d) of Maximum Price Regulation No. 355. I find further that this condition has occurred because of an increase in population in such areas. The areas are:

1. That portion of Clallam County, Washington, extending west from, but not including the corporate limits of the town of Port Angeles, to and including the village of Neah Bay, and the adjacent area located south thereof, to and including the village of Lapush, Clallam County, Washington.

2. That portion of Grays Harbor County, Washington, located on Grays Harbor, between the town of Tokeland on the south and the town of Queets on the north, and including the corporate limits of each, all beach towns located therein, and the lumbering communities of Aloha and Sunset Beach, but excluding the area comprising the corporate limits of the cities of Aberdeen and Hoquiam, Washington.

The areas named hereby are designated as "deficiency areas" under the provisions of section 5 (d) (3) of Maximum Price Regulation No. 355, and the respective District Director of the appropriate District Office of the Office of Price Administration within whose jurisdiction any one of the named areas is located may, in writing, authorize named retail selling establishments customarily serving such area, and which are not hotel supply houses, and which do not own or control a packing or a slaughtering plant and which are not owned or controlled by a person who owns or controls a packing or slaughtering plant, to sell retail meat cuts to other retail dealers located in the specific deficiency area who are qualified to make such purchases under the provisions of subparagraph (1) of section 5 (d) of Maximum Price Regulation No. 355, in whatever volume and subject to whatever terms and conditions he may deem necessary: Provided, That in no event may any designated retail selling establishment be authorized to sell retail meat cuts in excess of 70 percent of its total current monthly dollar volume of meat sales to buyers who are not ultimate consumers: And provided further, That each seller authorized to sell retail meat cuts to other retail dealers for resale purposes under the provisions of this Order No. 4 under said section 5 (d) (3) of Maximum Price Regulation No. 355 shall be required to conform to the reporting provisions and all other requirements of said section 5 (d) (3).

This designation shall remain in effect to and including October 15, 1945, unless sooner terminated.

This order may be revoked or amended at any time.

This order shall become effective August 11, 1945.

Issued this 10th day of August 1945.

[Order 756 Under 3 (b)]

UNINSTALLED SALES OF PREFABRICATED DWELLING STRUCTURES

For the reasons set forth in an opinion issued simultaneously herewith and filed with the Division of the Federal Register and pursuant to § 1499.3 (b) of the General Maximum Price Regulation, it is ordered:

(a) What this order covers. This order covers uninstalled sales by manufacturers of prefabricated dwelling structures whether assembled or knocked down, which are not the same as or similar to structures delivered or offered for delivery during March 1942. For the purpose of this order, a prefabricated dwelling structure is a structure composed of panels or sections which have been fabricated prior to erection on the foundation and which are sold as a unit consisting at least of walls and some one of the other major components of a structure.

(b) Maximum prices. The maximum price for a sale covered by this order for a manufacturer who produced any prefabricated dwelling structures during 1942 is the sum of the following factors:

(1) The cost of direct materials, including fabricated products, computed on the basis of current kinds and quantities at prices not in excess of the prices in effect to the manufacturer during March 1942. Material prices must be based on purchases in comparable quantities from the same or corresponding class of supplier as in March 1942. If the manufacturer did not purchase such materials during March 1942, he shall use the prices for such materials in effect to the most closely competitive seller of the same class who did purchase such materials during March 1942.

(2) Cost of direct labor, computed upon the basis of current man hours at labor rates, exclusive of overtime premiums and any indirect labor costs, not in excess of the highest rates the manufacturer paid for the same kind of work during March 1942. If the manufacturer did not perform the same kind of work during March 1942, he shall use the labor rates paid by the most closely competitive seller of the same class who did perform that kind of work during March 1942.

(3) A percentage margin over the sum of (1) and (2) not in excess of the average margin over direct materials and direct labor costs realized by the manufacturer during the calendar or fiscal year 1942 on his prefabricated dwelling structures: Provided, however, That for the purpose of determining this margin, such portion of sales and costs as are applicable to the delivery and installation of these products shall be excluded from the calculation.

(c) Filing of reports. The manufacturer shall file with the Office of Price Administration, Building Materials Price Branch, Washington 25, D. C., within ten days after computing a maximum price under paragraph (b), a statement of profit and loss covering prefabricated dwelling structure operations for the calendar or fiscal year of 1942, together with a balance sheet as of the close of that year. These statements should be detailed in such a manner as to reflect the basis upon which the percentage margin mark-up employed in (b) (3) was determined and should be supplemented with a schedule of the items comprising such margin.

(d) Additional charges—(1) Delivery costs. The maximum prices computed under (b) shall be f. o. b. plant. A manufacturer may add to those prices actual delivery costs figured in accordance with the seller's March 1942 practice, but such charges may not be in excess of common carrier rates.

(2) Other additions. A manufacturer may also add to the prices computed under (b), his actual costs for special services not customarily included in his price and which are unique to a particular sale, such as special architectural and engineering services.

(e) Other sellers. A manufacturer who did not produce any prefabricated dwelling structures during 1942 or any other manufacturer who is unable to compute his margin under (b) (3) shall apply to the Office of Price Administration, Building Materials Price Branch, Washington 25, D. C., for approval of a margin to be used in the computation of a price under paragraph (b), giving the following information:

(1) His name and address.

(2) A general description of the nature of his business and the prefabricated structures he is making.

(3) His proposed margin.

(4) The names and addresses of competitive sellers of the same or similar structures.

After filing the required application, and pending approval of the proposed margin, a manufacturer may offer to sell, accept orders, and make deliveries at maximum prices based on the proposed margin, but he may not accept payment until a margin has been approved. Once a margin has been approved, the manufacturer shall determine his maximum prices by using such approved margin in the pricing formula set forth in paragraph (b).

The proposed margin shall be deemed to be approved on the expiration of 20 days after the mailing of the application (or on the expiration of 20 days after the mailing of all additional information which may have been requested), unless within that time the Office of Price Administration notifies the manufacturer that his proposed margin has been disapproved or that action thereon has been deferred pending receipt of further information.

The Office of Price Administration may approve or disapprove and may at any time after approval, adjust margins proposed or established under this paragraph so as to make them consistent with the level of margins otherwise established by this order.

(f) Government contracts. Any person who has made or intends to make government contracts, or subcontract thereunder, who believes that a maximum price under this order impedes or threatens to impede the production, manufacture, or distribution of a structure which is essential to the war program and which is or will be the subject of the contract or subcontract may file an application for adjustment of that price in accordance with Procedural Regulation No. 6, issued by the Office of Price Administration.

Issued this 11th day of August 1945.

NOTE: The reporting provisions of this Order have been approved by the Bureau of the Budget in accordance with the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

This order shall become effective August 13, 1945.

CHESTER BOWLES,
Administrator.

[Region VI Rev. Order G–13 Under RMPR 122]

SOLID FUELS IN LA CROSSE, WIS.

Pursuant to the authority vested in the Regional Administrator of Region VI by § 1340.260 of Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 122, it is ordered:

(a) What this order does. This order establishes maximum prices for sales of specified solid fuels delivered in the city of La Crosse, Wisconsin, and within an area of ten miles around the city limits of La Crosse. These are the highest prices that any dealer may charge when he delivers any such fuel within this area; they are also the highest prices that any buyer in the course of trade or business may pay for such solid fuels.

(b) What this order prohibits. Regardless of any contract or other obligation, no person shall

(1) Sell or, in the course of trade or business, buy solid fuels at prices higher than the maximum prices set by this Revised Order No. G–3, but less than the maximum prices may at any time be charged, paid, or offered.

(2) Obtain higher than maximum prices by:

(i) Charging for a service unless expressly requested by the buyer and unless specifically authorized to do so by this revised order.

(ii) Charging a price higher than the scheduled price for a service.

(iii) Making a charge higher than the schedule charge authorized for the extension of credit.

(iv) Using any tying agreement or requiring that the buyer purchase anything in addition to the fuel requested by him, or

(v) Using any other device by which a higher than maximum price is obtained.

(c) Price schedule. (1) Immediately below and as part of this paragraph (c) is a schedule which sets forth maximum prices for delivered sales of specified sizes, kinds and quantities of solid fuels. Sales in lots of fractions of a ton or tons shall be governed by the price schedule as follows:

(i) On delivered sales of less than 1 ton, the price shall be proportional to the price per ton plus an additional charge of 25¢, but in no event shall the total price be in excess of that for a sale of 1 ton; for example, if the price of 1 ton is $15.16, the price of ½ ton would be $7.58 plus 25¢ or a total of $7.83; the price of ¾ ton would be $11.37 plus 25¢ or a total of $11.62.

(ii) On delivered sales of more than 1 ton, for each fraction of a ton sold, the price shall be proportional to the price per ton; for example, if the price of 1 ton is $15.01, the price of 1½ tons would be $22.52.

(iii) On yard sales of any fraction of a ton, whether more or less than 1 ton, the price shall be proportional to the price per ton; for example, if the price of 1 ton at the yard is $14.90, the price of ½ ton would be $7.45; of 1½ tons—$22.35.

service charge if he clearly indicates on the invoice that such coal is so treated: And further provided, That provisions of this paragraph (k) shall not apply to sales of solid fuels in less than quarter ton lots unless requested by the purchaser.

LESLIE T. HEALY

Leslie T. Healy, 2636 Noble Road, Cleveland Heights, Ohio, is engaged in the construction business, principally of small residences in South Euclid, Ohio. During April, 1945, without permission of the War Production Board, he did construction of three new single residential houses in South Euclid, Ohio, the estimated cost of each of which was in excess of the amount permitted by Conservation Order L-41. Leslie T. Healy had knowledge of the provisions of Conservation Order L-41, and the beginning and carrying on of these construction jobs without authorization constituted wilful violations of that order.

These violations have diverted critical materials to uses not authorized by the War Production Board. In view of the foregoing, it is hereby ordered, that:

§ 1010.876 Suspension Order No. S-876. (a) Leslie T. Healy shall not for three months from the effective date of this order apply or extend any preference ratings or use any CMP allotment symbols regardless of the delivery date named in any purchase order to which such ratings may be applied or extended or on which CMP allotment symbols are used.

(b) Leslie T. Healy shall cancel immediately all preference ratings which he has applied or extended to orders which have not yet been filled, and shall also cancel immediately all unfilled orders which he has placed for controlled materials bearing a CMP allotment symbol (including the MRO symbol and the symbol "SO" under the small order procedure of CMP Regulation 1).

(c) All preference ratings, allotments and authorizations presently outstanding in connection with orders for delivery of materials to Leslie T. Healy or placed prior to the termination date of this order are void and shall not be given any effect by suppliers of Leslie T. Healy or by any other person. This does not apply to material already delivered or in transit for delivery to him on the effective date of this order.

(d) During the period in which this order shall be in effect, no authorization to begin any new construction to be erected in whole or in part by Leslie T. Healy shall be granted, except as may be hereafter specifically authorized in writing by an official order of the War Production Board, as an exception to, or modification of this order.

(e) Nothing contained in this order shall be deemed to relieve Leslie T. Healy from any restrictions, prohibitions, or provisions contained in any other order or regulation of the War Production Board except insofar as the same may be inconsistent with the provisions hereof.

(f) The restrictions and provisions contained herein shall apply to Leslie T. Healy, his successors or assigns or persons acting on his behalf. The provisions against the taking of any action include the taking indirectly as well as directly of any such action.

(g) This order shall take effect on August 14, 1945.

Issued this 7th day of August 1945.

(4) If a converter's consumption of pulp, paper and paperboard for any calendar quarter of 1942 was less than 25 tons, or if a converter did not consume any pulp, paper of paperboard during the calendar year 1942, such converter may consume in the manufacture of any converted products on List B, List C or List D of this order, an aggregate of 25 tons of pulp, paper and paperboard in each calendar quarter.

(e) Restrictions on consumption of pulp, paper and paperboard in the manufacture of converted products not specifically listed. (1) No converter shall during the final calendar quarter of 1943 or during any calendar quarter thereafter consume in the manufacture of any converted product not named on List A, List B, List C or List D of this order, any quantity, in tons, of pulp, and paperboard greater than 70 percent of the tonnage consumed in the manufacture of such converted product during the corresponding calendar quarter of 1942.

(2) No converter shall during the third calendar quarter of 1945, or during any calendar quarter thereafter, consume in the manufacture of any converted product not named on List A, List B, List C or List D of the order, any quantity, in tons, of paper greater than 85 percent of the tonnage consumed in the manufacture of such product during the corresponding calendar quarter of 1942.

(3) If a converter's consumption of pulp, paper and paperboard for any calendar quarter of 1942 was less than 25 tons or if a converter did not consume any pulp, paper and paperboard during the calendar year 1942, such converter may consume in the manufacture of any converted products not named in List A, List B, List C or List D of this order, an aggregate of 25 tons of pulp, paper and paperboard in each calendar quarter.

(4) In the instance of any converted products not named on any of the lists of this order, the following processes and operations shall not be considered as processing:

(i) Cutting, trimming or rewinding to a different size when such is performed as part of any established finishing room procedure and provided the paper or paperboard so processed is not intended for a use which serves to defeat the purpose of the order. (Example: the cutting of plain paper to a given size for use as a tray cover, the manufacture of which is curtailed by this order).

(ii) Punching or corner cutting.

(iii) Super-calendering.

(iv) Laminating.

(v) Coating, friction calendering, flint glazing, plating and embossing.

(vi) Collating and binding.

(vii) Printing, when such contributes to the functional value of the product to such a degree that the product would be incapable of performing the use intended if not printed, (Examples: advertising streamers, posters, menus, programs, timetables, sheet music, patterns, decalcomania transfers, checks), or when such printing is an intermediate process in the manufacture of an article or type of converted paper.

(viii) Printing wrappers (excluding gift wrappings) when printing is the only conversion operation other than cutting or trimming.

(f) Alternate method of calculating quotas. As an alternate method of calculating quarterly quotas for any converted product, any person may, after the filing of a notice in writing with the War Production Board, elect to apply the percentages established by paragraphs (d) and (e) (1) of this order to one fourth of his total yearly consumption of pulp, paper and paperboard in such product during 1942. When such election has been made and the required notice in writing has been given to the War Production Board, the method of determining quotas may not thereafter be changed.

(g) Converter's responsibility in determining coverage of this order. It shall be the duty of each converter to determine in the first instance which of his products are included among the converted products referred to in this order. In case of doubt he may apply to the War Production Board in writing describing the product in question, for a specific ruling determining whether or not the same is so included. The War Production Board may of its own motion in any case, by telegram or letter, issue a specific ruling determining whether or not a particular product of a particular converter is so included.

(h) Inventory restrictions. No converter shall accept delivery of, and no person shall knowingly deliver to a converter, any quantity of pulp, paper or paperboard if the total inventory of pulp, paper and paperboard in the possession of the converter is, or will by virtue of such delivery become, in excess of the greater of the following: (1) thirty tons, or (2) a thirty days supply, based on the converter's average rate of consuming pulp, paper and paperboard during the latest preceding full calendar month.

(i) Certification to paper dealer or mill. No converter of paper, and no person on behalf of a converter of paper, may order or accept delivery, from a paper merchant, mill operator, or other supplier of any paper for use in converting paper, unless the buyer furnishes, or has previously furnished, to the person making delivery, certificate in substantially the following form, signed manually, or as provided in Priority Regulation No. 7 (§ 944.27) by an official duly authorized for such purpose:

The undersigned converter certifies, subject to the penalties of section 35 (A) of the U. S. Criminal Code, to the seller and to the War Production Board that he is familiar with Order M–241–a and that all purchases by him of items regulated by that order, as amended from time to time, will be in compliance therewith.

The above certificate must be used and the certification provided for in Priority Regulation No. 7 may not be used in its place or stead.

This is a one-time certification and need not accompany each individual order for paper.

(j) Allocations. The War Production Board may from time to time direct the production and delivery of specific quantities of any converted product included in this order. Such directions will be made to insure the satisfaction of war requirements both direct and indirect and essential civilian requirements and shall take precedence over any preference rating to the extent indicated by the War Production Board.

(k) Applicability of regulations. This order and all transactions affected thereby are subject to all applicable regulations of the War Production Board, as amended from time to time.

(l) Appeals. Any appeal from the provisions of this order shall be made by filing a letter in triplicate, referring to the particular provision appealed from and stating fully why the particular provision imposes exceptional and unreasonable hardship which is not suffered generally by others in the same industry or activity or why improper discrimination is claimed.

(m) Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provisions of this order, or who, in connection with this order, wilfully conceals a material fact or furnishes false information to any department or agency of the United States, is guilty of a crime, and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment. In addition any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further deliveries of or from processing or using material under priority control and may be deprived of priorities assistance.

(n) Communications. All communications concerning this order shall, unless otherwise directed, be addressed to: War Production Board, Paper Division, Washington 25, D. C. Ref: M–241–a.

Issued this 14th day of August 1945.

INTERPRETATION 1—WAXED PAPER CONVERSION

"Waxed and oiled paper, all types and grades other than household packages, excluding waxed paper wrappings for direct war use as provided in List A," as that caption appears in List B of General Conservation Order M-241-a, applies to all the kinds of paper so described regardless of whether produced as a result of a separate converting operation, as is commonly the case, or produced as a result of having been oiled or waxed on the paper machine. For the purpose of this order control has been placed on the end product. The method employed in consuming paper in the manufacture of the end product is not a factor of consideration in determining the applicability of the order. (Issued Feb. 15, 1944.)

INTERPRETATION 2—RETAIL UNITS

This interpretation of General Conservation Order M-241-a applies to the consumption of paper in the manufacture of retail units of wrapping and other papers as dispensed through the variety chain stores, the department stores, the stationery stores and all other retail outlets. These retail units are regarded as within the definition of a "converted product" in Order M-241-a and therefore subject to the restrictions contained in paragraphs (d) or (e) of the order.

All grades and kinds of paper, plain or printed, when converted into retail units for wrapping purposes are subject to the order, although the percentage restriction on consumption need not be separately applied to each of the grades and kinds of paper consumed during the base period. It is permitted to calculate an aggregate quota and to consume any grade or kind of paper, plain or printed, within the quota without regard to the maintenance of the same relationship of grade and kind that prevailed during the base period.

Any person who did not consume paper during the base period of the order in the conversion of such retail units of wrapping and other papers has no basis from which to calculate a quota and, therefore, cannot become a converter.

There is a distinction in the instance of printed wrapping paper as follows:

1. When printed wrapping paper is delivered by the printer in bulk form (not packaged) for further sale or further distribution the printer is the "converter" as defined in the order, and, therefore, subject to the restrictions of paragraph (e); but,

2. If the printer delivers the printed wrapping paper to a person for subsequent conversion into retail units, the final converter is the one subject to the restrictions of paragraph (e) and not the printer.

Since retail units are regarded as a separate and distinct type of "converted product," it is obvious that tonnage from other products cannot be included when calculating a quota for retail units.

Plain wrapping tissue purchased in quires, or flat, when subsequently folded and labeled or otherwise packaged, is deemed to be a retail unit and therefore restricted by paragraph (e).

Quota tonnage which has not been consumed at the end of a calendar quarter may not be carried over to the succeeding calendar quarter. (Issued Feb. 15, 1944.)

INTERPRETATION 3—PUNCH BOARDS, PULL BOARDS AND SIMILAR ARTICLES

This interpretation of General Conservation Order M-241-a applies to punch boards, pull boards and similar articles. Punch boards, pull boards and similar articles are not included in "Games and Toys" on List D of the order. They are to be considered as coming within the provision of paragraph (e) (1) of the order. The District Director's authorization shall be sent to the dealer who requested the reclassification. It shall describe each tire being reclassified as Grade III, by size, type and serial number.

(iv) A new passenger or truck tire held for sale by a dealer which a District Director has authorized to be reclassified as a Grade III tire after a finding by an OPA Tire Examiner that the tire has been damaged after it left the factory to such an extent that it cannot reasonably be sold on a Grade I tire certificate. The District Director's authorization shall be sent to the dealer who requested the reclassification. It shall describe each tire being reclassified as Grade III, by size, type and serial number.

ICE

A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this amendment has been issued simultaneously herewith and filed with the Division of the Federal Register.

MPR 154 is amended in the following respects:

1. Section 1393.1 is amended to read as follows:

§ 1393.1 Maximum prices for ice (a) On and after July 8, 1942, regardless of any contract, agreement, lease or other obligation, no person shall sell or deliver ice and no person in the course of trade or business shall buy or receive ice at prices higher than the maximum prices established by this regulation, except as may be expressly permitted by provisions of paragraph (b) of this section; and no person shall agree, offer, solicit or attempt to do any of the foregoing.

(b) Ice under "car-icing sales" as defined in Appendix B, sold and delivered prior to October 1, 1945 and not covered by continuing sales contracts or agreements in effect on August 13, 1945, shall be exempt from maximum price control under this or any other regulation.

2. In § 1393.12, Appendix B, under the heading "Instructions" the item entitled "Definitions—'Car-Icing Sales'" is amended to read as follows:

Definitions—"Car-icing sales". As used in this regulation the term "Car-Icing Sales" refers to ice sold to railroads, express companies, boat lines, truck lines, and fishing fleets for use and consumption by the purchaser. For purposes of this definition no distinction shall be made between ice used for pre-cooling, initial icing, or re-icing purposes.

Car-icing, as used herein, is not intended to cover sales in small quantities to individual fishing boats, milk handlers and dealers, small truck gardeners and poultry processors, or for similar purchasers who use ice to transport perishable food products to local and adjacent markets. Ice for this purpose is usually purchased in small quantities at the seller's platform with no mutual icing operation required of the seller.

Since price increases permitted as a result of the use of this form are intended to relieve ice shortages in situations which may arise quickly and/or require immediate attention, and where sellers have had burdensome labor cost increases over the seller's normal fiscal year ending nearest to April 30, 1942, in car-icing operations, obviously only in cases where sellers are required to do manual icing operations, will such labor costs be excessive except for nominal amounts to compensate for production labor cost increases. It will be found that in most instances, car-icing sales, as defined herein, are for large tonnage requirements and are usually made pursuant to contracts, often long-term, entered into prior to October 1, 1941 and usually specifying the amount of manual icing operations required of the seller by the purchaser, and with such icing services included in the price per ton paid by the purchaser.

This amendment shall become effective August 13, 1945.

CHESTER BOWLES,
Administrator.

A statement of the consideration involved in the issuance of this amendment, issued simultaneously herewith, has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.

Section 69 is amended in the following respects:

1. Paragraph (c) (10) is amended to read as follows:

(10) "Labor" means actual site workers and foremen actively working on the job. It does not include superintendence, clerical workers or contractor's time, unless such contractor is actually performing manual labor.

(i) Site labor payroll cost comprises the actual wages of site workers on the actual site labor payroll.

2. Paragraph (e) (8) is added to read as follows:

(8) The use on a job of labor of a type higher than necessary or appropriate for such job; for example, using and charging for the labor of skilled plumbers to dig a ditch when unskilled labor is available: Provided however, That where in such case, unskilled labor is unobtainable a higher class of labor may be utilized and charged for if the purchaser is first notified that it is necessary and gives his written consent in advance.

3. Paragraph 1 (a) of Appendix D is amended to read as follows:

(a) For roughing in—Including the setting of installation and the supplying of all materials except fixtures:

Maximum price—$75.00 per fixture for hot and cold water connections including all materials except fixtures.

The above price includes travel time whether the work is done within the five mile limit and whether done on straight time or overtime.

"Roughing in" means the furnishing of all plumbing materials and assembling them in their proper places to comply with the sanitary requirements of the Territory of Hawaii.

A "fixture" means a sink, toilet, basin, bathtub, shower or laundry tub. A combination bathtub-shower is one fixture. Where the owner furnishes the fixtures, the prices for roughing in include the attachment of fixtures.

4. Paragraph 1 (b) of Appendix D is amended to read as follows:

(b) For fixtures supplied by the contractor. Fixtures furnished and delivered to the site at prices not to exceed maximum retail prices established for fixtures under the General Maximum Price Regulation for the Territory of Hawaii.

5. Paragraph 1 (c) (1) of Appendix D is amended to read as follows:

(c) Extra charges for roughing in. (1) When necessary to provide a line beyond 20 feet from the principal four-inch vent stack to a cesspool or sewer connection, an additional charge of $2.00 per lineal foot for each lineal foot over 20 feet of such completed line may be added. This charge shall be irrespective of the nature of the soil dug to lay said line. This charge includes all necessary connections requisite to place such fixtures in working order sufficient to comply with the requirements of the Plumbing Code of the Revised Ordinances of the City and County of Honolulu.

6. Paragraph 1 (d) of Appendix D is amended to read as follows:

(d) Charges other than roughing in. (1) The sum of $15.00 may be added for connecting a heater in a building where a hot water piping system exists, which charge shall include all necessary piping for such connection but does not include the heater. In addition, there may be added $0.50 for each additional lineal foot for each cold and hot water line beyond five feet from heater, plus $0.50 for each additional lineal foot for fuel gas pipe beyond five feet from heater. For connecting a heater in a building where no hot water piping exists the sum of $15.00 may be added for such connection (but shall not include the heater) plus materials and labor on time and material basis beyond five feet from the heater. The cost of a relief valve shall be charged as extra (if not included in the cost of the heater and if furnished by the plumber) at a price not to exceed the maximum price established for sales to contractors by sections 50 and 61 (formerly sections 56 and 69) of Revised Maximum Price Regulation 373 or applicable regulations.

(2) For connecting a gas stove where the necessary piping is already established at the point of connection, $4.50 may be added for connecting. In cases where it is necessary to install piping to the gas heater beyond five feet from stove, the connection charge will be $4.50 plus $0.50 per each additional lineal foot of pipe to meter connection actually installed. For the disconnecting and moving of a gas stove the price shall be determined as is provided for repair work.

(3) For the supply and installation of galvanized 5" O-Gee gutter and round 3" downspouts, a charge not to exceed $1.00 per lineal foot may be made.

(4) For other new plumbing or sheet metal work such as the installation of new sheet metal work other than specifically mentioned in paragraph 1 of this Appendix, the maximum price shall be:

(i) Materials furnished at prices not to exceed maximum prices established for sales to contractors by sections 50 and 61 (formerly 56 and 69) of Revised Maximum Price Regulation 373, or applicable regulations, delivered to the job site, plus

(ii) Actual site labor performed at rates no higher than those permitted to the plumbing trade under General Orders and Resolutions of and the basic wage rates established by the Territorial War Labor Board for Hawaii, plus

(iii) An amount equal to 50% of the actual site labor, plus travel time as defined in paragraph (e) below of this Appendix D.

Where the contract is taken for labor only, deduct from the prices set forth above all materials except fixtures furnished by customers at prices equal to maximum prices established for sales to contractors by section 61 (formerly section 69) of Revised Maximum Price Regulation 373.

7. Paragraph 2 (a) of Appendix D is amended to read as follows:

(a) Actual site labor time involved for each type of labor used on repair work at the following rates per hour:

For a working foreman plumber	$2.55
Plumber, first class	2.25
Plumber, 2d class	1.80
Plumber, helper	1.50

For repair work done at a distance greater than five miles from the seller's place of business, travel time actually incurred beyond the five mile limit on the contractor's time may be charged for each employee used on the job at the hourly rates above established; not more than one hour travel time on any one job per employee per day may be charged.

This amendment shall become effective as of July 20, 1945.

PART 1436—PLASTICS AND SYNTHETIC RESINS

[MPR 345, Amdt. 3]

THERMOPLASTIC SCRAP

A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this amendment, issued simultaneously herewith, has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.

Maximum Price Regulation No. 345 is amended in the following respects:

1. The second sentence in the introductory paragraph of § 1436.13 (a) (3) is amended to read as follows: "It does not include material which has been salvaged by its manufacturer before its initial sale, nor does it include any material which contains less than 15 percent of purchased salvage or salvaged material, and which its manufacturer sells under standard new material specifications."

2. Appendix A (a) (1) is amended by changing the prices therein for methyl methacrylate to read as follows:

	Crystal clear	Plain color	Mixed color
Methyl methacrylate:
Unground	$0.28	$0.28	$0.28
Reground	.34	.34	.34
Reworked	.40	.40	.40
Mixtures	.06	.06	.06

3. Appendix A (a) (2) is amended by changing the prices therein for methyl methacrylate to read as follows:

	Crystal clear	Plain color	Mixed color
Methyl methacrylate:
Pieces left over from fabricating operations which are usable without further processing for further fabrication in the same manner as new materials or which have been made so usable by further processing	$0.54	$0.54	$0.54
Pieces which may be made usable for further fabrication in the same manner as new materials by one or more of the following operations: straightening, polishing, cleaning	.35	.35	.35
Ground and all other methyl methacrylate sheet scrap	.15	.15	.15
Unsorted combinations of more than one type of methyl methacrylate sheet scrap shall take the maximum price of the lowest priced type in the combination
Mixtures of methyl methacrylate sheet scrap with other thermoplastic materials	.06	.06	.06

4. Appendix A (a) (3) is amended to read as follows:

(3) Polyvinyl chloride, copolymers of vinyl chloride and vinyl acetate, polyvinyl butyral, and mixtures.

	Unground	Ground	Reworked
Polyvinyl chloride	$0.21	$0.27	$0.33
Copolymers of vinyl chloride and vinyl acetate	.21	.27	.33
Polyvinyl butyral	.21	.27	.33
Mixtures	.06	------	------

Where scrap is composed of nonplastic materials laminated or impregnated with vinyl compounds and contains at least 10 percent by weight of such vinyl compounds, the maximum price per pound for sales of the scrap shall be the maximum price per pound established in this subparagraph (3) for the vinyl compound or mixture of vinyl compounds contained in the scrap, multiplied by a figure equal to 90 percent of the weight (expressed in pounds) of the vinyl compounds or mixture of vinyl compounds contained in each one pound of the scrap.

Example. Maximum price per pound of unground polyvinyl chloride is 21 cents. One pound of scrap contains 0.9 pound unground polyvinyl chloride. 90 percent of 0.9 pound equals 0.81 pound unground polyvinyl chloride. 21 cents multiplied by 0.81 equals 17.01 cents per pound, which is the maximum price per pound of scrap. When scrap is processed to extract the unground polyvinyl chloride, maximum price for latter is 21 cents per pound, as stated above.

5. Subparagraphs (5) and (6) of Appendix A (a) are redesignated subparagraphs (6) and (7), respectively, and a new subparagraph (5) is added to read as follows:

(5) Contaminated thermoplastic scrap. Where thermoplastic scrap is composed of non-thermoplastic materials such as glass, metal, rubber, or the like mixed with thermoplastic scrap, and contains at least 10 percent by weight of thermoplastic scrap, the maximum price per pound for sales of such contaminated thermoplastic scrap shall be the maximum price established in this Appendix A for the type of thermoplastic scrap contained in the contaminated thermoplastic scrap multiplied by a figure equal to 90 percent of the weight (expressed in pounds) of the thermoplastic scrap contained in each one pound of the contaminated thermoplastic scrap.

However, if the contaminated scrap contains not more than 5 percent by weight of non-thermoplastic materials, the maximum price per pound of the contaminated scrap shall be the maximum price per pound established in Appendix A for the type of thermoplastic scrap contained therein.

This amendment shall become effective August 20, 1945.

Administrator.

SECTION 1. Applicability. (a) Except as provided in paragraph (b) of this section, this regulation shall apply to all sales within the 48 states and the District of Columbia of domestic and imported certified seed potatoes and war approved seed potatoes as hereinafter defined, whether sold for immediate or future delivery.

(b) Sales excepted. This regulation shall not apply to:

(1) Foundation stock seed potatoes.

(2) All other white flesh potatoes which shall be and remain subject to Revised Maximum Price Regulations Nos. 271, 422 and 423, as amended.

(3) Potato eyes cut out of the tuber of a seed potato.

(4) Certified seed potatoes or war approved seed potatoes purchased by the United States or any of its agencies under such circumstances of emergency as to make immediate delivery imperative and as to render it impossible to secure or unfair to require immediate delivery at the maximum price which would otherwise be applicable, if such purchases and deliveries are made pursuant to the provisions of section 4.3 (f) of Revised Supplementary Regulation No. 1 to the General Maximum Price Regulation, as amended: Provided, however, That the Administrator may by order waive the reporting of any part of the information required by section 4.3 (f) in connection with the particular purchase or group of purchases upon determining that such information may not reasonably be required under all the circumstances and he may in lieu thereof require the reporting of other information more suited to the circumstances.

(5) Any export sales of any certified seed potatoes or war approved seed potatoes. The maximum price for such sales shall be determined in accordance with the provisions of the Second Revised Maximum Export Price Regulation.[1]

SEC. 2. Sales at other than maximum prices. (a) Regardless of any contract or obligation, no person shall sell or deliver, and no person shall, in the course of trade or business, buy or receive any of the commodities covered by this regulation at a price above the maximum price established by this regulation, nor shall any person agree, solicit, offer, or attempt to do any of the forgoing: Provided, however, That this prohibition is subject to the exception provided for in subparagraph (1) of this paragraph.

(1) Any person may agree to sell at a price which can be increased up to the maximum price in effect at the time of delivery, but no person may, unless authorized by the Office of Price Administration, deliver or agree to deliver at prices to be adjusted upward in accordance with action taken by the Office of Price Administration after delivery. Such authorization may be given when a request for a change in the applicable maximum price is pending, but only if the authorization is necessary to promote distribution or production and if it will not interfere with the purpose of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, and the Stabilization Act of 1942, as amended. The authorization may be given by an order of the Administrator or of any official of the Office of Price Administration having authority to act upon the pending request for a change in price or to give the authorization.

(b) Prices lower than the maximum prices established by this regulation may be charged or paid.

SEC. 3. Evasion. No person shall evade this regulation directly or indirectly, whether by commission, service, transportation, or other charge or discount, premium or other privilege; by tying-agreement or other trade understanding; by a business practice relating to grading, labeling, or packaging, or in any other way.

SEC. 4. Enforcement. Persons violating any provision of this regulation are subject to the license revocation or suspension provisions, civil enforcement actions, suits for damages, and criminal penalties, as provided in the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended.

SEC. 5. Licensing. The provisions of Licensing Order No. 1,[2] licensing all persons who make sales under price control, are applicable to all sellers subject to this regulation, but no such license is required of or granted to a producer as a condition of selling seed potatoes produced by him. A seller's license may be suspended for violations of the license or of one or more applicable price schedules or regulations. A person whose license is suspended may not, during the period of suspension, make any sale for which his license has been suspended.

SEC. 6. Records and reports. (a) Except in the case of sales and deliveries by producers and retailers of certified seed potatoes or war approved seed potatoes for which maximum prices are established by this regulation, every person making a purchase or sale of any such seed potatoes in the course of trade or business shall keep for inspection by the Office of Price Administration for so long as the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, remains in effect complete and accurate records of each such purchase and sale including the date thereof, the name of the seller and purchaser, the quantity sold and the price paid.

(b) Every carlot distributor shipping certified seed potatoes or war approved seed potatoes in any conveyance, other than a railroad freight car, shall post or cause to be posted in the conveyance a manifest showing the following:

The name and address of the carlot distributor, point from which the seed potatoes in question are shipped, production area, quantity sold, state or area of maximum f. o. b. price at the point of shipment, name and address of the person to whom the goods are shipped, and the date of shipment. The carlot distributor shall retain a copy of the manifest pursuant to paragraph (a) of this section.[3]

SEC. 7. Interpretations, protests, and petitions for amendment. Any person seeking an interpretation or an amendment of, or desiring to file a protest against, any provisions of this regulation may do so in accordance with Revised Procedural Regulation No. 1,[4] as amended, issued by the Office of Price Administration.

SEC. 8. Definitions. (a) As used in this regulation the following terms shall have the following meanings:

(2) "Certified seed potatoes" are seed potatoes grown, inspected, certified and tagged or labelled as being of such class pursuant to the laws and regulations governing the official certifying agency of the state or foreign country where grown, or seed potatoes inspected and certified to be of such class by any person whose certification standards are at least equal to or higher than the standards of the official certifying agency of the state where such seed potatoes are grown and who is approved by such official certifying agency and by the Secretary of the Department of Agriculture, which are sold for planting or for resale for planting.

(3) "War approved seed potatoes" are seed potatoes grown, inspected, approved and tagged or labelled as being of such class pursuant to the laws and regulations governing the official certifying agency of the state where grown, which are sold for planting or for resale for planting: Provided, That the standards therefor as established by each state have been filed with and approved by the United States Department of Agriculture as meeting the minimum federal requirements for such class.

(4) "Person" means an individual, corporation, partnership, association or other organized group of persons or the legal successor or representative of any of the foregoing, and includes the United States or any other Government or any political subdivision or agency of any of the foregoing.

(5) "Producer" means, with respect to a particular lot of certified seed potatoes or war approved seed potatoes, a person who grew or harvested the lot of certified seed potatoes or war approved seed potatoes in question.

(6) "Carlot distributor" means, with respect to a particular lot of certified seed potatoes or war approved seed potatoes, a person including a producer, who ships certified seed potatoes or war approved seed potatoes in lots of 20,000 pounds or more to a place other than the place where such seed potatoes were graded, inspected and tagged, assuming all transit risks to destination and there sells such lot to any person without warehousing or breaking into smaller quantities.

(7) "Wholesaler" means, with respect to a particular lot of certified seed potatoes or war approved seed potatoes, a person who purchases certified seed potatoes or war approved seed potatoes and resells the same to retailers in quantities of less than 20,000 pounds, or to planters in quantities of 1,000 pounds or more.

(iv) When any movement involves a combination of more than one of the types of transportation included in (i), (ii), and (iii), the transportation cost for the movement of each type shall be computed separately and the results added.

(v) When the services of precooling, icing or other protective measures are ordered and actually performed, the reasonable value of such services may be charged (not exceeding any maximum price established therefor.)

SEC. 9. Maximum prices for sales of certified seed potatoes and war approved seed potatoes. Maximum prices for all sales of certified seed potatoes and war approved seed potatoes are found in this section. Maximum prices of such seed potatoes vary according to the place where produced and the period during which they are delivered. The base price of certified seed potatoes and war approved seed potatoes according to place where produced and month of delivery are found in Appendix A. Whenever reference is made to a base price, refer to the Appendix. In the Appendix you will find that the particular seed potatoes you are selling have their own base price, without reference to the type of seller you may happen to be.

Once a base price has been determined, this section will explain how you determine your own maximum price. You must consult the definitions to determine your class of seller on a particular sale, as we have defined your status according to the particular sale you are making. You may be one class of seller on one sale and another class of seller on a different sale.

(a) Producer. If you are a producer, your maximum price for the sale or delivery of certified seed potatoes or war approved seed potatoes depends on the person to whom you are selling such seed potatoes and the manner of sale.

(1) Except as otherwise provided in paragraph (2) below and paragraph (d) of this section your maximum price for the sale or delivery of certified seed potatoes or war approved seed potatoes shall be the appropriate base price in Appendix A for the kind of seed potatoes you are selling plus your transportation cost, if any, from your nearest shipping point if delivered by common carrier; or from the farm where grown to the buyer's receiving point, if delivered by other than common carrier.

(2) If the buyer is a retailer and you are making a sale in a quantity of less than 20,000 pounds delivered at his retail premises, or if the buyer is a planter and you are making a sale in quantities of 1000 pounds or more, your maximum price for the sale or delivery of certified seed potatoes or war approved seed potatoes will be the appropriate base price in Appendix A for the kind of seed potatoes you are selling plus your transportation cost, if any, from your nearest shipping point if delivered by common carrier or from the farm where grown if delivered by other than common carrier to the buyer's receiving point, plus $0.74 per 100 pounds.

(b) Carlot distributor. If you are a carlot distributor your maximum price for the sale or delivery of certified seed potatoes or war approved seed potatoes shall be the appropriate base price in Appendix A for the kind of seed potatoes you are selling, plus transportation cost on the lot in question, and plus $0.20 per 100 pounds.

(c) Wholesaler. If you are a wholesaler your maximum price for the sale and delivery of certified seed potatoes or war approved seed potatoes shall be the appropriate base price in Appendix A for the kind of seed potatoes you are selling, plus transportation cost except local delivery costs on the lot in question and plus $0.74 per 100 pounds.

(d) Retailer. If you are a retailer your maximum price for the sale or delivery of certified seed potatoes or war approved seed potatoes shall be the appropriate base price in Appendix A for the kind of seed potatoes you are selling, plus transportation cost on the lot in question, and plus the applicable markup shown in subparagraph (1) or (2) below:

(1) $1.25 per 100 pounds for sales in lots of 100 up to 1000 pounds; and

(2) $0.02¼ per pound for sales in lots of less than 100 pounds.

(e) Sellers not specifically named in this regulation. The maximum price for the sale or delivery of certified seed potatoes or war approved seed potatoes by any seller not specifically provided for in this regulation shall be the maximum price which he could lawfully have paid the person from whom he obtained the seed potatoes in question.

Chapter XXIII—Surplus Property Board

PART 8309—CONTRACTOR INVENTORY AND DISPOSALS BY OWNING AGENCIES

LIMITATION ON AUTHORITY OF OWNING AGENCIES TO SELL SMALL LOTS OF PROPERTY PECULIAR TO AIRCRAFT

Section 8309.16 (b) provides that, except as otherwise specified by the Board, small lots of property (as defined therein) should be disposed of by owning agencies. It is recognized in § 8309.16 (a) that what constitutes a small lot for such purposes will vary according to the nature of the property and it is provided that the Board may from time to time issue orders thereunder setting forth standards to be applied and procedures to be followed in connection with small lots of various classes of property. The Board has determined that such an order is required in the case of property peculiar to aircraft. Accordingly, It is hereby ordered, That:

1. The authority of owning agencies to sell small lots of property peculiar to aircraft at the best price obtainable pursuant to § 8309.16 shall be limited to cases in which the cost (estimated, if not known) of any item or group of identical items available at any one location at any one time does not exceed $100.

2. Whenever in the opinion of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation the disposition of such small lots of any given type of property peculiar to aircraft interferes with the orderly marketing of such type of property by it, the Reconstruction Finance Corporation may direct the owning agencies to cease sales of such property and to declare all such property to it as surplus.

This order shall become effective August 17, 1945.

CENTRAL DESK MFG. CO.

ADJUSTMENT OF MAXIMUM PRICES

Order No. 66 under Second Revised Order No. A–3 under § 1499.159b of Maximum Price Regulation No. 188 is revised to read as follows:

For the reasons set forth in an opinion issued simultaneously herewith, and filed with the Division of the Federal Register; and pursuant to Second Revised Order No. A-3 under § 1499.159b of Maximum Price Regulation No. 188, it is ordered:

(a) Manufacturer's maximum prices. Central Desk Manufacturing Company, of 454 Armour Street, Chicago 22, Illinois, may sell and deliver the wood office desks and tables, which it manufactures, and which are described in the manufacturer's application, dated October 21, 1944, at prices no higher than its maximum prices in effect immediately prior to December 16, 1944, plus an adjustment charge of four percent of each such maximum price.

On all sales other than sales to ultimate consumers, the adjustment charge provided herein may be made and collected only if stated separately on each invoice.

The maximum prices of the manufacturer, as adjusted, are subject to its customary terms, discounts, allowances and other price differentials in effect during March, 1942, on sales to each class of purchaser.

(b) Maximum prices of purchasers for resale. A person who hereafter buys an article covered by this order and resells it in substantially the same form, may collect from his customer, in addition to his properly established maximum price in effect immediately before December 16, 1944, an adjustment charge in the same amount as the adjustment charge herein authorized and which he pays to his supplier. If he did not have a maximum price in effect for the article on December 16, 1944, he may add the same adjustment charge to the maximum price which he has established or hereafter establishes for his sales under the applicable regulation after that date. If the applicable regulation requires the maximum resale price to be computed on the basis of cost, the reseller must find his maximum resale price (not including the permitted adjustment charge) by using as cost his invoice cost less any adjustment charge stated on the invoice as a separate amount.

On all sales other than sales to the ultimate consumer this adjustment charge may be made and collected only if it is separately stated on each invoice. The adjusted price is subject to each seller's customary terms, discounts, and allowances on sales of the same or similar articles.

(c) Notification. At the time of, or prior to, the first invoice to a purchaser for resale, showing a price adjusted in accordance with the terms of this order, the seller shall notify the purchaser in writing of the method established in paragraph (b) of this order for determining adjusted maximum prices for resale of the article covered by this order. This notice may be given in any convenient form.

(d) This order may be revoked or amended by the Price Administrator at any time.

(e) This order shall become effective on August 14, 1945.

Administrator.

(1) Bushel baskets. The maximum price shall be ⅝ of the price computed under paragraph (c) on the standard box containing 1⅗ bushels. If the packer did not pack in standard boxes during March, 1942, but packed in Bruce boxes during that month, his maximum price shall be ⅝ of the price computed under paragraph (c) on the Bruce box containing 1⅗ bushels.

(2) Bags. The maximum price per bag shall be computed by dividing the price established in paragraph (c) on the standard box containing 1⅗ bushels by 2 for ½ box bags, by 4 for 20 lb. bags, by 8 for 10 lb. bags, by 10 for 8 lb. bags, and by 16 for 5 lb. bags. If the packer did not pack in standard boxes during March, 1942, his maximum price shall be computed by dividing the price established in paragraph (c) on the Bruce box containing 1⅗ bushels, in the same manner provided in the preceding sentence.

(f) Packing house beginning to pack in, but not furnish, bushel baskets or bags after March, 1942. On and after the effective date of this order any seller who can establish maximum prices under paragraph (d) of this order for packing in standard or Bruce boxes, but who did not pack in bushel baskets or ½ box, 20 lb., 10 lb., 8 lb., or 5 lb. bags during March 1942, and who now desires to pack in, but not furnish, any one or more of such containers may sell, or offer to sell, such services at prices no higher than the following:

(1) Bushel baskets. The maximum price shall be ⅝ of the price computed under paragraph (d) on the standard box containing 1⅗ bushels. If the packer did not pack in standard boxes during March 1942, but packed in Bruce boxes during that month, his maximum prices shall be ⅝ of the price computed under paragraph (d) on the Bruce box containing 1⅗ bushels.

(2) Bags. The maximum price per bag shall be computed by dividing the price established in paragraph (d) on the standard box containing 1⅗ bushels by 2 for ½ box bags, by 4 for 20 lb. bags, by 8 for 10 lb. bags, by 10 for 8 lb. bags, and by 16 for 5 lb. bags. If the packer did not pack in standard boxes during March 1942, his maximum price shall be computed by dividing the price established in paragraph (d) on the Bruce box containing 1⅗ bushels, in the same manner provided in the preceding sentence.

(g) Packing house first supplied service after March 1942 and before September 1944. On and after the effective date of this order, notwithstanding any other provision of this order, any seller, who did not sell, or offer to sell such services during March 1942, and who began to sell, or offer to sell, such services before September 1, 1944, shall take as his own maximum prices for such services the maximum prices established under this order for his "closest competitor" (as that term is defined in Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 165).

(h) Other pricing provisions. Any seller who for any reason cannot determine a maximum price under the provisions of the preceding paragraphs (c), (d), (e), or (f), shall apply to the Atlanta Regional Office of the Office of Price Administration for the determination of such maximum price under the provisions of section 5 of Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 165. (1) The following are some, but not all, of the reasons for inability of a seller to price under paragraphs (c), (d), (e), and (f).

(i) During March 1942 the seller furnished containers when rendering citrus fruit packing services, and he now desires to discontinue the furnishing of such containers.

(ii) During March 1942 the seller did not furnish containers when rendering citrus fruit packing services, and he now desires to furnish such containers.

(iii) The seller did not sell or offer to sell citrus fruit packing services during March 1942, and began to sell, or desire to begin to sell, such service on or after September 1, 1944.

(i) Less than maximum prices. Less than maximum prices may be charged or offered at any time.

(j) Definitions—(1) Citrus fruit packing services. Citrus fruit packing services include (but are not limited to) the receiving of citrus fruit at the platform of the packer, the processing of this fruit for packing, washing, crating and packing into separate containers, and the placing of the fruit on the shipping platform of the packing establishment. The term shall also include in addition to these services any other service customarily performed by the particular seller during March, 1942 as a part of, or in connection with, the services set forth above.

(2) Direct labor costs. Direct labor costs include all costs incurred for labor handling fruit and containers in a packing house, such as labor engaged in receiving, shipping, dumping, packing, making boxes, working on the floor, grading, stamping, checking, tallying, and loading. Direct labor costs do not include expenses incurred in administration, supervision, or general plant maintenance.

(3) Direct material costs. Direct material costs include the costs of items which form a part of the finished product, such as boxes, bags, baskets, nails, coloring, and labels including incoming freight or express on these items, but in no case shall such costs be included if the materials are not purchased from a customary source of supply or if they are purchased at prices in excess of the supplier's applicable maximum prices.

(4) Except as otherwise provided herein, and unless the context otherwise requires, the definitions set forth in Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 165 shall be applicable to the terms used herein.

(k) Discounts. Each seller must continue all discounts, allowances, purchaser classifications, and other price differentials in accordance with the provisions of Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 165.

(l) Applicability of Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 165. Except as otherwise provided herein, all transactions subject to this order shall remain subject to all provisions of Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 165, together with all amendments, orders, and supplementary service regulations which heretofore have been, or hereafter may be, issued.

(m) Relationship between this order and other orders. Since this Order No. G–3 under Revised Supplementary Service Regulation No. 43 to Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 165 supersedes Order No. G–1 under Maximum Price Regulation No. 165 issued by the Atlanta Regional Office of the Office of Price Administration and all amendments thereto, said Order No. G–1, as amended, is hereby revoked, as of the effective date hereof.

(n) Revocation and amendment. This order may be revoked, amended, or corrected at any time.

(o) Effective date. This order shall become effective August 1, 1945, and shall expire 90 days after the date of issuance.

Issued: July 31, 1945.

Regional Administrator.

FEDERAL REGISTER

VOLUME 10 NUMBER 163

Washington, Saturday, August 18, 1945

The President

PROCLAMATION 2660

[VICTORY; DAY OF PRAYER]

BY THE PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA

A PROCLAMATION

The war lords of Japan and the Japanese armed forces have surrendered. They have surrendered unconditionally. Three months after victory in Europe victory has come in the East.

The cruel war of aggression which Japan started eight years ago to spread the forces of evil over the Pacific has resulted in her total defeat.

This is the end of the grandiose schemes of the dictators to enslave the peoples of the world, destroy their civilization, and institute a new era of darkness and degradation. This day is a new beginning in the history of freedom on this earth.

Our global victory has come from the courage and stamina and spirit of free men and women united in determination to fight.

It has come from the massive strength of arms and materials created by peace-loving peoples who knew that unless they won decency in the world would end.

It has come from millions of peaceful citizens all over the world—turned soldiers almost overnight—who showed a ruthless enemy that they were not afraid to fight and to die, and that they knew how to win.

It has come with the help of God, Who was with us in the early days of adversity and disaster, and Who has now brought us to this glorious day of triumph.

Let us give thanks to Him, and remember that we have now dedicated ourselves to follow in His ways to a lasting and just peace and to a better world.

NOW, THEREFORE, I, HARRY S. TRUMAN, President of the United States of America, do hereby appoint Sunday, August 19, 1945, to be a day of prayer.

I call upon the people of the United States, of all faiths, to unite in offering their thanks to God for the victory we have won, and in praying that He will support and guide us into the paths of peace.

I also call upon my countrymen to dedicate this day of prayer to the memory of those who have given their lives to make possible our victory.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the United States of America to be affixed.

DONE at the City of Washington this sixteenth day of August, in the year of our Lord nineteen hundred and

HARRY S. TRUMAN

By the President:

JAMES F. BYRNES,
Secretary of State.

AUTHORITY: §§ 256.43 to 256.56, inclusive, issued under sec. 302 of the Agricultural Adjustment Act of 1938, as amended (52 Stat. 43; 7 U.S.C., 1302).

§ 256.43 Definitions. As used in §§ 256.43 to 256.56, inclusive, unless the context otherwise requires, the following terms will be construed respectively to mean:

(a) Eligible producer. An eligible producer shall be any person (individual, partnership, firm, corporation, association, joint-stock company, trust, estate, or other legal entity, or a State or political subdivision thereof, or an agency of such State or political subdivision), producing cotton in 1945 in the capacity of landowner, landlord, tenant, or sharecropper. Except as provided below, two or more producers may not obtain a joint loan. If the eligible cotton produced on a farm has been divided among the producers entitled to share in such cotton, each landlord, tenant, and sharecropper, may obtain a loan on his separate share. If the cotton has not been divided, the landlord and one or more of the share tenants or sharecroppers may obtain a joint loan on their shares of such cotton. In no case shall a share tenant or sharecropper obtain a loan individually on cotton in which a landlord has an interest. In any case where a landlord obtains a loan on cotton in which a share tenant or sharecropper has an interest, he must have the legal right to do so, and the share tenant or sharecropper must be paid his pro rata share of the proceeds.

(b) Eligible cotton. Eligible cotton shall be cotton produced in the United States in 1945 by or for a producer: Provided, That the cotton meets the following requirements:

(1) Such cotton must be of a grade and staple length specified in the table appearing at the end of §§ 256.43 to 256.56, inclusive.

(2) In the case of warehouse-stored cotton, such cotton must be represented by warehouse receipts complying with the provisions of § 256.49. In the case of farm-stored cotton, the cotton must be covered by a Cotton Chattel Mortgage (C. C. C. Cotton Form F) (hereinafter referred to as "Form F") and a 1945 Cotton Mortgage Supplement (1945 C. C. C. Cotton Form FF) (hereinafter referred to as "Form FF") which will give the payee of the Cotton Producer's Note (C.C C. Cotton Form E") (hereinafter referred to as "Form E") secured by such mortgage a first lien on such cotton.

(3) Such cotton must not be compressed to high density.

(4) Such cotton must be free and clear of all liens and encumbrances, except (in the case of warehouse-stored cotton) those in favor of the warehouse in which the cotton is stored, as specified in the Warehouseman's Certificate and Storage Agreement in Form A. (Form A is defined in § 256.44 (a) (1) below.)

(5) Such cotton must be tendered for a loan by a person who has the legal right to pledge or mortgage it as security for a loan.

(6) If the person tendering such cotton for a loan is a landlord, or landowner, the cotton must not have been acquired by him directly or indirectly from a share tenant or sharecropper, and must not have been received in payment of fixed or standing rent; and if it was produced by him in the capacity of landlord, share tenant, or sharecropper, it must be his separate share of the crop, unless he is a landlord and is tendering cotton in which both he and a share tenant or a sharecropper have an interest.

(7) The person tendering such cotton for a loan must not have previously executed and delivered, with respect to such cotton, a Form A, Form E, or 1945 C. C. C. Cotton Form G-2, and must not have previously sold and repurchased such cotton.

(8) Each bale of such cotton must weigh at least 300 pounds.

(9) American-Egyptian cotton shall be of normal character. No such cotton shall be accepted for loan with respect to which official classification indicates any reduction in grade or staple length because of irregularities or defects.

(c) Lending agency. A lending agency shall be any bank, corporation, partnership, association, or person, who has executed a Lending Agency Agreement (C. C. C. Cotton Form D) covering loans on 1945 crop cotton.

(d) Eligible paper. Eligible paper shall be a Form A or a Form E duly executed subsequent to July 31, 1945, and prior to May 1, 1946. State documentary revenue stamps should be affixed thereto where required by law. (A Form A or a Form E executed by an administrator, executor, or trustee, will be acceptable only where valid in law and must be submitted for a direct loan in accordance with § 256.52 of these instructions, unless accompanied by a repurchase agreement of the lending agency. Copies of this agreement may be obtained from the Regional Office of Commodity Credit Corporation, New Orleans 12, Louisiana.)

§ 256.44 Forms. The following documents must be delivered in connection with every loan:

(2) Warehouse receipts complying with the provisions of § 256.49 hereof.

(3) Producer's Letter of Transmittal (C. C. C. Cotton Form B) or Lending Agency's Letter of Transmittal (C. C. C. Cotton Form C).

(b) Farm-stored cotton. (1) Form E.

(2) Form F, covering the cotton tendered as security for the loan.

(3) Lending Agency's Letter of Transmittal (C. C. C. Cotton Form C) (unless the loan is being made direct by Commodity Credit Corporation).

Each of the forms, A, B, E, F, and FF, representing American-Egyptian cotton must have the words "American-Egyptian cotton" conspicuously stamped or typed at the top of each such form.

§ 256.45 Amount—(a) Upland cotton. Loans will be made only on those grades and staple lengths shown in the table appearing at the end of these instructions, and will be made on the gross weight of the cotton. An allowance of 7 pounds per bale will be made for bales covered with cotton bagging. The base loan rate applicable at each approved warehouse will be shown in the "Schedule of Base Loan Rates by Cities and Counties for Cotton Entering the 1945 Loan" in the Instructions to Warehousemen, and the base loan rate under the farm storage program for each county will be shown in the "Schedule of Base Loan Rates by Counties for Farm-Stored Cotton." These schedules will be issued by Commodity Credit Corporation and will be available at the office of the county agricultural conservation committee (hereinafter called "county committee"). The premium or discount applicable to each grade and staple length is shown in the table referred to above. Loans on warehouse-stored cotton will be made at the rates shown in the "Schedule of Base Loan Rates by Cities and Counties for Cotton Entering the 1945 Loan," and loans on farm-stored cotton will be made at the rates shown in the "Schedule of Base Loan Rates by Counties for Farm-Stored Cotton," adjusted in each case for the appropriate premium or discount for such grade and staple length.

(b) American-Egyptian cotton. Loans will be made at rates to be announced about August 1, 1945, in a supplement to §§ 256.43 to 256.56, inclusive.

§ 256.46 Classification of cotton. All cotton must be classified by a Board of Cotton Examiners of the Department of Agriculture. Warehousemen (in the case of warehouse-stored cotton) and the county committee (in the case of farm-stored cotton) should forward samples to the Board of Cotton Examiners serving the district in which the warehouse or county is located, and a list showing the class of the cotton will be returned by the board. Instructions have been issued to approved warehouses and county committees concerning sampling and forwarding of samples and recording the class of the cotton in the loan agreements or chattel mortgages. No separate charge is to be made to producers for this service. A Form 1 classification memorandum of the Department of Agriculture will also be accepted as evidence of the class of cotton, provided the sample is a representative cut sample drawn by an approved warehouseman, a Department of Agriculture employee, or a bonded sampler.

A charge of 15 cents per bale shall be collected from the producer for all cotton from which samples are submitted to the Board of Cotton Examiners for classifications, except that no charge shall be collected for samples submitted for a Form 1 classification. The Board of Cotton Examiners will make collections for classing charges from the warehousemen and county committees at the end of each month. A certified check, cashier's check, or postal money order, payable to Commodity Credit Corporation, must be sent to the Board of Cotton Examiners by each warehouseman and county committee in payment of these charges.

§ 256.47 Preparation of documents. All blanks must be filled in with ink, indelible pencil, or typewriter, in the manner indicated therein, and no documents containing additions, alterations, or erasures, will be accepted by Commodity Credit Corporation.

(a) Warehouse-stored cotton. A producer desiring to obtain a loan may obtain the necessary forms from approved cotton warehouses and also from persons approved by the county committees in the cotton-producing areas to assist producers in preparing and executing the loan forms. Only persons approved by county committees for such purpose may execute the Clerk's Certificate on Form A. The Clerk's Certificate must be executed on each Form A tendered for a loan. Such persons are permitted to collect a fee from producers not to exceed the fees shown in the following schedule:

7–8	30 cents.
9–10	35 cents.
11–20	35 cents plus 2 cents for each bale over 10.
21 and over	55 cents plus 1 cent for each bale over 20.

The original copy of Form A must be signed by the producer, and the copy marked "duplicate" is to be retained by the producer. The Schedule of Pledged Cotton must represent cotton of only one grade and staple length.

(b) Farm-stored cotton. A producer desiring to obtain a loan on farm-stored cotton may obtain the necessary forms from, and will be assisted in their preparation by, the county committee. A service fee for upland cotton of $1.00 per bale, and for American-Egyptian cotton of $1.30 per bale, shall be collected by the county committee from the producer to cover services rendered under this program. Each Form E must be approved by the county committee, and the member signing such form in the space provided certifies on behalf of the county committee, as provided in 1945 Cotton Loan (Farm Storage) Part I, Revised issued by the Agricultural Adjustment Agency.

§ 256.48 Approved warehouses. Warehouse receipts representing eligible cotton will be accepted as security for loans made pursuant to Form A only if issued by warehousemen approved by Commodity Credit Corporation. Warehousemen desiring to be approved should communicate with the Regional Office of Commodity Credit Corporation, New Orleans 12, Louisiana. When warehouses are approved, notification will be given either by letter or published lists. All cotton pledged as security for any one loan must be in the same warehouse.

The warehouseman is required, as provided in the Warehouseman's Certificate and Storage Agreement in Form A, to draw representative samples from the bales and to deliver or forward such samples to a Board of Cotton Examiners for classing, except where Form 1 classification memorandum of the Department of Agriculture is used.

§ 256.49 Warehouse receipts. Only negotiable warehouse receipts issued by an approved warehouse, dated on or prior to the date of the producer's note, and properly assigned by an endorsement in blank so as to vest title in the holders or issued to bearer, will be acceptable. They must set out in their written or printed terms a description by tag number and weight of the bale represented thereby and all other facts and statements required to be stated in the written or printed terms of a warehouse receipt under the provisions of section 2 of the Uniform Warehouse Receipts Act.

Warehouse receipts issued prior to August 1, 1945, which by their terms will expire prior to August 1, 1946, must bear an endorsement of the warehouse extending the terms of the warehouse receipt for a period of 1 year from August 1, 1945. Block warehouse receipts will not be accepted.

§ 256.50 Warehouse charges. The warehouseman's charges are limited and his obligation defined by the Warehouseman's Certificate and Storage Agreement contained in Form A. This should be read carefully and must be executed by the warehouseman issuing the cotton warehouse receipts pledged as collateral to the producer's note. It must not be executed more than 10 days preceding the date of the note.

§ 256.51 Liens. Eligible cotton must be free and clear of all liens except (in the case of warehouse-stored cotton) those in favor of the warehouse in which the cotton is stored, as specified in the Warehouseman's Certificate and Storage Agreement in Form A. The names of the holders of all existing liens on cotton tendered as security for a loan, such as landlords, laborers, or mortgagees (but not the warehouseman, if the cotton is stored in a warehouse), must be listed in the List of Lienholders on each Form A and Form FF and the lienholders so listed must execute the Lienholders' Waiver on such forms. A Form A or Form FF will not be acceptable unless all prior lienholders are listed in the List of Lienholders and have executed the Lienholders' Waiver. If the producer tendering the cotton for the loan is not the owner of the land on which the cotton was produced, all landowners and landlords must be listed in the List of Lienholders on the Form A or Form FF and must sign the Lienholders' Waiver on such form, whether or not they claim liens, unless they sign the note jointly with the borrower. A misrepresentation, as to prior liens or otherwise, will render the producer personally liable under the terms of the Loan Agreement and subject him to criminal prosecution under the provisions of section 35 (A) of the Criminal Code of the United States (18 U.S.C. 80 (1940)). The Lienholders' Waiver must be signed personally by all lienholders listed, by their agents (in which case duly executed powers of attorney must be attached), or, if a corporation, by the designated officer thereof customarily authorized to execute such instruments (in which case no authority need be attached).

§ 256.52 Direct loans. It is contemplated that producers will ordinarily obtain loans from a local bank or other lending agency which, in turn, may sell the paper evidencing such loans to Commodity Credit Corporation. Arrangements, however, have been made for making direct loans to producers prior to May 1, 1946. In each such case the note must be made payable to Commodity Credit Corporation and must be tendered to the Regional Office of Commodity Credit Corporation, New Orleans 12, Louisiana, on a Producer's Letter of Transmittal (C.C.C. Cotton Form B) in duplicate, postmarked not later than April 30, 1946, if tendered by mail. Upon receipt of all necessary documents, properly executed, and upon approval, payment will be made in accordance with the directions of the producer contained in the C.C.C. Cotton Form B, which permits the producer, if he so desires, to designate persons other than himself to receive all or part of the proceeds of the loan.

Direct loans will also be made on Certificates of Indemnity (Form FCI–574, issued by the Federal Crop Insurance Corporation). Instructions with reference to the requirements of Commodity Credit Corporation in making such loans will be issued by Commodity Credit Corporation as a supplement to these instructions and will be made available through the county agricultural conservation committees.

§ 256.53 Time and manner of tendering loans for purchase and pooling. Loans made by a lending agency which has executed and delivered a Lending Agency Agreement (C.C.C. Cotton Form D) to the Regional Office of Commodity Credit Corporation, New Orleans 12, Louisiana, prior to the making of the loan, will be eligible for purchase or pooling by Commodity Credit Corporation. C.C.C. Cotton Forms D are obtainable only from the Regional Office of Commodity Credit Corporation, New Orleans 12, Louisiana. Under the terms of this agreement, lending agencies which are parties thereto, are required to tender to Commodity Credit Corporation, New Orleans 12, Louisiana, on Lending Agency's Letter of Transmittal (C.C.C. Cotton Form C), executed in triplicate, all notes on Form A and Form E, with warehouse receipts and cotton chattel mortgages attached, representing loans made by the lending agency within 15 days of the dates of the notes. Forty notes shall be submitted on each Lending Agency's Letter of Transmittal except when fewer notes are listed thereon in order that the loans may be tendered within 15 days of the dates of their execution. The Lending Agency's Letter of Transmittal shall state whether the lending agency desires the Corporation to purchase the notes or to place them in a pool operated by the Corporation. Upon receipt by Commodity Credit Corporation, the loan papers will be examined and, if found correct, will be approved and purchased or will be transmitted to the Federal Reserve bank serving the district in which the cotton is stored and placed in a pool, as directed by the lending agency. In the event that the notes are pooled, a certificate of interest representing the interest in the pool acquired as the result of the deposit therein of the notes shown on the letter of transmittal will be issued to any approved lending agency designated by the lending agency tendering the eligible paper.

§ 256.54 Lending agency. The lending agency shall endorse the notes of producers as provided on Form A and Form E. In the case of warehouse-stored cotton care should be exercised by the lending agency to determine that the warehouse receipts are genuine. No provision is made for any deduction from the loan proceeds by the lending agency as a charge for handling the loan documents, except the authorized clerk's fee in case the lending agency has executed the Clerk's Certificate on Form A.

Location	District served
Atlanta, Ga.	Florida, Georgia, North Carolina, South Carolina, Virginia.
Birmingham, Ala.	Alabama.

§ 256.56 Repayments—(a) Warehouse-stored cotton. No partial releases of the cotton securing a note will be permitted. If a producer desires to obtain the return of the note and the release of the collateral, he should notify Commodity Credit Corporation, care of the Federal Reserve bank or branch thereof serving the district in which the cotton is stored, as stated in § 256.55 hereof. The notes and warehouse receipts will then be forwarded to an approved bank for release to said producer only and no other person, upon payment of the amount of the loan, the accrued interest, and proper charges. Do not send requests for the return of notes and the release of collateral to the Regional Office of Commodity Credit Corporation, New Orleans, Louisiana, as this causes delay in making the release. If the producer desires to sell his equity in the loan cotton, he must complete the Producer's Equity Transfer on his copy of Form A. Upon the request of the producer or upon receipt of the request contained in the Producer's Equity Transfer on the producer's copy of Form A, the note and warehouse receipts will be forwarded to any approved bank designated by the person requesting the release of the cotton with direction to release such note and warehouse receipts upon payment of the amount of the loan, the accrued interest, and proper charges. In all such cases, the bank will be instructed to return the notes and warehouse receipts to the Federal Reserve bank if payment is not effected within 15 days. All charges and expenses of the bank to which the notes and warehouse receipts are sent shall be paid by the person requesting the release of the cotton. In the event that release of the cotton is requested by the submission of the Producer's Equity Transfer, the witness to the producer's signature to such form must be a person approved for such purpose by a county committee in the cotton-producing area.

(b) Farm-stored cotton. If a producer desires to obtain the return of the note and release of the collateral, he should notify the county committee of the county in which the cotton is stored. PART 1010—SUSPENSION ORDERS

THE ELLICOTT CO.

The Ellicott Company was incorporated June 1, 1945, with M. Tyson Ellicott as the principal stockholder and president. Prior to that time, and during the time when the violations were committed, the said M. Tyson Ellicott was sole owner and actively controlled the business. The company is engaged principally in the sale of automotive parts, tools and hardware.

Between June 1, 1944 and January 30, 1945 the company applied or extended unauthorized preference ratings of AA-1 MRO on eight purchase orders to Hein-Werner Motor Parts Corporation of Waukesha, Wisconsin, for a total of 514 jacks, and during the same period it applied or extended unauthorized preference ratings of AA-1 on nineteen purchase orders for 1429 vises for homeshop use and thirty-seven vises for machinists' use. The application or extension of these unauthorized preference ratings constituted violations of Priorities Regulation No. 3. During the period from June 1, 1944 to April 1, 1945, the company also failed to maintain adequate records covering its operations, in that the records were incomplete, incorrect, disorderly and on improper form. This constituted a violation of Priorities Regulation No. 1. The aforementioned acts constitute wilful violations of the said regulations.

These violations have diverted critical materials to uses not authorized by the War Production Board. In view of the foregoing, it is hereby ordered, that:

§ 1010.885 Suspension Order No. S-885. (a) The Ellicott Company shall not, for four months from the effective date of this order, apply or extend any preference ratings or use any CMP allotment symbols, regardless of the delivery date named in any purchase order to which such ratings may be applied or extended or on which CMP allotment symbols are used.

(b) The Ellicott Company shall cancel immediately all preference ratings which it has applied or extended to orders which have not yet been filled, except that if it has accepted a customer's rating to get an item for delivery, without change in form, to that customer (as distinct from replacing it in inventory) it need not cancel the rating, providing the item when received is promptly delivered to the customer whose rating was accepted.

(c) The restrictions and prohibitions contained herein shall apply to The Ellicott Company, its successors and assigns, or any person acting in its behalf. Prohibitions herein against the taking of any action include the taking indirectly as well as directly of any such action.

(d) Nothing contained in this order shall be deemed to relieve The Ellicott Company from any restriction, prohibition or provision contained in any other order or regulation of the War Production Board except insofar as the same may be inconsistent with the provisions hereof.

(e) This order shall take effect on August 16, 1945.

I. S. TUROVER

I. S. Turover is engaged in the business of selling hardboard, lumber and other building materials in Bethesda, Maryland. Between December 1, 1943 and April 30, 1945 he placed orders bearing preference ratings of AA-1 for 542,024 square feet of hardboard, when in fact he was authorized to place orders bearing this preference rating for only 116,230 square feet. The unauthorized application or extension of preference ratings to obtain 426,794 square feet of hardboard in excess of the authorized amount constituted a violation of Priorities Regulation No. 3 and his actions in applying or extending the aforesaid unauthorized preference ratings constituted a grossly negligent violation of the Regulation.

This violation has diverted critical materials to uses not authorized by the War Production Board. In view of the foregoing, it is hereby ordered, that:

§ 1010.886 Suspension Order No. S-886. (a) Unless otherwise specifically authorized in writing by the War Production Board, I. S. Turover shall not for four months from the effective date of this order apply or extend any preference ratings to obtain any hardboard, regardless of the delivery date named in any purchase order to which such ratings may be applied or extended.

(b) I. S. Turover shall cancel immediately all preference ratings which he has applied or extended to orders for hardboard which have not yet been filled, except hardboard already in transit for delivery to him on the effective date of this order.

(c) The restrictions and prohibitions contained herein shall apply to I. S. Turover, his successors and assigns, or persons acting on his behalf. Prohibitions against the taking of any action include the taking indirectly as well as directly of any such action.

(d) Nothing contained in this order shall be deemed to relieve I. S. Turover from any restriction, prohibition, or provision contained in any other order or regulation of the War Production Board, except in so far as the same may be inconsistent with the provisions hereof.

(e) This order shall take effect on August 16, 1945.

PETER DESIMON

Peter Desimon of Seattle, Washington, in December 1944 began construction of a combined restaurant and beer tavern at 8501 and 8503 15th Avenue NW., Seattle, Washington, without authorization from the War Production Board. The construction consisted of alterations and additions to two pre-existing buildings located at 8501 and 8503 15th Avenue NW., in Seattle, Washington, at an estimated cost which exceeded the limit permitted by and was in violation of Conservation Order L-41. Peter Desimon was aware of War Production Board restrictions on construction, and his violation of Conservation Order L-41 was wilful.

This violation has diverted critical materials to uses not authorized by the War Production Board. In view of the foregoing, it is hereby ordered, that:

§ 1010.892 Suspension Order No. S-892. (a) Neither Peter Desimon, his successors or assigns, nor any other person, shall do any construction on the premises at 8501 and 8503 15th Avenue NW., Seattle, Washington, including putting up or altering the structure, unless hereafter specifically authorized in writing by the War Production Board.

(b) Nothing contained in this order shall be deemed to relieve Peter Desimon, his successors or assigns from any restriction, prohibition or provision contained in any other order or regulation of the War Production Board, except insofar as the same may be inconsistent with the provisions hereof.

[General Preference Order M-142, Revocation]

Section 1208.1 General Preference Order M-142 is revoked, the revocation to become effective September 1, 1945. This revocation does not affect any liabilities incurred for violation of the order or of actions taken by the War Production Board under the order.

CERTAIN FOODS AND BEVERAGES, MODIFICATIONS OF MAXIMUM PRICES ESTABLISHED BY GENERAL MAXIMUM PRICE REGULATION

A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this amendment, issued simultaneously herewith, has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.

Supplementary Regulation 14C to the General Maximum Price Regulation is amended in the following respects:

Section 4.6 of Article IV is added to read as follows:

SEC. 4.6 Pearl barley—(a) Maximum prices for the sale of packaged pearl barley. The maximum price for the sale of pearl barley packaged in containers of three pounds or less by any person who packaged the same before delivery to a retail establishment shall be the seller's maximum price established under the General Maximum Price Regulation on sales to the same class of purchaser, plus two cents per pound.

(b) Notification of new maximum price. With the first delivery after August 21, 1945, of any item of pearl barley in any case where a seller determines his maximum price pursuant to this section, he shall:

(1) Supply each wholesaler and retailer who purchases from him with a written notice, as set forth below:

NOTICE TO WHOLESALERS AND RETAILERS

Our O. P. A. ceiling price for (describe item by kind, grade, brand, and container type and size) has been changed by the Office of Price Administration. We are authorized to inform you that if you are a wholesaler or retailer pricing this item under Maximum Price Regulations Nos. 421, 422 or 423, you must refigure your ceiling price for this item on the first delivery of it to you containing this notification on and after (insert effective date of ceiling price change). You must refigure your ceiling price following the rules in section 6 of Maximum Price Regulations Nos. 421, 422 or 423, whichever is applicable to you.

For a period of 60 days after determining such maximum price and with the first shipment after the 60-day period to each person who has not made a purchase within that time, each seller shall include in each case, a carton or other receptacle containing the item, the written notice set forth above, or securely attach it to the outside. However, for sales direct to any retailer, the seller may supply the notice by attaching it to or stating it on the invoice covering the shipment, instead of providing it with the goods.

(2) Supply each purchaser of the item who is a distributor other than a wholesaler and retailer with written notice of the establishment of the new maximum price. The notice, which shall be attached to, or stated on, the invoice shall read as follows:

NOTICE TO DISTRIBUTORS OTHER THAN WHOLESALERS AND RETAILERS

Our O. P. A. ceiling price for (describe item by kind, variety, grade, brand, and container type and size) has been changed from $------ to $------ under the provisions of section 4.6 to Supplementary Regulation 14C to the General Maximum Price Regulation. You are required to notify all wholesalers and retailers for whom you are the customary type of supplier purchasing the item from you after (insert effective date of ceiling price change) of any change in your maximum price. This notice must be made in the manner prescribed in section 4.6 of Supplementary Regulation 14C.

This amendment shall become effective August 21, 1945.

2. Section 1499.680 (g) is amended to read as follows:

(g) Higher filed maximum prices. Any Regional Administrator or any District Director who has been authorized to act by the Regional Administrator having jurisdiction over his district, is authorized to issue an order granting a seller permission to continue pricing his shoe repair services in accordance with the provisions of RMPR 165 rather than this regulation upon satisfactory proof by such seller of the following requirements:

(1) Applicant's prices for his shoe repair services which represent fifty percent or more of his dollar volume of sales were sold at higher prices under the provisions of RMPR 165 than those established for him by an area order under this supplementary service regulation.

(2) Applicant filed on or before September 10, 1942 a statement of maximum prices for those services reflecting such higher prices with his appropriate War Price and Rationing Board.

(3) If applicant entered in business after March 1942 he must show that he established and filed his prices in accordance with the applicable provisions of RMPR 165 and that his "closest competitor" had filed a statement of his maximum prices as set forth above.

(4) Applications under this paragraph (g) must be filed in duplicate and will be denied unless filed within 60 days from the issuance date of the applicable area order.

In Appendix A, the item "Premium leather (Prime or Fine grade leather, or Military or Government Selection)" is amended to read as follows:

Premium leather (Prime, Fine, S. B. Prime, X-Fine, Extra-Fine, X-Prime, Y-Fine, Fine-F, Prime-X, Fine-E, Government Selection, Military Selection, or Army Selection leather).

TITLE 43—PUBLIC LANDS: INTERIOR

Subtitle A—Office of the Secretary of the Interior

[Order 2086]

PART 6—REGULATIONS FOR LICENSING PATENTS AND INVENTIONS

Pursuant to section 161 of the Revised Statutes (5 U.S.C. Sec. 22), and the act of April 5, 1944 (58 Stat. 190, 30 U.S.C. secs. 321-325), the following regulations are hereby prescribed:

Sec.
6.1 Purpose of regulations.
6.2 Patents in which the Secretary of the Interior has transferable interests
6.3 Unpatented inventions in which the Secretary of the Interior has transferable interests.
6.4 Licenses unnecessary for use or manufacture by or for the Government; exceptions.
6.5 Publicity concerning inventions.
6.6 Terms of licenses or sublicenses.
6.7 Procedure for issuance of licenses.
6.8 Evaluation Committee.
6.9 Repeal of inconsistent regulations.

AUTHORITY: §§ 6.1 to 6.9, inclusive, issued under section 161 of the Revised Statutes (5 U.S.C. 22), and act of April 5, 1944 (58 Stat. 190, 30 U.S.C. 321-325).

§ 6.1 Purpose of regulations. It is the purpose of this part to secure for the people of the United States the full benefits of Government research and investigation in the Department of the Interior (a) by providing means for circulating information concerning patents and inventions in which the Secretary of the Interior has transferable interests which are available for licensing; (b) by providing a simple procedure under which such licenses may be obtained by the public; (c) by providing adequate protection for the inventions until such time as they may be made available for licensing without undue risk of losing patent protection to which the public is entitled.

§ 6.2 Patents in which the Secretary of the Interior has transferable interests. Patents in which the Secretary of the Interior has transferable interests, and upon which he may issue licenses or sublicenses, are classified as follows:

(a) Patents assigned without restrictions to the United States, as represented by the Secretary of the Interior, by employees or nonemployees of the Interior Department, whether or not required by law, regulation (see Departmental Order No. 1763 of November 17, 1942, 7 F.R. 10161), or contract, except as provided in § 6.2 (c) hereof. These patents will hereinafter be referred to as Class (a) patents.

(b) Patents licensed to the Secretary of the Interior with the right to sublicense, or assigned to the Secretary of the Interior as trustee for the people of the United States, or assigned to the Secretary of the Interior upon such terms as to effect a dedication to the people of the United States, or conveyed by other means restricting the control of the patent under the terms of the conveyance. These patents will hereinafter be referred to as Class (b) patents.

(c) Patents and patent rights acquired by the Secretary of the Interior pursuant to the act of April 5, 1944 (58 Stat.

190, 30 U.S.C. secs. 321–325), and any amendments thereof, hereinafter referred to as Class (c) patents.

§ 6.3 Unpatented inventions in which the Secretary of the Interior has transferable interests. The Secretary of the Interior may also have patent rights in, and may issue licenses upon, inventions which are not yet patented. In order to protect the patent rights of the Department, for the eventual benefit of the public, a license may be granted with respect to such an invention only if (a) a patent application has been filed thereon; (b) the invention has been assigned to the United States, as represented by the Secretary of the Interior, and the assignment has been recorded in the Patent Office; and (c) the solicitor of the Department is of the opinion that the issuance of a license will not prejudice the interests of the Department in the invention. Such licenses shall be upon the same terms as licenses relating to patents of the same class, as described in § 6.2.

§ 6.4 Licenses unnecessary for use or manufacture by or for the Government; exceptions. A license from the Secretary of the Interior is not required with respect to the manufacture or use of any invention patented under the act of March 3, 1883 (22 Stat. 625), as amended by the act of April 30, 1928 (45 Stat. 467, 35 U.S.C. sec. 45), or assigned or required to be assigned without restrictions or qualifications to the United States, as represented by the Secretary of the Interior, when such manufacture or use is by or for the Government for governmental, and no other, purposes. A license or sublicense may be required, however, in the case of Class (b) patents or patent rights when the terms under which the Secretary of the Interior acquires interests therein necessitate the issuance of a license or sublicense in such circumstances.

§ 6.5 Publicity concerning inventions. (a) In order that the public may obtain the greatest possible benefit from inventions in which the Secretary of the Interior has transferable interests, inventions assigned to the Secretary upon which intent applications have been filed shall be publicized as widely as possible within legal limitations of authority, by the Department, by the originating bureau, by the branch or division of that bureau in which the inventor is employed, and by the inventor himself in his contacts with industries in which the invention is or may be useful. Regular organs of publication shall be utilized to the greatest extent possible. In addition, it shall be the duty of the Solicitor of the Department, upon being advised of the issuance of any patent assigned to the Secretary, to take steps towards listing the patent as available for licensing in the register in the Patent Office established for that purpose.

(b) In order to preserve rights in unpatented inventions for the people of the United States prior to the filing of patent applications thereon, no description, specification, plan or drawing of any unpatented invention upon which a patent application may be filed shall be furnished to anyone not employed by the Department of the Interior or engaged in working on a cooperative or other project approved by the Department unless the Solicitor of the Department is of the opinion that the interests of the Department and of the people of the United States in the invention will not be prejudiced thereby.

§ 6.6 Terms of licenses or sublicenses. In order to make inventions developed in the Department of the Interior more available to the people of the United States, the terms of licenses and sublicenses issued pursuant to these regulations shall be as unrestrictive as the laws of the United States and sound administrative practice will permit.

Licenses and sublicenses of Class (c) patents and patent rights shall be granted by the Secretary of the Interior upon such terms and conditions as he may hereafter prescribe pursuant to sections 3 and 5 of the act of April 5, 1944, and any amendments thereof.

Licenses and sublicenses of Class (a) and (b) patents and patent rights shall be nontransferable. They shall be revocable only for violation of the terms of the license or as provided therein upon a finding by the Secretary of the Interior or any person designated by him, after reasonable notice and an opportunity to be heard, that withdrawal of rights conveyed thereunder is in the public interest. Licensees and sublicensees, except in cases where such a requirement would conflict with the terms under which Class (b) patents or patent rights are acquired, may be required to submit annual or more frequent technical or statistical reports concerning "know how" obtained through the exercise of the license or sublicense, the number or quantity of articles produced under the license or sublicense, and other related subjects. Such requirements shall be incorporated into the license or sublicense.

In addition to the general terms stated above, the issuance of licenses and sublicenses shall be governed by the following provisions applicable to the separate classes:

(a) Licenses of Class (a) patents and patent rights may be made available to properly qualified applicants royalty-free, upon a satisfactory showing that the public will be benefited thereby. If no such showing is made, licenses shall be granted only upon a reasonable royalty or other consideration, the amount or character of which may be determined by the Secretary of the Interior or any person or persons designated by him. A cross licensing agreement may be considered adequate consideration.

(b) Licenses of Class (b) patents and patent rights shall be granted in accordance with the provisions of paragraph (a) hereof; Provided, however, That if such provisions conflict with the terms of the instruments conveying such patents or patent rights to the Secretary of the Interior, then the licenses shall be made to conform with such terms.

§ 6.7 Procedure for issuance of licenses. (a) Any person desiring a license relating to an invention upon which the Secretary of the Interior owns a patent or patent rights shall file with the Solicitor of the Department of the Interior an application for a license, identifying the applicant, his address and citizenship, his business, the patent or invention upon which he desires a license, and stating the purpose for which he desires a license, his experience in the field of the desired license, any patents, licenses, or other patent rights which he may have in the field of the desired license, and the benefits, if any, which the applicant expects the public to derive from his proposed use of the invention.

(b) It shall be the duty of the solicitor, after consultation with the bureau or office in the Department of the Interior most directly interested in the patent or invention involved, and with the Evaluation Committee established in accordance with § 6.8 hereof, if royalties are to be charged, to determine whether the application is complete and the applicant qualified for the license desired, and to recommend to the Secretary the denial or granting of a license. If he recommends that a license be granted, he shall draft an appropriate license for the signature of the Secretary, including provisions as to consideration, as well as special provisions desired by the bureau or office consulted.

(c) If any inquiry concerning a proposed license or application is made to any bureau or office of the Department, the bureau or office shall refer the correspondence to the solicitor, who shall answer all inquiries. If a completed application is received by a bureau or office, the recommendations of such bureau or office shall be transmitted to the solicitor before or in lieu of the consultation referred to in paragraph (b). This provision shall not be interpreted to relieve any bureau or office of the duty of promoting the use of any invention developed therein in accordance with the provisions of § 6.5 of this part.

§ 6.8 Evaluation Committee. At the request of the Solicitor, royalty rates in each instance shall be recommended to him by an Evaluation Committee with special knowledge of the subject matter of the invention, appointed by the Secretary. Such committee shall have authority to reccomend royalty rates with respect to any patents or inventions for which royalties may be charged, whether or not an application for a license has been made.

§ 6.9 Repeal of inconsistent regulations. Any regulations hitherto issued concerning the licensing of specific patents assigned to the Secretary of the Interior which are inconsistent with these regulations are hereby repealed.

Issued and effective this 11th day of August 1945.

ABE FORTAS,
Acting Secretary of the Interior.

SOLID FUELS IN QUAD CITIES AREA

Order No. G-15 under Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 122 is redesignated Revised Order No. G-15 and is revised and amended to read as follows:

Pursuant to the authority vested in the Regional Administrator of Region VI by § 1340.260 of Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 122, as amended, it is ordered:

(a) What this order does. This order establishes maximum prices for sales of specified solid fuels delivered in the cities of Rock Island, Moline, East Moline, Silvis and Milan, Illinois, and Davenport and Bettendorf, Iowa, and within an area of five miles from the city limits of each of them. These are the highest prices that any dealer may charge when he delivers any such fuel within this area; they are also the highest prices that any buyer in the course of trade or business may pay for such solid fuels.

(b) What this order prohibits. Regardless of any obligation, no person shall:

(2) Obtain higher than maximum prices by:

(i) Charging for a service unless expressly requested by the buyer and unless specifically authorized to do so by this revised order.

(ii) Charging a price higher than the schedule price for a service.

(iii) Making a charge higher than the schedule charge authorized for the extension of credit.

(iv) Using any tying agreement or requiring that the buyer purchase anything in addition to the fuel requested by him, or

(v) Using any other device by which a higher than maximum price is obtained.

(c) Price schedule. (1) Immediately below and as part of this paragraph (c) is a schedule which sets forth maximum prices before discounts for sales by direct delivery of specified sizes, kinds and quantities of solid fuels. Column 1 describes the fuel for which prices are established; Columns 2, 3 and 4 show maximum prices for fuel delivered in quantities indicated by each column heading. All prices are stated on a net ton basis.

The price schedule lists maximum prices for the sale of coal on the basis of the type of mine operation by means of which it is produced. On sales of coal produced in District Nos. 7, 8, 9, and 11, the prices established are similar for the same kind and size of fuel regardless of the type of mine operation. On District No. 10 coal as described in paragraph IV, A and B, prices apply to coal produced in Deep Machine Mines only; as described in paragraph IV, C, prices apply as specified to coal produced in Deep Machine Mines and Strip Mines; as described in paragraph IV, D, prices apply to coal produced in Strip Mines only. The prices of Pennsylvania Anthracite and By-Product Coke are unaffected by the type of mine operation.

Any other tax upon or incident to the sales of solid fuel (including the Illinois Retailers' Occupational Tax) may also be collected.

(h) Addition of increases in supplier's price prohibited. Notwithstanding the provisions of Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 122, the maximum prices set by this revised order may not be increased and need not be decreased by a dealer to reflect increases or decreases in purchase costs or in his supplier's maximum prices occurring after the effective date hereof, but increases or decreases in the maximum prices set hereby, to reflect such changes are within the discretion of the Regional Administrator.

(i) Petitions for amendments. This revised order may be revoked, amended or modified at any time. "Chestnut" size of Pennsylvania anthracite refers to the size of such coal prepared at the mine in accordance with standard sizing specifications adopted by the Anthracite Committee, effective December 15, 1941.

(3) "District No." refers to the geographical bituminous coal-producing districts as delineated and numbered by the Bituminous Coal Act of 1937, as amended.

(4) "Low volatile bituminous coal" refers to coal produced in the low volatile sections of the producing districts specified herein.

(5) "High volatile bituminous coal" refers to coal produced in the high volatile sections of the producing districts specified herein.

(6) "Egg, stove, nut", etc., sizes of bituminous coal refer to the sizes of such coal as defined in the Bituminous Coal Act of 1937, as amended, and as prepared at the mine in accordance with the applicable minimum price schedule promulgated by the Bituminous Coal Division of the United States Department of the Interior.

(7) "P. G." (Production Group) and "S. G." (Size Group) refer to the meaning given to these terms under the Bituminous Coal Act of 1937, or under any order, schedule, rule or regulation issued by the Bituminous Coal Division of the U. S. Department of the Interior which was established or in effect as of midnight August 23, 1943.

(8) Except as otherwise provided herein or as the context may otherwise require, all terms used in this revised order shall bear the meaning given them in Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 122 or the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942; if not therein defined, they shall be given their ordinary and popular trade meaning.

(l) Effect of order on Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 122 and Regional Order No. G–19. Except as herein otherwise provided, the provisions of Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 122 shall remain in full force and effect. This revised order supersedes Order No. G–19 as to dealers covered hereby.

(m) Every person selling solid fuels subject to this revised order shall, either at the time of, or within thirty days after the date of a sale or delivery of solid fuels governed by this revised order give to his purchaser an invoice, sales slip or receipt, and shall keep an exact copy thereof for so long as this revised order is in effect or for so long as the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, amended, shall permit, whichever period is longer, showing the following information:

The name and address of the seller and the purchaser; the kind, size, and quantity of the solid fuels sold, the date of the sale or delivery and the price charged. In addition, he shall separately state on each such invoice, sales slip or receipt, the amount, if any, of the required discounts, authorized service charges and taxes which must be deducted from or which may be added to the established maximum prices; Provided, That a dealer who is authorized to make a special service charge for chemical or oil treatment of coal need not separately state the amount of such service charge if he clearly indicates on the invoice that such coal is so treated; and further provided that provisions of this paragraph (m) shall not apply to sales of solid fuels in less than quarter-ton lots unless requested by the purchaser.

This Revised Order No. G–15 shall become effective immediately.

SEC. 3. Reduced markups for live and kosher-killed poultry. In determining retail ceiling prices for live and kosher-killed poultry no effect shall be given to the increased retail cost of live and kosher-killed poultry arising out of the issuance of Order No. G-6, and Amendment No. 1 to Revised Order No. G-1 under Second Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 269. Retail markups for such poultry items shall be reduced accordingly.

(b) Maximum prices. The maximum price of painting and paperhanging services shall be the sum of a charge for labor and the maximum price of the materials used. The maximum charge for labor shall be determined by multiplying the maximum hourly rate for each category of labor by the number of hours of labor performed in that category, as provided by subparagraph (b) (1), and by stating such charges. The maximum price of the materials used shall be determined as is provided by subparagraph (b) (2). The maximum prices established by this order include all expenses and no additional charge shall be made for any other cost or incidental service except as may be permitted by this order.

(1) Maximum labor charge. (i) The maximum hourly rate shall be the legal labor cost per hour multiplied by 170 percent (rounded to the nearest 5 cents), but not more than the following:

	Per hour
In Clark County, Wash., or Clackamas, Multnomah, or Washington Counties, Oreg.	$2.30
In remainder of area covered by order	2.25

(ii) Measurement of hours. The number of hours to be charged against any job is to be counted from the time the workman leaves the shop or the previous job (whichever is later) until he completes the job, if he proceeds to another job, or until he returns to the shop, if he proceeds there directly. For any job extending into more than one day, time in transit to or from the job may be charged only once. The hours for which charges are made shall not exceed those shown in the seller's payroll records nor those shown in records which paragraph (f) of the order requires the seller to keep.

(iii) Overtime may be charged for at the rate of one and one-half times the rate provided above.

(iv) Minimum charge. If a job requires less than one man-hour, there may be collected a minimum charge equal to the rate for one hour.

(v) A seller performing his own work shall take as his basic maximum hourly labor rate the applicable dollar-and-cent rate provided in paragraph (b) (1) (i).

(2) Materials. The maximum price of any materials used shall be the maximum price provided by the appropriate maximum price regulation for sales of such materials at retail.

(c) Definitions. (1) "Painting and paperhanging services" means the painting of any building structure, or construction project, or any part, fixture, or equipment thereof, or the application of any wall paper or decorating or surface-finishing paper thereto, and includes all incidental services such as cleaning and preparation of surfaces or cleaning of premises.

(2) "Overtime" refers to hours of work performed at customer's request on Saturday or Sunday, or between the hours of 4:30 p. m. and 8:00 a. m. Monday to Saturday.

(3) "Labor cost" means the wage rates in effect on October 3, 1942, or wage rates which have been established by proper governmental agencies, but not in excess of the wage actually paid.

(d) Jobs selling for more than $200. For jobs sold for more than $200.00 the maximum price shall be calculated under section 7 of Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 251, using the sum of labor costs, material costs, and other direct costs, and a margin not exceeding the margin used on the most comparable job in the period January 1, 1939, to March 31, 1942, or, for sellers not in business in March 1942, a margin not exceeding 30 percent of the sum of labor and material and other direct costs. This price may not exceed the maximum price provided in paragraph (b) of this order.

(e) Guaranteed price. A seller may offer to supply a painting or paperhanging service covered by this order on the basis of a guaranteed price, the seller agreeing to charge a fixed amount, but such guaranteed price may not exceed the maximum price established by this order.

(f) Records and invoices. Every person making sales subject to this order must keep a record showing the time spent by each employee on each job involving painting or paperhanging services and of the wage rate for such employee. Such records shall be kept by the seller at his place of business and shall be available for inspection by the Office of Price Administration. In addition, every person making sales subject to this order shall furnish to the customer an invoice or sales slip on which he has itemized labor and materials and on which he has certified that the price charged does not exceed the price permitted by this Order No. G-9 under Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 251. Duplicates of such invoices or such sales slips shall be kept by the seller at his place of business and shall be available for inspection by the Office of Price Administration.

(g) This order supersedes sections 6, 7, and 8 of Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 251, with respect to painting and paperhanging services supplied in the described areas, except where it is otherwise provided herein.

(h) This order may be amended or revoked at any time.

(i) This order shall become effective August 4, 1945 except that it shall not apply to sales made pursuant to contracts entered into prior to such date.

Issued this 30th day of July, 1945.

Regional Administrator.

SECURITIES AND EXCHANGE COMMISSION.

[File No. 54-81]

MIDDLE WEST CORP. ET AL.

NOTICE OF FILING OF AMENDMENT AND ORDER FOR ARGUMENT AND HEARING ON PLAN

At a regular session of the Securities and Exchange Commission, held at its office in the City of Philadelphia, Pa., on the 13th day of August A. D. 1945.

In the matter of The Middle West Corporation, Central and South West Utilities Company and American Public Service Company, Respondents, File No. 54-81.

The Commission having by its order of June 4, 1942 directed, among other things, the termination of the corporate existence of either Central and South West Utilities Company ("Central") or American Public Service Company ("American") and a change in the capitalization of Central and American to a capitalization consisting of a single class of stock, namely, common stock, in an appropriate manner not in contravention of the applicable provisions of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 ("act") or the rules, regulations and orders promulgated thereunder; and

The Middle West Corporation ("Middle West"), a registered holding company, and its subsidiaries, Central and American, both registered holding companies, having filed on August 2, 1943 with this Commission joint applications and declarations designated as a "Plan" pursuant to section 11 (e) of the act proposing action designed to merge American into Central, and to change the stock capitalization of American and Central to a single class of common stock in a single corporation to be called Central and South West Corporation (hereinafter referred to as the new company); and

The Commission having in its notice of filing and order for hearing issued September 4, 1945 (Holding Company Act Release No. 4542) summarized therein the terms of said plan and ordered a hearing thereon; and having required the applicants to cause a copy of said notice of filing and order for hearing to be mailed to the holders of the outstanding stocks of Central and American at their last known addresses; and hearings having been held pursuant to said notice, extensive testimony having been taken and numerous exhibits having been introduced, and the hearings having been continued subject to the call of the trial examiner or order of the Commission; and Middle West, Central and American having on August 11, 1945 filed an amendment to the plan, all as more particularly described hereafter.

All interested persons are referred to said plan, as amended, which is on file in the offices of the Commission for a full statement of the transactions therein proposed, which are summarized as follows:

I. 1. The authorized capital stock of the new company on organization will be 6,605,000 shares of common stock of the par value of $7.50 each, all of which shares will be issued in exchange for the outstanding stocks of Central and American.

2. The outstanding shares of Central and American to be exchanged for shares of the new company and the number of shares held by Middle West and by others than Middle West, are as follows:

	Total shares outstanding	Held by Middle West	Held by others
Central:
Prior lien preferred stock:
$7 series	117,400	55,070 (46.91%)	62,330 (53.09%)
$6 series	11,500	11,500 (100%)
Preferred stock	133,150	76,342 (57.335%)	56,808 (42.665%)
Common stock	3,371,252	2,057,679 (61%)	1,313,553 (39%)
American:
7% preferred stock	79,746	37,968 (47.61%)	41,776 (52.39%) [1]
Common stock	[1] 200		[1] 200

[1] Excludes 96,234 shares owned by Central.

3. All accrued and unpaid dividend arrears, as of the effective date of the plan, as amended, on the Central $7 prior lien preferred stock and on the 7% American preferred stock held by the public will be paid in cash and 3,236,314 shares of the new company's common stock will be issued in exchange for and in cancellation of the outstanding shares of Central and American as follows:

(a) For each share of prior lien preferred stock $7 dividend series of Central, 13½ shares of the common stock of the new company.

(b) For each share of preferred stock $7 dividend series, and all accrued and unpaid dividends thereon, of Central, 21 shares of the common stock of the new company.

(c) For each share of common stock of Central, one-half share of common stock of the new company.

(d) For each share of 7% preferred stock of American, 13 shares of common stock of the new company.

(e) For each share of common stock of American, 10 shares of common stock of the new company.

4. The new company will issue to Middle West the remaining 3,368,686 shares of its common stock in exchange for all stock of Central and American owned by Middle West and pay an amount in cash to Middle West equal to the accrued and unpaid dividends at the date the merger or consolidation becomes effective on the prior lien preferred stock, $7 dividend series and $6 dividend series of Central and on the 7% preferred stock of American held by Middle West. The plan, as amended, recites that Middle West will receive for all its stock holdings in Central and American 51% of the total shares to be issued by the new company which compares with 54.8% which it would receive if its holdings of stock in Central and American were exchanged upon the same basis as all other shares.

5. 25,643 shares of preferred stock of West Texas Utilities Company owned by American will be sold to West Texas Utilities Company and cancelled, and the proceeds applied to the cash payments to be made to holders of stock of Central and American as provided in the foregoing provisions of the plan, as amended.

6. No fractional shares of the common stock of the new company will be issued, but in lieu thereof the new company shall issue, in bearer form, non-dividend bearing and non-voting scrip, dated as of the date the merger becomes effective. Such scrip, when combined to create one or more full shares, may be surrendered on or before but not after three years from the date of the scrip certificate, in exchange for full shares of common stock of the new company and the scrip will provide that, as soon as practicable after the three-year period, any shares represented by such outstanding scrip certificates shall be sold and the proceeds thereof held for the account of the holders of the scrip without liability for interest. Any proceeds represented by scrip certificates not surrendered on or prior to the expiration of seven years from the date of the scrip certificates shall become the property of the new company.

7. Middle West proposes to divest itself of all its shares of common stock in the new company by a distribution in kind, share for share, to its own stockholders and a sale of the remainder of said shares for cash.

8. The applicants request the Commission, pursuant to sections 11 (e) and 18 (f) of the act, to apply to a Federal Court as soon as practicable after the entry of an order by the Commission approving the plan, as amended, to enforce and to carry out the terms or provisions of said plan, as amended.

II. The Commission being required by the provisions of section 11 (e) of said act before approving any plan thereunder to find after notice and opportunity for hearing that such plan as submitted or as modified is necessary to effectuate the provisions of subsection (b) of section 11, and is fair and equitable to the persons affected by such plan; it, therefore, appearing appropriate to the Commission, in the public interest and in the interest of investors and consumers, that an opportunity to be heard and to argue with respect to said plan, as amended, should be afforded to all interested persons; and

The Commission being of the opinion, in view of the extensive hearings previously held and the record already made, that the hearing and argument should be held, in the first instance, before the Commission and should be directed to the issues raised in the Commission's notice of filing and order for hearing issued September 4, 1943 (Holding Company Act Release No. 4542) as well as the following issues:

(1) Is the plan, as amended, as submitted or as hereafter modified,

(a) Necessary to effectuate the provisions of section 11 (b) of the act.

(b) Fair and equitable to the public holders of the securities of Central and American,

(c) Fair and equitable to Middle West, and

(d) In compliance with the order of the Commission dated June 4, 1942.

(2) Whether the plan, as amended, should be modified to include a provision for the payment of Central, American or Middle West of such fees and expenses in connection with said plan, as amended, or the proceedings with respect thereto as the Commission may determine, award, allow or allocate.

It is therefore ordered, That any person desiring to present argument or to be heard on such plan, as amended, shall appear before the Commission at 10:00 a. m., e. w. t., on the 11th day of September 1945, at the office of the Securities and Exchange Commission, 18th and Locust Streets, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, in such room as may be designated at that time by the hearing room clerk in Room 318. Any person desiring to present argument or to be heard shall on or before September 4, 1945, file a written application with the Secretary of the Commission in accordance with the provisions of Rule XVII of the Commission's rules of practice.

It is further ordered, That notice of this argument and hearing be given to Middle West, Central, American, and to all other persons; said notice to be given to Middle West, Central and American by registered mail and to all other persons by general release of this Commission which shall be distributed to the press and mailed to the mailing list for releases issued under the Holding Company Act of 1935, and by publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER; and

It is further ordered, That Central and American shall give notice of this argument and hearing to all their stockholders, both common and preferred (insofar as the identity of such security holders is known or available to Middle West, Central and American), by mailing to each of said persons a copy of this notice of filing and order for argument and hearing and a copy of the plan, as amended, at his last known address at least 20 days prior to the date of this argument and hearing;

It is further ordered, That jurisdiction be and is hereby reserved to separate, whether for hearing, in whole or in part, or for disposition, in whole or in part, any of the issues, questions or matters hereinbefore set forth or which may arise in this proceeding, or to consolidate with these proceedings other filings or matters pertaining to said Plan or to take such other action as may appear conducive to an orderly, prompt and economical disposition of the matters involved.

By the Commission.

CENTRAL STATES UTILITIES CORP., ET AL.

NOTICE OF FILING AND ORDER RECONVENING HEARING ON AMENDED PLAN

At a regular session of the Securities and Exchange Commission, held at its office in the City of Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, on the 11th day of August, A. D., 1945.

In the matters of Central States Utilities Corporation, Central States Power & Light Corporation, Ogden Corporation, File No. 54-42; Ogden Corporation and Subsidiary Companies, File No. 54-69; Ogden Corporation and Subsidiary Companies, File No. 59-65.

I. Notice is hereby given that Ogden Corporation ("Ogden"), a registered holding company, has filed Amendment No. 12 in these consolidated proceedings, proposing an Amended Plan pursuant to section 11 (e) and other applicable sections of the act and the rules promulgated thereunder for the liquidation and dissolution of its subsidiary holding company, Central States Utilities Corporation ("Central Utilities"), and of the latter's subsidiary, Central States Power & Light Corporation ("Central States");

All interested persons are referred to said Amended Plan, which is on file in the office of the Commission, for a full statement of the transactions proposed therein, which may be summarized as follows:

Central States and its subsidiaries have disposed of all their operating properties pursuant to separable plans heretofore approved in these proceedings, and the remaining assets of Central States consist almost exclusively, of cash and investments in government bonds. After making provision for the discharge of current liabilities (amounting to $100,972 per books), the assets of Central States amounted to approximately $1,975,000. The only action remaining to consummate the liquidation of Central States is the distribution of the cash and investments now held by it to creditors and security holders entitled thereto.

The following tabulation shows the outstanding securities of Central States at December 31, 1944, and their ownership by its parent companies and by others:

	Principal amount or shares outstanding	Owned by—
		Ogden	Central Utilities	Others
[illegible]debentures, due 1/1/1946	$5,940,000	$5,108,040		$831,960.
[illegible] pfd. stock, no par value [1]	80,000 shs	13,473 shs		66,527 shs.
Common stock, no par value	40,000 shs		40,000 shs

[1] Entitled to $100 per share and accrued dividends in involuntary liquidation; dividend arrears amounted to $7,280,000 or $91.00 per share.

All interest on the publicly held debentures of Central States has been paid regularly. Payment of interest on the debentures owned by Ogden for the period from June 30, 1942, aggregating $766,206, has been conditionally waived by Ogden. Pursuant to an agreement dated June 20, 1941, Ogden deposited in escrow with Manufacturers Trust Company the payments of interest on the debentures owned by it which became due on July 1, 1941, January 1, 1942, and July 1, 1942, aggregating $383,103, said agreement providing that such funds shall be held intact until all questions of validity and rank of such debentures owned by Ogden shall have been passed upon by this Commission and any court having jurisdiction. Prior to July 1, 1941, Ogden received payments of interest which became due on January 1, 1940, July 1, 1940 and January 1, 1941, aggregating $383,103 on the debentures owned by Ogden.

No dividends have been paid on the preferred stock of Central States since December 31, 1931. It is the position of Ogden that the 5% Debentures of Central States owned by it are in all respects valid and constitute a claim ranking equally with all other 5% Debentures and unsecured debt of Central States and prior to Central States' preferred stock.

The only assets of Central Utilities consist of all the shares of common stock of Central States and less than $100 in cash. At December 31, 1944, Central Utilities had outstanding $3,500,000 principal amount of 6% Ten-Year Secured Gold Bonds due January 1, 1938 (secured by the common stock of Central States), 32,000 shares of $7 cumulative preferred stock, no par value, and 30,000 shares of common stock, no par value. Except for $370,900 principal amount of bonds and 9,594 shares of preferred stock, Central Utilities' outstanding securities are owned by Ogden. No interest has been paid on the bonds since December 31, 1933, and no dividends on the preferred stock since December 31, 1931.

The Amended Plan contemplates the consummation of the following separable proposals in the order in which they are stated below:

Proposal 1. (a) Central States shall deposit with Continental Illinois National Bank and Trust Company of Chicago, Trustee under the Trust Indenture securing the 5% Debentures of Central States, funds sufficient to pay 30% of the principal (i. e., $249,598) of the $831,960 principal amount of 5% Debentures of Central States held by persons other than Ogden, together with interest accrued on said 30% of the principal of said Debentures to the date of such deposit. Upon deposit of such funds the Trustee shall be directed to distribute them pro rata among Debenture holders other than Ogden, against surrender of the Debentures owned by them for stamping with an appropriate legend indicating such partial payment. After the date of such deposit with the Trustee no further interest shall accrue on said 30% of the principal of said Debentures.

(b) Central States shall earmark or otherwise set aside funds in the sum of $1,532,412 which shall be distributed to Ogden as a partial payment of 30% of the principal amount of $5,108,040 of 5% Debentures of Central States owned by Ogden, in the event that it shall be finally determined by the Commission and any court having jurisdiction that such Debentures owned by Ogden are valid and rank equally with all publicly held Debentures and other unsecured debt of Central States and prior to the preferred stock of that company.

(c) The payment, pursuant to paragraph (a) of this Proposal 1, and the earmarking or setting aside of funds, pursuant to paragraph (b) of this Proposal 1 shall not be dependent upon the approval of the provisions hereinafter set forth in Proposal 2 but shall be consummated as soon as practicable.

(e) Central Utilities and Central States shall be dissolved. In this connection, The Chase National Bank, as Trustee under the Trust Indenture of Central Utilities, shall vote the shares of common stock of Central States pledged under such Trust Indenture in favor of the dissolution of Central States.

It is further proposed by Ogden that upon the entry by the Commission of any order or orders approving the Amended Plan, or any separable proposal contained in the Amended Plan, the Board of Directors of Central States shall request the Commission, pursuant to section 11 (e) of the act, to apply to a competent court of jurisdiction to enforce and carry out the terms and provisions of the Amended Plan, or any such separable proposal contained in the Amended Plan.

II. On May 20, 1943, the Commission entered an order (1) directing, pursuant to section 11 (b) of the act, among other things, that Central States recapitalize so as to distribute voting power fairly and equitably among its security holders: Provided, however, That such recapitalization need not be effected if said company is liquidated and dissolved, and that Central Utilities be liquidated and dissolved, and (2) approving, pursuant to section 11 (e) of the act, a plan filed by Ogden and certain of its subsidiary companies which provided, among other things, that Central States and Central Utilities would be liquidated and dissolved (File Nos. 54–69 and 59–65).

III. It appearing to the Commission that notice should be given and that the hearing herein should be reconvened for the purpose of taking additional testimony in respect of the Amended Plan filed by Ogden (File No. 54–42);

It is ordered, That the hearing herein be reconvened under the applicable provisions of the act and the rules of the Commission thereunder on September 11, 1945, at 10:00 a. m., e. w. t., at the office of the Securities and Exchange Commission, 18th and Locust Streets, Philadelphia 3, Pennsylvania. On that date, the hearing room clerk in Room 318 will advise as to the room in which the hearing will be held.

It is further ordered, That Henry C. Lank or any other officer or officers of the Commission designated by it for that purpose shall preside at the hearing. The officer so designated to preside at the hearing is hereby authorized to exercise all powers granted by the Commission under section 18 (c) of the act and to a trial examiner under the Commission's rules of practice.

It is further ordered, That without limiting the scope of the issues presented by these proceedings, particular attention will be directed at the hearing to the following matters and questions:

2. Whether the proposed pro rata distribution of the net assets of Central States among the holders of Central States' 5% Debentures including Ogden is fair and equitable to the persons affected thereby, more particularly to the holders, other than Ogden, of debentures and preferred stock of Central States, and of bonds and preferred stock of Central Utilities, and, if not, what allocation thereof would be fair and equitable;

3. Whether the proposed pro rata payment by Central States, pending its final liquidation and dissolution, to the holders of its 5% Debentures other than Ogden of an amount equal to 30% of the principal amount of said debentures is fair and equitable to the persons affected thereby;

4. Whether the proposed earmarking by Central States, pending its final liquidation and dissolution, of an amount equal to 30% of the principal amount of the 5% Debentures owned by Ogden, to be paid to Ogden if and when this Commission and the reviewing court should determine that such debentures owned by Ogden are valid and rank equally with the publicly held debentures of Central States, is fair and equitable to the persons affected thereby;

5. The origin of and circumstances relating to the creation of Central States' 5% Debentures, and the circumstances relating to the acquisition by Ogden and its predecessor company, Utilities Power & Light Corporation, of the debentures owned by Ogden;

6. The manner and circumstances under which Ogden and its predecessor company, Utilities Power & Light Corporation, acquired the preferred stock of Central States owned by Ogden;

7. The rank and participation which should be accorded Ogden in the distribution of the net assets of Central States in consideration of the 5% Debentures and preferred stock of Central States which Ogden owns;

8. Whether the funds and securities escrowed with Manufacturers Trust Company representing July 1, 1941, January 1, 1942 and July 1, 1942, interest payments on the Central States 5% Debentures owned by Ogden should be turned over to Ogden, and, if not, what disposition should be made of such funds and securities;

10. Whether the Amended Plan as filed or as modified makes appropriate provision for the payment of expenses, fees, and remuneration in connection with the liquidation and dissolution of Central States and Central Utilities, in what amounts such expenses, fees, and remuneration should be paid, and the fair and equitable allocation thereof;

11. Generally, whether the Amended Plan and all proposed transactions incidental thereto are in all respects in the public interest and in the interests of investors and consumers and consistent with all applicable requirements of the act and the rules thereunder, and if not, what modifications and what terms and conditions should be required or imposed to satisfy the statutory standards;

12. Whether, in the event that the Commission shall approve the Amended Plan as filed or as modified, the Commission shall approve said plan for purposes of section 11 (d) of the act (as well as section 11 (e)) so as to permit the Commission of its own motion and irrespective of any request therefor on the part of Central States, Central Utilities or Ogden to apply to a court for the enforcement of the Amended Plan pursuant to section 11 (d) of the act;

13. Whether in the event that the Commission shall not approve the Amended Plan as filed or as modified, a plan proposed by the Commission or by any person having a bona fide interest in the liquidation and dissolution of Central States and Central Utilities should be approved by the Commission for purposes of section 11 (d) of the act, and, if proposed by the Commission, what the terms and provisions of such plan should be.

It is further ordered, That the issues numbered 3 and 4 above shall be first considered at the reconvened hearing, and that jurisdiction be and is hereby reserved to separate, either for hearing, in whole or in part, or for disposition, in whole or in part, any of the issues, questions or matters herein set forth or which may arise in these proceedings, to consolidate with these proceedings other filings and matters pertaining to these proceedings, and to take such other action as may appear conducive to an orderly, prompt and economical disposition of the matters involved.

The President

EXECUTIVE ORDER 9599

PROVIDING FOR ASSISTANCE TO EXPANDED PRODUCTION AND CONTINUED STABILIZATION OF THE NATIONAL ECONOMY DURING THE TRANSITION FROM WAR TO PEACE, AND FOR THE ORDERLY MODIFICATION OF WARTIME CONTROLS OVER PRICES, WAGES, MATERIALS AND FACILITIES

By virtue of the authority vested in me by the Constitution and the statutes of the United States, and particularly the War Mobilization and Reconversion Act of 1944, the First War Powers Act of 1941, the Second War Powers Act of 1942, as amended, and the Stabilization Act of 1942, as amended, and for the purpose of fully mobilizing the resources of the Government in this final stage of the war emergency, in order to promote a swift and orderly transition to a peacetime economy of free independent private enterprise with full employment and maximum production in industry and agriculture and to assure the general stability of prices and costs and the maintenance of purchasing power which are indispensable to the shift of business enterprises from wartime to peacetime production and of individuals from wartime to peacetime employment, it is hereby ordered as follows:

I

1. The guiding policies of all departments and agencies of the Government concerned with the problems arising out of the transition from war to peace shall be:

A. To assist in the maximum production of goods and services required to meet domestic and foreign needs, (1) by assuring assistance in making available materials and supplies required for the production of such goods and services; (2) by providing assistance to the conversion and utilization of war plants and facilities, both privately and publicly owned; and (3) by providing effective job placement assistance to war workers and returning service men and women.

B. To continue the stabilization of the economy as authorized and directed by the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, and the Stabilization Act of 1942, as amended, (1) by using all powers conferred therein and all other lawful means to prevent either inflation or deflation; and (2) while so doing, by making whatever modifications in controls over prices, wages, materials and facilities are necessary for an orderly transition from war to peace; and

C. To move as rapidly as possible without endangering the stability of the economy toward the removal of price, wage, production and other controls and toward the restoration of collective bargaining and the free market.

2. The departments and agencies of the Government shall take vigorous, concerted and uniform action toward these ends and pursuant to this Order, under the guidance and direction of the Director of War Mobilization and Reconversion.

II

During the transition to a free economy, the Secretary of Agriculture, the Federal Loan Administrator, and the Director of Economic Stabilization shall not only take all measures required by law to support prices but shall take such further measures authorized by law as may be necessary to prevent any collapse of values or discouragement of the full and effective use of productive resources.

III

The Price Administrator, and in the exercise of his price responsibilities under the law the Secretary of Agriculture, shall, subject to such directives provided for by law as may be issued by the Economic Stabilization Director, take all necessary steps to assure that the cost of living and the general level of prices shall not rise. Subject to such authority, the Price Administrator and, in the exercise of his price responsibilities under the law, the Secretary of Agriculture, are authorized to make such adjustments in existing price controls as are necessary to remove gross inequities or to correct maladjustments or inequities which would interfere with the effective transition to a peacetime economy. Administrator and the Secretary of Agriculture respectively shall (1) so far as is reasonable, practicable and necessary for this purpose, see that such price increases do not cause price increases at later levels of production or distribution, and (2) improve and tighten price controls in those fields which are important in relation to production costs or the cost of living in which in their judgment the controls have heretofore been insufficiently effective.

IV

1. The National War Labor Board, and such other agencies as may be designated by the Director of Economic Stabilization with the approval of the Director of War Mobilization and Reconversion, are authorized to provide that employers may, through collective bargaining with duly certified or recognized representatives of the employees involved or, if there is no such representative, by voluntary action, make wage or salary increases without the necessity of obtaining approval therefor, upon the condition that such increases will not be used in whole or in part as the basis for seeking an increase in price ceilings, or for resisting otherwise justifiable reductions in price ceilings, or, in the case of products or services being furnished under contract with a federal procurement agency, will not increase the costs to the United States.

2. In addition to the authority to approve increases to correct gross inequities and for other specified purposes, conferred by Section 2 of Title II of Executive Order 9250, the National War Labor Board or other designated agency is hereby authorized to approve, without regard to the limitations contained in any other orders or directives, such increases as may be necessary to correct maladjustments or inequities which would interfere with the effective transition to a peacetime economy; provided, however, that in dispute cases this additional authority shall not be used to direct increases to be effective as of a date prior to the date of this order.

Where the National War Labor Board or other designated agency, or the Price Administrator, shall have reason to believe that a proposed wage or salary increase will require a change in the price ceiling of the commodity or services involved, such proposed increase, if approved by the National War Labor Board or such other designated agency under the authority of this section shall become effective only if also approved by the Director of Economic Stabilization.

3. Officials charged with the settlement of labor disputes in accordance with the terms of Executive Order 9017 and Section 7 of the War Labor Disputes Act shall consider that labor disputes which would interrupt work contributing to the production of military supplies or interfere with effective transition to a peacetime economy are disputes which interrupt work contributing to the effective prosecution of the war.

The War Production Board shall move as rapidly as feasible without endangering orderly reconversion and the stabilization of the economy to free business from its controls. During the transition it shall use all of its authorized powers to expand the production of materials which are in short supply; limit the manufacture of products for which materials or facilities are insufficient; control the accumulation of inventories so as to avoid speculative hoarding and unbalanced distribution which would curtail total production; grant priority assistance to break bottlenecks which would impede the reconversion process; facilitate the fulfillment of relief and other essential export programs; and allocate scarce materials or facilities necessary for the production of low-priced items essential to the continued success of the stabilization program.

Flax crop insurance against loss in yields will be offered only in States or counties where the Corporation determines that sufficient data are available to enable the Corporation to establish flax yields and premium rates. The coverage per acre of flax crop insurance will be 50 or 75 percent of the average yield of flax for the farm.

(b) Insurance will not be provided in any county unless written applications for insurance on crops authorized to be insured are filed covering at least fifty farms, or one-third of the farms normally producing these crops, except that insurance may be provided for producers on farms situated in a local producing area bordering on a county with a crop insurance program.

§ 415.52 Application for insurance. Application for insurance, on Form FCI–612–F "Application for Flax Crop Insurance for 1946," may be made by any person to cover his interest as landlord, owner, tenant or sharecropper, in a flax crop. An application shall cover the applicant's interest in the flax crop on all insurance units located, or considered for crop insurance purposes to be located, in the county or, where applicable, on all insurance units in the local producing area, in which the applicant has an interest at the time of the seeding of the flax crop to be harvested in 1946. Applications shall be submitted to the office of the county association on or before the applicable closing date shown in § 415.93.

§ 415.53 Acceptance of applications by the Corporation. (a) Upon acceptance of an application by a duly authorized representative of the Corporation the insurance contract shall be in effect, provided such application is submitted in accordance with the provisions of the application and of this subpart, including any amendments thereto. The applicant's copy of the accepted application shall be mailed to him.

(b) The Corporation reserves the right to reject any application for insurance with respect to any one or more of the insurance units covered by the application, or to limit the insurance on the applicant's interest in any insurance unit covered by the application to 50 percent of the average yield for such unit.

(c) Insurance contracts covering farms situated in a local producing area shall be handled in the office of the

INSURANCE COVERAGE

§ 415.54 Insurable and non-insurable farms. Any farm or part thereof which is designated on the crop insurance listing sheet as "non-insurable", because of the insurance risk involved, shall not be considered in any manner whatsoever under the insurance contract, except as provided in § 415.66 (b) hereof. The Corporation may determine that a farm or part thereof is non-insurable and so designate it on the listing sheet at any time before the applicable closing date for the filing of applications for insurance. Any farm or part thereof not so designated shall be insurable.

§ 415.55 Determination of insured acreage. Insurance shall not attach with respect to (a) any acreage seeded to flax which is put to another use before it is too late to reseed flax, as determined by the Corporation, or (b) any acreage seeded to flax which is destroyed or substantially dstroyed before it is too late to reseed flax, as determined by the Corporation, and the acreage is left idle or is fallowed until it is too late to reseed flax. The insured acreage with respect to each insurance unit shall be either the acreage of flax seeded for harvest as seed as reported by the insured or the acreage determined by the Corporation as seeded thereon for harvest as seed, whichever the Corporation shall elect: Provided, however, That the Corporation reserves the right to limit the acreage to be insured. Promptly after seeding a flax crop, the insured shall submit to the Corporation, on Form FCI–619–F "Flax Acreage Report for 1946", a separate report of the acreage seeded to flax on each insurance unit in which he has an interest at the time of seeding and his interest at the time of seeding in the flax seeded for harvest as seed.

§ 415.57 Insured production. The insured production for each insurance unit under the contract shall be the number of bushels of flax determined by multiplying the insured acreage by the average yield per acre, by the insured percentage (50 or 75 percent), and by the insured interest in the crop at the time of seeding. If more than one average yield has been established for the insurance unit, the insured production shall be computed separately, using the applicable acreage for each yield, and the total of such computed amounts shall be the insured production for the insurance unit.

§ 415.58 Causes of loss insured against. The insurance contract shall cover loss in yield of flax due to unavoidable causes including drought, flood, hail, wind, frost, winter-kill, lightning, fire, excessive rain, snow, wildlife, hurricane, tornado, insect infestation, plant disease, and such other unavoidable causes as may be determined by the Board of Directors of the Corporation.

§ 415.59 Causes of loss not insured against. The contract shall not cover damage to quality in any case, or loss in yield caused by the neglect or malfeasance of the insured or of any person in his household or employment or connected with the farm as tenant, sharecropper, or wage hand, nor shall it cover losses caused by theft, domestic animals (including poultry), use of defective or unadapted seed, overseeding or seeding on land of poorer average quality for the production of flax than the average quality of the land considered in establishing the average yield for the insurance unit, failure properly to prepare the land for seeding, or properly to seed, care for, or harvest and thresh the insured crop, including any loss due to breakdown of machinery or equipment, failure to follow established good farming practices, or by following different fertilizer or farming practices than those considered in establishing the average yield, planting flax under conditions of immediate hazard without adjustment of the average yield or premium rate, or by failure to reseed the flax in areas and under circumstances where the Corporation determines it is practicable to reseed. In addition, where insurance is written on an irrigated basis, the contract shall not cover losses caused by failure properly to apply irrigation water to flax in proportion to the amount of water available for all irrigated crops, failure of irrigation equipment due to mechanical defects, failure to provide adequate casing or properly to adjust the pumping equipment in the event of a lowering of the water level in pump wells when such adjustment can be made without deepening the well, or any other such loss not due entirely to unavoidable causes. Likewise, the contract shall not cover loss in yield caused by inability to obtain labor, fertilizer, machinery, repairs, or insect poisons, as a result of war or other conditions.

PREMIUM FOR INSURANCE CONTRACT

§ 415.60 Amount of premium. The premium for each insurance unit under the contract shall be the number of bushels of flax determined by multiplying the insured acreage of flax for the insurance unit by the premium rate per acre and by the insured interest in the crop at the time of seeding. If more than one premium rate has been established for the insurance unit, a premium shall be computed separately using the applicable acreage for each rate, and the total of the amounts so computed shall be the premium for the insurance unit. The premium for the insurance contract shall be the total of the premiums computed for the insured for all insurance units covered by the contract. The premium with respect to any insured acreage shall be regarded as earned when the flax crop on such acreage is seeded. The minimum premium payable by the insured with respect to any insurance contract shall be two bushels of flax.

§ 415.61 Manner of payment of premium. (a) By executing a Form FCI–612–F, "Application for Flax Crop Insurance for 1946", the applicant executes a premium note. This note represents a promise to pay to the Corporation, on or before the maturity date specified in § 415.94 hereof, the total premium for all insurance units covered by the insurance contract. Such note or unpaid portion thereof shall bear interest after maturity at the rate of one-half of one percent for each calendar month or fraction thereof, except that no interest shall be charged on any amount paid within two calendar months after maturity.

(b) Payment on any such note may be made in whole or in part before maturity either in flax or cash, or both. After maturity, payment may be made only in cash. In connection with any payment before maturity, there shall be credited on the note the number of bushels of flax computed by dividing the payment made (the proceeds of the sale of flax if flax is paid) by the cash equivalent price per bushel for the date of payment. The amount of any such note due at maturity shall be the cash equivalent thereof based on the cash equivalent price per bushel applicable for such maturity date.

(c) Any unpaid amount of any such note (either before or after the date of maturity) may be deducted from any indemnity payable under the contract, from the proceeds of any commodity loan to the insured, and from any payments made to the insured under the Soil Conservation and Domestic Allotment Act, as amended, or any other act of Congress or program administered by the United States Department of Agriculture. Where any such deduction is made before the date of maturity, the cash equivalent of the deduction will be based on the cash equivalent price used in computing the indemnity payment or the cash equivalent price determined by the Corporation to be in effect on the day the county committee approves such loan or other payment, whichever is applicable. Such price shall also be used in determining the number of bushels of flax to be credited on the note.

(d) Payments in cash shall be made by means of cash or by check, money order, or bank draft payable to the order of the Treasurer of the United States. All checks and drafts will be accepted subject to collection, and payments tendered shall not be regarded as paid unless collection is made. When a payment is made in flax, it shall be by means of a negotiable warehouse receipt or other instrument acceptable to the Corporation representing salable flax.

LOSS

§ 415.62 Notice of loss or damage of flax crop. Unless otherwise provided by the Corporation, if a loss is probable, notice in writing shall be given the Corporation at the office of the county association immediately after any material damage to the insured crop and before the crop is harvested, removed, or any other use is made of it. Any such notice shall be given in time to allow the Corporation to make appropriate inspection.

§ 415.63 Released acreage. Any insured acreage on which the flax crop has been destroyed or substantially destroyed may be released by the Corporation for planting a substitute crop or to be put to another use. The flax crop shall be deemed to have been substantially destroyed if the Corporation determines that it has been so badly damaged that farmers generally in the area where the farm is located and on whose farms similar damage occurred would not further care for the crop or harvest any portion thereof.

Before any acreage is released it shall be inspected and an appraisal made of the yield that would be realized if the crop on such acreage remained for harvest. Any such appraisal shall be subject to the minimum set forth in § 415.66 (a) hereof. For the purpose of determining this minimum, any such acreage which, after harvest of flax has started in the area in which the farm is located, is released for the planting of a crop shall be regarded as acreage not harvested and not as acreage released for the planting of a substitute crop. No insured acreage seeded to flax shall be considered as put to another use as long as any flax on such acreage remains for harvest.

On any acreage where the flax has been partially destroyed but not released by the Corporation, proper measures shall be taken to protect the crop from further damage. There shall be no abandonment of any crop or portion thereof to the Corporation.

§ 415.64 Time of loss. Loss, if any, shall be deemed to have occurred at the completion of threshing of the crop or October 31, 1946 (unless such time is extended by the Corporation), whichever occurs first, unless the Corporation determines that the flax crop was destroyed or substantially destroyed earlier, in which event the loss shall be deemed to have occurred on the date so determined by the Corporation.

§ 415.65 Proof of loss. If a loss is claimed, the insured shall submit to the Corporation a form entitled "Statement in Proof of Loss", containing such information regarding the manner and extent of the loss as may be required by the Corporation. The statement in proof of loss shall be submitted not later than 60 days after the time of loss, unless the time is extended in writing by the Corporation. It shall be a condition precedent to any liability under the insurance contract that the insured establish that any loss for which claim is made has been directly caused by one or more of the hazards insured against by the insurance contract during the term of the contract, and that the insured further establish that the loss has not arisen from or been caused by, either directly or indirectly, any of the hazards not insured against by the insurance contract.

§ 415.66 Amount of loss. (a) The amount of loss for which indemnity will be payable with respect to any insurance unit will be the amount of the insured production under the contract for such insurance unit, less the product of the insured interest and the total production for such unit: Provided, however, That, if the seeded acreage on the insurance unit exceeds the insured acreage on such unit, as determined by the Corporation, the loss for which indemnity will be payable shall be computed by apportioning the production on the seeded acreage to determine the production applicable to the insured acreage: Provided, further, That, if separate yields and rates are established for parts of the insurance unit or if the insured has different shares in parts of the flax on the insurance unit, such apportionment may, if the Corporation so elects, be made on the basis of the ratio of the premium computed for the reported acreage to the premium computed for the seeded acreage. Such total production shall include:

(1) Flax produced from any acreage of the flax crop which was threshed;

(2) The appraised production for any acreage of the flax crop which is released by the Corporation before harvest of flax has started in the area and seeded to a substitute crop, or 50 percent of the product of (i) such acreage, (ii) the average yield and (iii) the insured percentage, whichever is the larger;

(3) The appraised production for any acreage of flax that is not harvested (except the acreage covered in paragraph (2) of this paragraph), or 20 percent of the product of (i) such acreage, (ii) the average yield and (iii) the insured percentage, whichever is the larger;

(4) The appraised production for any portion of the insured flax acreage that is planted to a substitute crop or put to another use without the consent of the Corporation, or the product of (i) such acreage, (ii) the average yield and (iii) the insured percentage, whichever is the larger;

(5) The appraised number of bushels by which production on any acreage has been reduced solely because of any cause not insured against, which number of bushels shall not be less than the product of (i) such acreage, (ii) the average yield and (iii) the insured percentage, minus any quantity of flax harvested from such acreage; and

(6) The appraised number of bushels by which production on any acreage has been reduced because of any cause not insured against, where damage on such acreage has resulted from a cause insured against and a cause not insured against.

Any damage to the flax crop, caused by the seeding of perennial grasses or legumes with the flax, or in the growing flax crop, shall be subject to an appraisal as a damage resulting from a cause not insured against. This appraisal shall be included under subparagraphs (5) or (6) of this paragraph whichever is applicable.

(b) Where the insured fails to establish and maintain separate records of acreage or production for the component parts of a combination of two or more insurance units or portions thereof, the insurance with respect to such units under the contract may be voided by the Corporation and the premium forfeited by the insured: Provided, however, That, if all the component parts of the combination are insured, the total of the insured production for the component parts shall be considered as the insured production for the combination, and any loss for such combination shall be determined as outlined in paragraph (a) of this section. Where the insured fails to establish and maintain separate records of acreage or production for non-insurable acreage and for one or more insurance units or portions thereof, any production from the non-insurable acreage which is commingled with the production from the insured acreage shall be considered to have been produced on the insured acreage, or the insurance with respect to such unit(s) under the contract may be voided by the Corporation and the premium forfeited by the insured.

PAYMENT OF INDEMNITY

§ 415.67 When indemnity payable. The amount of loss for which the Corporation may be liable with respect to any insurance unit covered by the insurance contract shall be payable within 30 days after satisfactory proof of loss is approved by the Corporation. However, if payment of any indemnity is delayed for any reason beyond the time specified, the Corporation shall not be liable for interest or damages on account of such delay.

§ 415.68 Indemnity payment. (a) Any indemnity due under the insurance contract will be paid by the issuance of a certificate of indemnity which shall bear an expiration date. Settlement under such certificate will be made in cash or flax in accordance with this subpart. Such certificate may also be used to obtain a loan from the Commodity Credit Corporation, if loans on certificates of indemnity are available, in accordance with instructions issued by the Commodity Credit Corporation.

(b) In case of a cash settlement under a certificate of indemnity, the cash equivalent of the indemnity shall be the number of bushels of flax specified in the certificate of indemnity multiplied by the cash equivalent price per bushel for the day the certificate of indemnity or other request of the insured for cash settlement or for determining the cash equivalent is received in the branch office of the Corporation, or the expiration date of the certificate, whichever occurs first. A cash settlement under a certificate of indemnity made more than 14 days after the issuance of the certificate shall be subject to a deduction for a reasonable charge for storage and handling and the schedule of such charges shall be shown on the certificate of indemnity.

(c) Any indemnity payable under an insurance contract shall be paid to, and settlement under the certificate of indemnity made with, the insured or such other person as may be entitled to the benefits of the insurance contract under the provisions of this subpart, notwithstanding any attachment, garnishment, receivership, trustee process, judgment, levy, equity or bankruptcy directed against the insured or such other person, or against any indenmnity alleged to be due to such person; nor shall the Corporation or any officer, employee, or representative thereof be a proper party to any suit or action with reference to such indemnity or the proceeds thereof nor be bound by any judgment, order, or decree rendered or entered therein. No officer, agent, or employee of the Corporation shall, because of any such process, order, or decree, pay or cause to be paid, to any person other than the insured or other person entitled to the benefits of the insurance contract, any indemnity payable, or any amount due in settlement of any certificate of indemnity in accordance with the provisions of the insurance contract. Nothing herein contained shall excuse any person entitled to the benefits of the insurance contract from full compliance with, or performance of, any lawful judgment, order, or decree with respect to the disposition of any sums paid thereunder as an indemnity.

(d) The Corporation shall provide for the posting annually in each county at the county courthouse of a list of indemnities paid for losses on farms in such county.

§ 415.69 Adjustment in connection with indemnity payments. Where an adjustment is made in the amount of an indemnity, settlement for such adjustment may be made on the basis of a cash equivalent price per bushel other than that used in making settlement under the certificate of indemnity originally issued.

§ 415.70 Other insurance. If the insured has or acquires any other insurance against substantially all the risks that are insured against by the Corporation under the insurance contract on the crop or portion thereof covered in whole or in part by such insurance contract, regardless of whether such other insurance is valid or collectible, the liability of the Corporation shall not be greater than its share would be if the amount of its obligations were divided equally between the Corporation and such other insurer. In any case where an indemnity is paid to the insured by another Government agency because of damage to the flax crop, the Corporation reserves the right to determine its liability under the insurance contract taking into consideration the amount paid by such other agency.

§ 415.71 Subrogation. The Corporation may require from the insured an assignment of all rights of recovery against any person(s) for loss or damage to the extent that payment therefor is made by the Corporation, and the insured shall execute all papers required and shall do everything that may be necessary to secure such rights.

§ 415.72 Creditors. An interest existing by virtue of a debt, lien, mortgage, garnishment, levy, execution, bankruptcy, or any other process shall not be considered an interest in an insured crop within the meaning of this subpart.

PAYMENT OF INDEMNITY TO PERSONS OTHER THAN ORIGINAL INSURED

§ 415.73 Indemnities subject to all provisions of insurance contract. Any indemnity payable to any person shall be subject to all provisions of the insurance contract, including the right of the Corporation to deduct from any such indemnity the unpaid amount of the note of the original insured for the payment of the earned premium or any other obligation of the insured to the Corporation: Provided, however, That in case of a transfer of an interest in an insured crop, such deduction to be made from an indemnity payable to the transferee shall not exceed the premium due on the insurance unit or units involved in the transfer, plus the unpaid amount of any other obligation of the transferee to the Corporation. Any indemnity payable to any person other than the original insured as a result of a transfer, or otherwise, shall be subject to any collateral assignment of the insurance contract by the original insured.

§ 415.74 Collateral assignment of right under insurance contract. The right to an indemnity under an insurance contract may be assigned by the original insured as collateral security for a loan or other obligation of such insured. Such assignment shall be made by the execution of Form FCI–20 "Collateral Assignment," and, upon approval thereof by the Corporation, the interests of the assignee will be recognized if an indemnity is payable under the insurance contract, to the extent of the amount determined to be the unpaid balance of the amount (including interest and other charges) for which such assignment was made as collateral security: Provided, however, That (a) payment of any indemnity will be subject to all conditions and provisions of the insurance contract and to any deductions authorized under § 415.73 and (b) payment of the indemnity may be made by check payable jointly to all persons entitled thereto and such payment shall constitute a complete discharge of the Corporation's obligation with respect to any loss under the insurance contract. The Corporation's approval of an assignment shall not create in the assignee any right other than that derived from the assignor. The Corporation shall in no case be bound to accept notice of any assignment of the insurance contract, and nothing contained in any assignment shall give any right against the Corporation to any person other than the insured, except to an assignee approved by the Corporation. Only one such assignment will be recognized in connection with the insurance contract, but if an assignment is released, a new assignment of the right to an indemnity under the insurance contract may be made.

§ 415.75 Payment to transferee. In the event of a transfer of all or a part of the insured interest in a flax crop before the beginning of harvest or the time of loss, whichever occurs first, the transferor shall immediately notify the Corporation thereof in writing at the office of the county association. The transferee under such a transfer shall be entitled to the benefits of the insurance contract with respect to the interest so transferred, subject to any assignment made by the original insured in accordance with § 415.74 hereof: Provided, however, That an involuntary transfer of an insured interest in a flax crop solely because of the existence of a debt, lien, mortgage, garnishment, levy, execution, bankruptcy, or other process shall not entitle any holder of any such interest to any benefits under the insurance contract: Provided, further, That the Corporation shall not be liable for a greater amount of indemnity in connection with the insured crop than would have been paid if the transfer had not taken place. If as a result of any such transfer, diverse interests appear with respect to any insurance unit, the indemnity, if any, payable with respect to such unit may be paid jointly to all persons having the insured interest in the crop at the time harvest is commenced or the time of loss, whichever occurs first, or to one of such persons on behalf of all such persons, and payment in any such manner shall constitute a complete discharge of the Corporation's liability with respect to such unit under the insurance contract.

§ 415.76 Death, incompetence, or disappearance of insured. (a) If the insured dies, is judicially declared incompetent, or disappears, before the time of loss, and his insured interest in a flax crop is a part of his estate at such time, or if the insured dies, is judicially declared incompetent, or disappears, subsequent to such time, the indemnity, if any, shall be paid to the legal representative of his estate, if one is appointed or is duly qualified. If no such representative is or will be so qualified, the indemnity shall be paid to the persons beneficially entitled to share in the insured's interest in the crop or to any one or more of such persons on behalf of all such persons; Provided, however, That if the indemnity represents a number of bushels of flax, the cash equivalent of which exceeds $500, the Corporation may withhold the payment of the indemnity until a legal representative of the insured's estate is duly qualified to receive such payment.

(b) If the insured dies, is judicially declared incompetent, or disappears before the time of loss, and his interest in the crop is not a part of his estate at such time, the indemnity, if any, shall be paid to the person(s) who succeeded to his interest in the crop in the manner provided for in § 415.75.

(c) If an applicant for insurance dies or is judicially declared incompetent before any flax crop intended to be covered by insurance is seeded, whoever succeeds him on the farm with the right to seed the flax crop as his heir or heirs, administrator, executor, guardian, committee, or conservator shall be substituted for the original applicant upon filing with the office of the county association, within 15 days (unless such period is extended by the Corporation) after the date of such death or judicial declaration, or before the date of the beginning of seeding, whichever is earlier, a statement in writing, on Form FCI–2 "Agreement", requesting such substitution and agreeing to assume the obligations of the original applicant arising out of such application. If no such statement is filed, as required by this paragraph, the original application shall be void.

(d) The insured shall be deemed to have disappeared within the meaning of the regulations in this part if he fails to file with the county committee written notice of his new mailing address within 180 calendar days after any communication by or on behalf of the Corporation is returned undeliverable at the address given in the statement in proof of loss or after such loss has been established otherwise, whichever is earlier.

§ 415.77 Fiduciaries. Any indemnity payable under an insurance contract, entered into in the name of a fiduciary who is no longer acting in such capacity at the time for the payment of indemnity and settlement under the certificate of indemnity, will be made to the succeeding fiduciary upon appropriate application and proof satisfactory to the Corporation of his incumbency. If there is no succeeding fiduciary, payment of the indemnity shall be made to, and settlement under the certificate of indemnity shall be made with, the persons beneficially entitled under the regulations in this part to the insured interest in the crop, to the extent of their respective interests, upon proper application and proof of the facts: Provided, however, That the settlement may be made with any one or more of the persons so entitled, and payment may be made to such person or persons in behalf of all the persons so entitled, whether or not the person to whom payment is made has been authorized by the other interested persons to receive such payment.

§ 415.78 Determination of person to whom indemnity shall be paid. In any case where the insured has transferred his interest in all or a portion of the flax crop on any insurance unit, or has ceased to act as a fiduciary, or has died, has been judicially declared incompetent or has disappeared, payment in accordance with the provisions of this subpart will be made only after the facts have been established to the satisfaction of the Corporation. The determination of the Corporation as to the existence or nonexistence of a circumstance in the event of which payment may be made and of the person(s) to whom such payment will be made shall be final and conclusive. Payment of any indemnity under this section shall constitute a complete discharge of the Corporation's obligation with respect to the loss for which such indemnity is paid and settled and shall be a bar to recovery by any other person.

REFUNDS OF EXCESS NOTE PAYMENTS

§ 415.79 Refunds of excess note payments—(a) Before maturity of note. The Corporation shall not be required to make a refund of any excess payment made on a note until the acreage planted to flax on all insurance units covered by the insurance contract has been determined. The cash equivalent of any refund shall be determined on the basis of the number of bushels of flax to be refunded and the cash equivalent price for the appropriate grade of such flax effective for the date such payment was submitted to the Corporation. If more than one payment is made on the note for the crop insurance premium, the payments shall be applied in the order of submittal to the Corporation. In computing the amount of any refund, the payments shall be considered in their inverse order and each such payment or portion thereof shall be regarded as a separate payment in determining the cash equivalent of the refund.

(b) After maturity of note. Payments received after the maturity of the note for the payment of the crop insurance premium shall be refunded in the actual amount of money paid to the Corporation in excess of that determined to be necessary to pay such note.

There shall be no refund of an amount less than $1.00, with respect to payments made either before or after the maturity of the note, unless written request for such refund is received by the Corporation within one year after the date of the maturity of the note.

§ 415.80 Assignment or transfer of claims for refunds not permitted. No claim for a refund, or any part or share thereof, or any interest therein, shall be assignable or transferable, notwithstanding any assignment of the insurance contract or any transfer of interest in any flax crop covered by the insurance contract. Refund of any excess note payment will be made only to the person who made such payment except as provided in § 415.81.

§ 415.81 Refund in case of death, incompetence, or disappearance. In any case where a person who is entitled to a refund of a payment has died, has been judicially declared incompetent, or has disappeared, the provisions of § 415.76 with reference to the payment of indemnities in any such case shall be applicable with respect to the making of any such refund.

ESTABLISHMENT OF AVERAGE YIELDS AND PREMIUM RATES

§ 415.82 Determination of farm average yields of flax per acre. The Corporation shall establish average yields of flax for farms on the basis of the recorded or appraised yields for a representative period of years and shall, where necessary, adjust such yields so that the average yields for farms in the same area which are subject to the same conditions shall be fair and just.

§ 415.83 Determination of premium rates. The Corporation shall establish premium rates for all farms for which average yields are established and such rates shall be those deemed adequate to cover claims for flax crop losses and to provide a reasonable reserve against unforeseen losses.

§ 415.84 Average yields and premium rates where farm varies widely in productivity or farming hazards or where tracts of the farm are widely separated. If the land comprising any farm consists of tracts varying widely in productivity, topography, or farming hazards, or if tracts of the farm are widely separated, separate average yields and premium rates may be established by the Corporation for such tracts on the basis of appraisal, taking into consideration the yield data available.

§ 415.85 Average yields and premium rates for special farming practices. In areas where farming practices are followed which are determined by the Corporation to be special practices, yields and premium rates may be established for each special practice for the county or administrative area and for individual insurance units. The yields and premium rates thus established for the insurance unit(s) shall apply to the acreage of flax seeded on the insurance unit in accordance with the special farming practice followed on the insurance unit(s).

GENERAL

§ 415.86 Meaning of terms. For the purpose of the 1946 Flax Crop Insurance Program, the term:

(a) "Average yield" means the average yield of flax per acre established by the Corporation for each insurance unit or portion thereof.

(b) "Cash equivalent price per bushel" means the net price per bushel of flax established by the Corporation for the area in which the insurance unit is located on the basis of the price of flax at the basic market designated by the Corporation for the area, with differentials for the location of the area in which the insurance unit is situated.

(c) "Corporation" means the Federal Crop Insurance Corporation.

(d) "County" means the area commonly designated as such, and includes a parish in Louisiana.

(e) "County association" means the County Agricultural Conservation Association in the county.

(f) "County committee" means the County Agricultural Conservation Committee for the county.

(g) "Crop insurance listing sheet" means the form prescribed by the Corporation for the purpose of maintaining a record of insurance units, yields and rates, and any other related information with respect to such insurance units. The crop insurance listing sheet is on file in the office of the county association and is open to inspection by any producer whose farm is listed thereon.

(h) "Crop year" means the period within which the flax crop is seeded and normally harvested, and shall be designated by reference to the calendar year in which the crop is normally harvested.

(i) "Farm" means all adjacent or nearby farm land under the same ownership which is operated by one person, including also: (1) any other adjacent or nearby farm land which the county committee determines is operated by the same person as part of the same unit with respect to the rotation of crops and with workstock, farm machinery, and labor substantially separate from that for any other lands; and (2) any field-rented tract (whether operated by the same or another person) which, together with any other land included in the farm constitutes a unit with respect to the rotation of crops: Provided, however, That, for the purpose of determining the minimum participation for a crop insurance program in any county, the term "farm" means that acreage of land which constitutes an insurance unit.

A farm shall be regarded as located in the county or administrative area, as the case may be, in which the principal dwelling is situated, or, if there is no dwelling thereon, it shall be regarded as located in the county or administrative area, as the case may be, in which the major portion of the farm is located. In addition, a farm shall be considered to be located in a county for crop insurance purposes if it is listed on the crop insurance listing sheets for such county.

(j) "Flax crop" means all flax seeded for harvest as seed, but does not include (1) volunteer or self-seeded flax, (2) flax seeded with any other crop except perennial grasses or legumes other than vetch, and (3) flax seeded for purposes other than for harvest as seed.

(k) "Insurance contract" means the contract of insurance entered into between the applicant and the Corporation by virtue of the application for insurance and the regulations in this part and any amendments thereto.

(l) "Insurance unit" means all or that portion, as the case may be, of the farm (considered for the purpose of establishing the average yield(s) and premium rate(s)) in which the insured has an interest as a flax producer at the time of seeding, except that (1) when a part of such land is regularly irrigated and a part is never irrigated, the portion of the land on the farm which is to be irrigated in the current crop year (as shown on the acreage report of the insured) shall constitute one insurance unit and the remainder shall constitute another insurance unit, and (2) when separate yields and rates have been established for widely separated parts of such land, such portions of the land shall constitute separate insurance units: Provided, however, That all or any part of such land which is designated on the crop insurance listing sheet in the office of the county association as "non-insurable", because of the insurance risk involved, shall not constitute an insurance unit or any part thereof and shall not be considered in any manner whatsoever under the insurance contract, except as provided in § 415.66 (b).

(m) "Insured interest" means either the insured's reported interest in the crop at the time of seeding, or the interest which the Corporation determines as the insured's actual interest at the time of seeding, whichever the Corporation shall elect, except that for the purpose of determining loss, the insured interest shall not exceed the insured's actual interest at the time of loss.

(n) "Insured percentage" means the percentage of the average yield of flax per acre for the insurance unit covered by an insurance contract, and shall be either 50 or 75 percent.

(r) "Premium rate" means the premium rate per acre established by the Corporation for insurance on flax.

(s) "Sharecropper" means a person who works a farm in whole or in part under the general supervision of the operator and is entitled to receive for his labor a share of the flax crop thereon or of the proceeds therefrom.

(t) "State committee" means the State Agricultural Conservation Committee for the State.

(u) "State Director" means the representative of the Corporation in the operation of the crop insurance program in the State.

(v) "Tenant" means a person other than a sharecropper who rents land from another person (for cash, a fixed commodity payment, or a share of the crop or proceeds therefrom), and is entitled under a written or oral lease or agreement to receive all or a share of the crop or proceeds therefrom produced on such land.

§ 415.87 Restriction on purchase and sale of flax by the Corporation. The restriction on the purchase and sale of flax, as provided in section 508 (d) of the Federal Crop Insurance Act, as amended, reads in part as follows:

> Insofar as practicable, the Corporation shall purchase the agricultural commodity only at the rate and to a total amount equal to the payment of premiums in cash by farmers or to replace promptly the agricultural commodity sold to prevent deterioration; and shall sell the agricultural commodity only to the extent necessary to cover payments of indemnities and to prevent deterioration: Provided, however, That nothing in this section shall prevent prompt offset purchases and sales of the agricultural commodity for convenience in handling. Nothing in this section shall prevent the Corporation from accepting, for the payment of premiums, notes payable in the commodity insured, or the cash equivalent, upon such security as may be determined pursuant to subsection (b) of this section, and from purchasing the quantity of the commodity represented by any of such notes not paid at maturity.

§ 415.88 Records and access to farm. For the purpose of enabling the Corporation to determine the loss, if any, that may have occurred under the insurance contract, the insured shall keep, or cause to be kept, for one year after the time of loss, records of the harvesting, storage, shipment, sale, or other disposition, of all flax produced on each insurance unit covered by the insurance contract. Such records shall be made available for examination by the Corporation, and as often as may reasonably be required, any person or persons designated by the Corporation shall have access to the farm. (See § 415.66 (b).)

§ 415.89 Review of determinations of State and county committees. Any determination by a State or county committee shall be subject to review and approval or revision by duly authorized representatives of the Corporation.

§ 415.90 Applicant's warranties: voidance for fraud. In applying for insurance the applicant warrants that the information, data, and representations submitted by him in connection with the insurance contract are true and correct, and are made by him, or by his authority, and shall be taken as his act. The insurance contract may be voided and the premium forfeited to the Corporation without the Corporation's waiving any right or remedy, including its right to collect the amount of the note executed by the insured, whether before or after maturity, if at any time the insured has concealed any material fact or made any false or fraudulent statements relating to the insurance contract, the subject thereof, or his interest in the flax crop covered thereby, or if the insured shall neglect to use all reasonable means to produce, care for or save the flax crop covered thereby, whether before or after damage has occurred, or if the insured fails to give any notice, or otherwise fails to comply with the terms of the contract, including the note, at the time and in the manner prescribed.

§ 415.91 Modification of insurance contract. No notice to any county committee or representative of the Corporation or knowledge possessed by any such county committee or representative or by any other person shall be held to effect a waiver of or change in any part of the insurance contract or to estop the Corporation from asserting any right or power under such contract; nor shall the terms of such contract be waived or changed except as authorized in writing by a duly authorized officer or representative of the Corporation; nor shall any provision or condition of the insurance contract or any forfeiture be held to be waived by any delay or omission by the Corporation in exercising its rights and powers thereunder or by any requirement, act, or proceeding, on the part of the Corporation or of its representatives, relating to appraisal or to any examination herein provided for.

§ 415.92 Fractional units in acres and yields. Fractions of yields per acre and premium rates shall be rounded to the nearest tenth of a bushel. Fraction of acres representing total acres of flax shall be rounded to the nearest tenth of an acre. Computations shall be carried to one digit beyond the digit that is to be rounded. If the extra digit computed is 1, 2, 3, or 4, the rounding shall be downward. If the extra digit computed is 5, the computation shall be carried to another digit. If the two extra digits are 50, the rounding shall be downward, and if the two extra digits are 51 or any higher figure, the rounding shall be upward.

§ 415.93 Closing dates. Closing dates for submission of applications to cover the 1946 flax crop shall be the earlier of: (a) the date of the beginning of seeding of the flax crop, or (b) September 29, 1945, for Texas; November 3, 1945, for Arizona and for Fresno, Imperial, Kern, Kings, Madera, Merced, Riverside, San Joaquin and Tulare Countries in California; February 16, 1946, for Oklahoma; April 13, 1946, for Montana, North Dakota, all counties in Minnesota lying north of Traverse, Grant, Douglas, Todd, Morrison, Mille Lacs, Kanabec and Pine Counties, and Chippewa and Mackinac Counties, Michigan; and March 30, 1946, for all other States and counties.

Reg. 1 as amended Dec. 31, 1943, 9 F.R. 64.

E. E. ANDERSON LUMBER CO.

E. E. Anderson, G. V. Anderson, H. S. Anderson, V. F. Schultz, A. L. Wilson, and B. L. Tungate, individually and as co-partners doing business as E. E. Anderson Lumber Company, with principal offices at 19707 John R. Street, Detroit, Michigan, are engaged in the sale and distribution of lumber at wholesale to distributors. During the period of August 1, 1944, through December 31, 1944, E. E. Anderson Lumber Company delivered lumber to other distributors in the amount of 4,181,049 board feet on orders which bore neither preference ratings nor certifications required by paragraph (p) of Limitation Order L-335. The E. E. Anderson Lumber Company during the said period received from customers, on certified orders only, orders for 689,333 board feet. It extended, on certified orders only, orders for 1,124,932 board feet, thereby creating an overextension, on certified orders only, of 435,599 board feet. E. E. Anderson Lumber Company, during said period, failed to keep and preserve accurate and complete records of transactions and inventories to which the rules, regulations and orders of the War Production Board applied, in violation of Priorities Regulation No. 1, § 944.15. Some of the partners were familiar with the provisions of Limitation Order L-335, and the company's acts therefore constituted wilful violations of the order.

These violations have interfered with the control established by the War Production Board for the assignment of priorities. In view of the foregoing, it is hereby ordered, that:

§ 1010.853 Suspension Order No. S-853. (a) E. E. Anderson, G. V. Anderson, H. S. Anderson, V. F. Schultz, A. L. Wilson and R. L. Tungate, individually and as co-partners doing business as E. E. Anderson Lumber Company, shall not, for four months from the effective date of this order, receive or deliver lumber as defined in Limitation Order L-335, except upon orders bearing the appropriate certificate required by Limitation Order L-335, and also bearing preference ratings of AA-3 or higher.

(b) E. E. Anderson, G. V. Anderson, H. S. Anderson, V. F. Schultz, A. L. Wilson and R. L. Tungate, individually and as co-partners doing business as E. E. Anderson Lumber Company, shall delete from their accumulated ratings, ratings to the extent of 435,599 board feet of lumber, and shall not hereafter use, apply or extend said ratings.

(c) The permission of movement of certain low grade lumber and culls and rejects on uncertified orders provided for in Direction 7 to Limitation Order L-335 as amended April 17, 1945 shall not accrue to E. E. Anderson, G. V. Anderson, H. S. Anderson, V. F. Schultz, A. L. Wilson, and B. L. Tungate individually and as co-partners doing business as E. E. Anderson Company.

(d) Nothing contained in this order shall be deemed to relieve E. E. Anderson, G. V. Anderson, H. S. Anderson, V. F. Schultz, A. L. Wilson, and R. L. Tungate, individually and as copartners doing business as E. E. Anderson Lumber Company, their successors or assigns, from any restriction, prohibition or provision contained in any other order or regulation of the War Production Board except insofar as the same may be inconsistent with the provisions hereof.

(e) This order shall take effect on August 18, 1945.

[Suspension Order S-867, Stay of Execution]

THE HOUSH CO., INC.

The Housh Company, Inc., Boston, Massachusetts, has appealed from the provisions of Suspension Order No. S-867, issued July 27, 1945, (§ 1010.867) and has requested a stay on the ground that irreparable harm would be done the business if the suspension order were not stayed. The Chief Compliance Commissioner has directed that the provisions of the suspension order be stayed, subject to reinstatement, pending final determination of the appeal or until further order by the Chief Compliance Commissioner.

In view of the foregoing, it is hereby ordered, that: The provisions of § 1010.867, Suspension Order No. S-867, issued July 27, 1945, are hereby stayed, subject to reinstatement, pending final determination of the appeal or until further order by the Chief Compliance Commissioner, or his Deputy.

Issued this 17th day of August 1945.

DEKONING CONSTRUCTION CO.

DeKoning Construction Company, a Michigan corporation, with principal offices at 419 East Dutton Street, Kalamazoo, Michigan, is engaged in building construction. During October 1944, without permission of the War Production Board, it carried on the construction of a club house at 491 West Michigan Avenue, Kalamazoo, Michigan, the cost of which was $18,000, which amount exceeded an express authorization permitting the expenditure of only $6,375 for such construction, in violation of Conservation Order L-41. The officers of the corporation were aware of the provisions of Conservation Order L-41 and its actions constituted a grossly negligent violation thereof.

This violation has diverted critical materials to uses not authorized by the War Production Board. In view of the foregoing, it is hereby ordered, that:

§ 1010.882 Suspension Order No. S-882. (a) DeKoning Construction Company shall not for four months from the effective date of this order, apply or extend any preference ratings or use any CMP allotment symbols, regardless of the delivery date named in any purchase order to which such ratings may be applied or extended, or on which CMP allotment symbols are used.

(b) DeKoning Construction Company shall cancel immediately all preference ratings which it has applied or extended to orders which have not yet been filled, and shall also cancel immediately all unfilled orders which it has placed for controlled materials bearing a CMP allotment symbol (including the MRO symbol and the symbol SO under the small order procedure of CMP Regulation No. 1).

(c) All preference ratings, allotments and allocations presently outstanding in connection with orders for delivery of materials to DeKoning Construction Company or placed prior to the termination date of this order are void and shall not be given any effect by suppliers of DeKoning Construction Company or by any other person. This does not apply to material already delivered or in transit for delivery to it on the effective date of this order.

(d) Nothing contained in this order shall be deemed to relieve DeKoning Construction Company from any restriction, prohibition or provision contained in any other order or regulation of the War Production Board except insofar as the same may be inconsistent with the provisions thereof.

(e) The restrictions and prohibitions contained herein shall apply to DeKoning Construction Company, its successors and assigns, or persons acting on its behalf. Prohibitions against the taking of any action include the taking indirectly as well as directly of any such action.

(f) This order shall take effect on August 18, 1945.

DENNIS REFRIGERATION SUPPLY

C. W. Dennis, Ebba A. Dennis, W. C. White and Ruth White, copartners, doing business as Dennis Refrigeration Supply, are engaged as jobbers in the sale of commercial refrigerating and air conditioning machinery and equipment at 1910 Ingersoll Avenue, Des Moines, Iowa. During the year 1944, they knowingly purported to apply or extend preference ratings of either AA-1, AA-2, AA-2X, or AA-5 which they were not entitled to apply or extend, to 1,681 purchase orders for refrigerating or air conditioning coils and panel coolers. The unauthorized application or extension of such ratings constituted wilful violations of Priorities Regulation No. 3. During the period from August 21, 1944 to December 31, 1944, they delivered, not pursuant to approved orders or to orders bearing a preference rating of AA-5 or higher, 21 refrigerating or air conditioning condensers or condensing units. This constituted a grossly negligent violation of Limitation Order L-38. In addition, they failed to maintain accurate and complete records of their purchases, inventories and sales of the material or materials to which the War Production Board rules, regulations or orders relate, and of the details of their transactions in such materials. This constituted a violation of Priorities Regulation No. 1, and such violation resulted from their gross negligence.

These violations of orders and regulations of the War Production Board have diverted critical material to uses not authorized by the War Production Board. In view of the foregoing, it is hereby ordered, that:

§ 1010.887 Suspension Order No. S-887. (a) C. W. Dennis, Ebba A. Dennis, W. C. White and Ruth White shall not for a period of four months from the effective date of this order, apply or extend any preference ratings for the acquisition or purchase of commercial refrigerating and air conditioning equipment and supplies except to fill orders for repair parts for such equipment.

(b) Nothing contained in this order shall be deemed to relieve Dennis Refrigeration Supply, from any restriction, prohibition, or provision contained in any other order or regulation of the War Production Board, except insofar as the same may be inconsistent with the provisions hereof.

(c) The restrictions and prohibitions contained herein shall apply to C. W. Dennis, Ebba A. Dennis, W. C. White and Ruth White, doing business as Dennis Refrigeration Supply or under any other trade name, or as individuals, or their successors, assigns or persons acting in their behalf. Prohibitions against the taking of any action include the taking indirectly as well as directly of any such action.

PART 3290—TEXTILE, CLOTHING AND LEATHER

COTTON TEXTILE DISTRIBUTION AND SALE YARN PRODUCTION

§ 3290.115 General Conservation Order M-317. The fulfillment of requirements for the defense of the United States has created a shortage in the supply of cotton textiles and materials for making cotton textiles for defense, for private account and for export; and the following order is deemed necessary and appropriate in the public interest and to promote the national defense: (a) Definitions. In this order (which term includes orders supplementary to this order):

(1) "Cotton textiles" means the following products, containing 50% or more by weight of cotton or cotton waste, or a combination of the two:

(i) Woven and braided fabrics, whether gray, original mill or regular finish, bleached, dyed or printed, and the following cotton products: bedsheets, pillow cases, blankets, towels, diapers, face cloths and table "linens"; and

(ii) Yarns, whether gray, bleached, colored, mercerized, glazed, polished, single, plied, cabled or braided, including thread, twines and cordage (e. g. tying, sail, seine, etc. twine, rope, sash, cord, etc.) and including any of the foregoing which may be spun on roving, ring, mule or converted twister spindles.

"Cotton textiles" does not include:

Cotton duck as defined in Conservation Order M-91;

Blankets or blanketing containing 25 per cent or more by weight of wool;

Fabrics (other than blankets or blanketing) or yarns containing wool produced on the woolen or worsted system.

(2) (i) "Producer" means any manufacturer who makes cotton textiles in the United States.

(ii) "Intermediate processor" means any person engaged in the United States in the business of bleaching, dyeing or otherwise finishing cotton textiles and delivering or using them in the United States for his own account in the bleached or otherwise finished state.

(iii) "Processor" means any person engaged in the United States in the business of manufacturing or having manufactured in the United States for his account, any product in which cotton textiles are incorporated.

(iv) "Merchant" means any person engaged in the United States in the business of purchasing cotton textiles for resale in the United States in the form in which purchased.

(v) "User" means any person other than a producer, intermediate processor or processor, who purchases cotton textiles for his own use in the United States in any business, industry, profession or occupation.

(vi) Any person who performs the functions of more than one of the foregoing—regardless of his customary manner of conducting his business—shall, for the purpose of the following be deemed a separate person with respect to each of those capacities, and he is required to:

(a) Accept rated orders for cotton textiles in preference to any other contracts, orders or uses even though he has not in the past accepted or filled orders for that particular cotton textile, and also to fill them in accordance with the rules of Priorities Regulation No. 1 (In the case of yarn, this requirement applies only to yarn required to be produced and delivered by the provision of par. (d) of Supplementary Order M317-B);

(b) Use the ratings assigned by this order (including Supplementary Orders M-317A and M-317B) and

(c) Apply the inventory restrictions of this order.

(vii) The definitions in subdivisions (i) to (v) above do not include the United States Army, Navy, Maritime Commission or War Shipping Administration.

[1] Limitation Order L-99 relates to cotton textile production.

(3) Trade terms used in this order shall have their usual trade significance unless otherwise specified.

(b) Assignment of ratings.[1] The preference ratings specified in the Preference Rating Schedules of Supplementary Orders M-317A and M-317B are assigned to the persons in Column I for the cotton textiles in Column II to be used only as specified in Column III.

(c) [Deleted Aug. 18, 1945.]

(d) How ratings for cotton textiles are to be applied or extended. Preference ratings shall be applied and extended as provided in Priorities Regulation 3. The standard certification described in Priorities Regulation 7 may be used in applying or extending the rating, but the provisions of subparagraph (1) or (2) below must also be complied with.

(1) Cotton textiles for export. In the case of products which are to be exported (or to replace in inventory the exported products) in the form of cotton textiles, or in the form of clothing manufactured from piece goods purchased with a preference rating assigned (a) in connection with an export license or release certificate issued by the Foreign Economic Administration or a U. S. Treasury Procurement Division contract or requisition placed for Foreign Economic Administration, or (b) on Form WPB-2842 issued in connection with a license, release certificate or contract referred to in (a), the purchaser shall place upon the purchase order an appropriate notation, with the blanks properly filled in, substantially as follows (except where that product or clothing is for direct or ultimate delivery to the U. S. Army, Navy, Maritime Commission, War Shipping Administration or American Red Cross):

These cotton textiles will be exported, or will replace in inventory cotton textiles exported after December 24, 1943.

And also one of the following statements is to be made:

The preference rating was applied by the United States Treasury Procurement Division in connection with contract number ——— [In the case of United States Treasury Procurement for Foreign Economic Administration];

or

The preference rating was applied in connection with Export License number ——— dated ———, or Release Certificate number ——— dated ———. [In the case of export in connection with licenses or release certificates issued by Foreign Economic Administration.];

or

The preference rating was applied in connection with the Canadian Cotton Administrator's serial number ———. [In the case of exports to Canada.]

When the above is complied with, the requirements of M-328 are met and it is unnecessary to use any other notation.

If a preference rating for cotton textiles which is assigned by the Foreign Economic Administration on an export license or release certificate has not been applied or extended to an order accepted by a producer or made the subject of a War Production Board scheduling direction at the end of six months from the date of issuance of the license or release certificate, it shall be deemed revoked. Ratings applied or extended to orders accepted by a producer or made the subject of War Production Board scheduling directions at any time before August 1, 1944, for delivery before October 1, 1944, are excepted, however, from this provision.

(2) Cotton textiles for domestic use. In all other cases a person (other than the United States Army, Navy, Maritime Commission or War Shipping Administration on their direct purchase orders), applying or extending a rating for a cotton textile, which was assigned by a Preference Rating Schedule or under a War Production Board form, shall place upon the purchase order an appropriate notation, substantially as follows:

This rating has been assigned by M-317, Group(s) No. ———. [Insert applicable group number or numbers of Preference Rating Schedule.]

or

This rating has been assigned under Form WPB ———, Serial No. ———. [Insert the War Production Board form number and its serial number.]

When the above is complied with, the requirements of M-328 are met and it is unnecessary to use any other notation.

(e) Restrictions relating to fiber or yarn. (1) No person shall use any preference rating which was assigned, applied or extended for cotton textiles in order to obtain any synthetic fiber or synthetic yarn, except cotton textiles for direct or ultimate delivery to, or for incorporation into any product for direct or ultimate delivery to, the United States Army, Navy, Maritime Commission or War Shipping Administration.

(2) No person shall use any preference rating which was assigned, applied or extended for knitted or woven fabrics, in order to obtain cotton yarns defined in paragraph (a) (1) (ii). If he does not own or control spinning machinery, he may use the rating to obtain cotton yarns for incorporation into products for direct or ultimate delivery to the United States Army, Navy, Maritime Commission or War Shipping Administration. If he does own or control spinning machinery, upon his showing on Form WPB-2842 the extent to which it is insufficient or unsuitable to produce cotton yarns required for incorporation into products for direct or ultimate delivery to the United States Army, Navy, Maritime Commission or War Shipping Administration, the War Production Board may authorize him to use that rating to obtain a specific quantity of cotton yarns for that purpose.

(3) No person owning or controlling spinning machinery shall use any preference rating which was assigned, applied or extended for yarn, in order to obtain cotton yarns defined in paragraph (a) (1) (ii), except to the extent authorized by the War Production Board, upon his showing, on Form WPB-2842, that his own spinning is insufficient or unsuitable.

(f) Distribution schedules. (1) Each producer—even if he is also an intermediate processor, processor, merchant or user—shall, from the production of each calendar quarter, deliver or set aside for later delivery on rated orders those percentages of his total production (in pounds or yards according to his usual method of operation) of each cotton textile as specified in the Distribution Schedules of Supplementary Orders M-317A and M-317B. Exceptions from the requirements of the Distribution Schedules of Supplementary Orders M-317A and M-317B may be granted by the War Production Board pursuant to specific applications in writing when the fulfillment of any Distribution Schedule's requirement would prevent deliveries of cotton textiles for orders rated AA-2X or higher.

(2) The War Production Board may establish other percentages with respect to any of the cotton textiles listed in the Distribution Schedules of Supplementary Orders M-317A and M-317B.

(3) The requirements of the Distribution Schedules of Supplementary Orders M-317A and M-317B supersede all authorizations, issued before May 29, 1944, on appeal from this order, from Limitation Order L-99 or from Supplementary Limitation Order L-99-a.

(4) Exceptions from distribution schedules. This paragraph explains how a person who is unable to get purchase orders to meet the requirements of any of the distribution schedules of Orders M-317A or M-317B may obtain relief from those schedules.

(i) He must send three copies of Form WPB-4325 by registered mail to the War Production Board, Textile, Clothing and Leather Bureau, Ref: M-317, Washington 25, D. C., and one copy by registered mail to his War Production Board Regional Office, within the time stated below. These forms must be completely filled out in accordance with its instructions. The form will be available for public inspection both at the War Production Board Regional Office and the Textile, Clothing and Leather Bureau.

(ii) Form WPB-4325 may be filed only during the second month of the quarter it covers, except that it may always be filed within five days of the receipt of notice of termination or modification of a contract or subcontract from the Army, Navy, United States Maritime Commission or War Shipping Administration.

(iii) Seven days after the mailing of Form WPB-4325, in accordance with the above rules, if the War Production Board does not otherwise direct in writing, the person seeking relief may disregard the particular provisions of the distribution schedules specified in his Form WPB-4325 to the extent specified for the balance of the quarter for which the form was filed.

[1] Conservation Order M-328 permits other preference ratings, as well as those assigned by this order, and imposes conditions on the use of all ratings for cotton textiles.

(iv) Any person obtaining relief under this paragraph (f) (4) must accept and fill rated orders in accordance with Priorities Regulation 1, and must comply with all other regulations and orders of the War Production Board.

(g) Advance orders. No person shall be required to accept any rated order for cotton textiles calling for delivery more than 90 days after the receipt of the order, except from the United States Army, Navy, Maritime Commission or War Shipping Administration.

(h) Special conditions. No producer, intermediate processor, processor, merchant or user shall sell, deliver, buy, accept or use a cotton textile or any product containing a cotton textile or assign, apply or extend a preference rating contrary to the provisions in Column III of a Preference Rating Schedule of Supplementary Orders M-317A and M-317B in Column V of a Distribution Schedule of Supplementary Orders M-317A and M-317B or in any written direction of the War Production Board.

(i) Exports. No person shall purchase for export without a preference rating any cotton textiles, except woven or braided fabrics 12" or less wide, remnants (pieces shorter than ten yards) and rags (pieces shorter than two yards commonly sold by the pound).

(j) Inventory restrictions. No person shall accept delivery of any cotton textiles if his aggregate inventory exceeds or would then exceed the lesser of (1) a practicable minimum working inventory, or (2) his requirements for 90 days (except in the case of merchants and users of cotton textiles used in crop cultivation).

In computing inventory include products in process of manufacture but exclude cotton textiles in transit or in process of conversion.

(k) Allocation. The War Production Board may assign preference ratings for or allocate and direct deliveries of cotton textiles pursuant to application on Form WPB-2842.

(l) Applicability of regulations. Except as otherwise provided herein, this order and all transactions affected thereby are subject to all applicable regulations of the War Production Board.

(m) Appeals. Any appeal from the provisions of this order or of Supplementary Orders M-317A and M-317B shall be made by filing a letter in triplicate, referring to the particular provisions appealed from, and stating fully the grounds of the appeal.

(n) Records and reports. (1) Each person applying a preference rating assigned in a Preference Rating Schedule of Supplementary Orders M-317A and M-317B shall maintain at his regular place of business accurate records of the quantities of each type of listed cotton textile ordered with the use of such a rating, the quantities of each such type of cotton textile received and entered into production, and the quantities of each listed cotton textile product manufactured. These records shall be preserved for a period of not less than two years, and shall, upon request, be submitted to audits and inspections by duly authorized representatives of the War Production Board. Subject to the approval of the Bureau of the Budget pursuant to the Federal Reports Act of 1942, all persons affected by this order shall execute and file with the War Production Board such reports as the War Production Board shall from time to time request.

(2) All persons operating spindles for the production of cotton yarn of any kind shall file with the War Production Board, at the times specified in the reporting form, reports on Form WPB-658-E, giving the information therein required. The reporting requirements of this order have been approved by the Bureau of the Budget under the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

(o) Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order (including Supplementary Orders M-317A and M-317B), or who, in connection with this order, wilfully conceals a material fact or furnishes false information to any department or agency of the United States is guilty of a crime, and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment. In addition, any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further deliveries of, or from processing or using material under priorities control, and may be deprived of priorities assistance.

(p) Communications. All reports to be filed, appeals and other communications concerning this order should be addressed to: War Production Board, Textile, Clothing and Leather Bureau, Washington 25, D. C., Ref.: M-317.

[Suspension Order S-858, Amdt. 1]

SUPREME SHOE CO., INC.

On July 24, 1945 there was issued by the War Production Board, Suspension Order No. S-858 against Supreme Shoe Company, Inc. This Suspension Order incorrectly required respondent to reduce by 11,267 pairs of shoes the number of shoes it would otherwise be entitled to produce during the six months period beginning September 1, 1945. The correct amount it should be required to reduce is 10,267 pairs. In view of the foregoing, it is hereby ordered, that:

§ 1010.858 Suspension Order No. S-858 be amended in the following respect:

1. Paragraph (a) of Suspension Order No. S-858 issued July 24, 1945, be amended by substituting the following paragraph (a):

(a) Supreme Shoe Company, Inc., its successors or assigns, unless otherwise specifically authorized in writing by the War Production Board shall reduce by 500 pairs of shoes the number of pairs of shoes it would otherwise be entitled to produce during the six months' period beginning March 1, 1945, and ending August 31, 1945, under the authorization to manufacture granted respondent by the War Production Board, and the corporation shall reduce by 10,267 pairs of shoes the number of pairs of shoes it would otherwise be entitled to produce during the six months' period beginning September 1, 1945 and ending March 1, 1946, under the authorization to manufacture granted respondent by the War Production Board.

SUSSMAN BROS.

Samuel Sussman doing business under the name of Sussman Brothers, Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania is engaged in the business of manufacturing and selling new burlap bags, reconditioning used burlap bags, and selling burlap regularly in strips and occasionally in bolts. On WPB Report Form PD-186 dated January 9, 1943, Samuel Sussman stated that he had received 380,000 yards of burlap in 1939 and 568,000 yards in 1940 of which he cut-up 75% of his 1939 receipts. On April 12, 1943 Samuel Sussman answered an inquiry of the War Production Board stating in effect that he had used 75% of burlap to make agricultural bags out of 423,731 yards used in 1939, 396,014 yards used in 1940, and 338,341 yards used in 1941. Actually Samuel Sussman used only 29% of the said burlap during 1939 and 1940 in his cut-up to make bags during that period. Based upon these false and incorrect statements which were deliberately and knowingly given, Samuel Sussman received and made use of an allocation of free burlap from May 1943 to June 1945 in an amount of 147 bales in excess of what should have been his true allotment. The giving of this false information resulted in a diversion of critical materials to uses not authorized by the War Production Board and subjected Samuel Sussman to administrative action as provided in Priorities Regulation No. 1 and Conservation Order M-47. In view of the foregoing, it is hereby ordered, that:

§ 1010.889 Suspension Order No. S-889. (a) Unless otherwise specifically authorized in writing by the War Production Board, Samuel Sussman shall not be assigned any burlap quota under the provisions of Conservation Order M-47, and shall not receive or accept delivery of any burlap as defined in Conservation Order M-47 until such time as the allocation so withheld, and to which he would otherwise be entitled under the provisions of said order, shall amount to 147 bales.

(b) Nothing contained in this order shall be deemed to relieve Samuel Sussman from any restriction, prohibition or provision contained in any other order or regulation of the War Production Board, except insofar as the same may be inconsistent with the provisions hereof.

(c) The restrictions and prohibitions contained herein shall apply to Samuel Sussman individually or doing business as Sussman Brothers or under any other name, his successors and assigns or persons acting on his behalf. Prohibitions against the taking of any action include the taking indirectly as well as directly of any such action.

(d) This order shall take effect on August 20, 1945.

MIDLAND METALCRAFT CORP.

Midland Metalcraft Corporation, a Michigan corporation, with principal offices at Midland, Michigan, is engaged in the manufacture of galvanized tubs. During the third and fourth quarters of 1944, it placed authorized controlled material orders in amounts in excess of the related allotments received by it, in violation of CMP Regulation No. 1. Furthermore, in June, August and September, 1944, the company furnished false and misleading information to the War Production Board with reference to its business and orders on hand or on its books. Responsible officers of the company had full knowledge of the provisions of CMP Regulation No. 1, and its actions were wilful.

These violations have diverted critical materials to uses not authorized by the War Production Board. In view of the foregoing, it is hereby ordered, that:

§ 1010.890 Suspension Order No. S-890. (a) Midland Metalcraft Corporation shall not for four months from the effective date of this order apply or extend any preference rating or use any CMP allotment symbols, regardless of the delivery date named in any purchase order to which such ratings may be applied or extended or on which CMP allotment symbols are used.

(b) Midland Metalcraft Corporation shall cancel immediately all unfilled orders which it has placed for controlled materials bearing a CMP allotment symbol (including the MRO symbol and the symbol "SO" under the small order procedure of CMP Regulation No. 1).

(c) All preference ratings, allotments, and allocations presently outstanding in connection with orders for delivery of materials to Midland Metalcraft Corporation or placed prior to the termination date of this order are void and shall not be given any effect by suppliers of Midland Metalcraft Corporation or by any other person. This does not apply to material already delivered or in transit for delivery to it on the effective date of this Order.

(d) Nothing contained in this Order shall be deemed to relieve Midland Metalcraft Corporation from any restriction, prohibition or provision contained in any other Order or regulation of the War Production Board except insofar as the same may be inconsistent with the provisions hereof.

SPECIAL PROGRAM FOR COTTON FABRICS FOR NURSES' UNIFORMS

§ 3290.120d Schedule D to Order M-328B—(a) Explanation. This schedule states the special rules in addition to those set forth in Order M-328B for manufacturers of student and graduate nurses' uniforms made of cotton fabrics to get an AA-2X and an AA-3 preference rating for fabrics to make the items listed in this Schedule. Priorities assistance granted under this schedule will be in addition to any granted under Supplement XI of Schedule A of M-328B. Therefore manufacturers who have received authorizations under that supplement must file applications under this Schedule for whatever additional fabrics they need to participate in this Program in the third quarter of 1945.

(b) Definitions. (1) "Fabrics," unless otherwise designated, means a woven fabric 12 inches or more in width.

(2) "Cotton fabric" means any fabric containing less than 25 percent wool by weight but of which the remaining fibers are 50 percent or more cotton by weight.

(3) "Cotton item" means an item of which more than 50 percent of the fabric yardage incorporated in it, exclusive of linings, binding and trimmings, is cotton fabric.

(c) Special requirements for obtaining priorities assistance. (1) Three copies of Form WPB-3732 Revised must be filed in making application for priorities assistance under this schedule, in accordance with the rules stated in paragraph (c) of Order M-328B, except that for the fourth quarter of 1945 applications must be postmarked not later than September 5, 1945.

(2) A base period manufacturer who files Form WPB-3732 Revised for the third calendar quarter of 1945 by August 11, 1945, may, as soon as he files his application, apply an AA-2X rating for the purchase of Class A sheeting, and an AA-3 rating for the purchase of other cotton fabrics for delivery in that quarter for incorporation into the cotton items for which application is made. He may do so only for an item he made in the base period and only for 25% of the yardage of fabrics he used in the base period with respect to any item. Cotton fabrics purchased under this provision shall be deducted by the manufacturer from the total quantity for which priorities assistance is ultimately granted on Form WPB-3732 Revised. If the applicant does not ultimately receive a grant of the entire quantity thus rated, he shall, upon notification of his grant by the War Production Board, immediately cancel orders for any undelivered quantities which are in excess of his grant.

(3) A manufacturer who files Form WPB-3732 for the fourth quarter of 1945 by September 5, 1945, may as soon as he files his application apply a AA-2X rating for the purchase of Class A sheeting and a AA-3 rating for the purchase of other cotton fabrics for delivery in that quarter for incorporation into the items for which application is made. He may do so only for an item he made in the base period or for which he received an allocation under this schedule for the third quarter of 1945, and only for 50% of the yardage of fabric consumed in the production of that item during the base period or 50% of the yardage allocated to him by the War Production Board for the third quarter, whichever is smaller. Fabric purchased under this provision shall be deducted by the manufacturer from the total quantity for which priorities assistance is granted pursuant to his application on Form WPB-3732. If the applicant does not receive a grant of the entire quantity thus rated he shall upon notification of his grant by the War Production Board immediately unrate or cancel orders for any undelivered quantities which are in excess of his grant.

Manufacturers who did not produce in the base period the items applied for on Form WPB-3732 or who did not receive an allocation for them under this schedule for the third quarter of 1945 may not use any ratings under this schedule for the fourth quarter of 1945 until the War Production Board has assigned them a quota.

(4) A manufacturer receiving an allocation for Item No. 1 of section (A) or Item Nos. 1 or 2 of section (B) of the preference rating schedule for any quarter must subtract from his rated quota for Item A-56 under Order M-388A the total yardage of fabrics for which priorities assistance is granted under this schedule to determine the quantity of fabrics which he may purchase with an AA-4 rating under his M-388A rated quota in that quarter. In the event that the quantity of fabrics for which an AA-2X or an AA-3 rating authorized under this schedule is in excess of his AA-4 rated quota in M-388A, the manufacturer may not, during that quarter, use an AA-4 rating under the provisions of M-388A for Item A-56.

(d) General provisions. (1) Preference ratings assigned under this schedule may be used only to get the particular fabrics shown in the Fabric Column of the preference rating schedule to make the cotton items specified.

(2) If applications are received for rated quotas in an amount for any item in excess of the yardage allotted for that item, the rated quotas will be assigned in proportion to the manufacturer's production of the particular items during the base period.

(3) If the manufacturer did not produce or have produced for his own account in the base period the item for which application is made, he must comply with the provisions of paragraph (c) (6) of M-328B.

(4) The minimum linear yardage which shall be incorporated in each dozen of the item for which a grant is made, shall in the case of a base period manufacturer, be no less than the amount used by him for the production of the same item in the base period. In the case of persons who did not manufacture the item in the base period the minimum linear yardage of fabric per dozen shall be the product of the total yards of each fabric authorized, divided by the number of units authorized in the grant by the War Production Board.

(5) Additional priorities assistance may be given for the procurement of narrow woven selvage edge tape (cotton or rayon) needed for incorporation into the number of units for which priorities assistance is granted. Requests for this additional priorities assistance shall be made on Form WPB-3732 separately for each item for which application is made.

(6) Manufacturers who did not produce the item applied for in the base period and cannot, therefore, comply with paragraph (f) (5) of M-328B, shall specify in the "Remarks" section of form WPB-3732 Revised the assortment of sizes per dozen for each size range for which application is made. He must comply with the size ranges and assortments of sizes which the War Production

Board specifies in its grant of priorities assistance.

(7) Student nurses' uniforms manufactured under this schedule may be sold only to hospitals or nurses' training schools; or to persons who furnish substantially the following certification on their purchase orders:

The purchaser represents to the seller and to the War Production Board that the student nurses' uniforms covered by this order will be sold only to hospitals or nurses' training schools or for ultimate delivery to such institutions.

The standard certification provided for in Priorities Regulation 7 may not be used instead of the above.

Recording Secretary.

SPECIAL PROGRAM FOR WORK GLOVES

§ 3290.120f Schedule F to Order M-328B—(a) Explanation. This schedule states the special rules in addition to those set forth in Order M-328B for manufacturers of work gloves to get an AA-2x preference rating for fabric to make the items listed in this schedule.

(b) Definitions. For the purpose of this schedule:

(1) "Work gloves" means any gloves or mittens of the types and meeting the specifications listed in Schedules A and B of Order M-375 and designed for wear by men, women or children while engaged in their occupations, and customarily sold as work gloves.

(2) "Base period" means the third calendar quarter of 1943.

(c) Special requirements for priorities assistance. (1) Three copies of Form WPB-3732 (Revised) should be filed in accordance with the rules stated in paragraph (c) of Order M-328B, except that for the third quarter of 1945 the applications must be postmarked by August 11, 1945, and for the fourth quarter of 1945 the applications must be postmarked by September 5, 1945.

(2) A base period manufacturer who files Form WPB-3732 (Revised) for the third calendar quarter of 1945 by August 11, 1945, may, as soon as he files his application, apply an AA-2x rating for the purchase of fabric for delivery in that quarter for incorporation into the items for which application is made. He may do so however only for an item he made in the base period, and the yardage for which he applies this rating, plus any yardage for which he has applied ratings for delivery in the third quarter of 1945 under Order M-317A as amended May 10, 1945, and Direction 16 to Order M-317, may not exceed 70 percent of the yardage of material used in the manufacture of work gloves during the first quarter of 1945. In addition, all fabric purchased under this paragraph and under the provisions of M-317A and Direction 16 to M-317 shall be deducted by the manufacturer from the total quantity for which priorities assistance is ultimately granted on Form WPB-3732 (Revised). If the applicant does not ultimately receive a grant of the entire quantity thus rated, he shall upon notification of his grant by the War Production Board, immediately cancel orders for any undelivered quantities which are in excess of his grant.

(3) A manufacturer who files Form WPB-3732 for the fourth quarter of 1945 by September 5, 1945, may, as soon as he files his application, apply an AA-2X rating for the purchase of cotton fabric for delivery in that quarter for incorporation into the items for which application is made. He may do so only for an item he made in the base period or for which he received an allocation under this schedule, for the third quarter of 1945, and only for seventy percent of the yardage of fabric consumed in the production of that item during the base period or seventy percent of the yardage allocated to him by the War Production Board for the third quarter, whichever is greater. Fabric purchased under this provision shall be deducted by the manufacturer from the total quantity for which priorities assistance is granted pursuant to his application on Form WPB-3732. If the applicant does not receive a grant of the entire quantity thus rated he shall upon notification of his grant by the War Production Board immediately unrate or cancel orders for any undelivered quantities which are in excess of his grant.

Manufacturers who did not produce in the base period the items applied for on Form WPB-3732, or who did not receive an allocation for them under this schedule for the third quarter of 1945, may not use any ratings under this schedule for the fourth quarter of 1945 until the War Production Board has assigned them a quota.

(d) When ratings may be extended to get yarn. Producers of knit wrist tubing, knit jersey material 8 oz. or heavier, or knit lining for work gloves who do not also own or control spinning machinery, who need to obtain yarn to fill rated orders for these items, may extend the ratings assigned under this schedule to get such yarn, notwithstanding the provisions of paragraph (e) of Order M-317. However, producers who do own or control spinning machinery may not use the rating to get yarn except as permitted by paragraph (e) of M-317.

(e) Priorities assistance for component parts. Persons applying for priorities assistance under this schedule may apply for sewing thread, overedging yarn No. 10, (2-ply), and twine, (10-ply), cotton in quantities needed for incorporation into the number of units for which priorities assistance is requested. Applications must be made on Form WPB-3732 separately for each item for which application is made. Such applications will be approved to the extent of available materials and to the extent that allocations are made for the production of items.

(f) Style provisions for base period manufacturers. Base period manufacturers who are granted ratings under this schedule must make (subject to Order M-375) each style of work glove that they made in the first quarter of 1945 under the following rule: The production of each style of each item made in any quarter must not vary more or less than 10 percent from the proportion of that style of work glove to the total quantity of all styles of work gloves made in the first quarter of 1945. This rule does not apply to hot mill and 2-thumb husking gloves and mittens, which may be made to the full extent of a manufacturer's capacity. These styles should also be excluded in making the computations stated above for other styles.

(g) Special inventory rule. Manufacturers who use ratings assigned under this schedule are subject to the inventory provisions of paragraph (f) (4) of Order M-328B except that a 60-day inventory limit applies instead of a 45-day one.

(h) Notification of unused allocations. A person who finds that for any reason (such as increases in Army or Navy contracts) he will not place rated orders to the extent authorized on Form WPB-3732 (Revised) for a particular calendar quarter, or will cancel rated orders he has placed, must promptly write a letter giving notice to the Textile, Clothing and Leather Bureau of the War Production Board showing the reference number on his authorization. Letters must specify the quantity and kind of fabric in the same terms in which the authorization was made.

(i) Provisions in case of governmental cut-backs. At any time during any calendar quarter a manufacturer who has received cancellations or cut-backs on military contracts or orders placed by an agency of the United States Government, or who during the quarter has production facilities made available, may apply to the War Production Board on Form WPB-3732 (Revised) for priorities assistance to manufacture items listed in this schedule, provided that these items are to be made in conformity with Schedules A and B of Order M-375. Such applications will be approved to the extent of available materials and the need for additional production of the items applied for.

Issued this 18th day of August 1945.

Recording Secretary.

(b) Definitions. For the purpose of this schedule:

(1) "Fabrics," unless otherwise designated, means a woven fabric 12 inches or more in width.

(2) "Rayon fabric" means any fabric containing less than 25% wool by weight but of which the remaining fibers are more than 50% of synthetic fiber (staple or continuous filament) by weight. For example, a fabric containing 20% wool, 41% rayon, and 39% cotton is rayon.

(3) "Rayon item" means an item of which more than 50% of the fabric yardage incorporated in it, exclusive of linings, bindings and trimmings, is made of rayon fabric.

(4) "Base period manufacturer" and "base period" mean the same as in paragraph (b) (5) of Order M-328B except that a person who did not manufacture an item listed in this schedule during the base period at or below the maximum price set forth in the schedule shall not be considered a base period manufacturer.

(c) Special requirements for obtaining priorities assistance. (1) Three copies of Form WPB-3732 must be filed for priorities assistance under this schedule, in accordance with the rules stated in paragraph (c) of Order M-328B, except that for the fourth calendar quarter of 1945 applications shall be postmarked not later than September 5, 1945.

(2) A manufacturer who files Form WPB-3732 for the fourth calendar quarter of 1945 by September 5, 1945, may as soon as he files his application, apply an AA-3 rating for the purchase of rayon fabrics for delivery in that quarter for incorporation into the rayon items for which application is made. He may do so only for an item he made in the base period at or below the price shown in the preference rating schedule, and only for two-thirds of the yardage of fabrics he used in the base period with respect to any item. Rayon fabrics purchased under this provision shall be deducted by the manufacturer from the total quantity for which priorities assistance is granted on form WPB-3732. If the applicant does not receive a grant of the entire quantity thus rated, he shall, upon notification of his grant by the War Production Board, immediately unrate or cancel orders for any undelivered quantities which are in excess of his grant.

(4) A base period manufacturer may not apply for a quantity of fabric for any item greater than 100% of the linear yards used by him in the base period for the production of that item.

(5) A manufacturer who makes application under this schedule may also apply on Form WPB-3732 for priorities assistance for narrow woven selvage edge tape required for incorporation into the number of units of the items for which application is made on that form. Such requests will be granted within the limits of materials available and to the extent that priorities assistance is granted for the items requested.

(6) Provisions in case of governmental cut-backs. At any time during any calendar quarter a manufacturer who has received cancellations or cut-backs on military contracts or orders placed by an agency of the U. S. Government, or who during the quarter has production facilities made available, may apply to the War Production Board on Form WPB-3732 for priorities assistance to manufacture items listed in this schedule. Such applications will be approved to the extent of available materials and the need for additional production of the items applied for.

(d) General provisions. (1) Preference ratings assigned under this schedule may be used only to get rayon fabrics to make the rayon items specified in the preference rating schedule.

(2) The fabrics must be incorporated into an item produced for sale by the manufacturer at or below the lower of the following two prices:

(i) The price at which the manufacturer is permitted to sell the item under regulations of the Office of Price Administration; or

(3) A manufacturer who is not a base period manufacturer must comply with the provisions of paragraph (c) (6) of Order M-328B.

MARBRO LAMP AND SHADE CO.

Marbro Lamp and Shade Company is a co-partnership owned by Morris K. Markoff and Elliott Markoff, with its principal office in Los Angeles, California. This co-partnership is engaged in the manufacturing of lamps.

During the period between March 17, 1944 and December 31, 1944, this co-partnership assembled and sold 20,325 portable lamps on other than preferred orders contrary to and in violation of the provisions of War Production Board General Limitation Order L-33. Further, the co-partnership violated Limitation Order L-33, by failing to file reports as required by Order L-33 of the production and sale of 434 portable lamps sold in fulfillment of preferred orders between February 9, 1943 and August 22, 1944. The violations in each instance were wilful.

The aforementioned violations of Order L-33 have diverted scarce materials to uses not authorized by the War Production Board. In view of the foregoing, it is hereby ordered, that:

[RMPR 528, Amdt. 3]

TIRES AND TUBES, RECAPPING AND REPAIRING, AND CERTAIN REPAIR MATERIALS

A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this amendment, issued simultaneously herewith, has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.

Revised Maximum Price Regulation 528 is amended in the following respects:

1. Section 1 (a) (1) is amended to read as follows:

(1) New tires and tubes. This regulation applies to all retail sales of new rubber tires and tubes for automobiles, trucks, busses, trailers, off-the-road equipment, farm implements, tractors, industrial equipment, motorcycles, and aircraft. A tire or tube other than an aircraft tire or tube is "new" if it has been used less than 1,000 miles. An aircraft tire and tube is "new" if it has never been used. "Retail sale" means a sale to a buyer for his own use and not for resale. This regulation, however, does not apply to wholesale sales; such sales are covered by Revised Maximum Price Regulation 143. Neither does this regulation apply to manufacturers' or brand owners' sales of any new tires and tubes to any agency of the United States Government. New tires which the manufacturer or brand owner has found defective and not repairable, and which such manufacturer or brand owner has slashed or otherwise mutilated prior to his delivery to any person, shall be deemed scrap rubber, and the maximum price thereof shall be determined in accordance with the provisions of Revised Price Schedule 87.

2. Section 3 is amended by adding the following sentence thereto: "The substitution of a standard warranty, in line with that generally prevailing in the industry, for a road hazard warranty given with sales of any commodity covered by this regulation, is not considered an evasion under this section."

3. Section 16 (b) (1) is amended to read as follows:

(1) The prices set forth in Tables A–IV, A–V, and A–VI are the maximum retail prices for new tires and tubes (other than passenger car and motorcycle) of a type, size, and ply listed in such tables, whether constructed from natural, synthetic, or reclaimed rubber.

4. A new table designated Table A–VI is added to section 16, to read as follows:

The maximum price for any size patch or boot is determined by computing the over-all dimensions of the patch or boot as expressed in square inches and using the ceiling price fixed for that group. The maximum retail prices for reliners, patches, and boots made from scrap materials but not listed in Tables E–I to E–III, inclusive, of this section, as well as the maximum retail prices for gum-covered patches made from fuel cells, double cushion tire patches made from scrap materials, and criss-cross patches (which are made from scrap material, cushion covered, and skived ply by ply to give the effect of a built-up patch), shall be the maximum price of which the retailer is notified by his supplier. If he has not been notified of a maximum price by his supplier, he may not offer for sale any such commodity or service covered by this section until a maximum price or pricing method has been approved by the Office of Price Administration. Upon application by such retailer to the Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C., setting forth (1) a description of the commodity and/or the service to be sold, and (2) the name and address of the supplier, the Office of Price Administration will notify such retailer of his maximum price.

7. Paragraph (b) of section 20 is amended to read as follows:

(b) Maximum retail prices for commodities not meeting minimum quality specifications. (1) The maximum retail price for reliners, patches, and boots made from scrap material and not meeting the minimum quality specifications of section 15 of this regulation, shall be:

(i) Sales to industrial consumers. The maximum price for sales to any person consuming scrap rubber in the production of reclaimed rubber or in the manufacture of any product or splitting scrap rubber tires into their component parts, shall be determined in accordance with the provisions of Revised Price Schedule 87.

(ii) Sales to persons other than industrial consumers. The maximum prices for sales to any person other than (i) above, shall be one cent per pound.

(2) Commodities which are covered by (1) above but can be used for any purpose other than as scrap or waste and are sold for such other use, are not covered by this paragraph, but shall be priced in accordance with the applicable regulation governing the sale of such commodities.

8. Table E–VI of section 20 is deleted.

This amendment shall become effective August 22, 1945.

PART 1346—BUILDING MATERIALS

ASPHALT AND TARRED ROOFING PRODUCTS

A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this Amendment, issued simultaneously herewith, has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.

Section 1346.59 is amended to read as follows:

§ 1346.59 Application for adjustment—(a) Government contracts. Any person who has entered into or proposes to enter into a Government contract or subcontract thereunder, who believes that a maximum price under this schedule impedes or threatens to impede the production, manufacture or distribution of asphalt and tarred roofing products may file an application for adjustment of a maximum price established by this schedule in accordance with Procedural Regulation No. 6, as amended.

(b) Other adjustments. The Office of Price Administration, or any duly authorized representative thereof, may adjust maximum prices for asphalt or tarred roofing products established under this schedule as hereinafter provided.

(1) Who may apply. Any manufacturer of asphalt or tarred roofing products may file an application for adjustment of his maximum price in accordance with Revised Procedural Regulation No. 1, issued by the Office of Price Administration where his supply of asphalt or tarred roofing products could not be replaced if he discontinued production.

Before filing an application for adjustment under the provisions of this paragraph (b), each applicant shall obtain from the Office of Price Administration, Building Materials Price Branch, Washington 25, D. C., a statement of the specific information that will be necessary in order that the application may receive attention.

(2) Extent of adjustment to be granted. The adjustment will not be greater than the following:

(i) An amount sufficient to make the adjusted price equal to manufacturing cost plus packing cost, and shipping cost where delivered prices are quoted or freight is allowed or equalized, where the applicant's current over-all earnings on an annual basis represent an increase of 15 percent or more over his average annual over-all earnings for the base period years 1936–1939, inclusive, adjusted for changes in net worth.

(ii) An amount sufficient to make the adjusted price equal to total cost, where the applicant's current over-all earnings on an annual basis do not exceed by 15 percent, but are not appreciably less than his average over-all earnings during the base period years 1936–1939, inclusive, adjusted for changes in net worth. In no event, however, shall such adjustment exceed the amount permitted under (i) to the extent that such adjustment will result in current over-all earnings which exceed base period over-all earnings by 15 percent or more.

(iii) An amount sufficient to make the adjusted price equal to total cost plus a reasonable net profit on the article or line where the applicant's over-all earnings on an annual basis are appreciably less than his average over-all earnings during the base period years 1936–1939, inclusive, adjusted for changes in net worth. In no event, however, shall such adjustment exceed the amount permitted under (i) to the extent that such adjustment will result in current over-all earnings which exceed base period over-all earnings by 15 percent or more.

(iv) If the applicant produces the commodity in a line or a series of sizes, types or models, and if it is not practicable to determine the manufacturing cost or total cost, as the case may be, of each size, type or model, a uniform adjustment may be made for the entire line or series. However, any such adjustment for a line or series shall be subject to the limitations in subdivisions (i) to (iii), inclusive, above.

(d) Meaning of terms used. The term "manufacturing cost" means the total of direct materials, direct labor, and manufacturing expenses or factory overhead, applicable to the particular asphalt or tarred roofing products.

The term "total cost" means the total of manufacturing cost and reasonable general, administrative, and selling expenses applicable to the article, excluding income and excess profits taxes.

The term "over-all earnings" means net profits before income and excess profits taxes experienced on the company's entire operations.

Whenever the applicant is currently operating at a level substantially lower than his normal volume, the overhead items included in "manufacturing cost" and "total cost" will be adjusted to reasonable levels based upon a normal rate of operations.

In evaluating costs, the Office of Price Administration will determine whether they are based on a representative period of continuous normal production.

Depreciation included in cost shall be at normal rates which do not exceed those approved by the Bureau of Internal Revenue. Expenses not related to the manufacture and sale of the asphalt or tarred roofing product will be excluded.

In cases where the company was not in business during 1936–1939 and in extremely unusual cases where the period 1936–1939 cannot be considered a representative peacetime period, the Office of Price Administration may make an exception to the use of this base period.

(e) Adjustment in resale price. Any order granting an adjustment in the manufacturer's price may also adjust the maximum price of any person who resells the asphalt or tarred roofing product in the same form, to the extent deemed necessary in the judgment of the Price Administrator or his duly authorized representative. To the extent that such an adjustment may be made, this Section supersedes the appropriate provisions of the General Maximum Price Regulation.

This Amendment No. 6 shall become effective August 22, 1945.

CHESTER BOWLES,
Administrator.

For the reasons set forth in the accompanying statement of considerations and by virtue of the authority vested in me by the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, and Executive Orders Nos. 9250 and 9328, I find that the issuance of this Amendment to Revised Price Schedule No. 45, as amended, is necessary to aid in the effective prosecution of the war.

PART 1382—HARDWOOD LUMBER

SOUTHERN HARDWOOD LUMBER

This compilation of Revised Maximum Price Regulation 97 includes Amendment 19, effective August 22, 1945. The text added or amended by Amendment 19 is underscored. The section added is indicated by note.

In the judgment of the Price Administrator, the prices of Southern hardwood lumber have risen to an extent and in a manner inconsistent with the purposes of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942. The Price Administrator has ascertained and given due consideration to the prices of Southern hardwood lumber prevailing between October 1 and October 15, 1941, and has made adjustments for such relevant factors as he has determined and deemed to be of general applicability. So far as practicable, the Price Administrator has advised and consulted with representative members of the industry which will be affected by this regulation.

In the judgment of the Price Administrator, the maximum prices established by this regulation are and will be generally fair and equitable and will effectuate the purposes of said act. A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this regulation has been issued simultaneously herewith and has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.[2]

Such specifications and standards as are used in this regulation were, prior to such use, in general use in the trade or industry affected.

[Preamble amended by Supplementary Order 61, 8 F.R. 12552, effective 9–11–43]

Therefore, under the authority vested in the Price Administrator by the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942 as amended, and Executive Order No. 9250, Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 97—Southern Hardwood Lumber, is hereby issued.

AUTHORITY: §§ 1382.101 to 1382.115, inclusive, issued under 56 Stat. 23, 765; 57 Stat. 566, Pub. Law 383, 78th Cong.; Pub. Law 108, 78th Cong.; E.O. 9250, 7 F.R. 7871 and E.O. 9328, 8 F.R. 4681.

[Paragraph (a) amended by Am. 19, effective 8–22–45]

[§ 1382.101 amended by Am. 5, 8 F.R. 8860, effective 7–2–43 and Am. 8, 8 F.R. 11690, effective 8–21–43. Original paragraph (b) revoked and former (c) redesignated (b) by Am. 9, 8 F.R. 13278, effective 10–11–43; and amended by Am. 16, 10 F.R. 1739, effective 2–9–45; revoked by Am. 18, 10 F.R. 4658, effective 5–1–45]

(2) How to tell a mill from a distribution yard—(i) General tests. The term "mill", as used here, covers what are known in the trade as sawmills, planing mills and concentration yards. Three types of establishments are described below: the first, (a), a typical sawmill or planing mill; the second, (b), a typical concentration yard; and the third, (c), a typical distribution yard. An establishment which resembles a typical sawmill or planing mill or a typical concentration yard more than it does a typical distribution yard is considered a mill; and one which resembles a typical distribution yard more than it does a typical sawmill or planing mill or a typical concentration yard is considered a distribution yard.

(a) A "typical sawmill or planing mill" is an establishment which is chiefly engaged in manufacturing lumber from logs or rough lumber by sawing or planing; which is located in or near a lumber producing area; which makes and sells chiefly Southern hardwood or softwood lumber.

(b) A "typical concentration yard" is an establishment which concentrates and prepares lumber for commercial shipment; which keeps in stock mostly Southern hardwood lumber; which has its lumber brought in chiefly in rough green form by truck from small local sawmills and sells chiefly for rail shipment; and which has been located at its particular site to be near the lumber producing area.

(c) A "typical distribution yard" is a wholesale or retail lumber yard which gets lumber from mills or other yards; unloads, sorts, stores, and resells or redistributes it; which regularly maintains a varied stock of lumber from different regions; which gets its lumber mostly by rail and sells mostly for truck shipment; which is equipped to make quick deliveries of many different items of lumber; and which has been located at its particular site in order to be near a lumber consuming area.

(ii) New yards. In order to prevent violation of this regulation by unnecessarily routing through yards, the Office of Price Administration will not recognize distribution yards set up after January 1, 1943, unless the new yard writes to the Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C., and proves that it satisfies the requirements of the definition and that the purpose is not to get around this regulation by means of unnecessary yard business. Until approval is received, the new yard cannot consider itself a distribution yard for the purpose of this regulation.

(iii) Retail type sales excepted. A "retail type" direct-mill sale is not subject to this regulation. A "retail type" direct-mill sale means a sale of not more than 2,000 feet of lumber in which the purchaser requests delivery to a point not more than 20 miles from the mill at which the shipment originates. It includes only sales of lumber to contractors or consumers for use in construction, remodeling, repair, maintenance, fabrication, or remanufacture, and it does not include sales for resale in substantially the same form.

(b) What products are covered. (1) This regulation covers all Southern hardwood lumber, including yellow cypress as provided in subparagraph (2) immediately following this subparagraph, whether the grades, sizes and specifications are specifically named in the price tables in Appendices A, B and D or not. All grade terms have the meaning given in "Rules for the Measurement and Inspection of Hardwood Lumber" issued by the National Hardwood Lumber Association, effective January 1, 1943.

(2) (i). This regulation covers all lumber produced from the following botanical species, and processed into lumber at mills located in the Southern hardwood region: Sap sweet gum and red sweet gum (Liquidambar styraciflua), tupelo (Nyssa aquatica), black gum (Nyssa sylvatica), tough ash (Fraxinus americana), yellow popular (Liriodendron tulipifera), beech (Fagus americana), sycamore (Platanus occidentalis), soft maple (Acer rubrum); and the botanical species included in the genera of red oak and white oak (Quercus), magnolia (Magnolia), elm (Ulmus), cottonwood (Populus), willow (Salix), hackberry (Celtis), hickory (Hicoria), basswood (Tilia), ash (Fraxinus), and all other hardwood species.

(ii) This regulation also covers under the designations of "yellow cypress lumber" or "yellow cypress" all items of cypress lumber of any species of cypress other than tidewater red cypress (tidewater red cypress is subject to Maximum Price Regulation 412[1]) produced anywhere in the United States of America except as provided in subdivision (iii) below, whether or not the item is specifically priced in the price tables. Except where otherwise indicated, the term "yellow cypress lumber" or "yellow cypress" is included within the meaning of the terms "Southern hardwood lumber" or "hardwood lumber" as used in this regulation.

(iii) Yellow cypress lumber sold ungraded by duly authorized small mills as defined and provided for in § 1382.113 of this regulation, and which are located in the Southern hardwood lumber region, shall be sold subject to the provisions of said § 1382.113.

If the hardwood lumber regulation applicable to a region other than the Southern hardwood lumber region contains a classification of small mills which are permitted to sell hardwood lumber ungraded, such small mills located in that region shall sell "ungraded" yellow cypress lumber subject to the provisions of such hardwood lumber regulation applicable to that region.

Yellow cypress lumber sold on National Hardwood Lumber Association inspection or on authorized buyer's inspection by small mills duly authorized either by this regulation or any other hardwood lumber regulation to sell hardwood lumber in this manner, shall be sold subject to the provisions of § 1382.113 of this regulation. Such small mills in the Southern hardwood region desiring to sell hardwood lumber on National Hardwood Lumber Association inspection or on authorized buyer's inspection must be authorized to do so under the provisions of this regulation. Small mills in any other hardwood lumber region shall be permitted to sell yellow cypress lumber on authorized buyer's inspection only if they are duly authorized to sell hardwood lumber on authorized buyer's inspection under the provisions of the hardwood lumber regulation applicable to that region.

[Subparagraphs (1) and (2) amended by Am. 19, effective 8–22–45]

(3) The Southern hardwood area is described by exact boundary lines in Appendix C.

(4) Items not covered by this regulation. Specifically but not exclusively this regulation does not cover glued stock, risers, step treads, thresholds, hand rails, flooring, switch ties, cross ties, mine ties, mine material, navy oak ship stock (see Maximum Price Regulation 281),[2] and small dimension stock.

Mouldings and lath, when produced from any hardwood lumber other than yellow cypress are, likewise, not covered by this regulation. Mouldings and lath produced from yellow cypress are specifically priced in Section 1382.115 of this regulation.

[Subparagraph (4) amended by Am. 19, effective 8–22–45]

[Paragraph (b) amended by Am. 5, 8 F.R. 8860, effective 7–2–43]

(c) What persons are covered. Any person who makes the kind of sale or purchase covered by this regulation is subject to it. The term "person" includes: an individual, corporation, partnership, association, or any other organized group; their legal successors or representatives; the United States, or any government, or any of its political subdivisions; or any agency of any of the foregoing.

[Above paragraph amended by Am. 19, effective 8–22–45]

(1) Common or contract carrier. When shipment is by common or contract carrier, the following rules govern:

(i) When estimated weights are used, the rate times the estimated weight is the proper transportation charge.

For Southern hardwood lumber, other than yellow cypress, estimated weights may be used only if they have been filed with the Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C. The weights must be the weights used by the seller during the period October 1 to October 15, 1941. The estimated weight must be the weight for the exact kind of lumber actually shipped; for example, green weights may not be used if dry lumber is shipped. The transportation charge may be evened out to the nearest quarter dollar per thousand feet board measure.

For yellow cypress, the estimated weights in the table in § 1382.115 (b) shall be used.

[Subparagraph (i) amended by Am. 19, effective 8–22–45]

(ii) When estimated weights are not used, the amount added for transportation must not be more than the amount actually paid to the common or contract carrier, evened out to the nearest quarter-dollar per M.

(2) Private truck. When shipment is by truck owned or controlled by the seller, the amount added for transportation may not be more than the actual cost to the seller of delivery by truck; and, no matter what the actual cost is, the amount added may not be more than the railroad charge at the carload rate for the most similar haul. However, if this railroad charge is less than $1.50, and if the actual cost of delivery is more than $1.50, a transportation charge of $1.50 may be made.

(3) Trucking to railhead. When a truck haul precedes rail shipment, as when a mill located away from a railhead hauls lumber by truck to the railhead, no addition may be made for the truck haul. However, in the following two cases a mill may apply for special permission to make an addition:

[Subparagraph (3) amended by Am. 11, 8 F.R. 17375, effective 1–4–44]

(i) Where the mill was located away from rail connections because it specialized in water-borne lumber, and where shortage of shipping has forced it to operate by rail;

[Subparagraph (ii) revoked and former (iii) redesignated (ii) by Am. 9, 8 F.R. 13728, effective 10–11–43]

[2] Statements of considerations are also issued simultaneously with amendments. Copies may be obtained from the Office of Price Administration.

(ii) Where a mill's rail connection has been abandoned since September 5, 1941.

The application should be made by letter to the Lumber Branch of the Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C. The addition may not be made on quotations or sales until permission has been received.

(4) Truck delivery after rail haul. When truck delivery follows a rail haul, the actual cost of truck delivery may be added.

(5) All-truck haul. When an all-truck haul ends in delivery to the job site, no special addition may be made above the charges provided in subparagraphs (1) and (2) of this paragraph, since in this case delivery to the job site involves no extra expense.

(b) Mixed cars. The following additions per M may be made where the purchaser (or purchasers, in the case of a pool car) orders an item consisting of one species, thickness and grade, in the following quantities:

Quantity ordered:	Addition per M
3,000 to 4,000 ft.	$1.00
2,000 to 2,999 ft.	2.00
1,000 to 1,999 ft.	2.50
999 ft. and less	3.00

§ 1382.104 What the invoice must contain—(a) General. Because of the large number of possible additions to the basic f. o. b. mill prices, it is necessary that some of them be separately shown on the invoice. Otherwise the purchaser and the Office of Price Administration could not tell in many cases whether a price which appeared to be above the ceiling was proper or not.

Failure to invoice properly is just as much a violation of this regulation as charging an excessive price.

(b) Basic price. All invoices must contain a sufficiently complete description of the lumber to show whether the price is proper or not. Any working, specification, quantity, or extra which affects the maximum price must be mentioned in the description. The amount added for these does not have to be separately shown, except in a few special cases which are specifically mentioned later.

(c) Transportation charges. In delivered sales, the invoice must contain the:

(1) Point of origin of shipment,

(2) Destination,

(3) Rail or truck rate (or, if shipment is by private truck, the amount added for transportation),

(4) The words "Direct-Mill Shipment."

(d) Delivery, and custom kiln-drying and milling charges. Any separate charge which the seller is permitted to make for the following must be separately shown on the invoice;

(1) Truck delivery after rail haul;

(2) Custom kiln-drying or milling: the invoice of the custom kiln or milling establishment must be attached to the lumber invoice of the seller.

[Paragraph (d) amended by Am. 4, 8 F.R. 5479, effective 4-29-43]

(b) Specific practices. The following are among the specific practices prohibited:

(1) Getting the effect of a higher price by changing credit practices from what they were in October 1941. This includes decreasing credit periods, or making greater charges for extension of credit. In any case, on sales made through the Office of the Chief of Engineers, War Department, terms of 30 days net may be used. In all cases, if the sale is on cash terms, the maximum price must be reduced by the same amount as the sale price would have been reduced for similar cash terms on October 1, 1941. For example, if the maximum price without cash discount is $40.00, and if in sales of this item on October 1, 1941 to purchasers of a certain class, the seller reduced sales prices 2 per cent for cash within 10 days, the ceiling cash price in sales to purchasers of this class is $39.20.

(2) Refusing, without good reason, to ship except in small quantities, or in specified or restricted random lengths, or under other circumstances which bring the seller an extra return.

(3) Refusing, without good reason, to ship lumber in standard grades and in grade-rule range widths and lengths.

(4) Grading as a special grade lumber which normally is graded by the seller as a standard grade; or wrongly grading or invoicing lumber in any other way.

(5) Refusing to sell on an f. o. b. mill basis, and insisting on selling on a delivered basis.

(6) Unnecessarily routing lumber through a distribution yard.

(7) Quoting a gross price above the maximum price, even if accompanied by a discount, the effect of which is to bring the net price below the maximum.

(8) Selling graded hardwood lumber at an average price.

(9) Selling hardwood lumber priced on an ungraded basis, or priced on grade solely on the basis of buyer's inspection as delivered, except as provided in § 1382.113.

[Subparagraphs (8) and (9) added by Am. 14, 10 F.R. 595, effective 1-18-45]

(10) Making any of the additions contained in the footnotes to the tables in § 1382.115 to the prices of the various items set forth in the tables unless the purchaser's order expressly requires the working, grade, condition, size or length for which the additions are permitted.

[Subparagraph (10) added by Am. 19, effective 8-22-45]

(c) Waiver of moisture content. Under this regulation lumber is either green, partially dry, or dry. If it does not actually meet this regulation's moisture-content requirements for dry lumber, it cannot be sold at the dry price, even if the moisture requirement is waived.

(d) Purchasing Commissions. It is unlawful for any person to charge, receive or pay a commission for the service of procuring (including buying, selling, or locating lumber, or for any related service such as "expediting") which does not involve actual physical handling of lumber, if the commission plus the purchase price results in a total payment by the buyer of lumber which is higher than the maximum price of the lumber. For purposes of this regulation, a commission is any compensation, however designated, which is paid for the procurement of lumber. This prohibition has no application to the case of a bona fide employer-employee relationship where the employee serves only one employer, insofar as lumber procurement is concerned, and where the compensation paid by the employer is a fixed salary and is not based directly or indirectly on the quantity, price or value of the lumber in connection with which the service is rendered.

[Paragraph (d) amended by Supplementary Order 37, 8 F.R. 2192, effective 2-23-43; and Supplementary Order 77, 8 F.R. 14310, effective 10-26-43]

(e) Combination grades. Graded hardwood lumber sold on combination (special inspection) grades for which no maximum prices have been established in this regulation, such as No. 1 Common and Better, Log Run (full run of the logs, excluding all grades below No. 2 Common), and Mill Run (full run of the logs, No. 3 Common and Better) may not be sold at above the maximum price for the lowest grade included in the combination grade. For example, the maximum price for Log Run (No. 2 Common and Better) is that established for No. 2 Common for the species sold.

Of course, the different grades included can be quoted and invoiced separately on the individual footage and price for those grades.

[Paragraph (e) amended by Am. 14 10 F.R. 595, effective 1-18-45]

(f) Adjustable pricing. Any person may agree to sell at a price which can be increased up to the maximum price in effect at the time of shipment; but no person may, unless authorized by the Office of Price Administration, deliver or agree to deliver at prices to be adjusted upward in accordance with action taken by the Office of Price Administration after shipment. Such authorization may be given when a request for a change in the applicable maximum price is pending, but only if the authorization is necessary to promote distribution or production and if it will not interfere with the purposes of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended. The authorization may be given by the Administrator or by any official of the Office of Price Administration having authority to act upon the pending request for a change in price or to give the authorization.

The authorization will be given by order, except that it may be given by letter or telegram when the contemplated revision will be the granting of an individual application for adjustment.

§ 1382.106 Grades, specifications and extras not specifically priced. (a) Southern hardwood lumber, sold on special grades or specifications or with special services or other extras not specifically mentioned in Appendices A, B and D are nevertheless subject to this regulation. The maximum price is a price which bears the October 1941 relation to the most comparable standard item. The chaser or prospective purchaser to the most comparable standard item. The seller should find his price difference between the special item and this most comparable standard item in October 1941 or the first month before that in which he had sales of both items, or if this is impossible, the price differential he would have used. This difference is then added to or subtracted from the maximum price of the comparable standard grade, and the result is the maximum price for the special grade. This price must be reported to the Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C., on OPA Form 197:3, given in paragraph (c) below. It may be ordered reduced, if it is found excessive. But if the price is not disapproved within 30 days of the receipt of the report, it is approved. Applications for approval of maximum prices for special grades and items under this section will be considered only when accompanied by (1) a true copy of the order or of customer's inquiry on the basis of which the application has been submitted; and (2) a statement certified to be true by the purchaser or prospective purchaser to the effect that none of the grades specifically priced in the regulation will serve the purpose for which the stock is intended to be used, which purpose is to be stated; that it has been his custom to purchase lumber on such special specifications. Approval of the price will be conditional on a finding that the purpose for which the special grade item is to be used is classified by the WPB as essential to the war effort. Prices, when approved, for such special grades or items will be based on the price differential previously established between the particular special item requirement and the related grade rule specification.

[Paragraph (a) amended by Am. 5, 8 F.R. 8860, effective 7-2-43; Am. 9, 8 F.R. 13728, effective 10-11-43 and Am. 19, effective 8-22-45]

(b) A seller using this pricing section can go ahead with delivery of the lumber and collection of the price he has computed or requested. But he must tell the buyer that the price is subject to revision within the thirty-day period, and, if the price is ordered reduced, must refund any excess over the final approved price.

§ 1382.107 Petitions for adjustment and amendment—(a) Government contracts. See Procedural Regulation No. 6 [4] for adjustment provisions on certain government contracts or subcontracts.

[Paragraph (a) amended by Supplementary Order 83, 9 F.R. 973, effective 2-1-44]

(b) Petitions for amendment. Any person seeking an amendment of any provision of this Revised Maximum Price Regulation 97 may file a petition for amendment in accordance with the provisions of Revised Procedural Regulation No. 1.[5]

[Paragraph (b) amended by Supplementary Order 26, 8 F.R. 8648, effective 11-4-42]

(c) In treating with petitions for amendment or adjustment, consideration will not be given to log and bolt costs which are higher than the applicable maximum purchase prices for logs and bolts established in Revised Maximum Price Regulation 161 [6]—West Coast Logs, or Maximum Price Regulation 313 [7]—Prime Grade Hardwood Logs and 348 [8]—Logs and Bolts, or any revision or amendment of these regulations. This rule shall be followed regardless of whether the petitioner gets logs and bolts by purchasing them, logging his own standing timber, contracting for the logging of his own timber, or any other means. All petitions in any way based on the cost of logs or bolts must show the actual cost to the petitioner of logs and bolts received at his plant during the three months immediately prior to filing the petition, and the cost which would have been incurred by the petitioner if all of these logs and bolts had been purchased by him at ceiling prices. To figure these ceiling prices the petitioner should refer to the regulation which fixes the maximum prices for purchases and sales of the kinds of logs and bolts received at his plant.

[Paragraph (c) added by Supplementary Order 47, 8 F.R. 5808, effective 5-8-43]

§ 1382.108 Records and reports—(a) Records. All sellers of Southern hardwood lumber must keep records which will show a complete description of the item of lumber sold, the name and address of the buyer, the date of the sale and the price. Buyers must keep similar records, including the name and address of the seller. These records must be kept for any month in which the seller or buyer sold or bought $500.00 worth or more of Southern hardwood lumber. They must be kept for two years, for inspection by the Office of Price Administration. Any records which the Office of Price Administration later requires must also be kept.

(b) Reports. Any reports that the Office of Price Administration requires must be submitted.

§ 1382.109 Enforcement and licensing. (a) Persons violating any provision of this regulation are subject to the criminal penalties, civil enforcement actions, suits for treble damages, and proceedings for revocation of licenses provided for by the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942.

(b) Persons who have evidence of any violation of this regulation or of any other regulation or order issued by the Office of Price Administration are urged to communicate with the nearest field, state, or regional office of the Office of Price Administration or its principal office in Washington, D. C.

(c) War procurement agencies and their contracting or paying finance officers are not subject to any liability, civil or criminal, imposed by this regulation. "War procurement agencies" include the War Department, the Navy Department, the United States Maritime Commission and the Lend-Lease Section in the Procurement Division of the Treasury Department, or any of their agencies.

(d) Licensing. The provisions of Licensing Order No. 1 [9] licensing all persons who make sales under price control, are applicable to all sellers subject to this regulation or schedule. A seller's license may be suspended for violations of the license or of one or more applicable price schedules or regulations. A person whose license is suspended may not, during the period of suspension, make any sale for which his license has been suspended.

The additions provided for in this subdivision (b) shall be permitted only on the following conditions:

1. The purchaser's original inquiry or order covering the lumber desired must specifically state the "special" widths and/or lengths required. This original inquiry or order must be made a part of the seller's order file covering the particular transaction. This order file must also contain whatever correspondence passed between the purchaser and the seller in the particular transaction, together with a copy of the order as finally entered. In other words, this order file must show that the purchaser has not accepted lumber of specifications other than originally desired and that the seller is not in violation of any of the provisions of § 1382.105—Prohibited Practices—of this regulation.

2. A shipment of any "special" item, the price for which includes any addition provided for in this subdivision, must contain no other stock of the same species, grade, and thickness, and each special item must be invoiced at only one price. According to the National Hardwood Lumber Association Rules for the Measurement and Inspection of Hardwood Lumber, all width and length specifications are inclusive.

(See examples under notes following tables in § 1382.112 (i) (1) and (2))

Additions and adjustments. The provisions of paragraphs (d), (e), (f), (g) and (h) of this section relating to deduction for green, addition for kiln drying, mill working, miscellaneous additions, and custom kiln-drying and milling are applicable to the price schedules set forth in this subdivision (b).

Effect on special prices. The maximum prices mentioned in this subdivision (b) supersede the maximum prices for like material previously authorized for individual sellers under the special pricing provisions of this regulation.

[Subparagraph (i) amended by Am. 18 10 F.R. 4658, effective 5-1-45]

(ii) A tough ash specialty establishment is an operation:

(a) Which does not manufacture any species of Southern hardwood lumber from the log;

(b) Which maintains a yard that receives more than 50,000 feet of tough ash lumber each month;

(c) Which usually obtains tough ash lumber without specifying to the supplier thicknesses, widths or lengths;

(d) Which is usually in a position to furnish tough ash lumber in a wide range of grades and specifications (thicknesses, widths, and lengths) and maintains an inventory during each month of more than 50,000 feet of tough ash lumber; and

(e) Which has been certified by the Office of Price Administration as a "tough ash specialty establishment" by publication of its name in the FEDERAL REGISTER. Certification may be revoked on failure to maintain the above qualifications. Moreover, certification may be revoked if the tough ash specialty establishment, either directly or by connivance with an affiliated corporation or business, attempts to induce suppliers of tough ash lumber to sell to him by arranging reciprocal shipments of other kinds of lumber to the tough ash lumber supplier, or by the sale of other kinds of lumber from any source to the tough ash lumber supplier at other than customary terms of payment.

Failure of a tough ash specialty establishment, which is affiliated with any sawmill operation, to preserve a complete segregation of its business activities from the affiliated sawmill company will also be considered grounds for revocation

(iii) The following establishments have qualified as tough ash specialty establishments:

Bankston Lumber and Export Company, Savannah, Georgia.

Dudley Hardwood Company, New Orleans, Louisiana.

Thompson-Katz Lumber Company Memphis, Tennessee.

Lamson Lumber Company, Inc., New Orleans, Louisiana.

Dixie Lumber Company, Charleston, South Carolina.

NOTE: These notes apply to Tables 39 and 40.

NOTE 1: Special truck body grade is a grade which meets all requirements of the designated grade (FAS, FAS One Face, or No. 1 Common and Selects or No. 1 Common) as defined in the effective Rules for the Measurement and Inspection of Hardwood Lumber issued by the National Hardwood Lumber Association, and, in addition, meets the following specifications:

(a) Average width 8" or wider: 45% or more 14/16' lengths. All lumber must have been air-dried on sticks at least 90 days and the seller shall so certify to this fact on the invoice, or

(b) 6" and wider, 8' and longer; average width 8" or wider; 45% or more 14/16' lengths. All lumber must have been air-dried on sticks at least 90 days and the seller shall so certify to this fact on the invoice.

These prices are applicable only to shipments on military orders for the Detroit Ordnance District truck body and Navy landing craft programs which must be accompanied by a Memorandum of Bid issued by the Central Procuring Agency, Procurement Division of the United States Corps of Engineers on E. D. Form 526.

NOTE 2: "FAS one face" means a trade practice grade of Southern hardwood lumber which grades Firsts or Seconds on the better side of the piece and not below No. 1 Common on the poorer side of the piece, in accordance with the effective standard grading rules issued by the National Hardwood Lumber Association for the particular species.

[Subparagraphs (39) and (40) added by Am. 16, 10 F.R. 1739, effective 2-9-45]

(c) Maximum prices for dunnage (1) The maximum rail-delivered price for 1,000 feet of dunnage lumber shall be as follows:

Boston, Mass	37.00
Charleston, S. C	23.50
Corpus Christi, Tex	23.50

Savannah, Ga	23.50
Tampa, Fla	26.00

[Subparagraph (1) amended by Am. 18, 10 F.R. 4658, effective 5-1-45]

(2) The maximum price for dunnage delivered at the above ports by water shall be the rail-delivered price as above set forth less the difference between the rail transportation charge from the point of shipment to the particular port, computed by multiplying the applicable rail rate by the weight of the lumber based on 3500 pounds per M'BM, and the actual water transportation charge from the point of shipment to the particular port.

(3) The term "dunnage" as used above means lumber of any hardwood species of standard widths and lengths, but poorer in quality than the lowest standard grade in the particular species. However, the prices appearing in the table above in paragraph (c) do not cover yellow cypress dunnage. The prices for yellow cypress dunnage are established in § 1382.115, Appendix D.

[Subparagraph (3) amended by Am. 19, effective 8-22-45]

(d) Deduction for green. For lumber shipped in a "green" condition, deduct from the maximum prices for air-dried lumber established in this Appendix "A", 10 percent of the maximum price for rough, air-dried material in the same specifications.

This deduction shall not apply to special sawn timbers, Tough Ash lumber, or to lumber customarily used without air seasoning, but it shall apply to any lumber which requires further air seasoning by the purchaser before being placed in the kiln for kiln-drying, or before fabrication if not kiln-dried.

The mere fact that the lumber is not used immediately, but is stored on the purchaser's yard, does not necessarily mean that green lumber has been shipped, but in case of dispute any lumber which weighs 25% or more in excess of the air-dried weight as published in the Rules for the Measurement and Inspection of Hardwood Lumber, issued by the National Hardwood Lumber Association, January 1, 1943, or for weights filed with the Office of Price Administration by the individual shippers, shall be considered to be "green".

Any purchaser who accepts "green" lumber at prices applicable to "dry" lumber is guilty of violation of the regulation to the same extent as the seller.

[Paragraphs (c) and (d) amended by Am. 5, 8 F.R. 8860, effective 7-2-43 and Am. 9, 8 F.R. 13728, effective 10-11-43]

	½ & ⅝	¾	⅞	1	1¼	1½	1¾	1¾
Cottonwood, Elm, Hackberry, Yellow Poplar, Magnolia, Maple, Sycamore, Willow, Basswood	$4.00	$4.50	$5.00	$6.00	$6.50	$7.00	$9.00	$11.00

[Paragraph (f) amended by Am. 5, 8 F.R. 8860, effective 7-2-43 and Am. 18, 10 F.R. 4658, effective 5-1-45]

(g) Miscellaneous additions. (1) Anti-stain treatment: 50 cents per M.

(2) Stenciling on the face of each piece in a manner which will permit identification and segregation of a particular shipment: 50 cents. (This addition cannot be made for stenciling a trade mark on each piece.)

(3) Marking on each piece the surface measure and/or board measure and/or width and/or length of the piece: 50 cents per M.

(4) Bundling: $2.00 per M.

(5) End racking or band sawing: No addition.

(6) Where the purchaser requests an inspection by, and an inspection certificate issued by, the National Hardwood Lumber Association, the seller may make an added charge which does not exceed the inspection fees and expenses charged by the Association to the seller and shown on the certificate.

(7) Staking and bulkheading open top cars. When a purchase order issued by any government agency requires that lumber thinner than 5" be shipped in open top cars, a charge of $7.50 per car may be made for material and labor involved in staking, wiring and separating. A further addition of $7.00 covering all materials and labor, may also be charged for each bulkhead required by and made in conformity with the specifications of the Mechanical Division of the Association of American Railroads.

[Subparagraph (7) added by Am. 18, 10 F.R. 4658, effective 5-1-45]

(h) Custom kiln drying and milling. Where Southern hardwood lumber, other than yellow cypress, is kiln dried or milled for the seller by a custom kiln or milling establishment and the custom kiln or milling establishment is not owned or operated by or connected with the sawmill, the seller may add the actual cost of the kiln drying or milling, under circumstances permitted in, and in amounts not greater than, the maximum prices established by the applicable regulation covering custom kiln drying and/or milling services.

Custom kiln drying and milling for yellow cypress are covered under § 1382.115, Appendix D.

[Paragraph (h) added by Am. 4, 8 F.R. 5479, effective 4-29-43 and amended by Am. 19, effective 8-22-45]

The above additions shall be permitted only on the following conditions:

1. The purchaser's original inquiry or order covering the lumber desired must specifically state the "special" widths and/or lengths required. This original inquiry or order must be made a part of the seller's order file covering the particular transaction. This order file must also contain whatever correspondence passed between the purchaser and the seller in the particular transaction, together with a copy of the order as finally entered. In other words, this order file must show that the purchaser has not accepted lumber of specifications other than originally desired and that the seller is not in violation of any of the provisions of § 1382.105—Prohibited Practices—of this regulation.

2. A shipment of any "special" item, the price for which includes any addition provided for in this subdivision, must contain no other stock of the same species, grade and thickness and each special item must be invoiced at only one price. According to the National Hardwood Lumber Association Rules for the Measurement and Inspection of Hardwood Lumber, all width and length specifications are inclusive. For example:

a. A shipment against a "special" item specification, for instance for "8" and wider," or "8' and longer," or a combined width and length such as "8" and wider, 8' and longer", must contain no widths and/or lengths under the minimums specified and must contain all standard widths and/or lengths for the grade over the minimums specified.

b. A shipment against a "special" item specification priced under this paragraph (i) must not contain, or be invoiced to show, any other item in the same species of the same grade and thickness.

Example: 15,000' BM 4/4" No. 1 Com. & Sel. Sap Gum-Plain, 8" and wider, standard lengths, could not be shipped as 9,000' 4/4" No. 1 Com. & Sel. Sap Gum 8" width, standard lengths @ $58.00 and the various quantities of the other wider widths in the shipment billed as such at the "special" item prices in this section.

c. A shipment against a standard grade specification must not contain, or be invoiced to show, any "special" item of the same species, grade, and thickness which is priced under this subsection.

Example: An order for 15,000 feet BM 4/4" No. 1 Common and Selects Sap Gum-Plain could not be shipped as

10,000' 4/4" No. 1 Com. & Sel. Sap Gum @ $53.00

5,000' 8" wider @ $58.00.

NOTE: In each case the order specification is all inclusive with respect to the stock to be shipped.

Additions and adjustments. The provisions of paragraphs (d), (e), (f), (g) and (h) of this section relating to deduction for green, additions for kiln drying, mill working, miscellaneous additions, and custom kiln drying and milling are applicable to the price schedules set forth in this subsection (i).

Effect on special prices. The maximum prices mentioned in this subsection (i) supersede the maximum prices for like material previously authorized for individual sellers under the special pricing provisions of this regulation.

[Paragraph (i) added by Am. 18, 10 F.R. 4658, effective 5-1-45]

§ 1382.113 Appendix B: Maximum prices for hardwood lumber sold by "small mills". A "small mill" for the purpose of this section means only a mill in the Southern hardwood lumber region which produced, during no consecutive twelve-month period since October 1941, more than one and a half million feet of hardwood lumber or more than four million feet of softwood and hardwood lumber combined.

A "small mill" may sell on grade according to the provisions of the other sections of the regulation if it is willing to take full responsibility for the accuracy of its grading and if it does not wish to sell according to the provisions of this section.

[Above paragraph added by Am. 19, effective 8-22-45]

Lumber cut to dry to:
Thicknesses of 1", 1½" and 1¼"	$32.00
Thicknesses of 2"	29.00
Thicknesses over 2"	28.00

The maximum price for the full product of the logs of ungraded Southern hardwood lumber produced by small mills located in that portion of the State of Virginia within the Southern hardwood area, of any species or combination of species in green or dry condition, is $2.00 per 1,000 feet board measure higher than the prices above.

[Paragraph (a) amended by Am. 17, 10 F.R. 2929, effective 3-16-45]

(b) Graded hardwood lumber—Maximum prices. Only a "small mill" which has registered as such with OPA as required by paragraph (f) below, which does not grade its own hardwood lumber, and which does not sell ungraded hardwood lumber under (a) above, may sell hardwood lumber on grade subject to the maximum prices for the species, grades, and thicknesses established in this regulation under the following conditions:

[Subparagraph (1) amended by Am. 15, 10 F.R. 1788, effective 2-17-45]

(2) Buyer's inspection — (i) Eligible buyers. A "small mill" may sell hardwood lumber on buyer's inspection at graded hardwood lumber prices to a buyer authorized under the provisions of paragraph (d) of this section by the Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C., to buy on his own inspection.

(ii) Maximum prices. The maximum prices for this type of sale shall be the applicable maximum prices established in this regulation for the particular species, grades, and thicknesses of hardwood lumber, less 5%. Buyer's inspection on truck or rail shipments may be made at either the point of origin or at destination.

[Subparagraph (ii) amended by Am. 15]

(3) Residue sales. A small mill which sells hardwood lumber on grade on National Hardwood Lumber Association or authorized buyer's inspection may sell any of its hardwood lumber ungraded at not more than $20 per 1,000 feet board measure.

(c) Buyer's application. In order to obtain authorization to buy hardwood lumber on grade by his own inspection, a buyer must apply to the Lumber Branch, Office of Price Administration, Washington 25, D. C., and submit the following information:

(1) Whether it was his continuous procedure before October 15, 1941 to buy hardwood lumber principally on separate species, grades and thicknesses as determined by his own inspection according to the effective rules issued by the National Hardwood Lumber Association and at a separate price for each item. If so, copies of settlement sheets and bills showing payment on this basis are to be submitted.

(2) Whether the efficiency, facilities and practices of his inspection procedure have been maintained.

(3) Names of inspectors, and for each inspector his period of employment by the buyer and his previous experience and employment in grading hardwood lumber.

(d) Buyer's authorization. Permission to purchase graded hardwood lumber on buyer's inspection, and on authorization number, will be given by the Administrator, or person delegated by him, if, in his judgment, the buyer is qualified to purchase on his own grading. The authorization will be denied or withdrawn if it is found that any material statements in the application were false or do not apply due to a change in circumstances, or that the hardwood lumber has been graded inaccurately by the buyer to such an extent as to show either intentional false grading, incompetence or negligence in grading. Where buyer's grading indicates abnormally high grade realization, the buyer's authorization may, in the absence of adequate explanation, be revoked. The buyer shall be held fully responsible for the grading. In addition to withdrawal of permission, the buyer, of course, is subject to the usual penalties imposed by law for any violation of this regulation.

After authorization is granted, the buyer must notify the Lumber Branch of the Office of Price Administration, Washington 25, D. C., of any changes in his position affecting his ability to inspect and grade hardwood lumber.

(e) Records. (1) The buyer shall furnish the seller a true copy of the inspection report and both the seller and the buyer shall maintain adequate records of each sale or purchase of hardwood lumber on buyer's inspection for a period of at least two years or for the duration of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, whichever is shorter. These records must show the buyer's authorization number, the name of the seller and of the buyer, the date of sale, the footage of each species, grade and thickness of hardwood lumber, the moisture condition (whether green, air-dried, or kiln-dried), the itemized prices received and paid therefor and a statement from the seller that he is qualified to sell on buyer's inspection under this section.

[Subparagraph (1) amended by Am. 15]

(2) The buyer shall submit quarterly to the Lumber Branch, Washington 25, D. C., a statement of the volume of his purchases of hardwood lumber on his own inspection broken down to show the total for each species by grades and thicknesses.

(f) Registration of sellers. Within 30 days from February 17, 1945, or, in the case of new sellers, within 30 days of the first sale under this section, every mill which does not sell its hardwood lumber on grade on its own inspection, must file a statement with the Lumber Branch of the Office of Price Administration, Washington 25, D. C., indicating which type of sales it will make under this § 1382.113. Any change in selling method thereafter made must be approved in writing by the Administrator upon application for approval of such change made to the Lumber Branch of the Office of Price Administration, Washington 25, D. C.

[Paragraph (f) amended by Am. 15, 10 F.R. 1788, effective 2-17-45]

(g) Prohibited practices. To prevent evasion of this section the following practices are prohibited unless changes in selling methods have been approved by the Administrator under paragraph (f) above:

(1) Sales of hardwood lumber on grade, by a "small mill" that has been selling ungraded lumber.

(2) Sales of ungraded hardwood lumber, or graded hardwood lumber on buyer's inspection, by seller's previously selling on their own inspection.

(3) Sales of ungraded hardwood lumber or graded hardwood lumber on his own inspection by a seller who has been selling graded hardwood lumber on buyer's inspection.

[Subparagraph (3) amended by Am. 15]

(4) Sales of hardwood lumber priced on grade by inspection of an unauthorized buyer.

(5) Sales of ungraded lumber under paragraph (a) which is not substantially the run of the log in the thickness sold.

(6) Sales of ungraded hardwood lumber by a seller who has been selling graded hardwood lumber.

[Subparagraph (6) added by Am. 15]

The maximum price for lumber sold in any such manner shall be $20 per 1,000 feet board measure. The establishment of a maximum price of $20 per 1,000 feet board measure for such lumber does not mean that these sales are permitted, but is established solely for the purpose of providing a fair and equitable basis for determining the amount of overcharges in the event that such sales take place.

However, anything contained herein to the contrary notwithstanding, any mill may sell the products covered by Third Revised Maximum Price Regulation 216 [1]—Eastern Railroad Ties, or by Maximum Price Regulation 558 [2]—Eastern Wooden Mine Material and Industrial Blocking, or any superseding regulations at the applicable prices under such regulations.

(h) Delivery. The maximum prices of hardwood lumber under paragraph (a) in this section include loading on rail cars within 30 miles or delivery for 30 miles or less. Where delivery or car loading is over 30 miles, a charge of 10 cents per 1,000 feet board measure for each mile over 30 and up to 100 miles may be made, with no addition for the return trip. For example, if delivery is made for 50 miles, a delivery charge of $2 per 1,000 feet board measure may be added. If delivery is over 100 miles, the charge to be added may be only the carload rail freight for the whole distance from the nearest rail loading-out point to destination.

If the seller does not load the lumber on rail cars or provide delivery within 30 miles, or if it is necessary for the buyer to incur any delivery or loading expense within the 30 miles (except rail freight), the prices for hardwood lumber must be reduced by $2.50 per 1,000 feet board measure. Maximum delivery charges on sales made under paragraph (b) of this section shall be the charges set forth in § 1382.103.

Notwithstanding the provisions of the foregoing of paragraph (h), if the United States Army Port of Embarkation, Hampton Roads, Virginia, requests diversion of lumber from Newport News, Virginia, to Norfolk, Virginia, or from Norfolk, Virginia, to Newport News, Virginia, which diversion is contrary to the provisions of the contract covering the sale of the lumber, a charge may be made for the actual ferry charges incurred between the points of Newport News and Norfolk, Virginia provided a ferry receipt showing payment of such charges is attached to the invoice.

[Paragraph (h) amended by Am. 15, 10 F.R. 1788, effective 2-17-45 and Am. 17, 10 F.R. 2929, effective 3-16-45]

(i) Intermediate sellers. Any person who acts as a selling agent for "small mills", and does not take title to the lumber, stands in the same position as the mills whose lumber he sells.

(j) Sales to United States Government or any of its agencies. The United States Government or any of its agencies may purchase hardwood lumber on buyer's inspection without authorization from the Office of Price Administration.

[§ 1382.113 added by Am. 14, 10 F.R. 595, effective 1-18-45; and amended as otherwise noted]

[Former § 1382.113 added by Am. 5, 8 F.R. 8860, effective 7-2-43 and revoked by Am. 7, 8 F.R. 11161, effective 8-14-43]

lachian hardwoods area shall be deemed to be outside the Appalachian hardwoods area, except that mills in West Virginia and Maryland on the lines touching Pennsylvania and Ohio shall be deemed to be in the Appalachian area.

(b) Any sawmill located in the Southern hardwoods area, which satisfies all of the following requirements can sell its red oak and white oak lumber at the maximum prices established in § 1382.64 (b) (21), (22), (23), (24) and (25) of Maximum Price Regulation No. 155 [1] (Central Hardwood Lumber).

(1) The mill must certify in a letter to the Lumber Branch of the Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C., that (i) during the previous calendar month more than 45 percent of the hardwood lumber produced by the mill (either from logs or from rough lumber) was red and/or white oak and at least 85 percent of the oak logs and lumber received at the mill were obtained from logging operations or concentration yards located in the South Central hardwoods area (as defined in § 1382.58 (a) (4) (ii) of Maximum Price Regulation No. 155) and the counties of Tennessee not included in that area; (ii) the mill agrees to maintain these proportions during each calendar month in the future; (iii) the mill agrees not to purchase in the future, either directly or indirectly, any red or white oak stumpage or logs in the Southern hardwoods area at prices higher than the prices paid by the mill for the most comparable stumpage or logs purchased during March 1942; and (iv) the mill agrees that any oak lumber purchased by it in the future, either directly or indirectly, in the Southern hardwoods area will not be resold by it at prices higher than the maximum prices established in this Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 97.

(2) The mill has been approved and certified by the Office of Price Administration as having qualified under this paragraph and the certification and the firm name and location of the mill have been published in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

(3) The mill agrees to and does certify to the Lumber Branch of the Office of Price Administration at the end of each following calendar month that during that month the mill satisfied all the requirements mentioned above.

The Office of Price Administration may at any time withdraw its approval and certification.

For size:

6. For any average width, charge the specified width prices for the widths shipped.
7. Extra standard thickness or width other than American lumber standards, add $1.50 when stock is dressed clean. No addition may be made for extra standard thickness or width, bit or miss dressing.

For length:

8. For precision cutting to a specified exact length, with tolerance of not more than 1/4" allowed, add $1.50. No addition is permitted for customary double end trimming.

Box, all thicknesses	3.00	3.00	5.00

11. Any length 6' or shorter, cut to a specified exact length, all grades (except No. 1 shop and box) charge the standard length price and add $1.50 for each necessary cross cut, but the total charge may not exceed $6.00 and must be based on the nearest standard multiple length. No additional charge may be made for precision cutting. If length breaks on even one half foot, compute footage on actual length, otherwise compute on 6" breaks, on the next break above. This footnote covers lengths under 6' in No. 1 shop and under 4' in box.
12. No additional charge may be made when 18' and 20' are excluded from standard lengths, either at request of buyer or through inability of seller to supply. (For other working, condition, grade and handling additions and deductions, see table 11.)

SECTION 1. What this regulation covers—(a) Transactions covered. This regulation applies to all wholesale sales of new rubber tires and tubes for automobiles, trucks, busses, trailers, off-the-road equipment, farm implements, tractors, industrial equipment, motorcycles and aircraft. "Rubber" means substitute rubber and all forms and types of rubber, including scrap, synthetic, balata, and reclaimed rubber. "Synthetic rubber tires and tubes" means tires and tubes which contain any synthetic rubber and which are marked with the symbols designated by the War Production Board, Rubber Bureau, to identify them as containing synthetic rubber. A tire or tube, other than aircraft tires or tubes, is "new" if it has been used less than 1,000 miles. An aircraft tire or tube is "new" if it has never been used. "Wholesale sale" means a sale to a buyer who purchases for resale and not for his own use. New tires which the manufacturer or brand owner has found defective and not repairable and which such manufacturer or brand owner has slashed or otherwise mutilated prior to his delivery to any person shall be deemed scrap rubber and the maximum prices thereof shall be determined in accordance with the provisions of Revised Price Schedule 87.[3]

(b) Certain transactions not covered. (1) Maximum Price Regulation 415[4] covers sales to any agency of the United States Government.

(2) The Second Revised Maximum Export Price Regulation[4] covers export sales and sales to exporters.

(c) Relation to other regulations. This regulation supersedes any other regulation issued by the Office of Price Administration, as to transactions covered by this regulation.

(d) Geographical applicability. This regulation applies in the 48 states of the United States, the District of Columbia, and the territories and possessions of the United States. However, as to sales in Puerto Rico, all references in this regulation to March 1942 shall be changed to April 10 to May 10, 1942, inclusive.

SEC. 2. Prohibition against sales at prices above the maximum. On and after the effective date of this regulation, no person shall sell or deliver new rubber tires or tubes at wholesale, and no person shall buy or receive such tires or tubes in the course of trade or business, at a price higher than the maximum price fixed by this regulation, regardless of any contract or other obligation. No person shall agree, offer, solicit or attempt to do any of the foregoing. Lower prices may, of course, be charged.

SEC. 3. Sales by manufacturers and private brands owners—(a) What this section covers. This section covers all wholesale sales by manufacturers and private brand owners except sales of factory seconds and factory rejects and sales by manufacturers to brand owners and other sales under cost-plus contracts. (Sales of factory seconds and factory rejects are covered by section 6; sales by manufacturers to brand owners and other sales under cost-plus contracts are covered by section 5.)

[Paragraph (a) amended by Am. 4, 10 F.R. 3013, effective 3-26-44; Am. 5, 10 F.R. 3947, effective 4-16-45; and Am. 6, 10 F.R. 3979, effective 4-15-45]

(b) Maximum prices. (1) This regulation does not require sellers and buyers to quote or compute wholesale selling prices by any particular method. The only restriction resulting from this regulation is that the net wholesale selling price, expressed in dollars and cents, when computed or quoted by the seller and buyer by the method chosen by them, shall not exceed the net wholesale price, expressed in dollars and cents, resulting from the application of the provisions of this regulation. (For example, a buyer and seller may agree to compute wholesale prices for synthetic rubber passenger car tires by applying discounts to the maximum retail prices fixed by Section 16 of Revised Maximum Price Regulation 528 for such tires: Provided, That wholesale prices so computed do not exceed those determined under this section.) Prices lower than the maximum prices may, of course, be offered, demanded, charged or paid at all times and under any circumstances.

(2) (i) Aircraft tires and tubes. The maximum wholesale price shall be determined by using each seller's own percentage discount. Such discount shall be determined by computing the dollar-and-cent difference between the highest net wholesale price charged the particular class of buyer on deliveries made during January 1945 (if no delivery was made during January 1945, to a particular class, use the highest net wholesale price offered to that class during January 1945), and the maximum retail price as established by Revised Maximum Price Regulation 528 on that size and type of tire or tube. For any size which the brand owner did not deliver or offer for delivery during January 1945, to a buyer of a particular class, he shall use the discount computed as above provided for the most comparable size in the same brand and type.

(ii) All other tires and tubes. The maximum wholesale price shall be determined by using the percentage discount which the seller had in effect to buyers of the same class during March 1942, on sales of each particular size, type, and brand of tire or tube. Each discount used shall be expressed as a percentage of the maximum retail price in effect during March 1942, and shall be determined by computing the dollar-and-cent differences between the highest net wholesale price charged the particular class of buyer on deliveries made during March 1942 (if no delivery was made during March 1942, to a particular class, use the highest net wholesale price offered to that class during March 1942), and the maximum retail price in effect during March 1942, on that size, type, and brand of tire or tube. For any size which the brand owner did not deliver or offer for delivery during March 1942, to a buyer of a particular class, he shall use the discount computed as provided above for the most comparable size in the same brand and type.

"Maximum retail price" as used in this regulation does not include the 16 percent increase resulting from the dealer tire return plan.

(3) The discounts under (2) above shall be used as follows to determine the applicable maximum wholesale prices:

(i) Passenger car and motorcycle tires. The discounts to be used shall be the discounts computed under (2) above for each size in the seller's 100-level brand which he sold during March 1942. "100-level brand" means the seller's brand which during March 1942 had a retail maximum price for the 6.00–16, four ply, passenger car tire nearest $14.75, for a manufacturer's brand, or $13.25 for a private brand, and in the case of motorcycle tires, the seller's brand which had a retail maximum price for the 4.50–18, four ply tire nearest $10.80. To determine the maximum wholesale price for each size of tire, the 100-level discounts shall be applied to the prices listed in Appendix I of this regulation. However, the maximum wholesale price may be increased by an amount not to exceed the amount specified in Appendix I of this regulation for each size and ply of tire.

(ii) Passenger car and motorcycle tubes. The discounts to be used shall be the discounts computed under (2) above for each size in the seller's brand whose maximum retail price, in the case of passenger car tubes, was nearest $3.65 for the 6.00–16 size, and in the case of motorcycle tubes, was nearest $2.20 for the 4.50–18 size. To determine the wholesale maximum price, these discounts shall be applied to the maximum retail prices fixed by Section 16 of Revised Maximum Price Regulation 528 for such tubes.

(iii) Tires and tubes other than passenger car and motorcycle. The discounts to be used shall be the discounts determined under (2) above for the same size, type, and brand of tire or tube as the tire or tube being priced. To determine the maximum wholesale price these discounts shall be applied to the maximum retail price fixed by Section 16 of Revised Maximum Price Regulation 528 for the tire or tube being priced. However, in the case of such tires (except farm tractor, implement and aircraft tires), the maximum wholesale price may be increased by an amount not to exceed 5 per cent of the maximum retail price. (No adjustment resulting in a higher wholesale price may be made in the case of tubes or farm tractor, implement and aircraft tires.)

SEC. 4. Sales by sellers other than brand owners—(a) What this section covers. This section covers all wholesale sales by sellers other than brand owners, except sales of factory seconds and factory rejects. (Sales of factory seconds and factory rejects are covered by section 6.)

[Paragraph (a) amended by Am. 4, 10 F.R. 3013, effective 3-26-45 and Am. 6, 10 F.R. 3979, effective 4-15-45]

(b) Method of quoting or computing prices. This regulation does not require sellers and buyers to quote or compute wholesale selling prices by any particular method. The only restriction resulting from this regulation is that the net wholesale selling prices, expressed in dollars and cents, when computed or quoted by the seller and buyer by the method chosen by them, shall not exceed the net wholesale price, expressed in dollars and cents, resulting from the application of the provisions of this regulation. (For example, a buyer and seller may agree to compute wholesale prices for synthetic rubber passenger car tires by applying discounts to the maximum retail prices fixed by section 16 of Revised Maximum Price Regulation 528 for such tires, provided that wholesale prices so computed do not exceed those determined under this section.) Prices lower than the maximum prices may, of course, be offered, demanded, charged or paid at all times and under any circumstances.

[Paragraph (b) amended by Am. 4]

(c) Maximum prices. (1) The maximum wholesale price for sales of synthetic rubber passenger car or motorcycle tires shall be the price listed in Appendix II of this regulation for the respective size, type, and ply.

(2) The maximum wholesale price for sales of all other tires and all tubes shall be determined by deducting the following minimum discounts from the maximum retail prices fixed by section 16 of Revised Maximum Price Regulation 528 for the particular size, type and ply:

	Percent
All tires except aircraft	25
Aircraft tires	24
All tubes except farm tractor and aircraft	35
Farm tractor tubes	25
Aircraft tubes	25–5

[Paragraph (c) amended by Am. 1, 9 F.R. 7260, effective 7-5-44; Am. 2, 9 F.R. 12270, effective 10-14-44; Am. 3, 9 F.R. 14724, effective 12-15-44; Am. 4, 10 F.R. 3013, effective 3-26-45; and Am. 6, 10 F.R. 3979, effective 4-15-45]

(d) Other discounts. (1) A seller who, prior to the effective date of this revised regulation, had established under Maximum Price Regulation 143 a maximum wholesale price to a particular buyer which represented a smaller discount (excluding any add-on) than the applicable minimum discount set forth in (c) above, may determine maximum wholesale prices to that buyer for any brand by using such lower discount instead of the discount specified in (c), provided he files with the District Office of the Office of Price Administration for the district in which he is located, on or before August 15, 1944, a report including the following information:

(i) The name and address of the buyer.

(ii) The smallest discount or discounts that he proposes to give the particular buyer on future purchases of tires and tubes.

(iii) The smallest legal discount given this buyer prior to the effective date of this regulation, and the date of the last such sale.

(iv) The largest discount that he was required, under Maximum Price Regulation 143, to give to this particular buyer on any brand of tires and on any brand of tubes actually sold to him prior to the effective date of this revised regulation.

(v) A statement that the discount reported under (iii) above was properly determined under Maximum Price Regulation 143 prior to the effective date of this revised regulation.

(2) The Price Administrator or any Regional Administrator, or any District Director so authorized by his Regional Administrator, may disapprove or adjust discounts reported under this paragraph upon a determination that such discounts were not properly established under Maximum Price Regulation 143 prior to the effective date of this revised regulation, or that the discounts reported yield higher maximum prices than those applicable to the bulk of the seller's sales to the particular buyer prior to the effective date of this revised regulation.

SEC. 5. Manufacturers' sales to brand owners and other cost-plus sales—(a) Applicability of this section. This section covers sales of new rubber tires or tubes (whether they are made of natural, synthetic, or reclaimed rubber) by the manufacturer to the brand owner of the tires or tubes, even though the purchasing brand owner may also be a tire or tube manufacturer. This section also covers sales to any buyer to whom the seller was selling tires or tubes pursuant to a cost-plus contract during March 1942. This section does not cover factory second or factory reject tires and tubes, which are covered by section 6.

[Paragraph (a) amended by Am. 4, 10 F.R. 3013, effective 3-26-45]

(b) Maximum prices. A manufacturer may determine maximum prices under this section for sales to a particular buyer pursuant to any one of the methods set forth in subparagraphs (1), (2), (3), (7) or (8) below. However, after selecting any one of these methods for determining maximum prices for sales to a particular buyer, the manufacturer may not use another method for determining maximum prices to that buyer without written permission to do so from the Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C.

[Above paragraph amended by Am. 5, 10 F.R. 3947, effective 4-16-45 and Am. 8, effective 8-23-45]

(1) Fixed price per tire or tube. The maximum wholesale prices under this subparagraph shall be determined upon the manufacturer's first sale or delivery of each size and type of tire or tube to the particular buyer by applying to the cost (determined according to subparagraph (5)) of the particular size and type of tire or tube the percentage mark-up (determined according to subparagraph (6)) applicable to that buyer. The price so established shall be the maximum wholesale price for all deliveries of that size and type of tire or tube to that buyer for a period, agreed upon by the seller and buyer, of not less than three months or more than six months. The manufacturer must report such prices to the Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C., as required by paragraph (c). At least thirty days before the end of the first period agreed upon by the seller and the buyer, and at least thirty days before the end of each subsequent period, the manufacturer must file another report containing the information required by paragraph (c) (1) (vi), and must determine his maximum prices for each subsequent period on the basis of the unit costs filed in such report.

(2) Aggregate prices for all sales during an accounting period. The aggregate maximum prices for all sales during an accounting period agreed upon by the buyer and seller (not less than three months nor more than one year) of all types and sizes of tires or tubes to that buyer during that period, shall be determined by applying to the aggregate costs (determined according to subparagraph (5)) the percentage mark-up (determined according to subparagraph (6)) applicable to that buyer. The seller must file a report with the Office of Price Administration in accordance with paragraph (c) and thereafter the seller may not change the accounting period without written permission to do so from the Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C.

(3) Freeze of March 1942 cost-plus contracts. If during March 1942, the seller had in effect with a particular buyer a written cost-plus contract, he may file a copy of such contract with the Office of Price Administration for approval. Such contract, if approved by the Office of Price Administration, shall determine his maximum prices for sales to that buyer. The Office of Price Administration will approve such a contract if it is consistent with the requirements of this regulation in regard to costs, mark-up and accounting period.

(4) Limitation on prices determined under (1) to (3) above. Notwithstanding the provisions of (1) to (3) above, a maximum price determined under this section may not exceed the maximum price of the seller to his lowest price class of buyer on sales of his own (manufacturer's) brand unless the seller receives written permission from the Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C., to apply subparagraphs (1) to (3) without this limitation. Such permission will be granted only if the seller shows that such action is consistent with the normal relationship between the seller's prices on sales of his own brand to his lowest price class of buyer and his prices to the particular buyer for whom a price is being determined under this section. If the seller has elected to determine his price under (1) above, no individual size or type of tire or tube may be sold at a price which exceeds the limitations imposed by this subparagraph (4). If the seller has elected to determine his maximum prices under (2) or (3) above, the aggregate amount collected during the accounting period may not exceed the aggregate price resulting from the limitation imposed by this subparagraph.

If the buyer receives from the seller a written statement that the price charged does not exceed the maximum price permitted by this subparagraph, the buyer shall be deemed to have complied with this subparagraph.

(5) Computation of cost. The cost of any particular size or type of tire or tube or the aggregate costs for all types and sizes delivered to a particular buyer shall be the sum total of direct labor cost, direct material cost including waste, factory overhead, warehousing and shipping expense, administrative expense, and other commercial expense. The method of computing costs shall be the same method actually used during the ninety day period selected under subparagraph (6). If the seller elects to determine his maximum price under (1) above, the cost shall be the actual costs of producing and selling the tire or tube to the particular buyer for the last complete quarter prior to the filing of the report required by this section. If the seller made no sales to the particular buyer during the last complete quarter prior to the filing of such report, he shall use estimated current costs of producing and selling the tires or tubes to the particular buyer rather than actual costs. However, within sixty days after the first three months of actual production of the tires or tubes for the particular buyer, the seller must file the report required by paragraph (c) using actual costs for the three-month period. If the seller elects to determine his maximum price under (2) above, the cost shall be the aggregate actual costs of producing and selling all tires and tubes sold to the particular buyer during the accounting period for which a maximum aggregate price is being determined.

(6) Computation of mark-up. The percentage mark-up to be applied under (1) or (2) above shall be the average mark-up on all sales of tires and tubes to the particular buyer during any ninety-day period between July 1, 1941, and December 31, 1941. The mark-up shall be determined by subtracting from the total aggregate net sales of tires and tubes to the particular buyer during the period selected, the total actual aggregate costs as described in subparagraph (5) above, and expressing the remainder as a percentage of the total aggregate costs. If the seller made no sales to the particular buyer between July 1, 1941, and December 31, 1941, he shall use a percentage mark-up consistent with percentage mark-ups determined under this section.

(7) Optional pricing for sales of tubes. Notwithstanding any other provision of this paragraph, a manufacturer may determine his maximum price for sales of new rubber tubes to the brand owner of the tubes by deducting a minimum discount of sixty percent from the maximum retail price of each tube of a given size and type determined in accordance with section 16 of Revised Maximum Price Regulation 528.

[Subparagraph (7) added by Am. 5, 10 F.R. 3947, effective 4-16-45]

(8) Notwithstanding any other provision of this paragraph a manufacturer, upon written agreement with the brand owner, may establish the maximum price for sales of new rubber tires to the brand owner of the tires at the same level as the maximum price of the seller to his lowest price class of buyer on sales of his own (manufacturer's) brand. A copy of this agreement must be filed with the Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C.

(c) Reports and approvals of prices. (1) A manufacturer who determines any maximum prices under paragraph (b) (1) of this section shall file the report required by this paragraph with the Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C., within thirty days after the effective date of this regulation or within ten days after the particular buyer first agrees to buy tires or tubes for which a maximum price must be determined under this section, whichever is later.

A manufacturer may not accept payment for any such tires or tubes (unless specifically authorized to do so by the Office of Price Administration) until the reported maximum prices are approved by the Office of Price Administration. The reported maximum prices, however, shall be deemed to be approved unless within twenty days after the mailing of the report (or within twenty days after the mailing of any additional information which may have been requested), the Office of Price Administration notifies the manufacturer that his reported maximum prices have been disapproved or that action thereon has been deferred pending receipt of further information. The Office of Price Administration may approve or disapprove, and may at any time after approval, correct maximum prices reported under this section so as to make them consistent with the level of maximum prices established by this section.

The report to be filed by the manufacturer shall contain the following information:

(i) Name and address of the brand owner, and the brand or brands of tires or tubes being priced.

(ii) Total aggregate net sales of tires and tubes to the particular brand owner during any ninety-day period between July 1, 1941, and December 31, 1941 (specifying the ninety-day period used).

(iii) Total actual aggregate costs applicable to sales reported in (ii) above showing as separate sub-totals:

(a) Total factory costs.
(b) Total warehousing and shipping expense.
(c) Total administrative expense.
(d) Total other commercial expense, if any.

(iv) A description of the method used in determining items (b), (c), and (d) under (iii) above.

(v) The percentage mark-up on cost resulting from sales during period selected in (ii) above. (If the seller made no sales to the particular buyer between July 1, 1941, and December 31, 1941, he shall report the mark-up requested and state why it is consistent with other mark-ups determined to this section.)

(vi) Unit costs (showing same subtotals required in (iii) above) for each size and type of tire or tube for which a maximum price is being determined. The costs reported shall be actual costs of producing and selling the tire or tube to the particular buyer for the last complete quarter prior to the filing of the report, computed by the same method of computing costs as the method actually used during the ninety-day period reported under (ii). If no sales were made to the particular buyer during that quarter, estimated current production and sales expenses shall be reported for each size. If estimated costs must be used, the information required by this subdivision (vi) shall be refiled with the Office of Price Administration not later than sixty days after the first three months of production and sales to the particular buyer. At the time of refiling, actual costs for the three-month period shall be reported for each size and type of tire or tube, and new prices must be reported based on such actual costs.

(2) A manufacturer who determines any maximum prices under subparagraph (b) (2) of this section shall submit reports as required under subparagraph (1) above, but need not include the information required by subdivision (vi).

(d) Records required by this section. Any manufacturer who determines any maximum prices under paragraph (b) (2) or (b) (3) of this section shall keep for inspection by the Office of Price Administration so long as the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, remains in effect, accurate records for each particular buyer whose maximum prices are determined under this section. The records shall include total aggregate costs showing sub-totals for factory costs, warehousing and shipping expense, administrative expense, and other commercial expense, computed by the same method of computing costs as the method actually used during the ninety-day period reported under (c). The requirements of this paragraph (d) are in addition to the record requirements set forth in section 10 for all sellers at wholesale.

SEC. 6. "Factory seconds" and "factory rejects". (a) A "factory second" tire or tube is a new tire or tube which the manufacturer or brand owner has found to be defective in his final inspection and from which the brand name has been removed by the manufacturer or brand owner, or upon which he has placed a special identifying mark. "Factory second" also includes any damaged new tire which has been reclassified as a Grade III tire under OPA tire rationing regulations. Notwithstanding the provisions of sections 3, 4, and 5 of this revised regulation, the maximum prices for factory second tires and tubes shall be determined by deducting the following minimum discounts from the maximum wholesale price (including any increase permitted by section 3 or 4) which would apply if the tire or tube were not a factory second:

	Percent
All tubes	25
Passenger car tires	25
All other tires	20

(b) A "factory reject" tire or tube is a new tire or tube which the manufacturer, prior to delivery to any person, has prominently branded in the case of a tire, or stamped in the case of a tube, with the word "Reject"; and, in the case of a tire, requires a reliner, sectional (or reinforcement) repair, or a complete or partial new tread to be made serviceable.

(1) Notwithstanding the provisions of sections 3, 4, and 5 of this revised regulation, the maximum prices for factory reject tires and tubes which have been repaired in accordance with the quality specifications in section 15 of Revised Maximum Price Regulation 528, shall be determined by computing the price for each tire or tube in accordance with (a) of this section, as though such tire or tube were a factory second, and deducting from such factory second price, an additional minimum discount of 25 percent of the maximum price which would apply if the tire or tube were a factory second.

(2) Notwithstanding the provisions of sections 3, 4, and 5 of this revised regulation the maximum prices for factory reject tires and tubes which have not been repaired in accordance with the quality specifications in section 15 of Revised Maximum Price Regulation 528, shall be determined by computing the price for such tire or tube in accordance with (1) above, as though such tire or tube were a repaired factory reject and deducting from such repaired factory reject price an additional minimum discount of 40 percent of the maximum price which would apply if the tire or tube were a repaired factory reject.

[Sec 6 amended by Am. 4, 10 F.R. 3013, effective 3-26-45]

SEC. 7. Tires and tubes which cannot be priced under any other section. (a) The maximum wholesale price for sales of tires or tubes which cannot be priced under any other section shall be a price consistent with the level of maximum wholesale prices fixed by this regulation, specifically authorized by the Office of Price Administration or calculated by the seller after specific authorization from the Office of Price Administration. In each case covered by this section, the seller must file with the Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C., a report containing the following information before offering the tires or tubes for sale:

(1) A description of the tire or tube for which a maximum price is sought, including the type, brand name, size, number of plies, and construction.

(2) A statement of the reasons why such tires or tubes cannot be priced under any other section.

(3) A proposed maximum retail price, and proposed maximum wholesale prices for all classes of buyers for whom maximum wholesale prices are to be established.

(4) A description of the proposed pricing method and a statement of the reasons why he believes that the use of this method will result in maximum prices which are consistent with the level of maximum wholesale prices fixed by this regulation.

(b) No seller required to report a maximum price under this section may offer the tires or tubes for sale (unless specifically authorized to do so by the Office of Price Administration) until the proposed maximum price is approved by the Office of Price Administration. The proposed maximum price, however, shall be deemed to be approved unless, within twenty days after mailing of the report (or within twenty days after the mailing of all additional information which may have been requested), the Office of Price Administration notifies the seller that his proposed maximum price has been disapproved or that action thereon has been deferred pending receipt of further information.

(c) The Office of Price Administration may approve or disapprove, and may at any time after approval, correct maximum wholesale prices proposed or established under this section so as to bring them into proper relationship with the level of maximum wholesale prices otherwise established by this regulation, and in connection with the approval or correction of such prices may issue orders establishing maximum prices for retail sales as well.

SEC. 8. Federal and State taxes. The Federal excise tax on new tires and tubes, if stated separately by the seller, may be added to the maximum wholesale prices of any new tires and tubes. Any other tax upon, or incident to, the sale, delivery, or processing or use of a tire or tube, imposed by any statute of the United States or statute or ordinance of any state or subdivision thereof, shall be treated as follows: If the statute or ordinance imposing such tax does not prohibit the seller from stating and collecting the tax separately from the purchase price and the seller does state it separately, the seller may collect, in addition to the maximum price, the amount of the tax actually paid by him or an amount equal to the amount of tax paid by any prior vendor and separately stated and collected from the seller by the vendor from whom he purchased.

SEC. 9. Adjustable pricing. Any person may agree to sell at a price which can be increased up to the maximum price in effect at the time of delivery; but no person may, unless authorized by the Office of Price Administration, deliver or agree to deliver at prices to be adjusted upward in accordance with action taken by the Office of Price Administration after delivery. Such authorization may be given when a request for a change in the applicable maximum price is pending, but only if the authorization is necessary to promote distribution or production and if it will not interfere with the purpose of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended. The authorization may be given by the Administrator or by any official of the Office of Price Administration to whom the authority to grant such authorization has been delegated. The authorization will be given by order.

SEC. 10. Records. Every person making a sale or purchase subject to this regulation, of new rubber tires or tubes, shall keep for inspection by the Office of Price Administration for so long as the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, remains in effect, accurate records of each such sale or purchase showing the date, the name and address of the buyer and seller, the price paid or received, the quantity of each brand, type, and size of new rubber tires or tubes sold or purchased, and whether made of natural or synthetic rubber.

SEC. 11. Licensing. The provisions of Licensing Order No. 1,[7] licensing all persons who make sales under price control, are applicable to all sellers subject to this regulation. A seller's license may be suspended for violations of this license or of one or more maximum price regulations. A person whose license is suspended may not, during the period of suspension, make any sales for which his license has been suspended.

SEC. 12. Evasion. The price limitations set forth in this regulation shall not be evaded by direct or indirect methods in connection with an offer, solicitation, agreement, sale, delivery, purchase or receipt of any tire or tube, alone or with any other commodity, or by way of commission, service, transportation or other charge, or by tying agreement or other trade understanding, or by making the terms and conditions of sale more burdensome to buyers than those available or in effect during March 1942, or by any other means. The substitution of a standard warranty, in line with that generally prevailing in the industry, for a road hazard warranty given with the sale of a tire or tube covered by this regulation, is not considered an evasion under this section.

[Last sentence added by Am. 8, effective 8-23-45]

SEC. 13. Enforcement. Persons violating any provisions of this regulation are subject to the criminal penalties, civil enforcement actions, license suspension proceedings, and suits for treble damages provided by the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended.

SEC. 14. Petitions for amendment. Any person seeking an amendment of any provisions of this regulation may file a petition for amendment in accordance with the provisions of Revised Procedural Regulation No. 1.[8] whose wholesale maximum prices are out of line with the level of maximum wholesale prices established for brand owners generally. Notwithstanding any other provisions of this regulation, the maximum wholesale prices for sales by such a brand owner may be determined under section 7 of this regulation. The brand owner must make application to the Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C., as required by section 7.

SEC. 15. Applications for adjustment. This section applies to a brand owner

Revised Maximum Price Regulation 206 is amended in the following respects:

1. Section 1.4 (c) is amended to read as follows:

(c) Maximum Price Regulation No. 188 as amended. The provisions of this revised regulation supersede Maximum Price Regulation 188, as amended, with respect to all sales and deliveries made by manufacturers where the shipment originates at the factory. ASPHALT TILE

A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this amendment, issued simultaneously herewith, has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.

Maximum Price Regulation 276 is amended in the following respects:

1. Section 1346.315 (g) is amended to read as follows:

(g) The proposed change of any style number or designation listed herein shall be reported to the Office of Price Administration, Building Materials Price Branch, Washington 25, D. C., at least 10 days prior to the use of any such changed style number or designation. [MPR 416, Amdt. 7]

BASIC REFRACTORY PRODUCTS

A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this amendment, issued simultaneously herewith, has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.

Maximum Price Regulation 416 is amended in the following respects:

1. Section 1.4 (e) is amended to read as follows:

(e) General Maximum Price Regulation and Maximum Price Regulation No. 188. The provisions of the General Maximum Price Regulation and Maximum Price Regulation 188 are superseded by this regulation with respect to sales or deliveries of basic refractory products which are subject to this regulation. However, Maximum Price Regulation No. 592 is applicable to the pricing of new basic refractory products as set forth in Articles IV to VI, inclusive.

2. Section 4.1 is amended to read as follows:

SEC. 4.1 Application. The provisions of this article shall apply to sales by all persons of basic refractory brick shipped from Plymouth Meeting or Chester, Pennsylvania, or Baltimore, Maryland.

However, this regulation does not apply to sales of refractory brick not listed in section 4.4, except to the extent that such sales exceed $50,000 worth of unlisted basic refractory brick during a period of one year from the effective date of this regulation (and for each successive year thereafter) or that such sales exceed 150 tons of any kind of unlisted basic refractory brick during such periods.

3. Section 4.7 is amended to read as follows:

SEC. 4.7 Changes in quality and new products. All manufacturers of basic refractory brick shall continue the same quality of basic refractory brick listed in section 4.4, hereof, as supplied to each class of customer during the first quarter of 1942. Each manufacturer may increase or decrease the ingredients used in the production of an established brand of basic refractory brick, or in the production of a new basic refractory brick in an amount not to exceed 15 percent, up or down, of a base of 100 percent of each of the ingredients which were used during the first quarter of 1942 in the established brand without having the brick considered as a new product which requires special pricing by the Office of Price Administration. However, the manufacturer may apply to the Office of Price Administration for the pricing of any new brick or any established brick which has been altered or changed within the limits of the aforesaid 15 percent in accordance with section 6 of Maximum Price Regulation No. 592. The increase or decrease of ingredients shall not limit the manufacturer in changing the type of grinding, burning, or any other factor in the manufacture of basic refractory brick.

If the change in the ingredients exceeds the 15 percent limit, such brick shall be considered a new product, and the manufacturer must establish a price for it in accordance with section 6 of Maximum Price Regulation No. 592 before offering the brick for sale.

This amendment shall become effective August 23, 1945.

Issued this 18th day of August 1945.

A rationale for this amendment has been issued simultaneously herewith and has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.

Control Order 1 is amended in the following respects:

1. The text of section 23 (g) (2) is redesignated section 23 (g) (2) (i).

2. Section 23 (g) (2) (i) is amended by substituting for the first sentence the following: "If a slaughterer customarily keeps combined records of meat and other items he may make deliveries of meat, and make his reports and keep his records, under this section, as if all the deliveries covered by those records were of meat only, but only if the items other than meat covered by such records do not exceed 5% by weight of the total, and not more than 2% of the total, by weight, consists of items which are not meat under this section and are not rationed under Revised Ration Order 16."

3. Section 23 (g) (2) (ii) is added to read as follows:

(ii) A slaughterer who has more than one Class 1 or Class 2 slaughtering establishment may, for the purposes of this section, group two or more of them together and treat the group as one slaughtering establishment, if he customarily maintains a central office for the group, at which he keeps combined records of the inventory, production, acquisitions, and transfers of meat of all the establishments in the group. If he is a Class 1 or Class 2A slaughterer as to any of the establishments included in the group, he shall, for the purposes of this section, be considered a Class 1 or Class 2A slaughterer as to the group; otherwise he shall be considered a Class 2B slaughterer as to the group. If a slaughterer wishes to operate under this provision, he must submit a written notice stating that he proposes to operate under it, and giving the names and addresses of the slaughtering establishments which he proposes to treat as a group under this section, and the name and address of the central office at which he keeps the combined records for the group. If he is a Class 1 or Class 2A slaughterer as to the group, he must submit the notice to the Washington Office. If he is a Class 2B slaughterer as to the group, he must submit the statement to the District Office for the area in which the central office for the group is located. After giving such notice, such group of establishments shall, for the purposes of this section, be treated as one slaughtering establishment at the central office maintained by him for the group. However, if after giving such notice he wishes to treat separately, under this section, one or more of the establishments included by him in the group, he must apply for, and obtain permission to do so from, the same office to which he gave the notice mentioned above. Such permission will be granted only if and to the extent consistent with the maintenance of the same distribution pattern with respect to the slaughterer's meat as he had during his first three full reporting periods in 1944.

This amendment shall become effective on August 22, 1945.

In determining type of a malt beverage for the purposes of this regulation, class subdivisions under Regulations No. 7 shall be disregarded.

5. The names and addresses of the wholesalers to whom he proposes to sell as a "primary wholesaler" and the brands he intends to sell to each of them.
6. Any other pertinent information applicant desires to submit:

Regional Administrators are hereby authorized to grant authority by order to applicants to price their sales as primary wholesalers. If within 30 days after receipt of the application by the appropriate Regional Office of the Office of Price Administration the applicant shall not receive written notice of denial of the application, the authority requested therein shall be deemed granted. The authority so granted may be revoked at any time by order issued by the appropriate Regional Office of the Office of Price Administration. Any District Director of the Office of Price Administration if authorized by order of his Regional Administrator shall have and may exercise like authority with respect to applications filed under this section.

Any wholesaler who qualified and sold domestic malt beverages as an importing wholesaler prior to July 31, 1945 may upon filing an application for authority to sell as a primary wholesaler with the appropriate field office continue to price his sales of domestic malt beverages as a primary wholesaler for such time until his application is either granted or denied notwithstanding the provisions of this section.

[Paragraph (j) added by Am. 3, and amended by Am. 6, 10 F.R. 9336, effective 7–31–45]

[Paragraph (k) added by Am. 3 and revoked by Am. 6]

(k) Retailer. "Retailer" means a person licensed as a retailer under applicable laws, statutes or regulations and engaged in the business of buying and selling malt beverages, without changing the form thereof, primarily to consumers.

[Paragraph (k), originally (j) redesignated and amended by Am. 3, redesignated by Am. 6]

(l) Consumer. "Consumer" means a person who purchases the malt beverage being priced for consumption.

[Paragraph (l), originally (k), redesignated by Am. 3 and Am. 6]

(m) Wagon vendor. A "wagon vendor" means a person who obtains his entire supply of one or more items of domestic malt beverages from a brewer and resells only to consumers from a vehicle owned and operated by him or his employees, and who prior to December 18, 1944 operated in the same manner.

[Paragraph (m) added by Am. 7, effective 8–23–45]

(n) Sale. "Sale" includes transfer of title, disposition, exchange, barter, delivery, lease and other transfers, and contracts or offers to do any of these things. The term "sell," "seller," "buy," "buyer," "purchase" and "purchaser" shall be construed accordingly.

(o) Price. "Price" means the consideration requested or received in connection with the sale of a malt beverage.

[Paragraphs (n) and (o), originally (l) and (m) redesignated by Am. 3, Am. 6 and Am. 7]

(p) Transportation charges. "Transportation charges" except as otherwise expressly provided, means the lawful charges for the movement of the malt beverage being priced by the most direct route from the seller's customary shipping point to the purchaser's customary receiving point at the rate charged by the cheapest available common or contract carrier customarily used, and refers to transportation charges incurred in shipment of malt beverages by a brewer to all classes of purchaser and to shipments by one wholesaler to another and from a primary wholesaler to a wholesaler. The term includes any applicable Federal tax on transportation now or hereafter imposed. In the type of sales above-described, if a seller makes a delivery by use of his own vehicle, such charges shall be figured at the rate for transportation over the same distance by the cheapest available common or contract carrier customarily used, exclusive of Federal tax on transportation. No amounts may be added for refrigerating or heating of cars or vehicles used in the transportation of domestic malt beverages. No amount may be added for local hauling, drayage and handling.

The term "transportation charges" shall also include charges for the return of cases and empty containers, only where the seller imposed such a charge on a particular class of purchaser during the applicable base period or where the seller did not ship outside his local area during the applicable base period and now establishes a maximum price to a new class of purchaser located outside his local area. Such charges shall be at the rate charged by the cheapest available common or contract carrier customarily used for movement of the cases and containers from the above-mentioned purchaser's customary receiving point to the seller's customary shipping point from which the malt beverage was originally shipped.

Any Regional Administrator of the Office of Price Administration or such District Director as may be authorized by the appropriate Regional Administrator may either on application or on his own motion establish by order a uniform transportation charge for the movement of an item of domestic malt beverage pursuant to this section for any seller or group of sellers located within his jurisdiction and such order shall require the seller to recalculate his maximum prices notwithstanding section 4.4 (b) of the regulation.

[Paragraph (p), originally (n) amended by Am. 2; redesignated and amended by Am. 3; redesignated and amended by Am. 6 and redesignated by Am. 7]

(q) State and local taxes. "State and local taxes" means excise taxes measured by the number of gallons, percent of alcohol content, container size or price of a malt beverage, imposed by a State of the United States, or any political subdivision thereof, and paid or payable by the seller to the taxing authority or to a prior vendor for the quantity of it being priced. The term does not include taxes on processing, sales or gross receipts taxes, or license, income, franchise, use or other similar taxes.

(r) Unless the context otherwise requires, the definitions in section 302 of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, shall apply to other terms used herein.

[Paragraphs (q) and (r), originally (o) and (p), redesignated by Am. 3, Am. 6 and Am. 7]

(t) "Customary receiving point" means the place where the purchaser normally receives delivery of malt beverages from the particular type of supplier. With respect to deliveries made by motor vehicle, "customary receiving point" shall mean the purchaser's premises; with respect to delivery made by rail, "customary receiving point" shall mean the railroad siding nearest to the purchaser's premises.

(u) An "item" means a particular brand, type, container and case size of malt beverage in bottles or cans.

[Paragraphs (s) (t) and (u) added by Am. 3; redesignated by Am. 6 and Am. 7]

SEC. 2.1 Explanation of certain terms used in this article.—(a) Most closely competitive brewer. Determination of a brewer's most closely competitive brewer

[1] 9 F.R. 14537.

[2] Statements of the Considerations are also issued simultaneously with amendments. Copies may be obtained from the Office of Price Administration.

[3] 8 F.R. 4808.

shall be made by reference to (but is not limited to) consideration of whether the two brewers:

[Above paragraph amended by Am. 3, 10 F.R. 2585, effective 3-7-45]

(1) Are comparable in size and production capacity;

(2) Sell the same type of domestic malt beverage in the same price line;

(3) Sell domestic malt beverages with comparable advertising history and public acquaintance;

(4) Are competitive in their sales of domestic malt beverages;

(5) Are located in geographical proximity.

Where more than one brewer satisfies the tests, the one located nearest to the brewer seeking to establish a price shall be used.

In pricing by reference to a maximum price of a most closely competitive brewer, appropriate adjustment shall be made in each instance for any difference in applicable state and local taxes.

(b) Class of purchaser. "Class of purchaser" refers to a brewer's practice in setting different prices for sales to different purchasers or kinds of purchasers or for purchasers located in different areas or for different kinds or container sizes or under different conditions of sale.

(c) Determination of similarity of domestic malt beverages. Domestic malt beverages shall be deemed similar if of the same type. Where a choice exists between similar domestic malt beverages, the one most comparable in advertising history and public acquaintance to the domestic malt beverage being priced shall be deemed "similar" to it.

[Paragraph (b) and (c) amended by Am. 3, 10 F.R. 2585, effective 3-7-45]

(1) The highest price he charged for a sale of that brand, type and container size of domestic malt beverage to a purchaser of that class during the period October 1 to 15, 1941, inclusive, or if he made no such sale, the highest price at which he offered to sell that brand, type and container size of domestic malt beverage to a purchaser of that class during the same period, plus (in either instance) the appropriate permitted increase shown in Table I; or

(2) The highest price he charged during March 1942 for a sale of that brand, type and container size of domestic malt beverage to a purchaser of that class, or if he made no such sale, the highest price at which he offered to sell that brand, type and container size of domestic malt beverage to a purchaser of that class during March 1942, plus (in either instance) the appropriate permitted increase shown in Table II; or

(3) The price he is authorized to establish for sales of that brand, type and container size of domestic malt beverage to a purchaser of that class by an effective order or authorization issued under § 1499.18b of the General Maximum Price Regulation[1] or under this regulation. Applications filed prior to December 18, 1944 under § 1420.66 (h) of Maximum Price Regulation 259, as amended, and pending before the Office of Price Administration on that date, shall be processed under that section. Orders or authority issued or granted prior to December 18, 1944 under that section or thereafter issued pursuant to such application, unless specifically modified or revoked, shall have the same effect as if issued or granted under this regulation. However, in those instances where orders or authorizations issued by the Office of Price Administration pursuant to applicable regulations prior to March 7, 1945, establishing maximum prices for a brewer's sales of domestic malt beverages to retailers, those provisions of such orders or authorizations shall be superseded and a brewer shall be required to establish his maximum prices for his sales of domestic malt beverages to retailers in accordance with the provisions of section 2.2 (d).

[Subparagraph (3) amended by Am. 3, 10 F.R. 2585, effective 3-7-45]

(b) A brewer pricing his sales of a domestic malt beverage under paragraph (a) shall price all his sales of that brand and type of domestic malt beverage by use of the same base period. An offering price may be used to price only if it was an offering price for delivery during the specified base period and if the offer or an acceptance thereof is established by a price list or other written or printed evidence. A price intended to withhold a domestic malt beverage from the market or a price offered as a bargaining price by a brewer who usually sold at a price lower than his asking price, may not be used as an offering price.

(c) Maintenance of customary discounts. A brewer shall continue to grant his customary discounts, allowances and other price differentials with respect to his sales of domestic malt beverages to all classes of purchasers, subject to the provisions of section 2.2 (d) with respect to sales to retailers in effect during the base period used in determining his maximum prices, unless the change results in the same or a lower price to the purchaser.

[Paragraph (c) amended by Am. 3.]

(d) Brewer's maximum prices for his sales of domestic malt beverages in bottles or cans to retailers—(1) Retailers located within the brewer's base delivery zone. With respect to his sales of domestic malt beverages in bottles or cans to retailers located within the brewer's base delivery zone (as defined in section 4.1 (c)), the brewer shall be deemed a wholesaler and shall establish his maximum price for such sales in accordance with Article IV. In determining his supplier's price as an element of his cost of acquisition, the brewer shall use either his f. o. b. brewery platform or delivered maximum price (in accordance with his customary practice) for his sales of the item to wholesalers located within the brewer's base delivery zone, adjusted for the difference in state or local taxes, if any. However, where the brewer has established different maximum prices to wholesalers located within his base delivery zone, he shall use as his supplier's price the maximum price applicable to the greatest volume of his sales to wholesalers located within the base delivery zone during the most recent six-months' period prior to April 4, 1945.

(i) If the brewer has not established a maximum price for his sales to wholesalers located within his base delivery zone, his maximum price to retailers located within his base delivery zone shall be his maximum price to that class of purchaser established under section 2.2 (a), (b) or (c).

(ii) In pricing as a wholesaler, the brewer's premises shall constitute the center point of his base delivery zone subject to the extension or modification thereof by the Regional Administrator or District Director of the Office of Price Administration as provided in section 4.1 (c).

NOTE: For converting a delivered price to an f. o. b. price, see section 4.2 (b) (1) (ii).

[Subparagraph (1) amended by Am. 4, 10 F.R. 3558, effective 4-4-45 and Am. 5, 10 F.R. 4106, effective 4-14-45.]

(2) Retailers located outside the brewer's base delivery zone. The brewer's maximum prices for his sales to retailers located outside the brewer's base delivery zone shall be his maximum prices established to that class of purchaser under section 2.2.

(e) Brewer's sales f. o. b. brewery platform to wholesalers located in an area to which the brewer did not ship during the applicable base period. Sales by a brewer on an f. o. b. brewery platform basis to wholesalers located in an area to which the brewer did not ship during the applicable base period, shall be deemed sales f. o. b. the brewer's customary shipping point (as defined in section 1.2 (r)).

SEC. 2.3 Brewer's notification of price adjustment—(a) Where the brewer's maximum prices are based on the October 1 to 15, 1941 period. A brewer who determines his maximum price in accordance with section 2.2 (a) (1) shall furnish to each purchaser, except a consumer, before or at his first delivery to the purchaser, a written statement as follows:

The Office of Price Administration has authorized us to establish the following maximum prices for sales of listed brands of domestic malt beverage to you:

(Copy Table I or the appropriate parts of that table.)

These maximum prices are based on the highest price we charged to each class of purchasers during the period October 1–15, 1941, plus an increase of 50 cents per barrel for material costs and $2.00 per barrel for excise tax changes. They include all Federal taxes and (specify State and local taxes, if any, included). The Office of Price Administration requires you to keep this notice for examination.

(b) Where the brewer's maximum prices are based on the March 1942 period. A brewer who determines his maximum price in accordance with section 2.2 (a) (2) shall furnish to each purchaser, except a consumer, before or at the time of his first delivery to the purchaser, a written statement as follows:

The Office of Price Administration has authorized us to establish the following maximum prices for sales of listed brands of domestic malt beverage to you:

(Copy Table II or the appropriate parts of that table.)

These maximum prices are based on the highest price we charged to each class of purchasers during March 1942, plus an increase of $2.00 per barrel for excise tax changes. They include all Federal taxes and (specify State and local taxes, if any, included). The Office of Price Administration requires you to keep this notice for examination.

(c) Where the brewer's maximum prices are otherwise determined. In all instances except those provided for in paragraphs (a) and (b), where a brewer establishes or adjusts his maximum price in accordance with this regulation, he shall furnish each purchaser, except a consumer, before or at the time of his first delivery to the purchaser, a written statement as follows:

The Office of Price Administration has authorized us to establish the following maximum prices for sales of the listed brands of domestic malt beverage to you.

(State prices by brand, size and unit of pack.)

Our maximum prices include all Federal taxes and (specify State and local taxes, if any, included). The Office of Price Administration requires you to keep this notice for examination.

(d) No notice need be given under this section if the brewer's maximum price established under this regulation for sales of the domestic malt beverage to purchasers of the particular class is the same as that in effect prior to December 18, 1944. Notice once given under this section to a particular purchaser with respect to a domestic malt beverage need not be repeated unless the price stated in the notice is changed. However, if such change is made, an additional notice covering it must be given.

SEC. 2.4. Brewer's pricing method for sales to a new class of purchaser. Where a brewer established a maximum price for his sales of a particular brand, type and container size of domestic malt beverage during the applicable base period, his purchasers of the item must be classified in accordance with his purchaser classification during the applicable base period, subject however to the provisions of section 2.2 (d) with respect to his sales to retailers. If a brewer desires to sell the item so priced to purchasers of a class to which he did not sell or offer to sell the item during the applicable base period, he shall establish his maximum price for his sales to that class of purchaser by application to the Office of Price Administration under section 2.9 of this regulation. The maximum price authorized on such application shall represent a differential (in dollars and cents) in line with those established under section 2.2 by competitive brewers in the same or nearest similar trading area.

[Sec. 2.4 amended by Am. 2, 9 F.R. 15107, effective 12-27-44 and Am. 3, 10 F.R. 2585, effective 3-7-45]

SEC. 2.5 Brewer's pricing method where the container size is different than in the base period. (a) If a brewer can determine his maximum price under section 2.2 for sales of a brand and type of a domestic malt beverage in a particular container size but cannot so determine his maximum price for it in a different container size, his maximum price for sales of the domestic malt beverage in the latter container size shall be figured as follows:

(1) 32 oz. containers. If the container size to be priced is a case of 32 oz. containers, the brewer shall:

(i) Deduct from his maximum price to the same class of purchasers for the same brand and type of domestic malt beverage per case of 12 oz. containers (determined under section 2.2), any of the following elements included therein: the permitted increase provided by Tables I or II, any State and local taxes, any transportation charges for delivery to the purchaser and any amount representing the repurchase price of or a deposit to assure return of containers or cases;

(ii) Multiply the figure obtained at (i) by 1.22;

(iii) Add to the figure obtained at (ii), the following: the permitted increase per case of 32 oz. containers shown in the appropriate Table I or II, the amount of any state and local taxes per case at rates in effect during the base period paid or payable by the brewer with respect to the container size being priced, any transportation charges for delivery to the purchaser deducted at (i) and any amount representing the repurchase price of or deposit to assure return of containers and cases deducted at (i). The resulting figure is the brewer's maximum price to purchasers of the particular class per case of 32 oz. containers of the brand and type of domestic malt beverage being priced.

(2) Containers other than 32 oz. If the container size to be priced is other than a 32 oz. container, the brewer shall:

(i) Ascertain his most closely competitive brewer who has maximum prices determined under section 2.2 for sales to the same class of purchasers of the same type of domestic malt beverage in both a common container size and in the container size to be priced;

(ii) Determine the difference (in dollars and cents) between the most closely competitive brewer's maximum prices for sales to that class of purchasers of the type of domestic malt beverage in the common container size and in the container size to be priced. If that difference reflects a variation in the most closely competitive brewer's practices as to payment of transportation charges for delivery of the two container sizes or as to supplying, selling or requiring the return of containers or cases, it shall be adjusted to the extent necessary to reflect identical practices for both container sizes;

(iii) Add the figure ascertained at (ii) to, or subtract it from, his own maximum price for sales of the domestic malt beverage in the common container size to the particular class of purchasers, according to whether the figure is an amount over or under that price. The resulting figure is the brewer's maximum price for sales of the brand, type and container size of the domestic malt beverage to be priced.

(3) A brewer pricing his sales of a domestic malt beverage in a particular container size according to this paragraph shall, with respect to those sales:

(i) Apply his customary discounts, allowances, and price differentials in effect during the base period and applicable to his sales of the domestic malt beverage in the common container size, unless the charge therein was permitted by § 1499.4b of the General Maximum Price Regulation or results in the same or a lower price to the purchaser;

(ii) Apply his customary practices as to payment of transportation charges for delivery to purchasers, or as to supplying, selling, or requiring the return of containers or cases in effect during the base period and applicable to his sales of the common container size, unless the change was permitted either by § 1499.4b of the General Maximum Price Regulation or by section 2.7 of this regulation, or results in the same or a lower price to the purchaser.

(b) If a brewer's maximum price for sales of a particular container size of a brand and type of domestic malt beverage to purchasers of a class cannot be determined under section 2.2 or paragraph (a) of this section, his maximum price shall be an amount determined by application to the Office of Price Administration under section 2.9 of this regulation. The maximum price authorized on such application shall represent a differential in line with those established under section 2.2 by competitive brewers in the same or nearest similar trading area.

SEC. 2.6 Brewer's pricing methods for sales of a domestic malt beverage of a brand and type that cannot be priced under section 2.2. A brewer's maximum price for sales of a domestic malt beverage of a brand or type which cannot be priced under section 2.2 shall be:

(a) His maximum price to a purchaser of the same class for the same container size of the brewer's similar domestic malt beverage of a brand for which a maximum price can be determined under that section; or

(b) If the brewer is unable to determine his maximum price under (a), his maximum price shall be the lower of the following:

(1) The maximum price of his most closely competitive brewer for sales of the same container size of that brewer's similar domestic malt beverage to a purchaser of the same class;

(2) The price provided in Table III for sales of the same type and container size of domestic malt beverage to purchasers of the particular class.

The amount of any State and local taxes, transportation charges and any amount representing the repurchase price of, or a deposit to assure the return of containers or cases included in the maximum price of the most closely competitive brewer shall be deducted in determining whether the price ascertained under (1) is lower than that ascertained under (2).

(c) A brewer pricing his sales of a domestic malt beverage under paragraph (a) shall, with respect to those sales:

(1) Apply the customary discounts, allowances, and price differentials in effect during the base period and applicable to his sales of the similar domestic malt beverage, unless the change was permitted by § 1499.4b of the General Maximum Price Regulation, or results in the same or a lower price to the purchaser; and

(2) Apply his customary practices as to payment of transportation charges for delivery to the purchaser or as to supplying, selling or requiring the return of containers or cases in effect during the base period and applicable to his sales of the similar domestic malt beverage, unless the change was permitted either by § 1499.4b of the General Maximum Price Regulation or by section 2.7 of this regulation, or results in the same or a lower price to the purchaser.

(d) A brewer pricing his sales of a domestic malt beverage under paragraph (b) (1) shall, with respect to those sales:

(1) Apply the customary discounts, allowances, and pricing differentials applicable to the corresponding sales of the most closely competitive brewer in effect during the base period, unless the change therein was made by the competitive brewer according to § 1499.4b of the General Maximum Price Regulation, or results in the same or a lower price to the purchaser;

(2) Apply the customary practices of the most closely competitive brewer as to payment of transportation charges for delivery to purchasers, or as to supplying, selling, or requiring the return of containers or cases in effect during the base period, unless the change was permitted either by § 1499.4b of the General Maximum Price Regulation or by section 2.7 of this regulation, or results in the same or a lower price to the purchaser.

[1] Prices listed in this table for sales to wholesalers are f. o. b. brewery platform and for sales to retailers are delivered prices. They include all Federal taxes, and brewer's cost for containers and case furnished by the brewer but to be returned by the purchaser. They do not include state and local taxes, the exact amount of which may be added if paid by the brewer, or the repurchase price of or deposits to assure return of containers and case, which may be charged as provided in Section 5.2.

SEC. 2.7 Brewer's changes in container and case practices. A brewer's maximum price for a sale of a domestic malt beverage shall be adjusted to reflect any change in his base period practices with respect to supplying, selling or requiring the return of containers or cases. The adjustment shall be made in the following manner:

(a) If the brewer customarily supplied the containers and case, and either required a deposit to assure their return, or agreed with the purchaser to repurchase them at a fixed price, or had an agreement with the purchaser for their return:

(1) His maximum price to the purchaser for a sale of the domestic malt beverage including the containers and case shall be his maximum price to the purchaser for a sale of the same brand, type and container size on the former basis (not including, however, the amount of the deposit or repurchase price, if any) less 4¢ per case, plus the amounts for the particular size of containers and kind of case sold provided in Table IV; and

(2) His maximum price to the purchaser for a sale of the domestic malt beverage in containers and case supplied by the purchaser shall be his maximum price to that purchaser for a sale of the same brand, type and container size on the former basis (not including the amount of the deposit or repurchase price, if any) less 4¢ per case.

(3) If the brewer customarily followed any of the practices described in (a) above with respect to containers and cases, he may adopt any other of the practices therein described without adjusting his maximum price for the domestic malt beverage being priced.

[Subparagraph (3) added by Am. 3, 10 F.R. 2585, effective 3-7-45]

(b) If the brewer customarily sold the containers and case to the purchaser without any of the arrangements for their return described in (a) above.

(1) His maximum price to the purchaser for a sale of the domestic malt beverage in containers and case supplied by the purchaser shall be his maximum price for a sale of the same brand, type and container size on the former basis, less the amount provided in Table IV for the particular size of containers and kind of case he no longer sells; and

(2) His maximum price to the purchaser for a sale of the domestic malt beverage in containers and case supplied by the brewer but which the purchaser is to return, shall be his maximum price for a sale of the same brand, type and container size on the former basis, less the amount provided in Table IV for the particular size of containers and kind of case he no longer sells, plus 4¢ per case. The amount the brewer may require as a deposit charge in such instances to assure the return of the containers and case or add to provide for their repurchase shall be determined according to section 5.2.

(c) Paragraph (a) of this section shall also apply to a brewer's sales of a domestic malt beverage priced under section 2.6 (b) (2) of this regulation.

(d) If a brewer desires to change his base period practices with respect to supplying, selling or requiring the return of containers or cases, but is unable to determine under paragraphs (a), (b) or (c) a price adjustment reflecting such change, he shall apply to the Office of Price Administration under section 2.9 of this regulation for determination of that adjustment. The adjustment prescribed shall be in line with those established by the preceding paragraphs of this section.

SEC. 2.8 Federal and State taxes. Any tax upon, or incident to, the sale or delivery of a domestic malt beverage, imposed by any statute of the United States or statute or ordinance of any State or subdivision thereof (for which specific provision is not otherwise made) shall be treated as follows in determining the brewer's maximum price for such domestic malt beverage and preparing the records of such brewer with respect thereto:

(a) As to a tax in effect prior to the last day of any base period herein provided for the determination of the maximum prices of the brewer:

(1) If the brewer paid such tax and the brewer did not customarily state and collect separately from the purchase price during the applicable base period the amount of the tax paid by him, the brewer may not collect such amount in addition to the maximum price and in such instances shall include such amount in determining his maximum price under this regulation.

(2) In all other instances, if, at the time the brewer determines his maximum price, the statute or ordinance imposing such tax does not prohibit the brewer from stating and collecting the tax separately from the purchase price and the brewer does separately state and collect it, the brewer may collect in addition to the maximum price the amount of the tax actually paid by him and in such instance, the brewer shall not include such amount in determining his maximum price under this regulation.

(b) As to any tax first imposed after the last day of any base period provided for the determination of the maximum prices of a brewer or any increase in a tax then imposed, the brewer may collect the amount of such tax or increase imposed upon him by any statute of the United States or by any statute or ordinance of any State or subdivision thereof with respect to a domestic malt beverage: Provided, That the amount thereof has been paid by the brewer or has accrued and will become payable by him to the appropriate taxing authorities.

(c) In all instances if the tax paid by the brewer is refundable by the taxing authority the brewer may not collect the amount of it from the purchaser.

(d) As to the increases totalling $2.00 per barrel in Federal excise tax on domestic malt beverages ($1.00 effective November 1, 1942 and $1.00 effective April 1, 1944) no addition for those increases may be made under this section where the applicable pricing method results in maximum prices making allowance for them.

SEC. 2.9 Brewer's individual applications for maximum prices. (a) A brewer required to price according to this Article, who cannot otherwise determine his maximum price or is specifically directed to price by application, shall make application by letter to the Office of Price Administration, Beverage Section, Washington, D. C. An original and one copy of the application shall be furnished. The application shall be signed by the applicant, or by its authorized officer, member or agent and shall state:

(1) Applicant's name and business address, and if the applicant is not an individual, the name and title of the person signing the application in applicant's behalf;

(2) The section of this article requiring or permitting the application to be made;

(3) A description of the sales and the domestic malt beverage to be priced adequate for pricing purposes, including the classes of purchasers for sales to which prices are sought, and the brand, type and container size of domestic malt beverage;

(4) Any other pertinent information applicant desires to submit.

(b) After receipt of the application and any further information or evidence considered necessary and requested for the purpose of determining proper maximum prices, the Price Administrator will, by order or by amendment to this regulation, establish maximum prices or provide a method of determining maximum prices.

(c) An order establishing maximum prices or providing a method of determining maximum prices issued under this section may be revoked or amended, in whole or in part, at any time, by the Price Administrator. It shall be deemed revoked as to a sale, without further action by the Price Administrator, on the effective date of an amendment to this regulation establishing a different maximum price or pricing method for the sale.

(d) If a brewer makes a sale for which he is required to apply for a maximum price under this section, before that maximum price has been established, his maximum price for the sale shall be deemed his total cost for the quantity sold.

SEC. 2.10 Adjustment of brewer's maximum prices. (a) The Price Administrator may adjust the maximum prices established under this regulation for any brewer who applies for adjustment in accordance with paragraph (c) when it appears that:

(1) Applicant's maximum prices are below the average level of brewers' maximum prices for similar domestic malt beverages in the trading area served by the applicant, and

(2) Applicant is, or will be unable to continue his production of domestic malt beverages without adjustment of his maximum prices, and

(3) The loss of applicant's production would result in consumers in the trading area served by applicant being required to pay higher prices for similar domestic malt beverages, and

(4) An increase in applicant's maximum prices will enable him to continue production of domestic malt beverages, and

(5) The Price Administrator finds that an increase in applicant's maximum prices will, on all available facts, effectuate the purposes of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended.

(b) The maximum adjustment that may be granted to a brewer under this section shall be limited to that:

(1) Which will not cause his maximum prices to exceed the average level of brewers' maximum prices for similar domestic malt beverages in the trading area served by applicant, and

(2) Which is reasonably required to return to applicant, for his current fiscal year, net profits on his domestic malt beverage operations before income and excess profits taxes equivalent to his average annual net profits on his domestic malt beverage operations before income and excess profits taxes (adjusted for changes in investment) during a representative peace time period, but in no event less than total costs on his domestic malt beverage operations. In determining net profits for applicant's current fiscal year, actual earnings data shall be used if available; otherwise, net profits shall be estimated by multiplying applicant's volume of sales in each container size during his last fiscal year by his maximum prices for those sales under this regulation, adding the resulting figures and deducting his total costs on his domestic malt beverage operations for the same year.

"Representative peace time period" means the calendar years 1936–1939 or applicant's fiscal years corresponding thereto. In individual instances, where those years are not a reasonably representative pre-war (December 7, 1941) period, other calendar or fiscal pre-war years found by the Price Administrator to be representative may be used.

(c) Applications for adjustment under this section shall be made by letter to the Office of Price Administration, Beverage Section, Washington, D. C. The application shall be signed by applicant, or its authorized officer, member or agent and shall supply the following information:

(1) Applicant's name and business address, and if the applicant is not an individual, the name and title of the person signing the application on applicant's behalf;

(2) The brands and types of domestic malt beverages sold by applicant, the container sizes sold, and the trading area served;

(3) Applicant's present and requested maximum prices by container sizes and classes of purchasers;

(4) The names and addresses of all brewers selling similar domestic malt beverages in the same trading area, and, if known by applicant, the brands and maximum prices of such domestic malt beverages;

(5) Operating and Profit and Loss Statements (prepared according to applicant's usual system of accounting) showing results of applicant's domestic malt beverage operations during the representative peace time period and during his most recent accounting period, unless such data was previously furnished to the Office of Price Administration;

NOTE: Profit and loss data for the years 1936–1939 will be secured from the Bureau of Internal Revenue if applicant so requests.

(6) The applicant's volume of sales of domestic malt beverages in each container size to each class of his purchasers during his last fiscal year;

(7) Any other pertinent information applicant desires to submit, or which may be requested to determine applicant's right to, or the extent of an adjustment.

(d) Adjustments may be granted or denied under this section in whole or in part by order of the Price Administrator. An order granting or denying an adjustment may be revoked or amended by the Price Administrator at any time.

SEC. 2.11 Transfers of business or assets. If all, or substantially all the business, assets and stock in trade of an operating brewery are sold, leased or otherwise transferred after April 28, 1942, thereafter while the transferee carries on the business by continuing to manufacture and sell domestic malt beverages at a place of business separate from any other previously owned and operated by him, the maximum prices of the transferee shall be the same as those to which his transferor would have been subject, and his obligations to keep records shall be the same. The transferor shall either preserve and make available, or turn over to the transferee all records of transactions prior to the transfer which are necessary to enable the transferee to comply with the record-keeping provisions of this regulation. If the transferor was not an operating brewery at the date of the sale, lease or other transfer, the maximum prices of the transferee for sales of domestic malt beverages, he manufactures in that place of business shall be established in accordance with section 2.6 of this regulation.

SEC. 2.12 Brewer's reports of maximum prices. (a) On or before January 17, 1945 every brewer shall report his maximum prices to each of his classes of purchasers for each brand, type and container size of domestic malt beverage he manufactures and sells. Every brewer who after January 17, 1945 manufactures and sells a new brand of domestic malt beverage shall likewise report his maximum prices for such brand within five days after his first sale thereof. If, after filing the report, the brewer establishes maximum prices to different classes of purchasers or for different types or container sizes of those brands of domestic malt beverage listed therein, he shall, within five days after his first sale to which such maximum prices apply, file a supplemental report showing the maximum prices established.

(b) Reports under this section shall be in duplicate on Revised OPA Form 635–547 (included in Appendix A to this regulation), copies of which may be obtained from the National or any Regional or District Office of the Office of Price Administration, or on copies of that form made by the brewer. Both copies shall be signed by the brewer or by his duly authorized officer, member or agent and shall be filed with the Office of Price Administration, Beverage Section, Washington, D. C.

(c) Neither acceptance of a report nor failure to object to maximum prices or other information shown therein shall constitute approval by the Office of Price Administration of the report, the maximum prices, or the information.

ARTICLE III—IMPORTED MALT BEVERAGES

(All sellers shall continue to price their sales of imported malt beverages in accordance with applicable regulations and orders of the Office of Price Administration, until issuance of an amendment to this regulation providing maximum prices or pricing methods for those sales.)

ARTICLE IV—GENERAL PRICING PROVISIONS FOR WHOLESALERS' AND RETAILERS'[fn] SALES OF DOMESTIC MALT BEVERAGES

SEC. 4.1 Determination of "cost of acquisition" used in figuring maximum prices by wholesalers and retailers for sales of domestic malt beverages in bottles and cans.—(a) What purchases may be used to determine cost of acquisition. Except as otherwise provided in this article a "base purchase" to be used by a wholesaler or retailer to determine his cost of acquisition for an item of domestic malt beverage in bottle or cans must be a purchase by him from a customary type of supplier delivered by a customary means of transportation. No accommodation purchase (whether or not from a customary type of supplier) shall be used as a base purchase in determining cost of acquisition of an item. No purchase (whether or not from a customary type of supplier) to fill an order of the United States Government or any agency thereof shall be used as a base purchase.

NOTE: Purchases made on memorandum invoice or purchases of small quantities of an item at exceptional price are accommodation purchases.

(b) Elements of cost of acquisition. The cost of acquisition to be used by a wholesaler or retailer to determine his maximum price for the sale of domestic malt beverages in bottles or cans is the total of the following elements of cost actually paid by him with respect to a particular base purchase of the item being priced.

(1) The supplier's selling price per case not in excess of his maximum price, less all discounts allowed except the discount for prompt payment. The supplier's selling price shall be adjusted if necessary to exclude from it any amount representing the repurchase of containers or cases or any deposit required to insure their return or any amount paid to the seller for the purchase of containers and/or cases. No amount may be added for local hauling, drayage or handling:

(2) Applicable transportation charges (as defined in section 1.2 (o)) or delivery charges (determined under Table V of section 4.2 (b) (4)) if not included in the supplier's selling price.

(3) Applicable United States, State, and local taxes at rates in effect on December 18, 1944 if not included in the supplier's selling price. However, the applicable amount of any United States, State, or local tax first imposed after December 18, 1944, or the applicable amount of any increase in any existing tax imposed after that date in any such tax may be added to the seller's maximum price: Provided, That the amount of any such new tax or increase in any existing tax is paid by the seller to the taxing authority or to a prior vendor: And provided further, That on and after December 18, 1944, no seller shall include in his maximum price a markup on the amount of such new or increased tax which he is authorized to charge and collect under this section.

On and after December 18, 1944, every wholesaler located within a jurisdiction whose duly constituted taxing authority has imposed a new United States, State or local tax after December 18, 1944, or any increase in any existing tax after December 18, 1944 must (i) state with each invoice accompanying a sale to any class of purchaser (except consumers) that the prices stated in the invoice include the amount of any new or increased taxes imposed by the United States, State or local authorities after December 18, 1944, (ii) the amount of such new or increased taxes, and (iii) that no markup may be applied to the amount thereof. A statement in substantially the following language upon the face of the invoice shall be deemed compliance with this section:

Our invoice prices include the amount of a new or increased tax imposed by the United States, state, or local authorities after December 18, 1944 which amounts to ($_____ per case of _____ bottles of _____ ounces each). In determining your cost of acquisition you may not include the amount of such new tax or increase on any old tax. However after calculating your maximum price you may add the amount of such new or increased tax.

[Subparagraph (3) amended by Am. 5, 10 F.R. 4106, effective 4–14–45 and Am. 6, 10 F.R. 9336, effective 7–31–45]

(c) "Base delivery zone" with respect to each wholesaler means the area within a radius of 20 miles from each wholesaler's licensed premises. Where a wholesaler maintains licensed premises in more than one locality, each of such licensed premises shall constitute the center point for each of his base delivery zones.

For purposes of this regulation any Regional Administrator of the Office of Price Administration may determine by order the center point of the geographical limits of a base delivery zone of any wholesaler, group of wholesalers, brewer, or group of brewers required to price as a wholesaler, and may increase or decrease the radii of base delivery zones. Any District Director of the Office of Price Administration who is authorized by order of his Regional Administrator shall have and may exercise like authority with respect to the base delivery zone of any wholesaler or group of wholesalers.

SEC. 4.3. Maximum prices for sales of domestic malt beverages in bottles or cans by retailers and wagon vendors—(a) Retailers maximum prices. A retailer must establish his maximum prices to each class of purchaser as follows:

[Section and paragraph headings amended by Am. 7, effective 8-23-45]

(1) For initial maximum prices use paragraph (b). A base purchase made between December 12, 1944 and December 18, 1944 may be used to figure initial maximum prices. A retailer is not required to establish a re-figured maximum price for an item until he makes a base purchase thereof after December 18, 1944.

(2) For a re-figured maximum price if the cost of acquisition for the item changes after December 18, 1944 use section 4.4.

(b) Initial maximum prices for sales to all classes of purchasers except to other retailers: A retailer's initial maximum price per case for an item of domestic malt beverage for his sales thereof to all classes of purchasers, except to other retailers, shall be his cost of acquisition for his latest base purchase of the item, or if he made no base purchase of the item, his cost of acquisition per case for his most recent purchase of the item from any supplier, multiplied by 1.35 and rounded to the nearest full cent.

(1) The resulting figure shall be divided by the number of bottles or cans per case and the fractions of a cent resulting in the retailer's calculations shall be adjusted as follows: If the fraction is less than ¼ cent, the maximum retail price shall be reduced to the nearest full cent; if the fraction is ¼ cent or more, but less than ½ cent, that price may be increased to the nearest half cent; if the fraction is ½ cent or more, but less than ¾ cent, that price shall be reduced to the nearest half cent; if the fraction is ¾ cent or more, that price may be increased to the nearest full cent.

(2) The maximum price for any unit of sale shall be the result of paragraph (a) (2) above, multiplied by the number of bottles or cans being sold.

(c) For sales to another retailer: A retailer's initial maximum price for an item of domestic malt beverage which he purchased from another retailer shall not exceed the maximum price of his supplier to the same class of purchaser (adjusted to reflect delivery charges if any) plus or minus (as may be appropriate) any difference in applicable state and local taxes and markup thereon.

[Paragraph (c) added; former (c) redesignated (d) by Am. 6, F.R. 9336, effective 7-31-45]

(d) Price posting by retailers. Every retailer selling domestic malt beverages for off-premise consumption must post his maximum price for each brand, type and container size of the domestic malt beverage being offered for sale. The maximum price must be posted either on the item or at or near the place where the item is offered for sale.

(e) Wagon vendor's maximum prices—(1) Per case. A wagon vendor's maximum price per case to a consumer for an item of domestic malt beverage shall be his cost of acquisition for his latest base purchase of the item, as determined under (b) above, or, if he made no such base purchase of the item, his cost of acquisition per case for his most recent purchase of the item from a brewer, multiplied by 1.50 and rounded to the nearest full cent.

(2) Per bottle or can. A wagon vendor's maximum price per bottle or can to a consumer for an item of domestic malt beverage shall be his maximum price per case for that item of domestic malt beverage, as determined under subparagraph (1) above, divided by the number of bottles or cans per case. (b) When a wholesaler or retailer must re-figure his maximum prices. A wholesaler or retailer who after December 18, 1944 received a base purchase of an item shall figure his cost of acquisition therefor according to section 4.1 (b). If such cost of acquisition per case differs from the cost of acquisition per case for the base purchase used in establishing the wholesaler's or retailer's maximum prices then in effect for the item, the wholesaler or retailer may, if a most recent purchase shows the greater total, and must, if the most recent purchase shows the lesser total, establish re-figured maximum prices for the item: Provided, That if the difference in the cost of acquisition is five cents per case or less, the wholesaler or retailer shall not establish re-figured maximum prices: Provided further, That where a brewer or sole distributor prior to December 18, 1944 did not pass on all or part of the permitted increases as provided in section 2.2 of the regulation, and subsequent to December 18, 1944 elects to do so, the purchaser may recalculate his maximum prices notwithstanding that the cost of acquisition of the item of domestic malt beverage per case is less than the sum of 5¢.

[Paragraph (b) amended by Am. 6, 10 F.R. 9336, effective 7-31-45]

(c) How a wholesaler or retailer must re-figure his maximum prices. A wholesaler or retailer required or permitted by this paragraph to establish re-figured maximum prices for an item shall determine such prices under section 4.2 or 4.3 respectively, substituting, however, the cost of acquisition for his most recent base purchase for the cost of acquisition of his earlier base purchase.

(d) When re-figured maximum prices become applicable. A wholesaler's or retailer's re-figured maximum prices determined in accordance with this section shall apply to all stock of the item on hand and shall be the wholesaler's or retailer's maximum prices for sales of the item on and after, but not before, the fourth day (exclusive of Sundays and holidays) following receipt of the base purchase to be used to establish such re-figured maximum prices, until in turn superseded by other re-figured maximum prices, subsequently determined: Provided, That until on and after the earliest effective date for the prices posted or listed at the first opportunity after the fourth day (exclusive of Sundays and holidays) after receipt of such base purchase, re-figured maximum prices shall not apply to any sale which a wholesaler is required by statute, ordinance or regulation to make at a price posted or listed with a State or other public authority before receipt of the base purchase.

[Sec. 4.4 added by Am. 3, 10 F.R. 2585, effective 3-7-45 and amended as otherwise noted. Former secs. 4.4 through 4.7, inclusive, redesignated 4.5 through 4.8, inclusive, by Am. 3]

SEC. 4.5 Sales of domestic malt beverages in barrels by wholesalers and retailers. A wholesaler's or retailer's maximum price for sales of a brand and type of domestic malt beverage in barrels (or fractions of a barrel) to a purchaser of a particular class shall be an amount determined according to § 1499.2 of the General Maximum Price Regulation (using, however, either the October 1 to 15, 1941 or the March 1942 base period at the wholesaler's or retailer's election), plus the appropriate permitted increase provided in Tables I or II of this regulation.

NOTE: Tables I and II can be found under section 2.2 of this regulation.

SEC. 4.6 Sales and gross receipts taxes. A wholesaler or retailer may add to his maximum price established by this article any tax upon a sale of the domestic malt beverage being priced or upon the gross receipts from that sale imposed by any statute of the United States or by any statute or ordinance of any State or subdivision thereof, if

(a) The statute or ordinance imposing the tax does not prohibit the seller from separately stating and collecting it and he does separately state and collect it; or

(b) The amount of the tax has been separately stated and collected from the seller by a prior vendor and the statute or ordinance imposing the tax does not prohibit the seller from separately stating and collecting it, and he does separately state and collect it.

SEC. 4.7 Wholesalers' and retailers' individual applications for maximum prices. (a) Any wholesaler or retailer required to establish his maximum price for a sale of a domestic malt beverage under this article, but who is unable to determine that maximum price, shall make application to the appropriate field office for determination of that price. The application shall be in writing, signed by the applicant, shall state the reasons why applicant is unable to determine his maximum price under other sections of this article, and shall contain information sufficient for pricing purposes.

(b) After receipt of such application, the District Director of the appropriate field office may, by order, establish maximum prices for applicant which are in line with maximum prices established by this article for comparable sales of other competitive sellers of the same class. Any such order may be revoked or amended by the District Director at any time.

"Appropriate field office" for purposes of this section means the District Office of the Office of Price Administration for the District in which applicant's principal place of business is located.

SEC. 4.8 Sales by a brewer's branch or a sole distributor. (a) A brewer's branch shall price its sales of domestic malt beverages as if it were a wholesaler.

"Brewer's branch" means a separately established and operated branch of a brewer, controlled and managed by the brewer and engaged, prior to December 18, 1944, in the distribution of the domestic malt beverage being priced.

[Paragraph (a) amended by Am. 1, 9 F.R. 14781, effective 12-18-44]

(b) A sole distributor of a domestic malt beverage shall price his sales of that domestic malt beverage in the same manner as brewers pursuant to section 2.2 of this regulation. However, controlled subsidiaries and branches of a sole distributor operated, controlled and managed by the sole distributor prior to December 18, 1944 shall price their sales of that domestic malt beverage as if they were wholesalers.

"Sole distributor" means a person who is the seller of all or substantially all of the brewer's production of the domestic malt beverage being priced.

[Paragraph (b) amended by Am. 1 and Am. 6, 10 F.R. 9336, effective 7-31-45]

(c) A sole distributor who is unable to establish maximum prices for his sales of domestic malt beverage under (b) above shall apply to the Office of Price Administration, Beverage Section, Washington, D. C., in accordance with section 2.9 of this regulation to establish maximum prices for sales of an item of domestic malt beverages to all classes of purchasers.

[Paragraph (c) added by Am. 6]

(d) A "bottling wholesaler" of a domestic malt beverage shall price his sales of that domestic malt beverage as if he were its brewer.

"Bottling wholesaler" means a person who prior to December 18, 1944 was engaged in the business of purchasing domestic malt beverages in barrels and packaging such domestic malt beverages in bottles or cans for resale to all classes of purchasers. The term "bottling wholesaler" as used in this regulation also means a "bottling distributor".

[Paragraph (d), formerly (c), added by Am. 3, 10 F.R. 2585, effective 3-7-45; redesignated by Am. 6, 10 F.R. 9336, 9962, effective 7-31-45]

(e) To the extent that the provisions of this section conflict with other provisions of this regulation, this section shall control.

ARTICLE V—MISCELLANEOUS PROVISIONS

SEC. 5.1 Units of sale and fractions of a cent. (a) Maximum prices shall be stated in terms of the same general units (barrels, cases, bottles, cans, etc.,) in which the seller has customarily quoted prices for the malt beverage except where the applicable pricing method shows that another unit is to be used.

(b) Amounts computed in the process of figuring a maximum price (other than the maximum price itself) for sales except at retail shall be carried to four decimal places (hundredths of a cent). For sales to government procurement agencies, the maximum price itself shall be carried to four decimal places. In sales to purchasers other than government procurement agencies, if the charging of a maximum price would require use of a fraction of a cent, the maximum price shall be deemed the nearest higher full cent if the fraction is one-half cent or more, or the nearest lower full cent if the fraction is less than one-half cent.

SEC. 5.2 Container and case deposits. (a) A brewer who, during the base period used for determination of his maximum prices, regularly required purchasers to furnish a deposit to assure return of containers or cases may continue to require that deposit. He may also from time to time adjust the amount of deposit required to a sum not exceeding 110 percent of his lawful replacement cost of the containers or cases, or with the prior written approval of the Regional Administrator of the Office of Price Administration in which his principal place of business is located, to such larger sum as the Regional Administrator finds does not, under the circumstances, unduly exceed his lawful replacement cost of the containers or cases.

(b) If a brewer, in accordance with section 2.7 of this regulation, first makes any adjustment in maximum prices necessary to reflect a change in terms of sale in effect during the base period used in determining those prices, he may require a deposit to assure return of containers or cases. He may also, from time to time, adjust the amount of the deposit required. A deposit required under this paragraph may not exceed 110 percent of the brewer's lawful replacement cost of the containers or cases or such larger sum as the Regional Administrator of the Office of Price Administration in which his principal place of business is located, approves in writing as not, under the circumstances, unduly in excess of his lawful replacement cost of the containers and cases.

(c) A wholesaler or retailer may require a purchaser to furnish a deposit to assure return of containers or cases regardless of his prior practice in that respect. He may also, from time to time, adjust the amount of the deposit required. Except as hereinafter expressly provided a deposit required under this paragraph shall not exceed the corresponding deposit furnished by the wholesaler or retailer to his supplier or, if the wholesaler or retailer owns the containers or cases, shall not exceed 110 percent of his lawful replacement cost therefor or such larger sum as the Regional Administrator of the Office of Price Administration in which his principal place of business is located, approves in writing as not, under the circumstances, unduly in excess of his lawful replacement cost of the containers and cases. The Regional Administrator of the Office of Price Administration may also establish by order a uniform deposit charge to be imposed by any wholesaler and/or retailer or group of such sellers located within his district.

[Paragraph (c) amended by Am. 3, 10 F.R. 2585, effective 3-7-45]

(d) Any Regional Administrator of the Office of Price Administration shall have and may exercise, by letter, authority to approve or disapprove a deposit to be required or adjusted under this section and to revoke or modify approval given.

(e) A seller requiring a deposit under this section shall not directly or indirectly require the purchaser to pay separately for reasonable wear and tear of containers or cases, or for loss of or damage to them in transit. No seller may increase his maximum price because of a deposit required of him by his supplier.

[Paragraph (e) amended by Am. 3]

(f) For purposes of this section, an agreed repurchase price of containers or cases shall be deemed a deposit by the purchaser of the amount of the repurchase price.

(g) Any District Director of the Office of Price Administration if authorized by order of his Regional Administrator shall have and may exercise like authority with respect to applications filed under this section.

[Paragraph (g) added by Am. 6]

SEC. 5.3 Payment of brokerage. Every broker shall be considered the agent of the seller, and not the agent of the purchaser. In each instance, the amount paid by the purchaser to the seller, plus any amount paid by the purchaser to the broker, shall not exceed the seller's maximum price including allowable charges actually paid by the seller or by the broker. In other words, the seller may not collect from the purchaser any more than the maximum price including allowable charges, less any amount the purchaser pays the broker.

NOTE: Attention is directed to Revised Maximum Price Regulation 165 [6] establishing maximum prices brokers may charge for their services.

As used in this section, "broker" means a person acting as intermediary between a seller and a purchaser. It includes, but is not restricted to, a "finder," "buyer's agent," and "seller's agent."

SEC. 5.4 Advance payments. If, before delivering a malt beverage, a seller directly or indirectly requires the purchaser to make an advance payment (whether the payment be to the seller or to another person) the seller must compensate the purchaser by paying interest on it at not less than 5 percent per annum from the date on which the advance payment is made to the date on which it is refunded or the malt beverage delivered. The interest shall be payable on the date of delivery or on the date the advance payment is refunded. The seller may not increase his maximum price because of the interest payment and the purchaser need not reduce his maximum price because of having received it.

SEC. 5.5 Adjustable pricing. Any person may agree to sell at a price which can be increased up to the maximum price in effect at the time of delivery. However, no person may, unless authorized by the Office of Price Administration, deliver or agree to deliver at prices to be adjusted upward in accordance with action taken by the Office of Price Administration after delivery. Such authorization may be given only when a request to establish a maximum price or for a change in the applicable maximum price is pending, and only if the authorization is necessary to promote distribution or production and if it will not interfere with the purposes of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended. The authorization may be given by the Price Administrator or by any official of the Office of Price Administration having authority to establish the price or to take final action upon the pending request for a change in price. The authorization will be given by order, except that it may be given by letter or telegram when the contemplated action will be the granting of an individual application for adjustment or the establishment of a maximum price on individual application.

SEC. 5.6 Export sales. The maximum prices at which a person may export a malt beverage shall be determined in accordance with the Second Revised Maximum Export Price Regulation [7] issued by the Office of Price Administration.

SEC. 5.7 Records which must be kept. Every person who makes sales for which this regulation establishes maximum prices shall:

(a) Make and preserve for examination by the Office of Price Administration, for so long as the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, remains in effect, records showing the prices he charged in those sales and the manner in which they were figured (which records may be of the same kind as he has customarily kept, if his customary records supply that information), and

(b) Preserve for examination by the Office of Price Administration, for the same period, all his existing records which are the basis for determining his maximum prices in the manner directed by this regulation, and

(c) Preserve for examination by the Office of Price Administration, for the same period, all records relating to those sales he was required to make or preserve by the General Maximum Price Regulation or by Maximum Price Regulation 259, as amended.

"Records" means written evidence of transactions, including books of account, price lists, sales lists, sales slips, orders, vouchers, contracts, receipts, invoices and bills of lading, a copy of any application or report to the Office of Price Administration and other papers and documents necessary to determine prices charged, offered, or paid and the method used to determine them.

SEC. 5.8 Sales slips and receipts. Upon request, and regardless of his previous custom, any seller shall give a purchaser a sales slip or receipt stating the date of purchase, name and address of the seller, a description sufficient to identify the quantity of each brand, type and container, size of malt beverage sold to the purchaser, and the price received for it.

SEC. 5.9 Compliance with this regulation—(a) No selling or buying above maximum prices. Regardless of any contract or obligation, no person shall sell or deliver, or buy or receive in the course of trade or business, any malt beverage at a price higher than the maximum price established by this regulation, and no person shall agree, offer, solicit or attempt to do any of the foregoing. However, a price lower than the maximum price may be charged or paid.

(b) Evasion. (1) No person shall evade a maximum price directly or indirectly, by any practice or device in connection with an offer, solicitation, agreement, sale, delivery, purchase or receipt of or relating to any malt beverage either alone or in connection with any other commodities or services, by commission, brokerage or finder's fee, service, transportation or other charge or discount, premium or other privilege, by tying or tie-in agreement, long term contract, combination sale or trade understanding, by any change in style or manner of packing, by a business practice relating to containers, or by any other means.

(2) The following transactions or acts constituting violations or evasions of this regulation are prohibited:

(i) Changes in kinds, grades and proportions of ingredients resulting in depreciation of the quality of a malt beverage other than as the result of a normal variation;

(ii) The reduction or elimination of a brewer's customary discounts, allowances or price differentials;

(iii) Making a separate charge by a seller to a purchaser for local hauling or handling, loading or unloading, for breakage of barrels, containers or cases, for reconditioning barrels, containers or cases, or for hauling or handling empty barrels, containers or cases.

(c) Enforcement. Any person violating a provision of this regulation is subject to the criminal penalties, civil enforcement actions, license suspension proceedings and suits for treble damages provided by the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended.

(d) Licensing. The provisions of Licensing Order No. 1 [8] licensing all persons who make sales under price control are applicable to all sellers subject to this regulation. A seller's license may be suspended for violation of the license or of one or more applicable price regulations. A person whose license is suspended may not, during the period of suspension, make any sale for which his license has been suspended.

SEC. 5.10 Prior regulations, orders and interpretations superseded. Except as otherwise herein specifically provided Revised Maximum Price Regulation 259 supersedes all orders and interpretations issued with respect to the sale of domestic malt beverages in bottles or cans prior to December 18, 1944 under § 1499.3 (c) of the General Maximum Price Regulation.

[SEC. 5.10 added: former secs. 5.10 through 5.12, inclusive, redesignated 5.11 through 5.13, inclusive, by Am. 3, 10 F.R. 9585, effective 8-7-45]

SEC. 5.11 Compliance with other laws, ordinances and regulations. Persons complying with this regulation are entitled to the benefits of section 205 (1) of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended. However, except as may be provided by that section, this regulation shall not make lawful or operate to permit any sale of a malt beverage otherwise prohibited or regulated by any Federal, state or local statute, ordinance or regulation.

SEC. 5.12 Petitions for amendment. Any person seeking a general modification of this regulation may file a petition for amendment in accordance with Revised Procedural Regulation No. 1 [9] and amendments issued by the Office of Price Administration.

SEC. 5.13 Applicability. This regulation shall be applicable in the 48 states of the United States and in the District of Columbia.

This regulation shall become effective December 18, 1944. [Revised Maximum Price Regulation 259 originally issued December 12, 1944]

PART 1315—RUBBER AND PRODUCTS AND MATERIALS OF WHICH RUBBER IS A COMPONENT

[RO 1A,[2] Amdt. 107]

TIRES, TUBES, RECAPPING AND CAMELBACK

A rationale for this amendment has been issued simultaneously herewith and has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.

Ration Order No. 1A is amended in the following respects:

1. Section 1315.201 (a) (7) is amended to read as follows:

(7) "Commercial motor vehicle" means:

(i) A straight truck; a truck-tractor, a full trailer or a semi-trailer; any other rubber tired conveyance, excluding a motorcycle, built or rebuilt primarily for the purpose of transporting property upon the highways and propelled or drawn by mechanical power;

(ii) Any of the following propelled or drawn by mechanical power and used in the transportation of persons upon the highways: Any ambulance or hearse and any conveyance having a rated seating capacity of ten or more.

2. Section 1315.201 (a) (21) is amended to read as follows:

(21) "Passenger automobile" means a motor vehicle (other than a commercial motor vehicle) designed primarily for the purpose of transporting persons, and a motorcycle.

3. Section 1315.201 (a) (51) is added to read as follows:

(51) "Occupational purpose" means driving in connection with a business; gainful work; pursuit of a course of study in an elementary school, high school, college, university or vocational school; and uncompensated work regularly performed which falls within any of the following categories:

(i) Work regularly performed under the authority and supervision of a bona fide non-profit agency which performs one or more of the following activities (provided that such work is necessary to the carrying out of such activities); investigation of the necessity for relief or administration of relief; arranging for the placement of minors or aged, handicapped or indigent persons in foster homes, or in institutions, and for the inspection of such foster homes or institutions; investigation of reported abuse, neglect or delinquency of minors; or transportation of minors or aged, handicapped or indigent persons to foster homes or institutions or for the transportation of persons to hospitals or clinics for treatment or diagnosis;

(ii) Work which is regularly performed under the direction of a government or governmental agency and which contributes to the civilian economy of the nation or of the local community;

(iii) Work which is regularly performed under the direction of a non-profit organization and which either contributes to the general welfare by aiding members or discharged members of the Armed Forces or their families, or the families of deceased members of the Armed Forces;

(iv) Work performed by a minister who is regularly serving a congregation in meeting the religious needs of the locality which he regularly serves; and

(v) Work regularly performed by a representative of government, management or labor for recruiting or training workers or for travel to maintain peaceful industrial relations.

4. Section 1315.501 is amended to read as follows:

§ 1315.501 General proof of need. No Board shall issue a certificate for a tire unless the applicant establishes:

[1] 10 F.R. 7635, 8933, 9223, 9227.
[2] 7 F.R. 9160, 9392, 9724.

(a) Immediate need. That the tire for which he is applying is to equip a vehicle or piece of equipment held for use and not for sale and is:

(1) To equip a vehicle or piece of equipment which requires tires because of alteration or reconstruction or which, for reasons satisfactory to the Board, does not already have the number of tires permitted for such vehicle or equipment by the Office of Price Administration; or

(2) To replace a lost or stolen tire; or

(3) To replace a tire which cannot be repaired or recapped or which will be unsafe when recapped for operation at the speeds at which the applicant may reasonably be expected to operate; or

(4) To replace a tire which is not serviceable for the use to which the vehicle or equipment is to be put.

(b) No abuse or neglect. That he has not in any manner abused or neglected, or permitted to be abused or neglected, the tire which he seeks to replace. However, the Board may waive this condition if it finds that the public interest would suffer if the application were denied. The Board may consider, among other things, as evidence of tire abuse, that the tire for which replacement is sought has become unfit for recapping through the fault of the applicant, such as driving a tire carcass beyond the recappable point.

(c) Transfer of unrationed tires. That any unrationed tire he transferred on or after December 5, 1944 (other than one transferred as part of a vehicle or piece of equipment) was unsuitable for use on the vehicle or piece of equipment for which application is made, or that other circumstances justified its transfer.

(d) No available tires. That he does not own or control a tire, other than tires mounted upon vehicles or equipment in current use (including one spare for each size wheel per vehicle or piece of equipment) which can be used or repaired for use, in lieu of the tire sought to be replaced: Provided, however, That an applicant may, in addition, be allowed two mud and snow tires for each passenger automobile which he is required to operate at high speeds in answering emergency calls in connection with his occupation. In computing the number of tires owned or controlled, the applicant shall not include:

(1) Emergency reserves acquired in accordance with § 1315.505 (b); or

(2) If he is a dealer or manufacturer, the tires he holds for sale.

The provisions of this paragraph do not apply to a government or government agency or subdivision.

5. Sections 1315.502, 1315.503, 1315.504, 1315.505, 1315.506, 1315.507, 1315.511, 1315.515, and 1315.517 are revoked and new §§ 1315.502 to 1315.506, inclusive, are added to read as follows:

§ 1315.502. Eligibility of passenger automobiles. (a) A consumer who meets the applicable conditions of § 1315.501 (General Proof of Need) may be granted a certificate for a Grade I passenger tire which is used for an occupational purpose, or which is used only for non-occupational purposes (including a permanent change of residence) if, in the discretion of the Board, a denial of a certificate would cause undue hardship.

(1) If a suitable passenger tire is not available in the community or if a passenger tire would not be suitable for the load carried on the vehicle, the Board may issue a certificate for a Grade I truck tire.

(b) A Board may not issue certificates for tires for use on passenger automobiles used only for non-occupational purposes (other than to effect a permanent change of residence) in excess of five percent of its monthly passenger tire quota, except that a District Director may allow a Board to exceed the five percent limitation by authorizing it to use all or any part of an increase in its quota for that purpose.

§ 1315.503 Eligibility of commercial motor vehicles—(a) General eligibility. A consumer who meets the applicable conditions of § 1315.501 may be granted a certificate for any type of tire, to be mounted on a commercial motor vehicle.

(b) Emergency reserve—(1) Who may apply for an emergency reserve. The following persons may apply for an emergency reserve of tires for commercial motor vehicles:

(i) A State (but not its agency or subdivision);

(ii) A person who has an Interstate Commerce Commission Certificate of Public Convenience and Necessity as a common carrier or an Interstate Commerce Commission Permit as a contract carrier;

(iii) A person who has applied for an Interstate Commerce Commission Certificate or Permit and has been notified by the Interstate Commerce Commission that he may continue the operation described in his application pending final determination of his application.

(2) Vehicles for which an emergency reserve may be obtained. An emergency reserve of tires may be obtained for any commercial motor vehicle which satisfies the applicable conditions of § 1315.501 and which is owned and operated by the applicant or leased to the applicant for his exclusive use for a period of at least six months from the date of this application, if the majority of trips driven in the vehicle has a destination of fifty miles or more from any place where any vehicle operated by the applicant is normally stationed.

(3) Amount of emergency reserve. Certificates shall be issued for the number of tires required by the applicant in order to maintain a supply equal to ten percent of the running wheels of vehicles which meet the requirements of paragraph (b) (2). This supply is in addition to the tires on running wheels and allowable spares for vehicles and equipment operated by the applicant. In making the computation under this section, a dual wheel shall be considered as two wheels.

(c) Replacement of recappable tire carcass. In any area where recapping facilities are unavailable or inadequate, an applicant may be granted a certificate for a tire even though the tire to be replaced is recappable.

§ 1315.504 Eligibility of farm implements and industrial, mining and construction equipment—(a) Eligibility requirements. A consumer who meets the applicable conditions of § 1315.501 may be issued a certificate for a tire necessary to equip a vehicle or piece of equipment which is used as one of the following:

(1) A farm tractor, farm implement or farm wagon. An applicant may be granted a certificate only for a tractor-implement tire for such a vehicle, except that if the vehicle cannot be operated with tractor-implement tires, and there are no suitable unrationed tires available in the community, the applicant may be granted a certificate for a Grade I passenger tire.

(i) In any area where recapping facilities are unavailable or inadequate an applicant may be granted a certificate for a small tractor-implement tire, even though the tire to be replaced is recappable; and if the vehicle cannot be operated with a tractor-implement tire and there are no suitable unrationed tires available in the community, the applicant may be granted a certificate for a Grade I passenger tire.

(2) Equipment used for industrial, mining or construction purposes including off-the-road uses, such as earth-moving and road-grading.

(b) Spare tires. A certificate for a spare tire may be issued to equip any of the vehicles or equipment which satisfy the conditions of this section if the Board finds that a spare tire is necessary for its continuous operation.

§ 1315.505 Eligibility of house trailers. (a) A consumer who meets the applicable conditions of § 1315.501 may be granted a certificate for a Grade I passenger tire to be mounted on a house trailer which is being used as living quarters.

(b) A person who is in the business of towing trailers and who meets the applicable conditions of § 1315.501 may be granted a certificate for Grade I passenger tires to provide him with eight tires plus four additional tires for each separate branch where he maintains a tow car.

(c) If the Board determines that use of a passenger tire would be an uneconomical use of rubber in view of the load to be carried, it may issue a certificate for a truck tire with a cross-section size 7.50 or smaller in lieu of a passenger tire.

§ 1315.506 Eligibility for tires for purposes other than use on vehicles or equipment—(a) A person who requires tires for a purpose other than mounting and use on a vehicle or piece of equipment may apply by letter to the Tire Rationing Branch, Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C., giving full information as to the intended use and certifying that the tires for which application is made are not to be mounted on a vehicle or piece of equipment.

(b) A certificate shall be issued by the National Office if the Chief of the Tire Rationing Branch is satisfied that the use to which the tires are to be put is important enough to the public interest to justify expenditure of the number of tires requested.

(c) No appeal may be taken from a decision of the Chief of the Tire Rationing Branch made pursuant to this section.

6. The first sentence of § 1315.653 (a) is amended to read as follows: "When a Board has reason to believe that a consumer (1) has made a false statement in an application for a certificate, or (2) has violated § 1315.901 (f), it or any other Board acting at its request may serve written notice of hearing upon such consumer and recall any certificate issued such consumer pending determination of the proceedings before the Board."

7. Section 1315.657 is amended to read as follows:

§ 1315.657 Refusal of certificates. If a Board finds that an applicant has violated § 1315.901 (f) or (l), it may refuse to issue a certificate to the applicant and may declare that he shall be ineligible to receive a certificate for such period as it may deem appropriate in the public interest. In such case, the Board shall serve upon the applicant a written statement of the grounds for the refusal of the certificate and of the period of his ineligibility.

8. The headnote to § 1315.802 and § 1315.802 (a) are amended to read as follows:

§ 1315.802 Mounting or use of Grade I tires—(a) Mounting or use generally. Any Grade I tire may be mounted or used as follows unless the mounting or use is specifically prohibited by other provisions of this Order or involves a transfer of tires prohibited thereby:

(1) Upon the vehicle or piece of equipment for which the tire was acquired under this order;

(2) Upon a vehicle or piece of equipment upon which it was mounted on April 14, 1943: Provided, That at the time the tire was mounted upon the vehicle or piece of equipment the mounting was not in violation of the provisions of this order;

(3) Upon any other vehicle or piece of equipment if immediately following the mounting of the tire, the vehicle or equipment will be used in operations which will make it eligible for the tire being mounted;

(4) Upon any vehicle or piece of equipment not covered by subparagraph (3), only if authorized in writing by a Board having jurisdiction over the vehicle or piece of equipment upon which the tire is to be mounted. The Board may grant such authorization only where it is satisfied that the mounting or use will result in a conservation of rubber or the more efficient use of tires in activities which contribute to the civilian economy of the nation or of the local community.

(5) Upon a house trailer for the purpose of moving it to a housing site if the tires were acquired under § 1315.505 (b).

9. Sections 1315.901 (g) 1315.901 (h) and 1315.901 (j) are revoked.

This amendment shall become effective August 17, 1945.

§ 1300.711 Who may apply. (a) Any slaughterer (1) who, for each accounting period included in the period for which relief is sought, files a basic claim under Revised Regulation No. 3 of Defense Supplies Corporation and (2) whose business operated profitably during the years 1938–41 inclusive, may file an application for additional subsidy.

(b) A slaughterer's business shall be deemed to have operated profitably during the years 1938–41 inclusive, if, during that period or such substantial portion thereof as the business was in operation, the business either earned a profit on sales of meat and related products on the average for the period of operation or earned such a profit during at least half of the years within the period.

(c) A "slaughterer's business" shall include sales of meat and related products in any form and at any level of distribution made by such slaughterer and by a person who owns or controls or is owned or controlled by such slaughterer. "Own or control" means to own or control directly or indirectly a partnership equity or in excess of 10 percent of any class of outstanding stock or to have made loans or advances in excess of 5 percent of the other person's monthly sales.

Any application may be filed at any time up to 30 days following the close of the applicant's fiscal year or within 30 days following the date of termination of the right to receive subsidy payments pursuant to the provisions of Section 1300.715.

(b) Each slaughterer shall file with his application the following information with respect to such slaughterer's business:

(2) A statement by years for the period 1938 to date showing officers', partners' and proprietors' salaries, bonuses, commissions and withdrawals;

(3) Number of head and live weight of applicant's slaughter by species of livestock for each year from 1938 to 1943 inclusive, and by monthly accounting periods for 1944 to the extent that this information has not been filed with Defense Supplies Corporation. Indicate the periods for which this information has been filed with Defense Supplies Corporation;

(4) The location of the slaughterer's business, including all affiliations, and a description of the nature of such business, including all affiliations, with a description of the character of the operations and all products sold;

(5) For the current fiscal year (any fiscal year ending after May 1, 1945), if the application is filed after the close of such fiscal year, the following information: (i) The number of head and live weight of applicant's slaughter by species of livestock by monthly accounting periods to the extent that this information has not been filed with Defense Supplies Corporation (if information is filed with Defense Supplies Corporation, indicate the periods for which this information has been filed); (ii) the number of head and live weight by species of livestock slaughtered by applicant for others by monthly accounting periods to the extent that this information has not been filed with Defense Supplies Corporation (if information is filed with Defense Supplies Corporation, indicate the periods for which this information has been filed), (iii) a consolidated profit and loss statement and consolidated balance sheet on OPA Financial Reporting Form A; (iv) a separate statement of officers', partners' and proprietors' salaries, bonuses, commissions and withdrawals; and (v) a certification that the applicant has been in compliance with applicable price and rationing regulations during the period for which relief is sought.

(6) If the application is filed for relief for the balance of applicant's fiscal year which started prior to May 1, 1945, and ends after that date, and the applicant files his application after the close of such fiscal year, the applicant shall give the information required in subparagraph (5) for the entire fiscal year and, in addition, shall give such information for the period from the beginning of his fiscal year to the beginning of his first accounting period which starts on or after May 1, 1945. The consolidated profit and loss statement for this portion of the fiscal year shall be filed on OPA Financial Reporting Form B.

(7) If the application is filed for relief for the balance of applicant's fiscal year which started prior to May 1, 1945, and ends after that date, and the applicant files his application prior to the close of such fiscal year, the applicant shall give the information required in subparagraph (5) for the period (i) from the beginning of his fiscal year to the beginning of his first accounting period which starts on or after May 1, 1945, and (ii) from the beginning of his first accounting period which starts on or after May 1, 1945, to the date of application, and (iii) within 30 days after the close of such fiscal year, shall give the information required in subparagraph (5) for the entire fiscal year.

The consolidated profit and loss statements for the periods specified in subdivisions (i) and (ii) hereof shall be filed on OPA Financial Reporting Form B.

(8) If the application is filed for relief for a fiscal year beginning on or after May 1, 1945, and the application is filed prior to the close of such fiscal year, the applicant shall give the information required in subparagraph (5) for the period from the beginning of his fiscal year to the date of application and, in addition, within 30 days after the close of such fiscal year, shall give such information for the entire fiscal year.

The consolidated profit and loss statement for the portion of the fiscal year shall be filed on OPA Financial Reporting Form B.

(c) (1) Before approving any applicant's request for special subsidy, the Administrator shall have the right to request such additional or equivalent information as he deems necessary to a proper determination of the applicant's eligibility to the special subsidy payments.

(2) If an applicant's books are not closed as of May 1, 1945, the special subsidy shall be paid only on operations beginning with the applicant's first accounting period which starts after May 1, 1945.

§ 1300.713 Amount of subsidy. The Administrator shall certify to Defense Supplies Corporation an amount of subsidy to be paid the applicant slaughterer which will be that amount which is necessary to make the total revenue from the slaughterer's business equal to the total costs of operations of such business for the balance of his current fiscal year starting with the applicant's first accounting period beginning on or after May 1, 1945, or for any subsequent fiscal year. This amount shall be determined at the close of the period for which relief is sought, on the basis of the information required to be submitted by this regulation, and an audit of the slaughterer's records if the Administrator deems such to be necessary at the close of the fiscal year involved. Permission to make such an audit shall be a condition to receipt of the subsidy herein provided.

§ 1300.714 Conditions of subsidy. (a) A slaughterer shall not be entitled to the subsidy authorized herein if his current business varies widely from that operated during the years 1938–41 inclusive, or if the Administrator finds that he has not in good faith attempted to conduct his business profitably.

(b) The subsidy provided herein shall be paid only to a slaughterer who has been in compliance with applicable price and rationing regulations during the period for which relief is sought.

(c) In determining total costs, the Administrator shall adjust officers', partners' and proprietors' salaries, bonuses, commissions and withdrawals and any unusual costs or expenses so that they are in line with those of other slaughterers whose operations are substantially similar in nature and size.

(d) Payment of the subsidy to any slaughterer shall be predicated on a showing by the applicant that his slaughter of calves or his slaughter of sheep and lambs in any monthly accounting period after the effective date of this regulation and until the close of the period for which relief is sought is not more than 10 percent greater than his slaughter of calves or sheep and lambs in the corresponding accounting period of 1944.

§ 1300.715 Termination. The right to receive subsidy pursuant to the provisions of this regulation shall be subject to termination on 10 days' notice. In the event of termination, payment of the additional subsidy shall be made on the basis of the applicant's operations from the beginning of the applicable period to the date of termination.

The regulation shall become effective August 20, 1945.

NOTE: The reporting provisions of this regulation have been approved by the Bureau of the Budget in accordance with the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

Issued this 20th day of August 1945.

PART 1407—RATIONING OF FOOD AND FOOD PRODUCTS

[Control Order 1,[1] Amdt. 17]

LIVESTOCK SLAUGHTER AND MEAT DISTRIBUTION

A rationale for this amendment has been issued simultaneously herewith and has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.

Control Order 1 is amended in the following respects:

1. Section 6 (b) is amended by adding at the end thereof the following: "Upon written request of a Class 2 slaughterer, the District Office shall promptly give him a written statement showing the manner in which it computed the quota bases covered by the request.

2. Section 6 (c) (4) is added to read as follows:

(4) If the District Office denies, cancels, revokes or reduces a quota base, under (1), (2) or (3) above, it shall promptly give written notice to the slaughterer specifying the quota base in question. The notice shall also specify the accounting periods for which the District Office found that the required number of points had not been surrendered by him and the number of points, if any, it found he had surrendered for those periods. In addition, if quota bases already assigned to the slaughterer are cancelled or revoked, it shall direct him to surrender to the District Office by a date to be specified in the notice, his applicable license on OPA Form MC–5 for cancellation or appropriate revision. If so directed, the slaughterer must surrender such license by the date specified in the notice.

3. Section 6 (d) is added to read as follows:

(d) (1) Any Class 2 slaughterer, within thirty (30) days after the assignment to him of a quota base (or by August 31, 1945, if the assignment was made before July 1, 1945) may request a hearing on the determination made by the District Office of his quota base. The request must be submitted, in writing, to the District Office with which he is registered and must contain the information specified in (3) below.

(2) Any Class 2 slaughterer who has been denied a quota base or whose quota base has been reduced, cancelled, or revoked, under (1), (2) or (3) of paragraph (c) of this section, may, within thirty (30) days after the notice given him by the District Office under (c) (4), submit to that Office a written request for a hearing on one or more of the following claims:

(i) That, for the accounting periods specified in the notice, he surrendered all the points required to be surrendered by him under Ration Order 16 or Revised Ration Order 16;

(ii) That, for the accounting periods specified in the notice, although he did not surrender all the points required to be surrendered by him, he did surrender more points than the number the District Office found he surrendered;

(iii) That the computations made by the District Office under (i) or (ii) of paragraph (c) (2) above were incorrect.

(3) The request for a hearing under (1) or (2) of this paragraph (d) must state:

(i) His name, the address of his establishment, and each of the quota bases as to which he requests a hearing;

(ii) The respects in which he claims the action taken by the District Office as to each quota base was incorrect; and

(iii) The date (which must not be less than five (5) days from the date on which he submits the request for the hearing) on which he expects to be ready to proceed with the hearing.

(4) Upon receipt of the request for the hearing, the District Office shall give the slaughterer notice of the time and place of the hearing, and the date thereof, which shall be the date specified by the slaughterer in his request, or any other date agreed upon between the slaughterer and the District Office.

(5) The hearing shall be conducted by a Special Hearing Officer who shall be either the District Director or an officer or employee of the Office of Price Administration designated by the District Director as a Special Hearing Officer. The Special Hearing Officer shall administer oaths and affirmations and rule on the admission or exclusion of evidence. The hearing shall be conducted in a manner to permit all parties interested in the proceedings to present evidence and arguments to the fullest extent compatible with a fair and expeditious determination of the issues raised in the hearing. To that end:

(i) The slaughterer shall have the right to be represented by counsel of his own choosing;

(ii) The rules of evidence prevailing in courts of law or equity shall not be controlling;

(iii) The Special Hearing Officer, having due regard to the need of expeditious decision, shall afford reasonable opportunity for cross-examining witnesses;

(iv) A stenographic report of all testimony shall be taken. The report need not be transcribed if the transcription is waived by the slaughterer. If the report is transcribed, a copy shall be available for inspection during business hours at the District Office.

(6) (i) The Special Hearing Officer shall, after the hearing, issue an order affirming, modifying or setting aside the action taken by the District Office with respect to any of the quota bases specified in the request for the hearing. If the slaughterer fails to appear at the hearing, the Special Hearing Officer shall issue an order affirming the action taken by the District Office. If the slaughterer against whom an order has been issued after his failure to appear at the hearing shows, within ten (10) days from the date of the issuance of the order, good cause for his failure to appear, the Special Hearing Officer may set aside such order and grant the slaughterer a full hearing.

(ii) A copy of the Special Hearing Officer's order shall be served promptly upon the slaughterer personally or by mail directed to his establishment. If the order modifies or sets aside the action taken by the District Office, the slaughterer's quota bases shall promptly be adjusted by the District Office in conformity with the provisions of that order.

(7) No appeal may be taken from the order of a Special Hearing Officer. However, an appeal by the slaughterer from the action taken by the District Office shall bring up for review any order in his case issued by a Special Hearing Officer and the record on which it is based.

4. Section 10 (e) is added to read as follows:

(e) (1) A Class 2 or Class 3 slaughterer against whom there is in operation an Administrative Suspension Order issued pursuant to Revised Procedural Regulation 4 which suspends him from slaughtering livestock (or having livestock custom slaughtered for him), or from selling or transferring meat derived from slaughter of livestock by himself, or from custom slaughter of livestock for him, shall have his quotas for each quota period during which the suspension order is in effect cancelled or revoked.

(2) However, for any quota period in which the suspension order is in operation for only part of that period, his quotas shall be reduced as follows:

(i) Divide his quota for each species of livestock (or in the case of a Class 3 slaughterer, his quota) for each quota period during which the suspension order is in effect by the number of calendar days in that quota period;

(ii) Multiply the result in (i) by the number of calendar days in that quota period during which the suspension order was not in effect;

(iii) The result in (ii) is the Class 2 slaughterer's quota for each species of livestock which may be slaughtered by him or custom slaughtered for him (or in the case of a Class 3 slaughterer, the quota for the sale or transfer of meat derived from livestock slaughtered by him or custom slaughtered for him) during that quota period.

(3) Notwithstanding the provisions of (2) above, in any case in which the suspension order becomes effective after the commencement of the quota period and remains in effect for the balance of that period, the Class 2 slaughterer's quota for the slaughter of each species of livestock by him or for the custom slaughter of such livestock for him (or in the case of a Class 3 slaughterer, the quota for the sale or transfer of meat resulting from the slaughter of livestock by him or custom slaughter of livestock for him) for that quota period shall be deemed cancelled and revoked to the extent of the portion thereof which has not been used at the time the suspension order became effective.

(4) The restrictions in this paragraph (c) as to the cancellation, revocation or reduction of quotas may be superseded in a particular case by the express provisions of the suspension order, and additional restrictions may be imposed in that order. Nothing in this paragraph (c) shall be considered to affect or modify in any way any of the conditions, restrictions or prohibitions of the suspension order.

5. Section 10 (c) is amended by adding at the end thereof the following: "The restrictions in this paragraph are in addition to any actions, penalties or proceedings which may be authorized by law for his failure to comply with paragraph (a) of this section."

6. Section 10 (d) is amended by adding at the end thereof the following: "The restrictions in this paragraph are in addition to any actions, penalties or proceedings which may be authorized by law for his failure to comply with paragraph (b) of this section.

7. Section 16 (b) is amended by adding at the end thereof the following: "Such revocation is in addition to any actions, penalties or proceedings authorized by law for his failure to comply with this section."

8. Section 18 is amended by adding at the end thereof the following: "No provision of this order, and no act performed thereunder, shall be construed as a waiver of any violation of Ration Order 16 or Revised Ration Order 16."

This amendment shall become effective on August 24, 1945.

NOTE: All reporting and record-keeping requirements of this amendment have been approved by the Bureau of the Budget in accordance with the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

Issued this 20th day of August 1945.

Administrator.

AUTHORITY: §§ 115.2 to 115.14, inclusive, issued under act of Aug. 28, 1937 (50 Stat. 874).

§ 115.2 Statutory authority. The act of August 28, 1937 (50 Stat. 874), relates to the administration of the revested Oregon and California Railroad and the reconveyed Coos Bay Wagon Road grant lands in Oregon, both of which are hereinafter referred to as O. and C. lands. It provides that such portions of those lands now or hereafter under the jurisdiction of the Department of the Interior, which have heretofore or may hereafter be classified as timber lands, and power-site lands valuable for timber, shall be managed, except as provided in section 3 of the act, for permanent forest production, and the timber thereon shall be sold, cut and removed in conformity with the principle of sustained-yield for the purpose of providing a permanent source of timber supply, protecting watersheds, regulating stream flow, and contributing to the economic stability of local communities and industries, and providing recreational facilities. Nothing contained in the act shall be construed to interfere with the use and development of powersites as may be authorized by law.

Section 1 of the act authorizes the Secretary of the Interior, if he determines that such action will facilitate sustained-yield management, to subdivide the revested lands into sustained-yield forest units, the boundary lines of which shall be so established that each will provide, so far as practicable, a permanent source of raw materials for the support of dependent communities and local industries of the region. The boundaries of such forest units may be established only after hearings are conducted in the vicinity of such lands.

Section 2 of the act authorizes the Secretary to make cooperative agreements with other Federal or state administrative agencies or with private forest owners or operators for the coordinated management, with respect to time, rate, and method of cutting, and sustained-yield, of forest units comprising parts of revested or reconveyed lands, together with lands in private ownership or under the administration of other public agencies, when by such agreements he may be aided in accomplishing the purposes of the act.

§ 115.3 Determination of annual productive capacity. The Secretary shall determine and declare the annual productive capacity of the O. and C. lands under the principle of sustained-yield, but until such determination and declaration are made the average annual cut of timber therefrom shall be limited to one-half billion feet board measure. The lands shall be treated as a single unit for the purpose of applying the principle of sustained-yield, except that upon the establishment of one or more sustained-yield forest units in accordance with § 115.7, hereof, each such unit shall be treated separately in the determination of its annual productive capacity and the average annual cut of timber.

§ 115.4 Master units and appurtenant marketing areas. As a basis for studies leading to the formulation of plans for the sustained-yield forest units and cooperative agreements authorized by the act, and in order to facilitate administration under the act, the Secretary, after the determination and declaration of the annual sustained-yield productive capacity of the O. and C. lands, will divide the entire area of the O. and C., intermingled and contiguous lands into master units, on the basis of natural groupings of such lands related to each other by physical and economic factors, and will declare an appurtenant marketing area for each such master unit.

§ 115.5 Hearings concerning master units. In order that the Secretary may obtain the aid and advice of interested persons and agencies, and the public may be informed as to contemplated plans, a public hearing will be held in connection with each proposed master unit. Such hearing will be held in the vicinity of the lands involved and will be open to the attendance of all interested persons, including State and local officers and representatives of dependent industries and labor. The hearing will be conducted by a representative or representatives of the Department of the Interior designated by the Secretary.

At the conclusion of the hearing, the minutes thereof, together with appropriate recommendations, shall be forwarded to the Secretary. The Secretary will thereafter take such action as he deems appropriate and due notice thereof will be given to the public.

§ 115.6 Notice of hearings concerning master units. Before any hearing is held in connection with a master unit, notice thereof will be published, once a week for four consecutive weeks in a newspaper of general circulation in the county or counties in which the proposed master unit and the appurtenant marketing area are situated, and once in the FEDERAL REGISTER. The notice may also be published in a trade paper, if in the opinion of the Commissioner of the General Land Office, such publication is desirable.

Such notice shall be approved by the Secretary and shall state (a) the time and place, within the vicinity of the lands, of the hearing; (b) the location, area and boundaries of the proposed master unit; (c) the boundaries of the marketing area to be served by the proposed master unit; (d) the time and manner in which persons who wish to submit oral or written statements for consideration at the hearing may give notice thereof; and (e) such other general information as to sustained-yield forest units and cooperative agreements which may be established or executed within the proposed master unit, the place or places where such other general information shall be available, and related matters as the Secretary may determine to be desirable.

§ 115.7 Sustained-yield forest units. Sustained-yield forest units will be established by the Secretary within the boundaries of each master unit in such manner that each forest unit will contain sufficient forest land to furnish a sustained supply of timber to forest industries upon which a local community depends and to constitute a suitable basis for a cooperative agreement. Due consideration shall be given to established lumbering operations for the purpose of protecting dependent communities against adverse economic effects. Each forest unit shall be established so as to promote the widest distribution of the benefits of sustained-yield management to all forest owners, operators, workers and dependent communities affected thereby.

§ 115.8 Hearings concerning sustained-yield forest units and cooperative agreements. Prior to the establishment of a sustained-yield forest unit, a public hearing shall be held in the vicinity of the lands involved, in accordance with section 1 of the act. Plans for the establishment of the unit and the execution of a cooperative agreement shall be considered at such hearing. The hearing will be conducted in the same manner as hearings concerning master units, as set forth in § 115.5, hereof. The representative or representatives of the Department of the Interior who conduct the hearing will upon its conclusion make appropriate recommendations to the Secretary of the Interior concerning the establishment of the forest unit and the execution of the cooperative agreement, forwarding at the same time a copy of the minutes of the hearing. The Secretary thereafter will take such action as he deems appropriate and due notice thereof will be given to the public.

§ 115.9 Notice of hearings concerning forest units and cooperative agreements. The provisions of § 115.6, hereof, relative to notice of hearings concerning a master unit shall be applicable to the hearing in connection with the establishment of a sustained-yield forest unit and the execution of a cooperative agreement, except that in the case of a sustained-yield forest unit and a cooperative agreement the notice shall state (a) the time and place, within the vicinity of the lands, of the hearing; (b) the location, area and boundaries of the proposed forest unit; (c) the minimum duration of the proposed agreement; (d) the place or places where copies of the proposed agreement, applicable regulations, and other information, including the location and area of the Federal land involved, the expected rate of cutting of Federal or other timber that may be included in a cooperative agreement, and the requirements for participation in the proposed cooperative agreement, shall be available; (e) the time and manner in which persons who wish to submit oral or written statements for consideration at the hearing may give notice thereof; and (f) such other information which the Secretary may determine to be desirable.

§ 115.10 Cooperative sustained-yield agreements. The formulation and administration of cooperative agreements shall be guided by a policy of promoting the widest distribution of the benefits obtainable under sustained-yield management, and of preventing monopoly.

A prerequisite to participation in the cooperative agreement covering a sustained-yield forest unit will be either (a) ownership of land therein upon which timber is growing in commercial quantities, or of cutover and other lands which have been restocked or are suitable primarily for the production of timber in commercial quantities, or (b) sufficient rights or interests in the timber within the unit to enable the holder of such rights or interests to fulfill the obligations involved in commitment to the agreement.

In each cooperative agreement the parties shall agree, in consideration of the benefits conferred by such agreement, that the forest management of their lands shall be conducted in such manner as may be necessary to effectuate the purposes of the act. Each such cooperative agreement shall provide for (a) the disposition of timber from the Federal land in the forest unit to cooperating parties without competitive bidding at appraised prices, in accordance with sustained-yield management plans formulated or approved by the Secretary; (b) the time, rate, and method of cutting timber from any lands committed to such agreement; (c) the terms and conditions, but not the price, upon which private cooperating parties may sell to any person timber from their lands; (d) the terms and conditions upon which additional lands, timber, or parties may be admitted to the agreement subsequent to its original execution; (e) the protection of the reasonable interests of other owners or operators within the unit, of workers and others affected by the execution of such cooperative agreement, and of communities dependent upon the timber within such unit; and (f) such other matters as the Secretary shall determine are necessary or proper to achieve the objectives of the act.

The provisions of a cooperative agreement, except as therein otherwise provided, shall prevail, in the administration and disposal of O. and C. timber included in such agreement, over the regulations of the Secretary of the Interior theretofore applicable to such timber.

§ 115.11 Qualifications. Any individual who wishes to obtain the rights of a producer under a cooperative agreement will be required to furnish satisfactory proof, prior to the execution of the agreement, that he is a citizen of the United States, or, if a partnership or association, that each member thereof is such a citizen. A corporation which wishes to become a party to such an agreement must file a certified copy of its articles of incorporation to show that it was organized under the laws of the United States or of some state, territory, or possession thereof, as well as a sworn statement setting forth the name, residence, citizenship, and amount of stock held by each of its stockholders, separately listing those of alien citizenship. A corporation organized outside of the State of Oregon must also file a certificate by the proper state official that it is authorized to do business within the State of Oregon. The Secretary, in his discretion, may require a corporate party to a cooperative agreement to furnish additional information as to the ownership of its stock and may deny participation in a cooperative agreement to a corporation, any of whose stock is owned, held, or controlled by citizens of another country.

§ 115.12 Forms of agreement. The standard form for cooperative agreements between the United States and owners and operators of non-federal lands, heretofore approved by the Secretary of the Interior, will be made available through the Chief Forester of the O. and C. Revested Lands Administration. Changes in the form of agreement may be made by the Secretary from time to time when such changes are warranted by peculiar circumstances in a forest unit, or to reflect the experience gained from the operation of previous agreements. All such changes shall be consistent with the retention by the Secretary of the authority necessary to accomplish the objectives of the act. Where Federal lands not under the jurisdiction of the Secretary of the Interior are involved, different forms will likewise be adopted.

§ 115.13 Execution of agreement. The Commissioner of the General Land Office, after consideration of the minutes of the hearing and the recommendation of the hearing officer, will forward his recommendation together with the cooperative agreement signed by the other parties thereto to the Secretary. Thereafter, the Secretary will execute the agreement if he is of the opinion that it will promote the achievemnt of the objectives of the act and is otherwise in the public interest. No rights shall accrue to a party under a cooperative agreement until the Secretary has executed the agreement on behalf of the United States.

§ 115.14 Exchanges. Exchanges for the purpose of consolidating and segregating O. and C. timber lands, or which otherwise are in furtherance of the O. and C. timber management program are authorized by the act of July 31, 1939 (53 Stat. 1144), and the regulations thereunder (43 CFR 115.94–115.113).

FRED W. JOHNSON,
Commissioner.

Please note that the OPA requires you to price these garments in accordance with Maximum Price Regulation 580 or Maximum Price Regulation 210 (whichever regulation governs your sales of the garments listed in this notice). In determining your ceiling prices for these garments OPA has ruled that you must use as your "net cost" under MPR 580, or your "cost base" under MPR 210, the "old ceiling price" stated in Column A above, for the garment being priced and you must not include the OPA adjustment charges stated in Column B above, in computing your ceiling prices for these garments under either of these regulations.

The OPA has ruled, however, that after you have properly determined your ceiling price under MPR 580 or MPR 210 in the foregoing manner, you may then add to your ceiling price so computed the amount of adjustment set forth for the garment in Column C above.

(2) The statement required to be sent to its retailers by Signal Knitting Mills, as provided in this paragraph (b), and containing the information applicable to the styles of garments included in the particular shipment, shall be transmitted with, or annexed to the invoice, billing or other statement of price accompanying every shipment made by Signal Knitting Mills of any of the garments listed in paragraph (a) of this order. This statement, with respect to any garment for which Signal Knitting Mills is permitted an adjustment of its ceiling price under this order shall be sent by Signal Knitting Mills in lieu of the statement required under Section 1389.304 (as amended) of Maximum Price Regulation 221.

(c) Garments to which the provisions of this order shall apply. This order shall apply only to those garments of the styles enumerated in paragraph (a) which are shipped by Signal Knitting Mills on or after August 15, 1945, and before November 1, 1945.

(d) This order may be revoked or amended by the Price Administrator at any time.
